United Church Is Scene Of Early Fall Wedding

An early fall wedding was solemnized in First United Church, Vermilion, on Saturday, October 12th when Donna Claire Cooper became the bride of Mr. Victor Albert Kuzek. The Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of heavy taffeta designed with full skirt. The slender bodice was fashioned with lily point sleeves, and neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls. Her finger-tip veil of illusion net was held in place by a bridal cap encrusted with sequins and rhinestones. Her cascade bouquet was of red roses.

Mr. Cooper gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Margaret Goodwin, the maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of aqua blue crystalline, with pink feathered hat, pink gloves and pink shoes. Her flowers were a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Edward Frissell was best man. Ushering the guests were Mr. Lee Coyne, and Mr. Stewart Cooper, brother of the bride.

Mr. Jack Brown played the wedding music. During the ceremony Miss Margaret Goodwin sang the hymn "O Perfect Love". Mr. Tom Watts sang "The Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register. Both solos were feelingly and beautifully rendered.

At a reception held in St. Saviour's parish hall, the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. John Kuzek. The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, baked by her grandmother, Mrs. Thos. Bothwell. The guest book, signed by 116 guests, was in charge of Miss Lois Cooper, sister of the bride.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. John David, bringing forth an appropriate reply by the groom.

Immediately following the reception the happy young couple left for Edmonton and Grande Prairie, and eventually to Whitehorse in the Yukon.

Mrs. T. H. Bothwell entertained the bridal party following the rehearsal last Friday evening for the wedding of her granddaughter Miss Donna Claire Cooper and Mr. Victor Kuzek. Assisting Mrs. Bothwell in serving were Mrs. Lyal Dowdell and Mrs. J. W. Muir. Several out-of-town visitors here for the wedding were also guests at the enjoyable function.

John Ewing Laid To Rest in Vancouver

MANNVILLE. — Funeral rites were held for John Ewing at Simmons and McBride Funeral Chapel on Oct. 9th in Vancouver. Rev. H. Parker officiated. Pall bearers were his logger friends with whom he worked. He is survived by his brother Clarence and one sister, Mrs. Norman Crooks, both of Mannville. Born at Paisley, Ont., in 1892, John came to Mannville in 1907 with the family and settled on the Ewing farm just south of town. He left for the coast in 1923 and engaged in the logging business. Many Mannville folks now residents of Vancouver attended the funeral.

Visits Former Islay People in City

A 75-year-old man from Blissfield, N.B. arrived in Edmonton Tuesday after a 3000 mile automobile trip.

Ellis Mersereau left Blissfield on Sept. 18th in his 1946 model car. He is now staying with his niece, Grace Mersereau, 11054 149 St.

Mr Mersereau, who reported a trouble-free trip, plans to spend the winter in Edmonton city before returning to New Brunswick. He hopes to take his sister, Mrs. Minnie Moore of Edmonton home with him.

En route west a stop was made at Strathclair, Man., where Mr Mersereau spent eight days visiting and hunting with an old friend, Alex Kippan, whom he hadn't seen for 52 years.

Mr Mersereau is anxious to have a look at the Alberta government in action when the next session of the house opens. "I want to see a lot of this fast growing and progressive area," he said.

Some men call it bad luck but most of them create their own lack of opportunities.

WILDMERE WINKS

Here is an item which should have been in last week. The picture show held at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church on Oct. 5th by Mr and Mrs. Edwardson and the Rev. Shroeder. The little talk and hymns preceding the pictures were enjoyed and the slides taken by the Edwardsons were excellent. They were of the Holy Land. Mr. and Mrs. Edwardson had held meetings all that week. We are sorry we could not have heard more of the travels those folks had taken on the other side of the world. As each slide was shown its history was told. The writer enjoyed a nice cup of tea at the home of Mr and Mrs L. Mayhew following the meeting.

Mrs K. Sheppard went up to Edmonton with Bill and Adam Smith when they went to bring their mother home.

We are sure millions heard the Queen declare parliament open. What a busy life she leads. It was nice to hear her voice.

The writer attended two weddings on Saturday. Mildred [illegible] and [illegible] Both were lovely. We also attended [illegible] and [illegible] reception held in the Anglican church hall, which was very well attended. May these two fine couples enjoy many years of happiness together.

Many have commenced harvesting once more. We all hope it stays good weather now to let all get [illegible] up. There is a lot to do yet. Just take a look over the country north and east of Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs. Alex Smith and son Scott of Edmonton visited the long week end with Alex's mother and brother in Wildmere and with Alex's sister Mrs Cruthers. Mrs Smith called on her sister Mrs. A. [illegible] of Vermilion.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs H. McLeod and hope that she will soon be feeling better soon.

[illegible] spent a few [illegible] at her home in Wildmere on Friday evening.

The writer and her husband visited [illegible] the Moore [illegible] the Deer Lake district. We [illegible] enjoyed our visit [illegible] and Wilbert Moore who [illegible] work in Vermilion, were [illegible] the long week end. [illegible] Moore was also a visitor [illegible] the same home. It was [illegible] day. Mrs Moore [illegible]

Mr [illegible] Mrs. A. [illegible] attended the wedding reception of their niece Christine Morrison held at her home [illegible]. She is the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs A. Morrison and was married at Salt Lake, U.S.A. a week before. They left the next day for their home at Ithaca, N. Y. We all wish you and your husband many years of happiness, Christine.

Mr and Mrs Geo Cruthers and two children, Mr and Mrs. K. Sheppard and Warren Marfleet, all of Vermilion and Gary Cruthers of Wainwright were visitors to the Cruthers home in Wildmere on Sunday. Bobby and Kenny Graham also visited at the same home on Sunday.

Mr T. Best visited at the Wallingtons home on Thursday last week.

The writer and family took in the stock car races held at the golden race track Vermilion. It was good, only just a little chilly watching. Trooper Dawson of CKSA made a good job of announcing, adding a bit of humor at times to liven things up a bit between races. The feature race really was exciting but Earl Pollard kept in the lead.

At time of writing word was received from Mr and Mrs Harry Phillips of Worlsey, Alberta that their oldest daughter Leona has passed away in Edmonton. Her funeral is today (Tuesday). Leona was married and leaves her husband and three children to mourn her passing besides her parents and ten brothers and sister. Leona was born in May 192[illegible] and lived several years here before her parents moved away. The community joins with the writer in extending our deepest sympathy to her husband and children, her parents and family in their hour of sorrow.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

With the approach of cold weather, the problem of winter storage arrives. For seasonal storage of summer clothes, here are a few hints.

Shoes should be put away clean and polished with a paste polish [illegible]. Any necessary repairs should be done so that they are ready to step into next spring — lifts on heels, straps and rips stitched, and so on. Store in shoe-bags or plastic bags to keep them clean.

All clothing should be put away clean, making sure the articles are well dried. Cottons should not be starched before storage. Any rips, missing or loose buttons and other repairs should be done so that these cottons and nylons are ready for use next spring.

ARE YOU A GARDENER?

Then before winter sets in, clean and store your garden tools. In this way they will not be lost or ruined by rust during [illegible] of water, roll up and store away. Empty sprayer and rinse well with clear water, or a mild ammonia solution, then hang open and upside down in a dry place. Clean all muddy tools, remove rust with steel wool, then wax to prevent re-rusting and store in a dry place.

If you sharpen all tools, the lawn mower included, then you will be ready to go when spring arrives.

If you have difficulty with overshoe zippers refusing to slide, try a little household machine oil. Drop a few drops on the zipper teeth, then work the pull up and down several times to distribute the oil evenly. You will find that zippers will glide easily. Be careful to keep oil off the fabric or rubber.

Death and Funeral Of Mrs. L. R. Larson

Mrs. Sigrid Larson, widow of the late L. R. Larson, passed away on September 25th in St. Joseph's hospital, [illegible] after having suffered a stroke two and a half years ago from which she never recovered. Mrs. Larson, the former Sigrid Malen, was born at Tynset, Norway, on November 10th, 1872. She came to the U.S.A. in 18[illegible] and to Canada in 1916 and worked in the Roras district until 1918 when she married Louis Larson of the Oxville district where she resided for [illegible]. They later moved into town. Mr. Larson died some years ago. She leaves one daughter Thelma (Mrs. Clifford Fredericksen) of Paradise Valley, two sisters in Norway and two grandchildren. Funeral service was held in the Paradise Valley church with burial in the family plot in the Oxville cemetery. Rev. [illegible] conducted the service with W. J. Streit Sr. at the organ. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. A. Nickle, George Silk Sr., George Clay, I. S. McLeod, Anders Aalborg and W. A. Gunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredericksen wish to extend their sincere thanks to all friends who helped and made donations and sent flowers in memory of Mrs. Larson.

"Should additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor be permitted if such outlets are later approved by local vote?"

YOU WILL BE ASKED THIS QUESTION

in a Provincial Plebiscite on October 30th.

You will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on this important question. The Alberta Hotel Association reprints it above so that you may consider it fully before casting your ballot.

Perhaps this question had occurred to you: "If the liquor plebiscite is passed, will it permit certain types of liquor outlets which I do not approve?"

As you read the ballot you will find the answer! It expressly states that any new type of outlet which may be introduced will be subject to a local vote before being effective in any community. No additional type of outlet will be opened in any town or city unless the citizens approve it by this local vote.

Why is the plebiscite being held? Alberta's Legislative Assembly felt that Electors should be given their Democratic right to say whether or not the present Liquor Control Act is in keeping with the present-day thinking of the people of Alberta.

Where does The Alberta Hotel Association stand?

In a Brief to the Liquor Committee of the Legislature, the Alberta Hotel Association suggested that if amendments were made in the Liquor Act, the following should be considered:

- Liquor Licenses for Dining Rooms of an obviously high standard.
- Cocktail Lounges in hotels with suitable administrative restrictions as to number and character of hotels where liquor may be sold.

This Association has the utmost faith in the Alberta Government's administration of the Liquor Control Act. This is why we feel that fears expressed on the question of new types of outlets are exaggerated. Any new outlets for the public sale of liquor would, we are sure, be controlled by legal restrictions.

You are being asked to give your opinion . . . GIVE IT by casting your vote on October 30th.

GET OUT AND VOTE on the Liquor Plebiscite!

THUMB SUCKING

Sucking is one of the first things your baby does. It's natural. It's satisfying. He gets his food that way and thus it is one of his very first experiences of pleasure. When, early in life, he begins to move his hands about, they find his mouth sooner or later. A finger or thumb touches his lips and he begins to suck it. Since sucking gives him a pleasant sensation, he'll want to do it again. In this simple, natural fashion, the habit of thumb sucking begins. But as your baby gets older he gets other satisfactions and you can expect him to spend less and less time at his first pleasures, of which sucking is one. The sucking instinct is strongest in his first six months, usually tapering off gradually from then on.

BECOMES A SUBSTITUTE

If your baby is not getting enough of the satisfaction he needs, he may cling to the thumb sucking habit even after he has passed through the infancy stage. This is how the habit sticks and grows with the child. You are now faced with the problem of stopping it.

There is no ready made answer, no simple solution to stop thumb sucking in the child, because any one or more of a variety of causes may be to blame.

If he isn't getting enough of the right kind of food to satisfy him his hunger may drive him to thumb sucking. Perhaps he is tired, not getting enough rest, and filling in this lack of satisfaction by sucking his thumb. Good sleeping habits can be taught. See that he has a quiet place, cool and darkened, in which to sleep, pleasant thought to go to sleep on, a small book or toy to hold in his hand. He should have enough opportunities during his waking hours to get about and do things so that at the end of his day he is healthily tired. Frequently a parent will keep the child too quiet for his growing needs. Quite early he should have time for stretching and turning, for a change of scene, for leaving his carriage or bed to move on the floor or in a play pen. Boredom can drive your child back to his early pleasurable pastime of thumb sucking. If you restrict him too much in his activities with your "don'ts" or scold him continually, he always has his old comfort to which to return.

NEEDS YOUR INTEREST

From early days he needs toys to look at, later to hold. He needs you to talk to him, love him, share his fun in listening to the rattle, watching the light on the wall, the trees moving in the wind, the way he pushes with his feet and raises himself up. Your companionship in such things will help him grow out of his earlier pleasures, including thumb sucking. As he grows, he will want places to play, children to play with and play materials that will encourage a wide variety of activities. Little children need a wide variety of playthings — paper, blunt scissors, modelling clay, blocks, paint brushes, a doll, a wagon and all sorts of simple things like string, painted cans, old kitchen utensils. Life without these things is sure to be unsatisfying. He may stand or sit around — sucking his thumb.

All the time that he is growing and learning so much, he should be feeling, above all, that he belongs to you because you love him so much that you want him around and are proud of the things he does. Nothing can give him deeper or more lasting satisfaction than this. But if you nag, choke off his natural curiosity, curb unnecessarily his efforts to learn by exploring, shout at him when you're angry, tired, then you are encouraging such a habit as thumb sucking.

It is important to remember that any small child is apt to suck his thumb at times. If he does it only when falling asleep, or even for short periods sometimes when awake, there is little cause for concern. But if it becomes a very frequent practice in a child of over one year, you can be sure that something is wrong in his world.

It occurs very rarely that the thumb sucking habit is carried to such an extreme that the thumb gets sore, or the shape of the mouth is affected.

Avoid mechanical remedies. Seek the cause of your child's dissatisfaction that is to blame for this habit. Remember that as your child grows he needs new and different interests. He will discard early habits once they've stopped serving their original purpose. If your child has plenty of opportunity to do things, if he has a happy and interesting home life — then, he isn't likely to go back for long to a baby's way of getting pleasure.

Tips For Night Driving on Highway

Night comes earlier, and more dangerously, at this time of the year, warns Arch Bryce, general manager of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference.

In a special safety reminder to motorists, Mr. Bryce cautioned that reduced visibility makes it advisable to stay off the highway after dark.

Those who are obliged to drive at night, the safety official said, will profit by slowing down and following these tested highway survival practices:

1. Before setting out on your after dark trip, make sure you have plenty of gas. Check tires for proper inflation and make sure you know how to use your jack. Your lights should be in good working order and if you have engine or tire trouble, a flashlight will come in handy.

2. Park lights should be turned on before it gets dark. Careful drivers light them at sunset.

3. Stop every hour or so at a roadside restaurant for a breath of fresh air and a stimulating cup of hot coffee.

4. Stop driving and pull off to the side of the road the moment you run into heavy fog or heavy rain or when you find yourself overtired. Fog will lift, rain will cease, fatigue will vanish with a little rest, and you may continue your trip safely.

5. Dim lights just as soon as a car comes within "glaring" distance. It satisfies the ego only temporarily to glare back at the approaching driver: both of you can wind up glaring your last from a wreck in the ditch.

6. If you have to drive through scantily populated areas, take along a vacuum filled with coffee or some other alertness beverage.

7. Drinking anything alcoholic while driving is always perilous but never more so than at night when drivers' reflexes are overtaxed.

8. There is one good side of his nature a driver should resist, to not pick up unknown hitchhikers. Some have proved themselves to be robbers and murderers.

This night time code of conduct is adhered to by thoughtful drivers the year round, concluded Mr. Bryce, who stressed its special significance with the present early nightfall.

Young People Hold Box Social

MANNVILLE. — A real old fashioned box social followed by dancing was the program planned for the enjoyment of the United Young People's group on Friday of last week held in the Legion hall. Boxes were judged with Joan Finlay winning first prize. Boxes were later auctioned off with much merriment ensuing as a result. Girls were in popular demand at this affair, the boys for once outnumbering the girls, however this situation was nicely handled by Mr. Holter who called 'bingo' dances frequently. Jim Johnstone and Joan Lugg supplied the music for dancing.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Government To Make Loans To Establish Young Farmers

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The provincial government may soon be making its first loans to help young farmers become established.

It was reported last week that to date eleven municipalities and nine local improvement districts have applied for authority to set up farm-purchase boards under legislation passed by the House earlier this year.

Bob Putnam, deputy minister of agriculture, said the boards will be formed as soon as possible, and once they are operating they can begin processing applications for loans from the $2,000,000 fund set up under the legislation.

Officials anticipate a brisk demand for the assistance once it becomes available. Rising costs of framland, machinery, equipment, make it increasingly difficult for young men to become established on farms, and it was for this reason that farm groups pressed for the act passed this spring.

Under the plan, loans can be granted to a maximum of $7,500, or 40% of the purchase price of an economic farm unit. Loans will be for a maximum of 20 years or until the borrower reaches the age of 65, and interest will be 5¼%, with the municipality keeping 1% to met operating costs.

The loans will be made only to Canadian citizens or British subjects between the ages of 21 and 55 who have lived and farmed in Alberta for at least three years.

Government officials say the plan should prove particularly useful in cases where a father wants to sell out to his son. It will permit the son to raise the money, and the father can retire without worrying because the loan is guaranteed. Municipalities were given the task of administering the program because it is easier for local authorities to assess local situations and keep track of land values.

TO BENEFIT FROM ALBERTA CAMPAIGN

Alberta's all out campaign against rabies which started in 1952 may be all but forgotten by many residents of the province but it's big news this week in Cedar Rapids Iowa.

It was the greatest rabies control program in history and a meeting of the Eastern Iowa Veterinary Association heard all about it from the man who directed it. He is Dr. F. F. Ballantyne, provincial government director of veterinary services who was main speaker of the meeting in Cedar Rapids.

The Cedar Rapids Gazette devoted a full column to a story and pictures on the rabies battle which started in 1952 when the disease broke out among wild animals in northern Alberta. Dr Ballantyne [illegible] the war which was waged with poison baits, [illegible] and traps against predatory animals to push the disease far back into the north.

HYDRO TO BENEFIT ALBERTA

Alberta may stand to benefit from a mammoth hydro project proposed for northern British Columbia affecting the flow [illegible] the Peace River.

According to the announcement from BC it will control and regulate the flow of the Peace eliminating the vast fluctuation in winter and spring levels. The BC government says it will make hydro developments possible in Alberta.

Agriculture Minister Halmrast who heads the water resources branch, called BC officials by telephone when the story broke, and was assured the project would benefit Alberta.

Other officials weren't accepting BC assurances without question. James G MacGregor, chairman of the government's northern development commission, promised his group would study it. Developments affecting the rivers flowing between two provinces require consultation, he said, and the commission wants to be sure Alberta's interests are protected.

Premier Bennett of B.C said the proposed dam and vast reservoir would keep the flow of the Peace Rivr at a rgular 10,000 cubic feet per second instead of the variation over the year from 8000 in winter to nearly 200,000 in flood periods.

A spokesman for the water resources branch agreed that Alberta would be happy if the project regulates the flow without taking any of it away from this province.

DEWBERRY NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Porter left on Sunday for Vancouver. Hope to see you back in the spring folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bowman have taken up residence in the teacherage.

Mrs Evans and family have moved to Kitscoty.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs James Ryan (nee Donna Mathison) who were married on October 11th.

The fine weather of Thanksgiving week end brought many visitors to Dewberry. Among them Jimmy Jones, Leona Mathison and Joyce Parker who are students at the University in Edmonton.

Mrs Kitty Gordon spent the week end with her parents.

Mr and Mrs J Bailey and daughter of Calgary visited with Mrs Bailey's mother Mrs Allen. They also visited Mr and Mrs Geo Butz and family at Landonville.

Mr and Mrs B Martin of Ban were also in town.

Ernie Braithwaite of Edmonton visited at his parents' Mr and Mrs Joe Braithwaite.

The community has again been bereaved by the death of a well known citizen in the person of Mrs Elmer Elliott. Lida as she was familiarly known had suffered a heart attack on her way back from Edmonton and was taken to the Vermilion hospital where she passed away on the 12th. The large number at the funeral service in the hall showed the respect in which she was held. Our sincere sympathy and that of the community is offered to the husband and family, her sister and the others left to mourn her loss.

Our deepest sympathy is also extended to Mr and Mrs Hibbert and family of Edmonton on the passing of their daughter and sister Jean Hibbert. Jean was stricken with the flu on Oct. 7 and passed away in an Edmonton hospital on the 11th. She was known in Dewberry, having spent a few holidays with her uncles and aunts here. Mrs. Hibbert is the former Mary Boyce. To the uncles and aunts we also offer our sincere sympathy. "A young flower has gone from this earth to bloom in Paradise".

A five-speed heavy-duty transmission and the improved Chevrolet Powermatic transmission also are available.

Banff Workshop For Home & School Assoc'ns

The annual workshop for home and school associations will be held in the Banff School of Fine Arts from October 21 to 24, 1957.

Through discussion and study the delegates from home and school associations all over Alberta will participate in a two-way learning situation. They will assume responsibility for the success of the workshop by contributing to the group ideas, experiences and knowledge gained as a member of an association, and in turn they will receive insight into home and school methods and problems by drawing on experience and knowledge of over 80 delegates and a staff skilled in group methods and Home and School work.

The theme this year will be 'Spotlight on our Objectives', the viewpoint of the workshop will be that of the local association striving to fulfill the purpose for which it was organized.

The workshop program, planned around problems, rather than topics, will deal with two types of problems: those calling for remedies to 'ills' and those whose solution calls for further growth and development of the 'healthy' organization. This year, unlike previous years, delegates will not all take the same course. They will take the course they wish to take. There will be three of each course, and the delegates will have an opportunity to work leaders in charge of each section with a variety of leaders.

Delegates will be accommodated in Banff school dormitories and courses will be conducted in classrooms and auditoriums.

While workshop was originally planned for Home and School members, it has and will continue to welcome all those who are interested in promoting the welfare of children and improving educational facilities.

Leaders of the workshop will include: Mr. S. O. Hillerud, Agricultural secretary, Department of Extension, University of Alberta; Mr. R. H. Jeacock, Vice-President, Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations; Mrs. J. G. Cameron, Calgary, Chairman Parent Education Committee; Mrs. R. V. McCullough, Red Deer, Chairman Teacher Recruitment Committee; Mrs. D. A. Hansen, Calgary, Past President, Alberta Federation of Home and School; Mrs. A. P Hunter, Mrs. B. McKenzie, Calgary, Mrs. J. W. Sheddon, Edmonton; Mrs. G. F. Colclough, Banff, and Mr. F. P. O'Hara, convenor of the workshop, assistant superintendent of Edmonton separate schools.

Check that date on your label.

A total of seventy-seven students plan to enroll at the Vermilion School of Agriculture where classes will commence on Wednesday, Oct. 30th. 63 boys and 14 girls have had their applications accepted to date and preparations for their accommodation and training are nearing completion.

Most of the staff from last year are again on the job, there being only four new members.

He attended the University of Alberta and graduated there as an animal husbandry major in Agriculture last April.

Mr. Harcus assumes the post vacated by Mr. Jamieson as Farm Manager and instructor in Animal Husbandry.

Wm. Burton, who hails from Springwater, Sask., becomes the new instructor in Farm Mechanics. He graduated from the University of Saskatchewan in 1953 with a B.S.A. degree, having majored in Farm Mechanics. For two years Mr. Burton was employed in northern Saskatchewan in charge of construction for a drainage and development project for the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture and since that time has farmed at Springwater.

The new instructress in Sewing, Textiles and Interior Decorating is Mrs. Johnson. She has recently returned from England where she taught school for the West Suffolk Education Committee. Mrs. Johnson studied dress design at the Academy of Fine Arts in Antwerp, Belgium, and later the degree course in Home Economics and Art at the Mary Crest College in Davenport, Iowa.

Vermilion Back In Hockey; League Now Seven Team Loop

The Eastern Alberta Hockey league has blossomed into a 7-team loop as a result of a meeting held in Vermilion on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 20th. The former teams holding franchises and which will operate in the league this year are St. Paul, Vermilion and Lloydminster, the latter two after a year's lay-off. Newcomers to the league are Bonnyville, Lashburn, Maidstone and Neilburg. Lashburn, Maidstone and Neilburg are from Saskatchewan and all have been playing in a league in that section of their own province. These teams felt that it was a case of all moving into the E.A.H.L. or all continuing their own loop.

After considerable discussion it was decided to grant franchises for one year only, to the four newcomers, try the league as an experiment this winter and if all goes well, to continue operations next hockey season.

Distances of travels between such points as St. Paul, Bonnyville, Neilburg and Maidstone caused some apprehension, but it was finally decided that the distant teams would play a 20-game schedule which necessitates only one long trip to each of the extremities of the territory, while the centrally located teams, Lloydminster, Vermilion and Lashburn, will play a 24-game schedule.

Official delegates were present from all except Neilburg, and Maidstone was empowered to speak for that entry.

A tentative date for the opening games of the league was set as Dec 14, with a Xmas recess with no games to be scheduled from Dec. 18 to Jan. 4.

Each team will be allowed to register 18 players and one goalkeeper, with all lists to be in the hands of the secretary by Jan. 15th. All players must have played in three regular league games to be eligible for the play-offs.

Four of the seven teams will take part in the play-offs for the league championship and the Craig cup, with the three bottom teams in the standing being eliminated. Teams in first and third positions and second and fourth positions will meet in the semi-finals of the play-offs in a best three of five game series with the winners to play a best of seven series in the finals.

ELECT OFFICIALS

The election of officers resulted in the following taking office:

President — E. A. Locke, Vermilion
Vice-Pres. — Lucien Drouin, St. Paul
Sec.-Treas. — Russell E. Carroll, Vermilion.

Each club will have two members on the executive.

Cold Weather Blows In; Holds up Harvest

While this district escaped the snowfalls common over most of Alberta, the cold weather which did blow in over the area has held up harvesting by preventing the grain from drying sufficiently to allow for threshing. This portion of the province received only a skiff of snow, not enough to permit measuring.

However, it is doubtful if grain threshed from now on will ever be dry, and the chances are that the grade will slip down at least one.

In the short periods when threshing was possible, about 80% of the wheat has been threshed. The predominant grade has been No. 4. The 20% left in the fields is practically all in swath and stook. Ten per cent. of the oats are left to thresh, all in stook, and 5% of the barley is still out, in swath.

Weather has been very cold for this time of year, much below normal.

Rotarians Farewell Member

Rotarians at their meeting on Friday last week bid a temporary farewell to Newcombe N. Bentley who leaves for Cairo, Egypt where he [illegible] as a member of [illegible] sentiments of the Rotarians [illegible] ably expressed by Ross Boake who, on behalf of the club, presented Newcombe with a billfold.

The club heard an outstanding talk on "The Problems of Education as seen by an Educator" given by Dr. Stan Clarke, Associate Professor, Faculty of Education of the University of Alberta. He stated that the present apparent crisis in education was due to three causes: 1. the financial problem which leads to the teacher shortage, and for which a solution was now pending; 2. the rapid increase in the number of children attending schools, and the children were remaining in school for a longer time; 3. what are we supposed to be doing in our schools?

Dr Clarke elaborated clearly on each of the divisions.

He was introduced by Elmore Stewart, and thanked by Simon [illegible].

Mrs. Fraser Feted On 86th Birthday

Mrs Ada Fraser was honored on her 86th birthday on October 17th when a number of friends in her apartment block gathered for a social afternoon, and brought along a lovely birthday cake. The cake was decorated with 86 candles and these were all blown out by Mrs. Fraser, quite an accomplishment with one blow.

In the evening a surprise party was held in the apartment of Mrs Trach, where another birthday cake graced the table. A very enjoyable evening was held with much honor being paid to this pioneer lady of the Vermilion and Islay districts.

The Captain comes to us with a varied experience in Salvation Army activity having come direct from the Salvation Army training College in Toronto where she served on the staff in the capacity of Field Training Officer. Amongst her numerous appointments the Captain spent considerable time as the director of the Field Unit, when she travelled extensively in the rural areas of Eastern Canada, as evangelist. Captain Green is known throughout the Army for her ability as a speaker and for her musical talents. Her pleasing personality has won her many lasting friends and we are confident that her messages will be the means of much blessing this week end.

The Sunday services will commence with the Holiness meeting at 11 a.m. Sunday school will be at 2 p.m. Capt. Green will be speaking to the Young People at this time. Salvation meeting is at 7:30. FIRST EVIDENCE OF A CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT— The first evidence of the change of government at Ottawa was reflected in Vermilion this week when a new step was laid at the main entrance to the post office ... badly needed since 1935. It is to be hoped that the new step is but a forerunner of better things to come.

Life Is Getting Longer

About 20 years have been added to the average lifetime of American people since the turn of the century according to a report from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company received by the Health League. The expectation of life at birth on a nationwide basis has increased to 69½ years.

Figures from the National Office of Vital Statistics indicate that the chances for a white man of age 20 surviving to age 65 increased from 514 to 686 per 1,000 between 1900-02 and 1955.

At the same time, more than three-fourths of the men aged 50 may now expect to reach the normal retirement age of 65. The expected lifetime of those reaching 65 also has bee extended somewhat, the chances of living to age 75 having increased from 345 to 605 per 1,000. Furthermore the expected lifetime of men aged 75 is now fully eight years.

The prospects of survival for females have improved so much that women now have better than four chances in five of living to see all their children reach maturity, the statisticians point out. In fact, survival to age 65 is more likely for women at age 20 than for men who have passed their 35th birthday.

Two Sides of the Liquor Plebiscite

With a view to fully acquainting electors with information on both sides of the question on the contentious liquor plebiscite of next Wednesday, Oct. 30th, the Standard is publishing views from organizations representing the two sides. These two statements, submitted directly from the organizations in question, should be read carefully so that an intelligent decision can be reached by the individual, and reflected in the results of the plebiscite.

Vote NO

The citizens of Alberta will go to the polls on October 30th to vote on a Liquor Plebiscite. The question to be submitted to the people is "Do you approve additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor subject to a local vote?" The two major cities of Calgary and Edmonton will decide a second question. "Should mixed drinking be allowed in beer parlours in Calgary (Edmonton) and the surrounding area?"

Last year the Alberta Legislature appointed a Special Committee to examine the Liquor Act. Early this year this Committee brought in its report to the house. The first recommendation of the Special Committee read "We recommend that no new types of outlets be permitted." There was more discussion over this recommendation than all the rest of the report. Many of the members insisted that the question of new types of outlets be referred to the people in the form of a plebiscite. Premier Manning stated that there were two phases to the issue under discussion. On one hand there is the free choice of the people that must be safeguarded on the other hand, there is the responsibility of the government to govern for the welfare and in the best interests of the people. The report was received (not adopted). Later two members introduced a resolution to hold a plebiscite on the question of additional types of liquor outlets. The resolution passed by the vote of 28 to 27.

The citizens of Alberta need not be in the dark concerning the effects of additional types of liquor outlets. We see the effects in Ontario, Manitoba and B. C. During the ten years since new types of outlets (cocktail bars, sale in restaurants, etc.) were introduced into Ontario they have had these effects:

60% increase in consumption of liquor
273% increase in convictions under the liquor laws.
176% increase in the number of alcoholics.

Most citizens of Alberta are concerned about the welfare of their young people. One of the first demands for a new type of outlet will be sale through the restaurants. At present a young person under 21 years of age is not permitted to enter a beer parlour. If sale through restaurants is permitted the temptations and degrading atmosphere of the beer parlours will come to our young people in the licensed restaurants.

By voting against the new types of outlets the people of Alberta will be voting for safer roads, less rowdyism, less crime, less police work, less hospital and mental care expense, fewer broken homes, and less taxation. Judging by their effects in provinces which have tried them, it is quite evident that a vote against additional types of outlets is a wise vote.

A. L. Sanderson, Secretary,
Citizens' Plebiscite Organization, 712 Tegler Building, Edmonton.

Vote YES

Alberta's present restrictive liquor laws do more harm than good and additional types of outlets are needed, Robert D Kerr Calgary barrister told a meeting in the Black Diamond Community hall at Turner Valley last Friday night.

He was speaking as a member of the Alberta Citizens' Committee, a non-political non-profit making organization whose main objective is supporting a 'Yes' vote at the Oct 30th plebiscite. Mr Kerr said his organization was not ignoring the problems created by excessive consumption of alcohol.

"But recognizing the fact that 70 per cent of the people of this province take a drink at one time or another and that highly restrictive laws such as are now in force create more problems than they solve, we believe that the introduction of additional types of outlets are necessary and desirable."

The Alberta Citizens' Committee was recently formed by a small group of Alberta businessmen who felt that the liquor plebiscite issue was being lost through lack of support from those who believed that the liquor laws of the province should be moderated in order to develop sane and sensible drinking habits.

Chairman of the committee is Brigadier Walter E Huckvale Lethbridge lawyer. He is also chairman of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society and a member of the executive of the Canadian Red Cross, Alberta Division.

Mr Kerr said an effective answer to the claim that additional outlets will increase consumption of liquor in Alberta comes from Manitoba, where the liquor laws were revised earlier this year.

Quoting from the Oct 12 issue of Maclean's magazine Mr Kerr said "After six months of cocktail lounges Manitoba is counting the consequences. Is there more boozing? Rowdyism? Any benefits? Answers:

1. Liquor sales are up 10 per cent, as they are for all of Canada.

2. Bootlegging has dropped sharply with cocktail lounges and longer liquor store hours and, says Winnipeg Morality Inspector Jack Webster, 'there is less drunkenness and fewer loose characters hanging around.'

3. Food is better. We have had some nice compliments from tourists on dining in the licensed places," says liquor boss Barnard Halstead.

Desirability of government controls over production and sale of liquor had been recognized for years, Mr Kerr said. But until recently the dangers of restrictive controls were not recognized.

He mentioned Sweden, Denmark, Canada and Norway as examples of countries whose liquor policies were based on the theory that consumption of alcoholic beverages could be reduced by limiting the premises on which those products were sold and by curtailing the types of outlets.

"That this theory is not only invalid, but is extremely dangerous, is proven by the fact that these countries rank 3, 5th, 6th and 7th in world alcoholism."

The Manitoba Liquor Enquiry Commission, chaired by the Hon John Bracken noted that in Great Britain and Italy, where the liquor controls are moderate but are rigidly enforced, the problem is negligible compared to other countries.

Quoting from the Bracken Report, Mr Kerr said: "The Commission found it very interesting that the best drinking records were held by countries like England and Italy with one outlet for every 500 to 800 persons.

Certainly this number of outlets is not incompatible with sane drinking."

At the present time in Alberta there is one liquor or beer outlet for every 2100 people.

Mr Kerr referred to the danger to the judicial system created by laws which do not reflect public opinion.

"Men and women who are otherwise [illegible] have no scruples about violating liquor laws.

In the first place, everybody else is doing it, and in the second place it is impossible to enforce them.

Such a trend leads eventually to a deterioration in the entire judicial system."

Mr. Kerr said prosecutions for violations of the Alberta Liquor Control Act are four times as great as those in British Columbia and that such offences in Alberta had increased by 81 per cent while in Ontario they had decreased by 5 per cent. Both B.C. and Ontario have cocktail [illegible]

Apart from its shortcomings in the control of drinking Mr Kerr said the present liquor legislation in Alberta violated one of the basic principles of democracy — the principle of equality for all.

"Those residents who can afford the luxury of a membership in a private club enjoy the privilege of buying liquor by the drink. For those who are not club members there is no such privilege.

This discrimination is unworthy of the democratic system that we cherish."

He said the principle of serving drinks by the glass was established when licenses were granted to clubs.

"The question before the people is whether this privilege is to be enjoyed by a favored few or extended to all residents of the province."

Billy Graham Film "Miracle in Manhattan" Here This Friday

"Miracle in Manhattan", the unusual documentary film account of Billy Graham's New York Crusade will have a premiere showing at the Armories in Vermilion on Friday, Oct. 25th at 8:00 p.m.

Jinx Falkenburg and Tex McCrary report the 16-week coverage of Mr. Graham's largest Crusade for Christianity. This popular "Mr. and Mrs. New York" team head their own NBC television program emanating daily from the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

They "set the stage" with a photographic tour of Manhattan, followed by the excitement of the Crusade's opening night in Madison Square Garden. Successive meetings in Brooklyn, Central Park, Forest Hills, Harlem and Wall Street's financial district emphasize Greater New York City's spiritual interest in the Crusade.

In the gigantic sports arena of Madison Square Garden where men like Rocky Graziano and Joe Louis once punched their opponents into unconsciousness, the film offers a front row perspective of the Graham team in "spiritual combat." The arena becomes a cathedral and the dynamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of the massive choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

High moments in "Miracle in Manhattan" include the overflow crowd that jammed Yankee Stadium, breaking every attendance record in 34 years of the park's colorful history; a brief appearance by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon; a glimpse of Ethel Waters singing with the Crusade Choir; and the final service held at 42nd Street and Broadway, silhouetted against the glittering lights of Times Square.

Nearly two million persons attended Madison Square Garden during the 16 weeks of Crusade activity making this spiritual campaign the largest sustained effort for evangelism in the history of the Church.

"Miracle in Manhattan" is released by World Wide Pictures, Hollywood, the organization which produces and distributes all of the Billy Graham Films.

The doors to the armories in Vermilion will be open at 7:15 p.m. All seats are on a first come basis, with no admission charge. A collection will be taken. 15-16

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

CHEESE FESTIVAL.

October is cheese festival month. If you haven't made use of much cheese in your menus, now is a good time to get into the habit.

Cheese is a concentrated sauce of the nutrients found in milk. It is high in protein so serves as a meat substitute.

When cooking cheese, don't use too high temperature because the protein will become tough.

Here's a delicious cheese recipe you might like to try

CHEESE PUFF

8 Slices day old bread
6 Ounces process cheese
2 Cups milk
3 eggs.
1/4 tsp. salt.
⅛ tsp. pepper
⅛ts. paprika.

METHOD

1. Trim crusts from bread cut in half diagonally. Make a pinwheel of 8 halves in an ungreased 8 inch casserole.
2. Cover bread with layer of ¼ inch cheese slices. Top with remaining bread.
3. Beat eggs slightly; add salt, pepper, paprika, and milk: beat well. Pour over bread and cheese.
4. Let stand 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350) F. about 1 hour until puffed and golden brown. Serve at once.

There's a pamphlet in Cheese Dishes available from my office in Wainwright. It contains interesting information and excellent recipes which I shall send on request.

Alarm in the Night

When the dread scourge of fire strikes your home or business, it could mean tragedy. Fortunately in most communities, there is a group of men who are trained in the profession of protecting your life and property. Often without remuneration, they risk their own safety on your behalf. It is public service such as this, above and beyond the call of duty, that makes this country a better place in which to live.

Your utility company also stands ready to give you service. Its members are often members of the volunteer fire brigade. Its employees are your friends, part of your community, willing and anxious to help in time of need. The policies of the company itself are dedicated to the welfare and progress of your community.

Don't Be A "Yes" Man!

Vote "NO" on Wednesday, October 30th!

Vote NO!!
DON'T BE A YES MAN! Use your vote to prevent our young people from being ensnared by the drinking habit.

Vote NO!!
EVERY HOME is an outlet for liquor consumption if it is the desire of the people. If it is not their desire why is it necessary to have more outlets?

Vote NO!!
AVAILABILITY OF LIQUOR does not result in lower consumption. France has the least legal restriction of any country but has the highest rate of Alcoholism.

Vote NO!!
AGAINST the persistent efforts of one industry to force its wishes on the public of our province.

Vote NO!!
IN CEYLON when many liquor outlets were bought and closed by the Methodist church the consumption of liquor was noticeably reduced. There is a definite relationship between the number of outlets and the amount of liquor consumption.

Vote NO!!
IF the liquor interests have confidence in the Government administration of the Liquor Act, as they claim, why all the pressure to have these changes made?

Vote NO!!
TO KEEP Alcoholism from increasing 175% as it did in Ontario a short while ago when similar legislation was made effective in that Province.

Vote NO!!
THE RECOMMENDATION of the Special Committee appointed by the Alberta Government was that no new outlets for the consumption of liquor be provided.

Vote NO!!
AGAINST this back-door approach. A Yes vote is a tentative agreement that more outlets are desired.

Vote NO!!
AGAINST the bloodshed, despair, grief, and maimed bodies left on our highways daily, because of the drink traffic.

Vote NO!!
IT IS OUR PRIVILEGE to protect ourselves and our young people against this evil.

Vote NO!!
IN SWEDEN when restrictions on the consumption of liquor were relaxed, convictions for drunkenness rose 88% in three months.

Vote NO!!
IN FRANCE, where wine is the national drink, one in every thirty-five adults is afflicted with Alcoholism.

Vote NO!!
EVERY ALCOHOLIC begins as a moderate drinker.

Vote NO!!
[illegible] open new outlets to increase sales —make more profits. More liquor outlets will increase drinking and mean more profits for the liquor industry.

Vote NO!!
IT IS A VOTER'S PRIVILEGE and responsibility . . . "Keep Rats Out of Alberta" is a popular slogan, and the liquor traffic is a much greater expense than rats will ever be.

Vote NO!!
IT IS ESTIMATED that it costs the government far more to enforce laws because of infractions as the result of liquor consumption than they ever realize in fines, etc. from such law enforcement.

Vote NO!!
IN CANADA the per capita consumption of liquor is 4th amongst front nations of the world, its rate of alcoholism is sixth. Surely with this record, no new outlets are required.

Vote NO!!
JUST INCREASING the number of hours in which liquor is sold has increased convictions for drunken driving in Sydney, Australia, 83%, and there have been twice the road accidents since these increased hours have been effective.

Letters to the Editor

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Vermilion, Alberta.
October 21, 1957.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

Since writing in your paper last week I have received a questionnaire to our school trustees and delegates. The delegate attending the provincial convention is supposed to answer 'yes' or 'no' to these important questions. Here is a short report of these plans:

It has been proposed that payments from the provincial general fund be given to the municipal council, who in turn can distribute it to school and hospital boards according to their needs. This is in lieu of the present school grant structure. Is this acceptable to you?

It has been proposed that capital grants be discontinued and this money be put in the general fund. Capital funds can now be obtained from the Municipal Finance Corporation.

If these systems are established a system must be worked out to divide this money between districts, either as to population or a combination of assessment and population.

And another: Should government owned property be assessed and taxed in the usual way? To this one, I certainly can't see the sense of taxing hospitals and schools and our municipal buildings as we are only taxing ourselves and real estate will carry the whole load anyway, while those who earn a good living in these buildings (built by the public) are free of all tax.

Another:

If enough general revenue could be provided to make possible a roll back in mill rate would you prefer a maximum mill rate for operating purposes, mill rate for maximum purposes which could only be exceeded after a favorable report of at least 51% of property owners?

One other approach has been suggested: That the province take over the total cost of certain services such as education. This is the one I would like to hear more about. The province has the ways and means of obtaining money on a much more equal basis than any other body. At present the government is paying a big share of the cost of education: anywhere from 33 to 55% and we don't notice this tax too much as we are all paying it on a more balanced basis. The balance could be paid just as easy, even if some extra tax had to be added such as a poll tax, or just call it plain education tax, and let everyone realize what education is costing.

For you farm people there is serious thought in municipal circles of assessing farm improvements. It may have some merit but let's hear your verdict at this meeting.

I believe we should all pay for our education facilities and not on some assumed value of only real estate. We know farm land is charged absolutely out of line with any other real estate.

If you farm people won't turn out and back suggestions for helping yourself then you can only have yourselves to blame when you have to pay the next increase.

Thanking you for the space in your paper, Mr. Editor,

I am yours truly,
Robert Galloway.

Splendid Fall Rally of W.M.S. Held Recently at Marwayne

MARWAYNE—The fall rally of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul United Presbyterial was held in Marwayne United church recently. This was an inspiring and memorable event. The two guest speakers were Mrs. T. Watari of Japan, and Mrs. C. C. Armstrong of Edson.

Mrs. W. F. Nicholson of Vegreville presided at the meeting. Ninety people gathered from 15 different towns. The opening worship service was led by Mrs. H. Sweet of [illegible]day, who spoke on the book of Philippians.

Mrs. T. Watari, who is a teacher in a girls' school in Japan, gave a vivid account of conditions in that country. She spoke of the difference between living conditions there and here. In Japan, a large farm is five acres. Land is so precious that little can be spared for roads. Farmers and their wives work long hours and then have to walk home across the fields. She spoke also of the care given by herself and others to little forlorn babies that they found creeping in the dust of Nagasaki after the atom-bomb attack. She was a reporter at San Francisco in 1947, when the United Nations was born. She hoped that the high ideals of that meeting would become realities, and that all nations would learn to live together in peace.

Mrs. C. C. Armstrong of Edson, who is secretary for Christian Stewardship for the Alberta Conference branch of the W.M.S. spoke about the meeting of the Dominion Board which she attended this year as a Alberta delegate. She mentioned the joy of meeting in person so many missionaries both from the Home [illegible]. She paid tribute to the five retiring missionaries who were honored at the Board dinner one of whom was Miss May Laycock of Edmonton. Mrs. Armstrong stressed the stewardship of our time, talents and money. Allocations will be raised in 1958, to provide better pay for missionaries.

Other items on the program included a solo by Mrs. E. Batty of Kitscoty, roll call by Mrs. D. W. MacPherson of Wainwright, a buzz session conducted by Mrs. L. Mitchell of Wainwright, and a closing service by Miss Ila Newton, W.M.S. worker from Vilna. The ladies of Kitscoty, Islay and Marwayne presented a beautiful quilt to Mrs. Watari.

The Marwayne ladies are to be congratulated on not only serving two splendid meals to the W.M.S. rally but also for entertaining a rally of C.G.I.T. groups, Explor[illegible] and Cubs in the evening. Two hundred children and young people enjoyed a special talk from Mrs. Watari. These came mostly from Vermilion, Lloydminster, Dewberry and Marwayne. The groups wore their uniforms, while Mrs. Watari wore a white kimona, embroidered by hand, and painted in pink and green shades. Mrs. Watari gave most of the young people her autograph, and wrote a Bible verse in Japanese with it.

United Church Presbytery Meeting Urges "No" On Liquor Plebiscite

The fall meeting of St. Paul United Presbytery was held on Friday at Viking United church under the new chairman, Rev Harvie Inglis, of Irma. The opening devotions in the morning were conducted by Rev Gladys Giffin of Edgerton, and in the afternoon by Rev. James Shortt, Kitscoty. The theme of the worship and of the chairman's remarks was 'Family Evangelism'. Rev. R. R. Smith, Lloydminster, convener of the Missionary and Maintenance committee reported that less than one-third of our self-imposed objective has been raised this year. Rev James Shortt was appointed the new convener of the National Evangelism committee. Rev. T. E. Thomas of Vegreville, convener of the Evangelism and Social Service committee, presented the facts with regard to the liquor plebiscite and Presbytery endorsed a firm stand for a vote against any more outlets. Mr Thomas stated that since the opening of additional outlets in B.C. police are becoming increasingly concerned about the drunken driving and accidents involved. It was suggested every minister preach on the issue on Sunday, Oct. 27th and that every congregation either through a special plebiscite committee or their session take responsibility in knowing the facts and working against more outlets. Since more outlets were introduced in Ontario ten years ago alcoholism has increased 178%. It was reported that a Commission on temperance policy and program has been set up by General Council and will report at a later date. A film "Split Level Family" is available free, he said.

163 ATTEND CONFERENCE

Presbytery was much concerned about the illness of Mr. Ken Fisher of Lloydminster, convener of men's work for Presbytery. During the worship prayer was offered for his recovery and in his absence Rev. R. R. Smith reported that 163 men attended the Laymen's conference at Banff Sept. 28-30. Rev Harvie Inglis reported that the Home Mission Board supplied four students in this Presbytery. They were placed at Auburndale, Clandonald, Cold Lake and Jarrow. All were from eastern Canada and their work was much appreciated. It was recommended that a minister and layman visit each Home Mission Charge before the end of the year with regard to increase in salaries. A loan of $20,000 from the Board of Home Missions was recommended for the new Viking United church. Rev. Dwight Powell of Edmonton, new Superintendent of Missions, spoke to Presbytery and pointed out that his territory stretches from just south of Calgary o the uttermost part of northern Alberta and Whitehorse.

Rev. D. W. MacPherson of Whitehorse, the convener of Information and Stewardship presented a motion that every congregation set up a committee on Information and Stewardship. Material and information may be obtained from the Christian Education office, Alberta College. Mr. Frank Wiggins is in charge. Rev. W. Morgan, convener of Colleges and Students, stated three men from this Presbytery are to be certified to St. Stephen's College, Edmonton. A deeply moving service for reception of a new candidate for the ministry, Marvin Horinek of Kinsella was conducted by the chairman of Presbytery, Rev. H. Inglis. Rev. D. W. MacPherson, convener of Overseas Missions, mentioned that 'Interview Records' with Dr. Bob McLure, Dr. Strangway and Dr. Tucker are available for $1.50 each from the C.E. office, Edmonton. Rev. Gladys Giffin, convener of Publications announced that the majority of the charges in this Presbytery are in the Every-Family plan of the Observer, United Church. A liberal supply of sample Observers had been given all ministers from charges not yet in the plan. Miss Giffin mentioned that a film strip is available free — "The House that Ryerson Built". Rev. John Linton of the Canadian Temperance Federation visited Presbytery. He urged that we do everything possible to get everyone to the polls for the liquor plebiscite as the situation will be just as serious here as it is in Ontario and B.C. where more outlets are available. The Camp committee under Rev W. Morgan will present a proposal for a new type of cabin to be built at the camp. Rev. R. E. Eskdale announced records from charges are to be brought to the next Presbytery by those not presented that day. The Lay Association elected a new President Mr Lynn D'Albertanson of Wainwright and Secretary Mrs Engerdahl, Grand Centre.

Rev Ian Holter, Christian Education convener, announced the visit of Rev Elmer Leaker to a publications and Sunday School teachers meeting to be held at Vermilion, Oct. 17. Miss Ila Newton, W.M.S. worker at Vilna, was appointed Girls' Work Counsellor for Presbytery. Sunday evening vespers at 9:30 from Lloydminster by Rev R.R. Smith was announced. With regard to Naramata Christian Leadership Training school it was announced that there are funds available to assist one or two students for the winter course, beginning Oct. 21.

PAID YOUR SUB. LATELY?

where the income dollar goes

In supplying hundreds of different oil products to Canadian consumers from coast to coast, Imperial last year took in a large number of dollars. What happened to a typical dollar?

Well, nearly 50 cents went to buy raw materials—notably crude oil—and for freight, a big item in a big country.

More than 36 cents went for operating and administrative costs, including wages and salaries, and for depreciation. Ten cents of each dollar went to various governments in taxes (this does not include the provincial gasoline tax.)

Half of what was left—or about 4 cents—was put back into the company's operations. The other half was divided among Imperial's 44,000 shareholders, whose investment makes possible the company's existence.

TAKE A CLOSE LOOK AT THE LIQUOR QUESTION!

"Should additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquors be permitted if such outlets are later approved by local vote?"

This question will appear on your ballot when you vote on the liquor plebiscite. It has been very carefully phrased to secure a public expression of opinion on a vital issue - whether the present liquor laws are in line with your present-day thinking.

The Alberta Hotel Association feels that the last few words of the ballot are of special importance. They make it clear that if the Liquor Control Act is amended, any new type of outlet will still be subject to a local vote before being introduced into your Community.

What types of liquor outlets may you expect to vote on locally? In its Brief to the Legislature's Special Liquor Committee, The Alberta Hotel Association suggested that if amendments are to be made in the Liquor Act the following be considered:

- Liquor Licenses for Dining Rooms of an obviously high standard.
- Cocktail Lounges in hotels with suitable administrative restrictions as to number and character of hotels where liquor may be sold.

When we made these suggestions, it was with complete confidence in the Alberta Government's administration of the Liquor Control Act. We feel that fears expressed on the question of new types of outlets are exaggerated. Any new outlets for the sale of liquor would, we are sure, be controlled by legal restrictions.

The Plebiscite is being held because your views on this question are important - vitally important! The present Liquor Control Act is based on a Plebiscite held thirty-four years ago. Governments hesitate to change laws unless demanded by a special public vote. Your decision NOW will affect Alberta's liquor laws for many years to come.

You have been asked to give your opinion . . . GIVE IT by casting your Vote on October 30th!

GET OUT AND VOTE
on the Liquor Plebiscite!

TEMPER AND HOW TO CONTROL A CHILD'S OUTBURSTS

Temper is quite common at two years. Parents are often surprised when their 'little angel', of a year and a half or two years of age, begins to have temper spells. The baby's 'temper cry' means usually that the baby is hungry, or physically uncomfortable for any of a dozen reasons, and he is telling the world how he feels about it.

But there is a stage of development around two years of age, when the child is walking and talking, at which temper tantrums are especially common. At this age, even children who are usually placid will shatter the peace with angry outbursts.

What is happening is that your baby is becoming a person able to make his demands more clearly known. He is demanding his right to explore his expanding world and to make a few decisions for himself. While he is a helpless baby we expect him to behave as such, but when he begins to walk and talk we expect him suddenly to have almost as much self-control as an adult.

Anger and resistance are natural reactions to 'stop signs'. It is important that parents limit their controls over the child to the most necessary ones. If you restrict him extensively you can expect not only outbursts of temper through the early years, but a feeling of frustration that may lead to difficulties later.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

When your child resists dressing, eating, or giving up some treasured object, two courses are open to you. One is to hold fast to your determination, thus creating even stronger resistance in him. The other way is to respect his resistance, to see the situation from his eyes, to try to appreciate and support his effort to 'do it myself'. If the job must be pushed through, a firm but friendly way of going about it is highly desirable. The resisting child can respect authority if it is not turned against him. To build a co-operative relationship with your child rather than an antagonistic one is the aim. It takes time for the trial-and-error ways of a small child are slow and fatiguing to an adult. There is no quick way out.

Even in the midst of a temper tantrum it is far better to take the child off to some quiet place with new objects of interest, not in insolation, but with an adult close by—an adult who is available and understanding. Security is what he lacks when he loses control of himself. Punishment only increases his feelings of insecurity.

Preventing temper spells is far better for all concerned than having to cure them. Hunger and fatigue make such outbursts more likely to happen, so be sure your child is getting enough sleep and having his meals on time. He has a strong need for play materials suited to his development and for the companionship of other children of his own age just as much as he needs the right kind of food. Repeating 'bad' and 'naughty' to your child is to be avoided.

HE NEEDS HIS ENERGY

The early temper spells disappear for a period of time but usually reappear in bold fashion sometime during the four and five year period. The new outbursts, following a period of more controlled behaviour are indications of new growth and are not a 'back track'. In this period parents tend to become exasperated and a more rigid control usually goes into force. Surely by four and a half he should be able to put away his toys [illegible]. In fact his new [illegible] resistance stem from [illegible] new interests and abilities that he has just grown into. From his point of view there isn't time to pick up his toys. He needs his energy to explore these new interests.

Affection and [illegible] for him at this [illegible] prevent display of [illegible] feeling of hatred [illegible] responsible as a result of [illegible] will voluntarily take [illegible] more responsibilities during the fifth and sixth years.

If his temper spell causes an outburst on your part it will only increase his opposition. Give him plenty of attention at other times, reading to him, talking to him, and spending more time in his company. When it becomes obvious that he is trying to make you give in to his wishes by a temper spell it may be advisable to isolate him for a while. And don't worry if he yells 'I hate you!' He will get over this habit of talking back because he will eventually copy his parents' example of courtesy. He will learn to master his tongue also because he wants to be liked by his companions. It is possible to love and hate at the same time and it is better that your child express his hate. If you curb him sharply on this point he may become sullen.

SET A GOOD EXAMPLE

Prevent anger from becoming a serious handicap to your child. As an adult, you can't afford to have a 'hair trigger' temper exploding every time things go badly. Avoid this type of behaviour in your child by setting a good example. See to it that he does not meet too many frustrations in early life. Be sure that his training and his opportunities are suited to his age level.

Anger is not something that you can eradicate from a child's nature but you can help to manage it.

Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service Here Monday, Nov. 4th

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is once again visiting Vermilion and the Vermilion Red Cross branch is asking that everyone co-operate to make this the most successful clinic ever held in Vermilion.

The clinic is being held in the Legion hall on Monday, Nov. 4th between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Every fifteen minutes, night and day, someone in Alberta is receiving a blood transfusion. An army of donors is needed to maintain this supply.

When the last clinic was held in Vermilion in 1955 there were 137 donors. It is hoped this year to double that number and to reach the objective of 300 donors.

This coming clinic is relying on you and your neighbor to show your concern for the sick by making donations of your blood. This is, without doubt, one of the finest opportunities there is to aid your fellowmen in time of need. 15-16

Students' Union At The V.H.S. Away To A Good Start

NORMA HARLE —who was elected President of the Students' Union of the Vermilion High School.

The high school got off to a slow start this year because of a shortage of teachers, but it is now buzzing with activity . . . as it won't be long until the fall exams.

The traffic downtown was held up recently for a short time as initiated pupils did the snake dance, and then formed a circle in the centre of the business section while the cheerleaders gave the school yell.

There is an increase in the number of pupils in the high school as some of the Dewberry students have come here due to a shortage of teachers there.

The Students' Union has been formed, the following students were elected to office:

President — Norma Harle
Secretary — Shirley Porter
Treasurer — Linda Long
Girls' Sport Rep. — Marjorie Waldenberger
Boys' Sport Rep. — Bob Waldenberger
Social Convener — Frances Mihalcheon
Point Sec. — Margaret Rooks
Room Reps. — Elmer Leahy, Bryon Calvert

The Houses have been organized and House League basketball is well underway. The teams seem to be more evenly matched this season and the standings to date are: Service, 8 points; Carmen, 7 points; Laurier, 8 points.

The high school's first dance will be held on Nov. 1 in the form of a 'Platter Party'.

Old-Timers Gather At Annual Round-up

Eighty old timers of Vermilion and district gathered on Wednesday, October 23rd at the annual round-up. This year the round-up consisted of a sumptuous turkey dinner served by the ladies of the Canadian Legion, a program of musical numbers and addresses, the regular business session, a movie film showing the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts at Niagara on the Lake, held in 1955, and a short dance.

A more sombre note crept in when two minutes of silence was observed in memory of nine members of the old timers association who had passed on to a better land since the last old timers' gathering.

President George Webb was chairman, and contributing to the program were His Worship Mayor Hill; Capt. Holden of the Salvation Army, the guest speaker and who gave a very delightful talk; Gerald F. Stephens who thanked the speaker on behalf of the gathering.

Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Bootsman and Mrs. Shepherd of Kitscoty, accompanied by Mrs. Batty, also of Kitscoty. These numbers were well chosen, excellently rendered and very much appreciated. Johnny Webb led in community singing, accompanied by Mrs. Batty.

The election of officers resulted in the same people finding themselves back in office, a compliment to the good job they have done in the past. The officers are:—

Honorary Presidents H. B. Evans, J. W. G. Morrison, Q.C., His Worship Mayor Hill.
President—George C Webb.
Vice-president—Basil Hawley.
Sec.—Mrs. Hilda Cross.
Treas.—Donald Taylor.
Executive members H. H Hodgins, Gordon Larson, G. F. Stephens, A. O. Osbaldeston, Mrs. A. Cameron, Mrs E. M Stewart, Mrs. Basil Hawley, Mrs. George Whyte.

There is nothing quite like an old timers gathering, it has a meaning, an attraction all it's own. Plan to attend the next round-up. Anyone west of the great lakes for the past forty years is elegible.

Gives Vocational Talk On Christian Ministry

An interesting vocational talk was given at the meeting of the Rotary Club on Friday, Oct. 18 by Chauncey MacKay who gave a memorable address on the Christian Ministry.

Interspersed with humorous accounts of some of his early experiences in the mission fields, Chauncey left no doubt that his vocation was rich in its rewards, challenging and vital in this day and age. The Christiain ministry is indeed 'Service above Self'

Introduced by Gil Rampling the speaker was thanked by J. W. G. Morrison.

Pupils Take Major Part In Official Opening Kitscoty School

At the official opening of the Kitscoty school and gymnasium on Friday of last week, the Hon. Anders O. Aalborg, Minister of Education commented on the prominent part taken by the pupils of the school in the program. one is in evidence at official So often said Mr Aalborg, every school openings except the folks most interested, the pupils, such was not the case at Kitscoty.

The afternoon of the official opening found the fine new gymnasium-auditorium filled to capacity. Chairman of the proceedings was Mr J. A. Miller divisional school [illegible] various stages of the program were made by Mayor Bert Stokes, Mr James McCorry, chairman of the Kitscoty school board, C. A. Richardson, principal of the Kitscoty school, D. C. McGrath chairman of the Divisional Board, Mr B Wood, architect, Mr J R Robson, divisional secretary who introduced the guest speaker the Hon. A. O. Aalborg.

An interesting feature was the presentation by the Hon. Mr Aalborg of a large painting of an Alberta mountain scene to the school. This was accepted by the Principal Mr. C. A. Richardson and is being hung in the school library.

Interspersed in the unusually interesting program were the musical numbers by the town band, directed by Milton Christofferson, chorus by the elementary school, chorus by the Kitscoty high school, and a skit by the junior high school.

Many found the latter very interesting as it portrayed the history of the many one-roomed country schools closed up since centralization began. Historical facts were given by many young people whose homes were in the various districts but who now came by bus to attend the fine new school at Kitscoty. The names of first board members, how the school was named, years of operation, well remembered teachers all came in for review by the more than two dozen young people taking part.

Following the program the high school boys conducted tours through the six new rooms and the gymnasium showing all the features, the air conditioning, the heating system, the school being very complete with all modern conveniences. The delightful color scheme came in for much commendation while the new gymnasium was a subject of awe and much delight.

The exceptionally enjoyable afternoon was completed by a lunch served by the high school girls.

Medal Winner, Joanne Hohol, Honored At Woodvale School

(From WOODVALE News)

A most pleasant occasion was the presentation of the governor-general's medal to Joanne Hohol on Saturday night at the Woodvale school. Joanne was an honor student in the grade 9 examinations of last June and won the medals for having the highest marks of any grade 9 student in the Vermilion school division. For this very special occasion Joanne travelled with her parents Mr and Mrs. John Hohol, and her brothers from Barrhead to be welcomed at Woodvale by a school crowded with friends and former school mates.

After a few hours of games and sing songs, Mr. D. C. McGrath, chairman of the Vermilion school division board, asked Mr. S. D. Simonson, the school superintendent to make the presentation of the medal. Opening his address with a few humorous remarks, Mr Simonson went on to say that the ability to study and to [illegible] was made possible by the home a student had and by the teacher who could develop that ability. In this case the teacher was Joanne's father who had taught her for nine years. An interesting account of former winners of the grade 9 medal followed. Then, with a few warm words, Joanne was called forward and received the medal. She replied and thanked Mr. Simonson her father and everyone there, for their help and kindness. That she managed to end her speech with a witty remark about her future plans in response to something Mr Simonson had said, shows that Joanne, in rather exciting and nerve straining circumstances can think clear and fast as a good scholarship winner should. Many found this a very touching moment, long to be remembered.

Mr D. C. McGrath later introduced Mr and Mrs W. A. Anderson who succeeded Mr. Hohol as principal of the Woodvale school this September. Due to the busy harvest season, many present duced Mr and Mrs. W. A. Anderson before and were glad to become acquainted with them at [illegible]

Accompanying them to Woodvale were Margaret Watt and Susan Wolters from Edmonton for a short visit home. While here, the Hohol family were supper guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. R. Watt, and the family spent the night there and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Funnell.

Blood Donor Clinic November 4th Vermilion Legion Hall, 6 to 9 p.m.

The Red Cross Blood Clinic is urgently in need of blood donors to keep up the supply of blood required for the injured and ill citizens of Alberta.

In Vermilion Municipal Hospital alone there is an average of 200 bottles needed in one year. One patient needed thirty bottles to save her life.

In the winter of 1957 at one o clock in the morning a call went to the Red Cross Blood Depot in Edmonton from the Vermilion Municipal Hospital for a supply of blood. Two members of the staff of the Blood Depot in Edmonton responded and arrived in Vermilion at about 4 a.m. with the blood.

The life-saving value of the Red Cross Blood Depot in Edmonton cannot be over-estimated. Only by the donation of blood can this service be continued.

The Patterns Has Been Set

The people of Alberta have spoken and have asked for according to the ballot, more outlets for beer, wines, and spirituous liquors. The thought prevails however that Albertans were not necessarily asking for more outlets but were taking this means to seek an improvement in the present mode of public drinking. It can only be hoped that the statements of those campaigning for a 'yes' vote will prove correct and that new laws will lead to more sane drinking, less consumption of liquor, fewer highway accidents, a drop in the number of convictions under the liquor act, and better home conditions where drinking by parents is a problem.

Satellite Heralds New Era

The launching of the first earth satellite started a new era for all of us, writes Leonard Bertin, science editor of The Financial Post.

On the credit side of the balance sheet it could:

Improve long-range communications.

Help to predict the vagaries of the weather and enable us to make accurate long-range forecasts.

Map the continents with great accuracy.

Learn more about the way in which events on the sun, solar flares and explosions and the like affect our daily life.

Predict possible trends in climate change.

Provide us with a completely new picture of the universe, unspoiled by atmospheric effects that dog the work of the terrestrial astronomer.

Provide us with the data for voyages far into space.

MUST KEEP MOVING

A man can't expect a train of thought to help him unless he works up enough steam to operate it.

SENATE REFORM

Any prime minister, says The Financial Post, can reform the Senate to some degree without legal change. He can make appointments on the basis of ability and public service in other fields besides politics. Then he could give the senators more interesting work to do than hearing divorce evidence, now their staple diet.

There are some excellent brains in the Senate. The country should make full use of them in this period of tremendous growth of the public business.

Health Unit Notes

NERVOUS HABITS

The expression "a nervous child" has different meanings for different people. Some think of the bed wetter or thumb sucker, others will picture the over-active easily excited child or thin, whining youngster who tires easily. To many it means the nail biter, or the child with twitching habits.

The child who is easily excited, or who tires quickly, does so in most cases for some reason other than disease or defect in his nervous system. Sometimes a physical condition such as malnutrition or chronic fatigue is to blame. Frequently the trouble lies in the child's fears and worries building up a tension within him.

Such fears and worries of which he may not even be aware may seem foolish to a grownup but they can be terribly real to him. The fear of not being loved by his parents is probably the most common one. If you expect him to behave with grown-up manners, or you are bringing him up under too strict a discipline (too much "Don't") he will feel insecure in your love.

Arrange a medical examination. Your doctor may suggest taking the youngster to a child guidance clinic or a mental health clinic where specialists are available on children's behaviour. Your provincial health department or health unit can inform [illegible] such clinics exist. In any case, easing up on your discipline on the child and not expecting too much will often help greatly.

NAIL BITING

A child [illegible] to get relief from pressure or anxiety too strong for him. Twisting a strand of hair or biting the lips are similar actions. Your child won't stop biting his nails because you dislike his habit and tell him he mustn't. And he won't stop just because you tie his hands, or put bad tasting stuff on his fingers, or try mechanical gadgets such as metal mittens. He can't. He doesn't even realize he's biting them sometimes! He just has to do something about the tenseness inside him, and nail biting gives him relief.

The tendency in a child past the age of infancy to bite and chew things is a common signal of inner tensions. Nails are tough, insensitive and painless to bite. But once the habit has begun, the rough edges of the nail and the exposed nail bed cause irritation and this provokes more nail biting. Direct restraint such as bandages or splints only intensifies and worsens the anxiety and strain that are the real basis of trouble. What causes the uneasiness is often hard to discover since it may have been started weeks or months before. It will take patience and understanding on your part to help your child overcome his habit.

TRY THIS COURSE OF ACTION

To help the nail biter, make his nails smooth and lessen the irritation by soaking them in olive oil. Next look for the possible causes in his physical and emotional health.

Check on his general physical condition, reviewing his eating and sleeping habits. Make sure they are in line with what are considered to be likely needs for a child of his age. He should be gaining in weight steadily and his color should be good. Does he tire readily? If so, something's amiss. Again, ask yourself if he is getting enough activity, running, jumping, climbing, lively out-door play.

Now, how about his emotional well being? Here is likely where the real trouble lies. Build up your child's self-confidence by making him feel that he can do things himself and that when he really needs help you are ready to give it. Show him you are proud of the things he is learning to do for himself. If you keep him too dependent on you, however, he may reveal his need for more freedom by nail biting. He may show his anxieties and fears in the same way if you expect too much of him and give him reason to fear that he won't be able to measure up. Or it may be something in his school situation facing work that is continually too difficult or a teacher who is very severe that is troubling him.

Too much excitement is bad. While he needs new experiences, overstimulation will cause strain. Avoid too much playing and competition with older children, too much noise and rushing about, too many movies and radio programs. Set an example of happy behaviour in the home. Bossing, nagging, scolding will take their toll.

If your child over three persists in nail biting, gain his co-operation by developing his pride in manicured and well-kept nails. Keep assuring him that he is bound to be successful eventually. When he slips back into the habit, overlook it and give him further encouragement.

Pretty Fall Wedding United Church

HABSTRITT - MAY

First United Church, Vermilion, was the scene of a very beautiful fall wedding on Oct. 10th when Agnes Doreen May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon May, became the bride of Mr. Lawrence Maxwell Habstritt, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Habstritt, all of Vermilion.

Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the double ring ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white embroidered net over nylon satin with lilypoint sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was trimmed with satin chain-stitch embroidery and was held in place by a coronet of mother of pearl sequins. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings, trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds and white carnations set off with fern.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her two bridesmaids, Hazel Habstritt, sister of the groom, and Laurena May, sister of the bride. Hazel wore a street-length dress of powder blue spun glass. Her headpiece was aqua blue set off with organdy rosettes and lily of the valley. She wore white gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow flowers. Her jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace with small white pearl earrings to match.

Laurena wore a street-length dress of yellow nylon covered with net. Her headpiece was of yellow organdy, styled to match Hazel's. She wore white gloves and carried a bouquet of pink flowers. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls with matching earrings.

Attending the groom were his friends, Bob Proud and Leslie Bowman. The ushers were Mr. E. Rustand and Mr. L. Giles. Mr Jack Brown played the wedding music.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue nylon crepe dress with inserts of lace and white accessories. The groom's mother was also in navy with a rose hat and corsage of white flowers.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents south of Vermilion.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rustand and family and Mr. L. Rustand of Rose Creek, and Mrs. Roy Habstritt of Calgary.

For going away the bride changed to a turquoise suit with pink accessories. Her jewelry was an Alaska black diamond necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Habstritt will make their home in Vermilion.

Shepherd-Conboy Nuptials Are Solemnized At United Church

Baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums graced the altar of First United Church recently for a pretty afternoon wedding when Miss Mildred Ellen Conboy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Conboy of Vermilion, became the bride of Mr. Russell James Shepherd, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shepherd, of Carstairs.

Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Before the bride entered the church Miss Margaret Bishop of Edmonton sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a waltz-length gown of Alencon lace over satin, styled with a V-collared neckline, re-embroidered with dramente sequins. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long lilypoint sleeves and the skirt was poised over hooped crinolines. Her fingertip veil of soft mist illusion, scattered with tiny opalescent stars, was held in place by a cap style headpiece also trimmed with dramente sequins and seed pearls. A cascade bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses and white stephanotis accentuated her gown. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Molly Conboy, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor, wearing a waltz-length gown of pale pink organza. Miss Marlene Warren, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a waltz-length gown of yellow net over satin. Bandeaux of white baby mums completed their costumes. Each carried a cascade bouquet of mauve and bronze mums respectively.

Mr. Stuart Conboy, brother of the bride was best man, and Mr. James Walline and Mr Donald Dimmer ushered the guests.

Mrs. A. M. West played the wedding music and Miss Margaret Bishop was soloist. During the ceremony she sang "The Wedding Prayer" followed by "O Perfect Love", while the register was being signed.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake baked by the groom's mother, and it was topped by [illegible].

Mr R B Warren, uncle of the bride asked the blessing and Mr E. A. Locke proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. Mrs Nora Laird sang "Bless This House".

Telegrams of congratulations and best wishes were read.

Miss Eleanor Evans was in charge of the guest book, while Mrs. S. G. Brass looked after the gifts.

For travelling to the United States, the bride changed to a blue-grey wool worsted suit with tangerine hat and black accessories. On her shoulder was a corsage of bronze baby mums.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd will make their home in Edmonton.

Guests attending the wedding from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shepherd of Carstairs, Mr and Mrs. S. L. Conboy of Forestburg; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. J. M Warren, Marlene and Joan, Mrs. W. H. Warren and Donna, all of Asquith, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. W Motz, Melvin and Esther of Trochu; Mr and Mrs. C. A. PERMANENT BATTERY

New battery developed in the U S. for commercial applications is said to last indefinitely if hydrogen and oxygen are added, The Financial Post reports. Ordinary air can be used to provide oxygen if low amperage is all that is needed. For high amperage an oxygen tank is necessary. Hydrogen has to be provided from a tank.

NEWS from ISLAY

The W.A. of the United church are very pleased with the results of the chicken supper $130.00 was taken in at the door. We wish to thank those who came, and those who helped in other ways. It is the willingness to co-operate that is the fine spirit of the people around our community. The way so many come in to help with the dish washing, etc. Even the young ones, such as Grace Simmons, Lynne Davidson, Jack Teskey, Jim Shaw, Don Schaffer, Jim and Gerry Maire, Elaine Hanna, Grace Schaffer, Shirley McGuigan, Betty and Jean Hannon just to name a few. It is to these that we say "thank you." Jeannie Axley did well stacking up the plates and handing them in to be washed.

Gas was turned on in the furnace in the Church Hall Monday. Now we can lay linoleum any time.

A nice bit fo news has reached us to the effect that the Cairns farm has been bought by a Mr. Thor from Chipman. He has a sizeable family, which means more for our school. He plans to build on the S.W. quarter near Gordon Good. It's so nice to have a family come and occupy the land.

Keep in mind Nov. 7th — the next W. A. meeting at Mrs. Patsy Robertson's. We will plan the Bazaar.

On Saturday, November 2 at 2 p.m., the 4H Grain Club will hold their fair in the basement of the school. Get your samples ready. Remember - it takes the exhibits to make the fair. Everyone is welcome. Come and encourage the 4 H'ers.

(Held over from last week)

Did you listen to "Summer Fallow" Monday night? Surely took one back east and back many, many years. "Thoughts of Fall" was the title. The old steam threshing machine, the tank man, the elm wood to burn in the engine. He spoke of the yellow light of the lantern with the black spot on the glass, of hanging it over the heads of the cows and shadows appeared even behind the pulper — and many other memories, and best of all, no one could beat the women of 3rd and 4th concessions putting on meals for the threshers, or at the fowl suppers.

Sacrament of Baptism was observed Sunday at the 9:30 service. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gould were baptized. There was a good attendance.

Ducks are 'unlimited' in this area and it is claimed, have enormous appetites.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Caro have had a few days in Edmonton.

Mrs. J. Carey and Marie were in Edmonton where Marie attended the hospital convention, as secretary of Islay hospital. Mr. Bill Shaw attended also as Board member.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Redwater spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Axley.

Wee Jimmie Munroe has been staying with his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Bill Axley while his mother is ill.

Marion Teskey returned to school at Kitscoty after being home ill with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Egg Producer—here is good news: 100,000 eggs a week are being used in the production of the Asian influenza vaccine. It may create a scarcity of eggs!

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gould on the birth of another son. Grandma Gillies is caring for the family just now.

Ribbon Cut For Kitchen Opening

DERWENT — An official kitchen opening was held on Wednesday, October 23, at the Derwent National Hall.

The construction of the newly built kitchen commenced in May this summer and it is now completed, with spacious built-in cupboards and a roomy kitchen which was a necessity to the community. Many weddings, dinners, and banquets are held in the National Hall.

The labor on this kitchen was donated by a number of Derwent residents, and Fr. Cherkiawski.

The kitchen was opened by Mistress of Ceremonies, Mrs. Verna Charchun, who called on Father Cherkiawski to say Grace. Then, Mrs. Pearl Algot, the mayor's wife, representing the village, congratulated the UCWL for donating their time and effort towards the newly-built kitchen.

Mrs. Helen Koblynk, the recording secretary of the UCWL, spoke in Ukrainian on behalf of the league, and presented the hi-lites of the league since it was organized, up until the present time. Mrs. Eva Charchun, ex-president of the UWCL, spoke on the work that had been done on the kitchen. Mrs. Molly Young, President of the UWCL, officially opened the kitchen by cutting the ribbon. She then thanked all the members and guests that were present for 'showering' the newly-built kitchen with gifts. Gifts donated included kitchen ware and utensils which are necessary for a modern kitchen.

Card games were enjoyed during the evening and a delicious lunch served by the UWCL brought the ceremonies to a close.

Mannville L.O.B.A. Hold Tea, Bazaar

MANNVILLE.—A worthwhile sum was realized at the tea, bazaar and bake sale held in the Orange hall on Saturday of last week by the L.O.B.A. ladies. Hallowe'en motifs were placed on each table at the tea, thus making people aware of the coming event. The ladies are grateful to those patronizing this affair.

DEWBERRY NEWS

Congratulations are offered to two former Dewberry students who now attend the Convent in Clandonald. Jean Craige won a flash camera as first prize for selling most subscriptions under the Curtis plan. Francis Maltais came second and won a panda.

Many are down with the flu in Dewberry. On some days the schools were 5 and 6 teachers short. More than half the pupils were stricken.

The bingo sponsored by the C.W.L. on Oct. 19th was not too well attended owing to the harvesting and to sickness. Next bingo will be on Nov 13th. Try and attend good prizes.

Keep in mind the L. A. chicken supper on Nov 6th.

A self-made man is like any other except that he has a publicity agent.

"AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sperberg will be at home to their friends and neighbors on Monday, Nov 4th from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock in the evening, the occasion of their 45th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs Sperberg are also looking forward to the visit of the folks from Wildwood East on Saturday, Nov 2nd, so please do not forget. 16-17

Just in case some uneasy nocturnal passer-by feels it his or her duty to report strange accents and rumblings emanating from St. Saviour's parish hall of late, it's alright folks — it's only the local players in session again. Flu, etc., permitting, they hope to have the fruits of their efforts ready for sampling sometime in the not too distant future. So watch the Standard for developments.

Mr. Wm. Tidsbury will speak and show slides of his missionary work in British Honduras on Saturday, Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Gospel hall. Everyone welcome 17x

SQUARE DANCING AT BOWTELL HALL

First night of modern square dance lessons will be held in the Bowtell hall on Tuesday Nov. 5th commencing at 8:30. This is your chance to come and try it, or for anyone who would like to brush up. Johnny Maxwell, instructor. 17

APPRECIATION

Mr and Mrs. W. J. Macnab wish to thank the ladies of Buffalo Coulee for the basket of flowers and good wishes sent to them on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary, and to the neighbors and friends for the many kinndnesses received.

Feted on Wedding Anniversary

MARWAYNE — Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kinsella were honored on their silver wedding anniversary when neighbors gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs. S. A. Berg where the well-wishers presented them with a set of crystal. Mr and Mrs. Kinsella were again honored at a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Spicer when they were presented with a lace table cloth. Old timers of the district, Mrs. Jas Gray and Mrs. Reg Hook, Kamloops, B.C., were also guests at the party.

Mrs Norman Murray and Mrs. David Lowrie, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kinsella living in Edmonton, had a dinner party of forty guests for their parents. The table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and the gift at this delightful party was a set of dishes.

It's a poor policy to put things off until tomorrow because someone else is apt to do it today.

THEY PROVED IT

Despite the fact that the Standard reported that they were in Calgary last week previewing 1958 model cars, Reg Rowe and Eddie Lyons proved otherwise and now have on display a 1958 model Buick that is making the eyes of the car-minded public really glisten.

HELLO EVERBODY:

Holiday time has come and gone and once again I'm going to avail myself of this wonderful opportunity to chat to each and everyone of you through our weekly newspaper — "The Standard". I feel we are most fortunate in having an editor who spares no time or effort to print our monthly W I news.

With the busy summer season past once more we will be engaging in all W I projects with renewed enthusiasm and vigor. Let us not forget one very important project — the organizing of new branches wherever there is an opportunity. Each member can play an important role. If you have a group of friends someplace that you could persuade to organize a new branch, please investigate the possibility and contact your constituency convener.

Remember that the National Convention is to be held on Oct 29th to 31st inclusive. At the Provincial convention in May, District No. 2 voted to send 15c per member to pay the expenses of one delegate (Mrs. Wood of Stony Plain) to the convention. Has your branch sent their contribution to Mrs. Joe Bielish, Dist. No. 2, Director, Warspite Alberta?

We are both pleased and proud that one of our members, Mrs. J. C. Perrier of Vermilion, has volunteered to pay her own expenses and go as a delegate to the convention. Our very best wishes go with Mrs. Perrier as she journeys to Ottawa to attend.

At the 1955 F.W.I.C. board meeting it was decided to start a fund to establish a National office, so that we might have a permanent home and address for the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada. We were asked as individual members to give $1 for this. If you wish to have a small part in this office, you may send your dollar to Mrs. W. I. Clark, Secretary, F.W.I.C., Conquest, Sask.

All branch Handicraft conveners and presidents are asked to attend the Handicraft committee meeting on Nov 21 at 2 p.m. in the Legion hall, Vermilion. By now, Mrs. Wagner, your constituency Handicraft convener will have sent you the tentative Handicraft list for your approval. Please discuss it at your meetings and come prepared to give suggestions for any revisions you might find necessary.

During September I visited the Hazeldine W.I. and thoroughly enjoyed my visit. I hope to be able to visit all the branches in the near future.

I expect that by now all the homemakers have their shelves filled with jams, jellies, fruits, pickles, etc., but I just could not resist passing this recipe on to you all —

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

Take a largish grain of patience,
A ton of common sense,
An easy chair, a welcome smile
Will not be much expense.
A pair of cozy slippers,
And a bright and cheerful hearth,
And one waiting at the doorway
As he comes along the path.
Now serve this to his liking
And make him feel at ease
And he'll give you — yes, he'll give you,
Why — anything you please!

Your Const. Convener,
Edna Sloan.

TOUGH GOING

Self-confidence may be half the battle, but it's the other half that really cuts down the percentage.

Rally To Begin Farm Forum Season November 4th

Calling all Forumites — this is your last call announcing the annual Fall Rally scheduled to be held in the National hall Vegreville on Nov. 4th at 8 p.m. Please don't forget that each Forum is supposed to be responsible for a part of the program be it a song, stunt or game. Also bring along some lunch plus a portable radio.

Through the facilities of the CBC and privately-owned stations making up the national broadcasting system, Canadian farmers for 18 years have led the world in the use of radio for the discussion of their mutual problems. The purpose of Farm Forum is to encourage the formation of neighborhood discussion groups, to provide unbiased information on Forum topics, to help in the development of good discussion techniques and to assist Farm Forums in making their conclusions effective. National Farm Radio Forum is a joint project of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Through Canadian radio and television farmers receive the most complete agricultural broadcasting service in the world.

Farm Forum tools are radio broadcasts, printed study material, small group discussions, reports and group action. Everyone may participate by reading the study material, listening to the broadcasts, discussing the topics and acting with your neighbors.

Wasylycia-Roscoe Vows Are Pledged

DERWENT — Miss Elsie Roscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Andrew Roscoe of Derwent became the bride of Mr Jim Wasylycia of Myrnam at a colorful ceremony at the Greek Catholic church in Myrnam. Father Hurko performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride chose a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and net over pearly white satin, designed with a scalloped neckline and styled with lilypoint sleeves. A pillbox headdress of Chantilly lace and sequins held her veil of illusion net and lace and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

As matron of honor Mrs. Mary Roscoe of Vegreville wore a waltz-length dress of yellow with matching headdress and gloves.

Bridesmaids were Misses Lillian Roscoe, Martha Wasylycia and Patsy Yackenitz, who wore identical waltz-length dresses of blue lace with matching head dresses, gloves and shoes.

Mr Nick Yackenitz attended the groom as best man and the ushers were Mr. Joe Wasylycia, Mr Joe Hladunewich and Mr Michael Zvarich.

As flower girl, Sonja Steimaschuk wore a blue taffeta and net dress and carried a basket of flowers and Dwayne Steimaschuk was ringbearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home.

Co-Op. Refinery Planning Proposed By U.F.A. Co-Op.

At a meeting of the executive of United Farmers of Alberta Co-operative Limited held in Calgary this week the matter of a refinery planning program was discussed. Certain proposals resulting from this discussion will be presented to the Board of U.F.A. Co-op and to the annual meeting for consideration.

The annual meeting will be held on Nov. 13 and 14 in the Palliser hotel in Calgary, at which time the 40 elected delegates representing the members of U.F.A Co-op will be in attendance. In preparation for the annual meeting the executive members considered the auditor's statement for the past year and were gratified to observe the substantial increase in the earnings of U.F.A. Co-op. It is expected that these increased earnings will be reflected in an increased patronage dividend rate.

One of the featured speakers at the annual meeting this year will be Mr Arnold Platt, president of the Farmers' Union of Alberta. Taking part in the executive meeting were George Church, Balzac, president; Jake Frey, Acadia Valley; George Sayle, Sexsmith; W. J. Hoppins, general manager.

Reception Honors Mr. and Mrs. David Munro of Dewberry

An open reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Axley, Islay, on Oct. 6th, the occasion being the 40th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Axley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Munro, Dewberry.

A turkey dinner was held at noon for the family and open house from 6 p.m. till 10 p.m. Twenty - seven guests attended the open reception to wish the bride and groom of yesteryear many more happy anniversaries.

Mr and Mrs McDonald of Edmonton, old neighbors of the Munros, motored down with Tom Jarrett to attend the reception.

Mr and Mrs Munro were married on Oct 6th, 1917, at Lincoln, England, and came to Canada in 1926 where they farmed in the Harewood district until 1943 when Mr. Munro took over the duties of postmaster.

There are three children of the union, Max of Barrie, Ont.; Jean (Axley) of Islay, and James of North Battleford. There are eight grandchildren. Max was the only one unable to attend. He sent best wishes however, and a large bouquet of mums. The rest of the family presented their parents with a pair of budgie birds in a beautiful cage. Many cards were received from well wishers.

A buffet lunch, complete with wedding cake was served at the reception. Pictures were taken and a recording was also made which was played back to the gathering.

Bad roads at the time kept many Dewberry friends from attending. On Oct. 7th many visitors called during the afternoon to pay their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Munro.

Many more happy anniversaries are wished the genial postmaster and his wife.

Visitor from Poland Sees Relatives For First Time in Thirty Years

Supper guests at the Ronnie Bauer home on Sunday were Mrs. Bauer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Fleming of Mannville, her aunt, Mrs. Linman of Edmonton, and her uncle Mr. Ed Fleming of Warsaw, Poland whom she had never seen before.

Mr. Fleming is on a six weeks visit with his brother and sister whom he hadn't seen for thirty years. He is a child psychologist for the Warsaw schools. He speaks four languages, and reads and writes English as well. He says children do not start school until the age of seven in Poland and by the end of the first year can multiply, divide, and subtract to one hundred. They are also taught the sounds in their first year. He was very much impressed by the vastness of Canada and the general prosperity of the people. He says in Poland it takes a week to earn [illegible] for a pair of shoes.

The 'flu is certainly making the rounds here. Latest victims are Paul Horne and Lorraine Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Olstad and family were coffee guests at the Fred Watling home on Sunday. Other visitors at the Watling home were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Upshall and Jackie of Vermilion.

Mrs. Dearie of Minburn is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Ernie Larcombe while her husband is a patient in the Mannville hospital following a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coe and Mrs. Coe were Sunday evening supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Norman McHardy.

Mr. Bill Horne of Red Deer was a week end caller at the Jim Horne home.

Mr. and Mrs. Knute Horning of Lloydminster were Tuesday dinner guests at Robert MacMillan.

Scout District Council Holds Dinner and Meeting

The Battle River District Council, The Boy Scouts Association held their Annual Meeting last Thursday evening October 17, in Camp Wainwright, approximately 60 persons attending. Camp Wainwright Scout Group Committee played host and with the generous co-operation of the Camp Administrative Officer, Col. Gemmell (Honorary President of the District Council) it was possible to entertain the Executive, members and guests to a delicious buffet supper. Representatives were [illegible] from Vermilion, Buffalo Coulee, Chauvin, Edgerton and the Town of Wainwright. It was a pleasure to entertain Mr Ed Walker, President of the Canadian Legion, Mrs. Walker, Zone Commander, Canadian Legion, Women's Auxiliary, Mr. Jim Steele, (Mayor of Edgerton), Mr. Harold Moseng, (Elks Club, Wainwright), Mr. Len D'Albertanson (Star Chronicle), Mr. Ed Johnson and Capt. Theiss (Kinsmen Club) and many other visitors. Mr. Ric Clarke, Field Commissioner, represented the Provincial Council.

The business part of the meeting was conducted by President, Don Hauck. The treasurer produced audited financial accounts showing a balance to date of $13.52 and $4.11 petty cash. There was also $100.00 received from Camp Wainwright earmarked for Camp Site development. Vote of thanks was passed to Capt Theiss for auditing the accounts. There being no nominations for new Executive Officers and it being generally felt that present officers were just getting into smooth operation, such officers were elected to stand for another year.

An annual report was read by Secretary, Mrs. Grant Salmon, and the Chairman of the various group committees gave short reports of their activities during the last year. The assistant District Commissioner Mr. Harold Harvey, tendered his resignation and vote of thanks was made to Mr. Harvey for his work over the past two years. Buffalo Coulee Group Committee were loudly applauded for their ingenuity in raising funds for their operation which ranged from growing potatoes for sale to making handicraft. This was commendable especially as Buffalo Coulee are our youngest and newest group and have a scattered area. They were an object lesson to all present. Due to the fact that our District Commissioner, Mr Gordon Ross, of Vermilion, has tendered his resignation, the name of Mr. R. Harkness, Edgerton, was put forward and unanimously supported as a possible D. C. and his name was to be put before Provincial Council for approval. Designs were submitted for a District Council emblem but no decision will be reached until members of Scout Troops have completed their competition in this respect. An investigation committe was elected to look into the matter of access to the Arm Lake Camp site, comprising Major Brunston, Mr. Harold Harvey, Mr Mike Condro and Mr R. Harkness. Mr. Wm Skeene, Edgerton, reported he was 'ready for business' and group committees were asked to send a $5.00 deposit to Mr Skeene as soon as possible. At the close of business, Mr Clarke outlined various ways of raising money for the operation of groups and District Council and he also reminded the Group Committees of the Scout Leader [illegible] course which would be held in Camp Wainwright, October 26-27, from 9 30 a.m. Saturday morning through to 5 p.m. Sunday. Mr. Clarke would be conducting this course with the aid of two assistants from Red Deer and it would be most valuable to Scouters who had been operating without such training. It was hoped as many as possible would attend.

'As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined.'

Quoting these words, Mr. Ric Clarke spoke to the meeting on three important things in the training of boys—

The home — where moral personality is developed.

The school— where the intellect is developed.

The Church—his duty to God, where his spiritual side is developed.

These three things build the man of tomorrow, scouting did not replace these things but supplemented them. Parents must participate not only to make a good boy only, but to create a a better man. Parents should send the boy to school to educate him - send him to church so that the minister may have a chance to mould his spiritual life. There has to be a warm desire in scouting to supplement these things. There has to be understanding as to how the job is to be done and what the job of scouting means. It is not an institution but a programme. There must be action, there must be time to spend and there must be enthusiasm to carry out the programme. Sponsors must find out their responsibilities. Group Committees must know their duties, the District Councils must help them in this respect. In closing Mr. Clarke took the reaffirmation of the District Council Executive and Group Committees in their Scout Promise and following there was the Scout silence in which each individual said his prayer, in his own way, for the improvement in his scouting. Dr. Hauck moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Clarke and it is certain his words will remain with those present for a long time, strengthening, it is hoped, the aims and purpose of the Battle River District Council and its Group Committees.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

FURNITURE FINISHES

Keeping the finish on a piece of furniture looking the way it did when your purchased it is often a little hard. The wear and tear of family living is apt to leave your best pieces a little the worse for wear. Dullness on a varnished surface can often be removed with washing and polishing. Keep moisture away from glued joints and never wash a shellac or cheap varnish finish.

Here's a method for shining up your furniture and polishing it:

1 quart hot water

3 tablespoons boiled linseed oil

1 tablespoon turpentine

Heat in a double boiler and wash the furniture with a soft cloth wrung out of the mixture. Rub to a polish with a chamois or dry soft cloth. The hot water and turpentine removes grease and dirt and the oil polishes the finish.

ARE YOU REMODELLING?

If you are remodelling your home or planning to build a new one, perhaps you'd like some guidance. Miss Carol Sanderson, Home Designing Specialist with the Department of Agriculture in Edmonton, will be in this district on Nov. 18th and 19th. She is prepared to guide you in selecting a suitable plan for your family needs; in planning and carrying out any necessary remodelling. If you are puzzled by the variety of fabrics, paints, wallpapers and floor materials, she can help you in their selection.

If you would like to have Miss Sanderson visit you write to me in Wainwright, and I will contact Miss Sanderson.

WILDMERE WORKS

(Held over from last week)

It's too bad the nice weather had to end so soon as there is still lots of harvesting to be done. In our corner it's fairly well all finished.

Pleased to hear Catherine Barlow got a wrist watch and gold star pin from the T. Eaton Good Deed club. We were listening to the program that morning. You are a wonderful help Catherine and well deserve the award.

Wildmere W.A. met at the school on Oct. 8th with a small attendance owing to many being busy. Meeting opened with the minutes and treasurer's report. Mrs. Holte had a letter saying that her Christian Education report had been accepted by the church council. She also had a letter from Mrs. Graham, president of the Presbytery at Lloydminster on the same report. Mrs. Holte is to be congratulated on her good work.

Next meeting Mrs. D. Hughes has the Devotional, lunch by Mrs. Cruthers and Mrs. W. T. Garnett. Parcels of used clothing have been sent to Miss Enid Horning in Japan. Mrs. Fred Haines gave the Devotional — "Jesus cares for the body of man". It was a good paper. Hymns 321 and 148 were sung. Next meeting Nov. 13th.

Everyone is glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Glen Beckman home and able to be about after their long stay in hospital after being in the car accident in August that took the life of Fred Johnson.

Preston Central Home and School held its first meeting of the season at the school on Oct. 15th with a small attendance. The new officers were in the chair. Mr. H. Leighton, principal of the school, would like to get a 4H Beef club organized. What about it you parents. It is something worthwhile for the young people. Next meeting is on Nov. 19 so plan to attend. Lunch by Mr. and Mrs. Leighton.

We attended the wedding of Agnes May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon May and Lawrence Habstritt. May these happy newlyweds have a long and happy married life.

Mrs. J. M. Smith left on Sunday afternoon after visiting with her sons Bill, Adam and Albert and with her daughter Mrs. C. Cruthers, for the past three weeks. Bill and Adam took their mother to Edmonton by car. From there she will go by train. Mrs. Smith usually flies but as fog is bad this time of year at the coast she chose to go by rail. Mr. and Mrs. Wallington visited with Mrs. Smith on Friday evening and Mrs. Cruthers also called at the same home.

Little Billie Cruthers picked a bouquet of crocusses last week on the hill near his home. We are afraid they will have their noses nipped this week Billie.

The Wildmere W.I. will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Wilson in town on the evening of Nov. 6th. Roll call — Care of Fabrics; Topic by Mrs. Osterberg; lunch, Mrs. W. T. Garnett, Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Haines.

Kenny Graham of the Air Cadets got a big thrill out of his plane ride on Saturday as they came right over the Wallington farm, thence east over Tolland and Kitscoty. It was wonderful for the boys. Fl./Sgt. Manyluk and others are to be congratulated on their interest in the Cadets.

AN ODD INCIDENT

A coyote picked up a chicken at Gilbert Harrison's. Mrs. Harrison, seeing what had happened yelled for Gilbert to get the gun. He shot but the coyote just trotted along. At the next shot Mr. Coyote dropped the chicken and scooted off in one direction, the bird in another. Jumping in their car the Harrisons retrieved the chicken which was only injured slightly about the tail so the Harrisons had a chicken dinner and the coyote had none!

We have been going to mention for quite some time now how we enjoyed reading the epic of the north written by Nadeen Cooper Waite, and hope she can see her way clear to again tell more of the doings in the far north. We could hardly wait until the paper came each week to see what happened next.

We are sorry to say Mrs. C. Sherburne (nee Leona Phillips) passed away from complications of the flu. May God comfort and guide those left to mourn her passing.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Pros, Cons of Liquor Plebiscite

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — On Oct. 30th, for the first time since prohibition came to an end, Albertans will have an opportunity to tell the government what kind of laws they want to control the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

The forthcoming province-wide plebiscite is gradually gaining widespread interest, with the drys campaigning vigorously for a 'no' vote and the wets striving somewhat more quietly to get out the 'yes' vote.

The outcome, of course, is anyone's guess at this point because no clear pattern has emerged. Liquor is a mighty controversial topic, as evidenced by the one-vote majority with which the Legislature last spring decided to hold the October plebiscite.

For the record, there are a few things that should be said about the liquor vote.

The question on the ballot, to be answered yes or no, will read as follows: "Should additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor be permitted if such outlets are later approved by local vote?"

What will this mean? In the first place, there is some confusion over the first few words of the question. Some persons are referring to a vote on "additional outlets", while the question says additional TYPES of outlets.

The question, then, is not whether Alberta has enough outlets for liquor, beer and wine. Most will agree there are enough of the only type presently allowed — hotel beer parlors, government liquor stores and private clubs.

Whether there are enough types of outlets is another matter, and a large segment of the population believes there are not.

One of the major arguments for more types of outlets is that the present Liquor Control Act makes it legal for the citizen wealthy enough to belong to a private club to buy mixed drinks by the glass, while the average citizen must either drink beer or purchase his liquor by the bottle.

Many who enjoy the odd drink believe this is discriminatory. The temperance forces, on the other hand, say the present laws make it easy enough for anyone to obtain all the liquor he wants.

There is also an argument that types of outlets should be established which offer better surroundings than those found in most beer parlors, and where the emphasis is on the social aspect rather than on drinking alone. The temperance argument is that any easing of restrictions leads to more drinking, more drunkenness, more alcoholism, and a general decline in morals.

It should be pointed out that the results of the plebiscite technically are not binding on the government. The vote will be nothing but an expression of public opinion.

Undoubtedly the government will have to act on that expression of opinion, but a heavy majority in favor of additional types of outlets will not automatically result in things being thrown wide open.

As the ballot question clearly states additional types of outlets would be established only after gaining the approval of residents in local option votes, similar to those held now before beer licenses are granted.

Even if the laws are broadened, it will still be up to the government, under Premier Manning, who is a teetotaller, and the liquor board, to decide what types of establishments will be permitted, and how they will be controlled.

No matter what happens, it is certain that controls will continue to be strict — perhaps [illegible] than they are [illegible] under [illegible] lack a certain measure of public respect and are difficult to enforce.

Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service Here Monday, Nov. 4th

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is once again visiting Vermilion and the Vermilion Red Cross branch is asking that everyone co-operate to make this the most successful clinic ever held in Vermilion.

The clinic is being held in the Legion hall on Monday, Nov. 4th between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Every fifteen minutes, night and day, someone in Alberta is receiving a blood transfusion. An army of donors is needed to maintain this supply.

When the last clinic was held in Vermilion in 1955 there were 137 donors. It is hoped this year to double that number and to reach the objective of 280 donors.

This coming clinic is relying on you and your neighbor to show your concern for the sick by making donations of your blood. This is, without doubt, one of the finest opportunities there is to aid your fellowmen in time of need. 15-16

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

(Held over from last week)

FLU BUG STRIKES

Not too much in the way of excitement around B.C. the last few weeks. Everyone has been busy trying to to complete harvesting operations and then the flu bug decided not to bypass the district so practically every household has had their share of the epidemic. Most of the school children came down during the holiday week end so didn't have much of a holiday but on the other hand didn't miss much schooling. Practically all are back this week.

HARVESTING NEARS COMPLETION

Harvesting operations are now nearing completion which is a good thing as the weather has turned wintry again, but we are fortunate in that snowfall has been practically nil here.

DUCKS NUMEROUS

Still plenty of ducks around but they are flying higher and higher and no doubt will soon be taking off for the sunny south as waterholes are freezing over.

MACNAB TO VANCOUVER

Brent Macnab has gone to Vancouver to play hockey this winter with the Vancouver team. Mrs. Macnab and family are at present visiting her family in Calgary but will be going to the coast when Brent finds living accommodation.

Mr. W. J. Macnab is progressing very favorably following his recent operation.

Mr Dave Love, Lanny and Brian who have been in Wetaskiwin for the past year, are now in Lamont. Shirley is remaining in Wetaskiwin.

Miss Reta Everett who spent the summer in Europe, has returned to her nursing duties at Vanderhoof, B.C.

Walter Brook and family of Edmonton spent the long week end at the home of Wilson Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Green are preparing to move to the city the end of the month where they will spend the winter.

Gary Green will be attending the V.S.A. again this year.

Lorene Everett who is attending high school in Wainwright is working in the Rexall store there after school and on Saturdays.

HONOR CONFERRED ON KATHERINE BARLOW

The T. Eaton Good Deed club awarded Katherine Barlow a 15-jewel watch and gold star pin for her good work in keeping house and helping during her mother's last illness. Katherine is now doing a fine job in helping her father carry on and everyone feels she is very deserving of this honor.

HONOR STUDENTS

The Home and School meeting scheduled for the 16th was postponed on account of harvesting and the flu. When it is held the Misses Lorene Everett and Barbara Hinton will be presented with their honor awards for an 'H' standing in Grade X.

REPAIRING 41

Everyone is happy to see the road work being done on highway 41. This should eliminate many of the bad spots in the spring.

BEST WISHES TO NEWLYWEDS

Best wishes for a long and happily married life are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Habstritt (nee Agnes May) who were married recently. A shower which was to have been held for them previous to the wedding was postponed because so many people were sick with flu, but it will be held at a later date.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE OCT. 30

Enumeration for the liquor Voting for township 48 will be at the Buffalo Coulee curling rink on Oct. 30th from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Everyone should get out and exercise their right to vote.

AMATEUR HOUR NOV. 22

The Students' Union dance which was to have been held last Friday was postponed until Nov. 1st. There is to be an Amateur hour and dance Nov. 22nd at B.C. Anyone interested please take note. Phone entries or contact Marjorie Brook phone Vermilion 1912, Bette Caron Wainwright phone 1708, or Shirley Hinton Mannville 1514.

'Teen-agers Of Mannville Stage Hallowe'en Party

MANNVILLE. — Chaperoned by leader Nancy Coxford and Rev. C. McPherson, Mannville Teen Club enjoyed a full evening of fun on Friday of last week in the Anglican church basement. Queer looking characters roamed about as this was a masquerade party and absent minded professors, spooks, cowpokes, Backward Sals, and many others wandered at will. Traditional apple ducking contests were held and games enjoyed, and of course, lunch — which is after all, very important to any healthy Teenager.

SUPERIOR SWINE

When it comes to swine the Canadians have something the U. S. has not got, namely lean meat, points out The Financial Post, which reports that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has sent a team of specialists here to find out how we produce hogs that are so much better.

COST OF LIVING

With expenses what they are today most every man has to burn the candle at both ends to make ends meet.

Meeting Nov. 13th To Discuss Egg Marketing Plan

The proposed Alberta Egg Marketing Plan will be the subject for discussion at a public meeting being held in the Legion Hall at Vermilion on November 13th, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Joe Miller of Ardrossan will be guest speaker.

During mid-November all registered poultry producers will be provided with a mail ballot on which they may support or reject the proposed Egg Marketing Plan.

It is most important that all producers are acquainted with the facts and the importance of this issue and that they cast their vote

A registered producer means any farmer having 20 or more laying hens and who, through the recent enumeration, has had his name placed on the registered producer's list.

The Egg Marketing Plan, to carry, must have a 51 per cent majority of the registered producers. This is required by an Act passed by the Alberta Legislature.

All major farm co-operatives, the Farmers' Union of Alberta, and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture are supporting the Alberta Egg Marketing Committee which has been set up for the purpose of providing basic information regarding the Egg [redacted] keting Plan.

Registration Day At The V. S. A.

Mr Sid Moore takes over as Quartermaster on registration day at the Vermilion School of Agriculture The scene above shows a group of freshmen students impatiently crowding around for their issue of coveralls and gym trunks Five months of hard use are in store for these essential items in the wardrobe of every well-dressed student at V.S.A.

The coveralls, so necessary for lab classes such as animal husbandry, metalwork, farm motors and machinery and the gym shorts indispensable in the program of organized athletics, might almost symbolize the philosophy of the school — lots of hard work and play

USE THE ARMY—

Except for the door to door visits of little tots, most people will agree that Hallowe'en activities should be relegated to bad memories of the past. Two new Hallowe'en-isms made their appearance this last Thursday night, one was the throwing of eggs, the other was an outbreak of obscene writings on windows and car windshields. Of the two, the second is the most regrettable reputed to have been done by quite young teen-agers and indicating a low type of morality.

The town did not suffer much from actual property damage although there were a few instances. One was the breaking of a couple of windows in the old Imperial block. This building has stood intact and empty for the last six or seven years and this is the first time it has been the object of wanton damage, despite the array of windows.

Highway signs were reported as being broken off between here and Islay. A serious view should be taken of this destruction as these signs are of great use to travellers at night using the road for the first time. Removal or lack of the signs could well result in serious accidents. Older boys or young adults are suspected of this misdemeanor.

Although not too badly treated, just to insure that no damage is done on Hallowe'en, why not press our reserve army members, 'A' Co. L.E.R., into service as extra policemen that evening. It is impossible for three men to be all over a town the size of Vermilion that night, but suggest this or some 40 army recruits, travelling in pairs, and little opportunity would be given those inclined to carry Hallowe'en pranks past the fun stage.

Time may be money, but it takes work to cash in on it.

WE'RE IN THE FRONT LINES—

At this time of year Albertans should keep a sharp lookout for Norway rats looking for winter quarters, advises J. B. Gurba, Supervisor of Alberta's Crop Protection and Pest Control. These pests are migrating westward from a line extending from the Cypress Hills to the North Saskatchewan River. Stray rats have scurried as far west as Lodgepole in the Pembina oil field. These are isolated cases but emphasize the need for careful watching.

Check for rat signs, new burrows, gnawing, rat droppings, as you may not see the animals since they are active mostly at night. Report suspicions to your local Pest Control Officer or District Agriculturist. The province has eight full time Provincial and Municipal Pest Officers working along the Saskatchewan border. Some 240 locally appointed officers are distributed throughout the province. These men can check reports and supply approved poisons which are free of charge, safe to use and easy to apply.

Albertans have held the line for seven years by not permitting rats to spread westward from control points. The price of continued freedom is CONSTANT VIGILANCE.

Only about one man in a million is able to catch up with that promising future.

EMOTIONAL SECURITY

Security is defined as "a state of mind which is accompanied by a willingness to accept the consequences for one's own decisions or actions," in an article by Michael F. Grapko appearing in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

The author points out that this does not mean the passive acceptance of failure, but it is only if a person is willing to face up to unpleasant consequences that he will try to improve his judgment in making future decisions.

Security begins at birth, and as the child grows, the first kind of security which depends on the relationship between child and mother gives way to security based upon the child himself. Activities for which the parent took responsibility are gradually taken over by the child.

During the school years, he knows his way to school, is beginning to read for himself, scribble his own letters, figure out solutions for his own problems, select his own friends, spend his allowance in his own way and pursue his own interests.

The child who succeeds in acquiring skill in line with his needs and aspirations achieves independent security. Thus the boy reads at a level of efficiency which meets the standard for his grade and also his own level of aspiration is independently secure in regard to his reading activity. However, as standard is raised, or the boy tries to reach a higher level of performance, his feeling of independent security is checked for the time being.

Therefore, the author says, independent security is based not only of the individual's capacity to acquire skill, but also of his hopes for achievement.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Throwing the light of common sense on your after dark driving can certainly eliminate many of the hazards. With daylight saving time at an end, you may be returning from your automobile outings after dark. If so, there is really no cause for alarm. Experienced motorists I know actually prefer to drive after dark. They argue that fewer accidents occur at night than during the day. What's more, they claim the night driver, aware that his range of vision is shortened, doesn't take as many foolish chances. Exponents of night time driving also point out that twilight or after-dark motoring is more restful on jangled nerves because usually less traffic is encountered.

Special night time bifocals or three-D lenses aren't necessary for night time driving — even if they existed — but a few simple precautions are. Have your head and tail lights carefully checked. Glaring head lights are a hazard to other motorists, dim lights, a danger to you. Be sure your car is in good working order because breakdowns are more serious after dark. Remember to drive more slowly because your distance vision isn't as good. Don't be sparing with your headlight dimmer. If you'll practice highway etiquette and dim your lights, chances are the approaching motorist will follow suit. Last, but probably most important, be sure of your directions. It's easy to lose your way after dark when highway signs are harder to see.

"Farm Credit" Is Topic On Radio Forum, Nov. 11th

Farm Credit was mentioned as the most important need in agriculture by 70% of the farm forums reporting last winter during the National Farm Radio Forum discussions on Parity Income.

The story of Farm Credit and the changes in farm credit policies and needs will be discussed November the 11th over 45 CBC and affiliated stations. Three well-known agricultural economists, Dr. W. M. Drummond, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural College, Dr. David McFarlane, of MacDonald College, Quebec; and Dr Sol Sinclair, of the University of Manitoba will examine closely the future credit needs and suggest changes, if necessary in the present farm credit facilities.

Over ten thousand farm people will be meeting in neighborhood discussion groups across Canada to discuss the problem and report their views on Farm Credit. Their findings will be presented to the Minister of Agriculture, [illegible] comments over the national network on the November 25th Farm Forum 'Fourth Night' program.

ACCURATE USE OF FORESTRY TERMS

The Canadian Forestry Association points out that the common use of the terms 'softwood' and 'hardwood' is often inaccurate. 'Conifers', (or cone-bearing trees) should be used in place of softwoods. 'Deciduous' (or annual leaf shedding trees) is the more accurate term for hardwoods.

Sometimes a man's worst enemies are the friends who failed to find him profitable.

ARE YOU BUYING AN IRON?

If you are planning to purchase a new iron these suggestions may help you in its selection.

(1) Irons vary in size and weight so choose the size most suitable for your own particular ironing and your strength. The sole plate of most irons is approximately four and a half by seven and three quarter inches. The travelling iron is smaller and its useful for fussy, frilly [illegible]. The feather weight type of iron is considerably lighter than others.

(2) The weight of the iron doesn't do the ironing, it's the heat in the sole plate that does. Irons with a thin sole plate do not hold the heat as long or as evenly as as those with a thicker sole plate do. A light weight iron conserves your energy, particularly if you iron in a sitting position. Heavy irons do a good job and some people still prefer them. Neither a heavy or light iron, will remove creases if cloth is not properly dampened.

(3) The handle of an iron is one of it's most important parts. You will be fresher after a big ironing if the handle of your iron is suited to the size of your hand and it has a thumb rest. The position of the handle is important too. Your wrist and arm should feel relaxed when your hand is in place. Put the iron at about the height of your ironing board and go through the motions of ironing for a few minutes. It's better to be sure before you buy than be unnecessarily tired after ironing. A handle of course should never become hot as the iron heats up.

(4) A heat regulator or heat dial control is essential. For the average housewife who has to iron a wide variety of materials, heat regulators are time savers and sometimes clothes savers. Control dials are variously located. See if it's location is convenient to you. Work the dial and see if the lettering is large enough for you to read. Try the control knob for size and grip, —will it burn your fingers?

More Albertans Eligible For Oil Royalty Dividends

Permissable period of absence from place of residence, as defined under the Oil and Gas Royalties Act, has ben revised upwerd from 90 days to six months. Announcement of the change, which will make many Abertans previously disqualified now eligible for dividends, was announced this week by the Alberta Government.

Experience gained under the first two months of dividend distribution, has shown the original 90 day period was too short. Many older Alberta citizens, enjoying a holiday after years of residence, were disqualified. Others forced to spend winters elsewhere due to health reasons, were also made ineligible. Out-of-province seasonal employment or educational requirements required others to disqualify themselves.

Government officials estimated the original $11,000,000 approriation under the Act was sufficient to handle the additional applications the change would bring forth.

Regulations will be reviewed further prior to the 1958 payment to remove any further inequities which may become apparent.

Fall Weed Control

Effective weed control on the farm does not end with the harvest. Some of the best controls for perennials have been attained by continuing control programs all through October until freeze-up advises W. Lobay, Alberta's Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control.

During this month farmers should give their fallow a final working for eradication of Canada Sow Thistle, Couch Grass, Toad Flax, Leafy Spurge, Hoary Cress etc. It's a good idea as well to list or ridge the fallow to reduce erosion.

After harvest it is also timely to shallow cultivate stubble to induce fall germination and winter killing of oats, says Mr. Lobay. Cultivation at this time will also provide a seedbed for the remaining wild oats and promote rapid germination in the spring.

Where necessary it's still not too late to apply soil sterilants like DB Granular, Plybor Chlorate, Sodium Chlorate etc. for the first time or as a follow-up weed treatment.

Much weed treatment will be spared, continues Mr. Lobay if screenings intended for later use are stored indoors in covered containers. Any other screenings should be burned with care because if permitted to spread can cause serious infestations.

For further tips on timely weed control visit your District Agriculturist or Field Supervisor. He will be glad to assist you in every way possible.

There's nothing like a good photograph to back up your story that the fishing was really "topnotch."

Back Up Your Fish Story

We'd like to make this suggestion if your weekend or vacation plans include a fishing trip: Be sure your camera goes along with your tackle when you set out for the "big catch."

You know we frequently mention how much help your camera can give you in the pursuit and enjoyment of your other hobbies. We feel that this is especially true in the case of fishing — for what better way is there to keep a record of the catch (yes, including "the big one that got away!") than in pictures you take with your own camera?

In many of the album collections we've seen, some of the most successful picture stories have been those that carried the title, "My Fishing Trip," along with details on when and where it took place.

The real beginning of such a story usually goes back to the day in early spring when Dad first ferrets his old fishing hat out of its winter hiding place and sets about putting rod and reel in peak condition for the workout to come. This "dry run" provides the first chapter of any angler's story — and some fine picture material, too, whether you choose to shoot it in color or black-and-white.

But this is only the beginning! When the "great day" finally arrives, there's loading the equipment into the car, getting final instructions and good wishes from the family, picking up the friends who've been planning this trip together all year. Your camera should catch these pictures, too, as well as scenic views of the site the anglers choose when they reach their destination.

Of course, the actual "catch" deserves feature billing — and the full color treatment. And don't forget to get a shot of supper sizzling in the skillet over a roaring campfire—whether it's fish or bacon and eggs will depend on who's doing the casting!

We personally feel that a camera is a real "must" for anybody setting out on a fishing trip.

THE BIG PAYMASTER

Canada's forest resources and the industries based upon them provide more employment than any other activity except agriculture.

"K. H. S. Highlights"

On Friday, Oct. 25th the districts surrounding Kitscoty gathered in the auditorium for the official opening of the new school. A program opened at 2 p.m. with Divisional Trustee J. Miller acting as as chairman. Programs were handed out to all families upon entry to the auditorium. Rev. J. Shortt gave the invocation followed by such events as a chorus by the elementary grades; greetings from Mr. Bert Stokes, the mayor of Kitscoty; greetings from Mr. James McCorry, chairman of the local board; remarks from C.A. Richardson, principal of the new school; a junior high school number; remarks from Mr. D. C. McGrath, chairman of the divisional board; a chorus by the high school; remarks by Mr. J. R. Robson, secretary of the divisional board; a selection by the Kitscoty band; remarks by Mr. B. Wood, architect of the new school, and the final item on the program, the official opening address by Hon. A. O. Aalborg. After his address he declared the new school officially opened and presented a beautiful framed picture to Mr. Richardson, to be hung in the new school. Following the program a conducted tour was carried out with several high school boys heading different processions with ten people in each tour group. The teaching staff provided a delicious lunch to close the afternoon's program. Proceeds from this lunch went to aid the staff in providing furniture for the staff room. CKSA was present during the program and tape recorded it to be broadcast the same night.

The existence of the auditorium has indeed improved the recreation standards of the school. Games such as basketball, volleyball and badminton are listed on the agenda for the coming season. Basketball House leagues are now arranged and underway with five boys' teams and five girls' teams.

The students of Kitscoty would like to congratulate Ruth McCourt and Wayne Shortt for winning second and first prize respectively in the Vermilion Rotary Club Essay contest. They attended a luncheon in Vermilion on Oct. 25th where they were presented with cash prizes and they read aloud their own essays on "Good Will as a Means of Increasing International Understanding".

MARWAYNE

There will be a parade of servicemen from the Legion hut and march to the community hall where church service will be held on Monday Nov. 11th, Remembrance day, at 10:45 a.m. A banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. for service personnel and their wives. An open dance will follow in the evening.

Remember Home and School on Tuesday, Nov. 12. This is a special meeting when awards will be given to grade 9 pupils.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnett on the birth of a daughter in the Lloydminster hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] have moved from their farm into town for the winter. Mrs. Bobroski has gone to spend the winter at Valleyview.

Johnny Midgley is home from the hospital, also Mrs. McKenzie from Islay hospital.

Sympathy is extended to the Reichenbaugh family in the death of Mr Floyd Reichenbaugh, an old timer of the Elgin district; also to Mrs. O Franklin and family in the death of her mother Mrs. Chas. Barnes at Quill Lake, Sask. Mr. and Mrs Barnes lived for several years in the South Ferriby district. Sympathy is also extended to Mr Jno. Dale and family of Kitscoty in the death of Mrs Dale. Old timers dealt in Kitscoty before Marwayne was started and knew the Dales well.

Several attended the chicken supper in Kitscoty and enjoyed both the supper and concert very much.

Congratulations go to Wayne Shortt, son of Rev. and Mrs. Shortt on winning a Vermilion Rotary essay contest for Vermilion River S.D. He and Ruth McCourt, the second prize winner both in grade 12 at Kitscoty were guests at a Rotary dinner in Vermilion where they were presented with prizes. The essays were on subjects compatible to "World Friendship". First prize essay was on "Goodwill as a Means of Increasing Understanding" and second on "World Friendship".

Voting on the plebiscite last Wednesday in Marwayne poll was No 116, Yes 64.

The sewer on the street south of Beaver Lumber is being torn up due to a broken tile in the line.

Remember the bread baking contest, tea and bazaar in the Elks hall sponsored by the United Church W.A. on Friday Nov 8th starting at 2:30 p.m.

"The Bible Today"

A 16 mm. sound film in color entitled 'For Every Man' has been released by the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada, and will be shown by the district secretaries of the 16 auxiliaries in this country.

The film which shows the Bible Society at work in Canada was produced by the Rev. E. J. Heuer of Edmonton. It is the fourth film that Mr. Heuer has made for the Bible Society. In 1950 his first film, 'Frontiersmen' received honorable mention in the Canadian film awards.

Since 1944 Mr. Heuer has been district secretary for North Alberta for the Bible Society. In November he leaves for India, and after his return in May, 1958 he will move to the national office in Toronto to devote his full time to the work of producing audio-visual materials for the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada.

USE THE ARMY—

Except for the door to door visits of little tots, most people will agree that Hallowe'en activities should be relegated to bad memories of the past. Two new [illegible] made their appearance this last Thursday night, one was the throwing of eggs, the other was an outbreak of obscene writings on windows and car windshields. Of the two, the second is the most regrettable, reputed to have been done by quite young teen-agers and indicating a low type of morality.

The town did not suffer much from actual property damage although there were a few instances. One was the breaking of a couple of windows in the old Imperial block. This building has stood intact and empty for the last six or seven years and this is the first time it has been the object of wanton damage despite the array of windows.

Highway signs were reported as being broken off between here and Islay. A serious view should be taken of this destruction as these signs are of great use to travellers at night using the road for the first time. Removal or lack of the signs could well result in serious accidents. Older boys or young adults are suspected of this misdemeanor.

[illegible] not too badly treated, just to ensure that no damage is done on Hallowe'en, why not press our reserve army members, 'A' Co. L.E.R., into service as extra policemen that evening. It is impossible for three men to be all over a town the size of Vermilion that night, but augment this by some 40 army recruits, travelling in pairs, and [illegible] would be given [illegible] to carry Hallowe'en pranks past the fun stage.

Time may be money, but it takes [illegible] to cash in on it.

WE'RE IN THE FRONT LINES—

At this time of year Albertans should keep a sharp [illegible] for [illegible] rats looking for [illegible] [illegible], advises J. B. [illegible], [illegible] of Alberta's Crop Protection and Pest Control. These [illegible] migrating westward from a line extending from the Cypress Hills to the North Saskatchewan River. Stray rats have scurried as far west as Lodgepole in the Pembina oil field. These are isolated cases but emphasize the need for careful watching.

Check for rat signs, new burrows gnawing, rat droppings, as you may not see the animals since they are active mostly at night. Report suspicions to your local Pest Control Officer or District Agriculturist. The province has eight full time Provincial and Municipal Pest Officers working along the Saskatchewan border. Some 340 locally appointed officers are distributed throughout the province. These men can check reports and supply approved poisons which are free of charge, safe to use and easy to apply.

Albertans have held the line for seven years by not permitting rats to spread westward from control points. The price of continued freedom is CONSTANT VIGILANCE.

Only about one man in a million is able to catch up with that promising future.

EMOTIONAL SECURITY

Security is defined as "a state of mind which is accompanied by a willingness to accept the consequences for one's own decisions or actions," in an article by Michael F. Grapko appearing in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

The author points out that this does not mean the passive acceptance of failure, but it is only if a person is willing to face up to unpleasant consequences that he will try to improve his judgment in making future decisions.

Security begins at birth, and as the child grows, the first kind of security which depends on the relationship between child and mother gives way to security [illegible] upon the child himself. Activities for which the parent took responsibility are gradually taken over by the child.

[illegible] the school years, he knows his way to school, is beginning to read for himself, scribble his own letters, figure out solutions for his own problems, select his own friends, spend his allowance in his own way, and pursue his [illegible] interests.

The child who succeeds in acquiring skill in line with his needs and aspirations achieves independent security. Thus the boy reads at a level of efficiency which meets the standard for his grade and also his own level of aspiration is independently secure in regard to his reading activity. However, as standard is raised, or the boy tries to reach a [illegible] level of performance, his feeling of independent security is checked for the time being.

Therefore, the author says, independent security is based not only of the individual's capacity to acquire skill, but also of his hopes for achievement.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Throwing the light of common sense on your after dark driving can certainly eliminate many of the hazards. With daylight saving time at an end, you may be returning from your automobile outings after dark. If so, there is really no cause for alarm. Experienced motorists I know actually prefer to drive after dark. They argue that fewer accidents occur at night than during the day. What's more, they claim the night driver, aware that his range of vision is shortened, doesn't take as many foolish chances. Experts of night time driving also point out that twilight or after-dark [illegible] is more restful on jangled nerves because usually less traffic is encountered.

Special night time bifocals or three-D lenses aren't necessary for night time driving — [illegible] if they existed — but a few [illegible] precautions are. Have [illegible] head and tail lights carefully [illegible]. Glaring head lights are a hazard to other motorists; dim lights, a danger to you. Be sure your car is in good working order because breakdowns are more serious after dark. [illegible] more slowly [illegible] your distance [illegible] isn't as good. Don't be sparing with your headlight [illegible]. If you'll practice highway etiquette and dim your lights, chances are the approaching motorist will follow suit. Last, but probably most important, be sure of your directions. It's easy to lose your way after dark when highway signs are harder to see.

"Farm Credit" Is Topic On Radio Forum, Nov. 11th

Farm Credit was mentioned as the most important need in agriculture by 70% of the farm forums reporting last winter during the National Farm Radio Forum discussions on Parity Income.

The story of Farm Credit and the changes in farm credit policies and needs will be discussed November the 11th over 45 CBC and affiliated stations. Three well-known agricultural economists, Dr. W. M. Drummond, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural College, Dr. David McFarlane, of MacDonald College, Quebec; and Dr. Sol Sinclair, of the University of Manitoba will examine closely the future credit needs and suggest changes, if necessary in the present farm credit facilities.

Over ten thousand farm people will be meeting in neighborhood discussion groups across Canada to discuss the problem and report their views on Farm Credit. Their findings will be presented to the Minister of Agriculture, Honorable D. Harkness for his comments over the national network on the November 25th Farm Forum 'Fourth Night' program.

ACCURATE USE OF FORESTRY TERMS

The Canadian Forestry Association points out that the common use of the terms 'softwood' and 'hardwood' is often inaccurate. 'Conifers' (or cone-bearing trees) should be used in place of softwoods. 'Deciduous' (or annual leaf shedding trees) is the more accurate term for hardwoods.

ARE YOU BUYING AN IRON?

If you are planning to purchase a new iron these suggestions may help you in its selection.

(1) Irons vary in size and weight so choose the size most suitable [illegible] your own particular ironing, and your strength. The sole plate of [illegible] is approximately four and a half by seven and three [illegible] inches. The travelling iron is smaller and is useful for fancy, frilly [illegible]. The feather weight type of iron is considerably lighter than others.

(2) The weight of the iron doesn't do the ironing, it's the heat in the sole plate that does. Irons with a thin sole [illegible] not hold the heat as long or as evenly as as those with a thicker sole plate do. A light weight iron conserves your energy, particularly if you iron in a sitting position. Heavy irons do a good job and some people still prefer them. Neither a heavy or light iron, will remove [illegible] if cloth is not properly [illegible].

(3) The handle of an iron is one of it's most important parts. You will be fresher after a big ironing if the handle of your iron is suited to the size of your hand and it has a thumb rest. The position of the handle is important too. Your wrist and arm should feel relaxed when your hand is in place. Put the iron at about the height of your ironing board and go through the motions of ironing for a few minutes. It's better to be sure before you buy than be unnecessarily tired after each ironing. A handle of course should never become hot as the iron heats up.

(4) A heat regulator or heat dial control is essential. For the [illegible] housewife who has to iron a wide variety of [illegible], heat regulators are time [illegible] and sometimes clothes [illegible]. Control dials are variously [illegible]. See if it's location is convenient to you. Work the dial and see if the lettering is large enough for you to read. Try the control knob for size and grip, —will it burn your fingers?

More Albertans Eligible For Oil Royalty Dividends

Permissable period of absence from place of residence, as defined under the Oil and Gas Royalties Act, has been revised upward from 90 days to six months. Announcement of the change, which will make many Albertans previously disqualified now eligible for dividends, was announced this week by the Alberta Government.

Experience gained under the first two months of dividend distribution, has shown the original 90 day period was too short. Many older Alberta citizens, enjoying a holiday after years of residence, were disqualified. Others forced to spend winters elsewhere due to health reasons, were also made ineligible. Out-of-province seasonal employment or educational requirements required others to disqualify themselves.

Government officials estimated the original $11,000,000 appropriation under the Act was sufficient to handle the additional applications the change would bring forth.

Regulations will be reviewed further prior to the 1958 payment to remove any further inequities which may become apparent.

Fall Weed Control

Effective weed control on the farm does not end with the harvest. Some of the best controls for perennials have been attained by continuing control programs all through October until freeze-up advises W. Lobay, Alberta's Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control.

During this month farmers should give their fallow a final working for eradication of Canada Sow Thistle, Couch Grass, Toad Flax, Leafy Spurge, Hoary Cress etc. It's a good idea as well to list or ridge the fallow to reduce erosion.

After harvest it is also timely to shallow cultivate stubble to induce fall [illegible] and winter killing of oats, says Mr. Lobay. Cultivation at this time will also provide a seedbed for the remaining wild oats and promote rapid germination in the spring.

Where necessary it's still not too late to apply soil sterilants like DB Granular, Plybor Chlorate, Sodium Chlorate etc. for the first time or as a follow-up weed treatment.

Much weed treatment will be spared, continues Mr. Lobay if screenings intended for later use are stored indoors in covered containers. Any other screenings should be burned with care because if permitted to spread can [illegible].

For further tips on timely weed control visit your District Agriculturist of Field Supervisor. He will be glad to assist you in every way possible.

There's nothing like a good photograph to back up your story that the fishing was really "superb."

Back Up Your Fish Story

We'd like to make this suggestion if your weekend or vacation plans include a fishing trip: Be sure your camera goes along with your tackle when you set out for the "big catch."

You know we frequently mention how much help your camera can give you in the pursuit and enjoyment of your other hobbies. We feel that this is especially true in the case of fishing — for what better way is there to keep a record of the catch (yes, including "the big one that got away!") than in pictures you take with your own camera?

In many of the album collections we've seen, some of the most successful picture stories have been those that carried the title, "My Fishing Trip," along with details on when and where it took place.

The real beginning of such a story usually goes back to the day in early spring when Dad first ferrets his old fishing hat out of its winter hiding place and sets about putting rod and reel in peak condition for the workout to come. This "dry run" provides the first chapter of any angler's story — and some fine picture material, too, whether you choose to shoot it in color or black-and-white.

But this is only the beginning! When the "great day" finally arrives, there's loading the equipment into the car, getting final instructions and good wishes from the family, picking up the friends who've been planning this trip together all year. Your camera should catch these pictures, too, as well as scenic views of the site the anglers choose when they reach their destination.

Of course, the actual "catch" deserves feature billing — and the full color treatment. And don't forget to get a shot of supper sizzling in the skillet over a roaring campfire—whether it's fish or bacon and eggs will depend on who's doing the casting!

We personally feel that a camera is a real "must" for anybody setting out on a fishing trip.

Canada's forest resources and the industries based upon them provide more employment than any other activity except agriculture.

"K. H. S. Highlights"

On Friday, Oct. 25th the districts surrounding Kitscoty gathered in the auditorium for the official opening of the new school. A program opened at 2 p.m. with Divisional Trustee J. Miller acting as as chairman. Programs were handed out to all families upon entry to the auditorium. Rev. J. Shortt gave the invocation followed by such events as a chorus by the elementary grades; greetings from Mr. Bert Stokes, the mayor of Kitscoty; greetings from Mr. James McCorry, chairman of the local board; remarks from C.A. Richardson, principal of the new school; a junior high school number; remarks from Mr. D. C. McGrath, chairman of the divisional board; a chorus by the high school; remarks by Mr. J. R. Robson, secretary of the divisional board; a selection by the Kitscoty band; remarks by Mr. B. Wood, architect of the new school, and the final item on the program, the official opening address by Hon. A. O. Aalborg. After his address he declared the new school officially opened and presented a beautiful framed picture to Mr. Richardson to be hung in the new school. Following the program a conducted tour was carried out with several high school boys heading different processions with ten people in each tour group. The teaching staff provided a [illegible] to close the afternoon's program. Proceeds from this lunch went to aid the staff in providing furniture for the staff room. CKSA was present during the program and tape recorded it to be broadcast the same night.

The existence of the auditorium has indeed improved the recreation standards of the school. Games such as basketball, volleyball and badminton are listed on the agenda for the coming season. Basketball House leagues are now arranged and underway with five boys' teams and five girls' teams.

The students of Kitscoty would like to congratulate Ruth McCourt and Wayne Shortt for winning second and first prize respectively in the Vermilion Rotary Club essay contest. They attended a luncheon in Vermilion on Oct. 25th where they were presented with cash prizes and they read aloud their own essays on "Good Will as a Means of Increasing International Understanding".

Set Dec. 1 to 7 For Safe-Driving Week

OTTAWA — Canada's nation wide safe-Driving Week for 1957 will take place the first week in December under the sponsorship of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference. With all provinces participating, the campaign will officially open at midnight, Nov 30, and close midnight, Dec. 7.

This campaign will have two main objects, to reduce the traffic death toll and to point up the responsibilities of pedestrian and motorist in highway safety. "Accidents are caused one at a time, by individuals, and they must be prevented the same way," declared the Conference chairman, Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta's Minister of Highways.

Taking active part in Safe-Driving Week 1957 will be the federal and provincial government of Canada, industry, business, public groups, police forces, the judiciary, provincial and community safety organizations, and many others.

Both the Governor General, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, and Prime Minister Diefenbaker have expressed approval and support of Safe-Driving Week.

Alberta Produces 300 Million Pounds Of Beef Annually

Alberta produces 300 million lbs. of beef and veal annually, says R. E. English, Agricultural Statistician, Alberta Department of Agriculture. This is sufficient for the needs of nearly 4 million persons at the present rate of consumption in Canada. Increases in real income in Canada since pre war have maintained a steadily increased demand per capita for beef and veal and provided a market for a greatly enlarged cattle raising industry in Alberta.

Yet Canada placed only sixth in beef and veal consumption in 1955 with a per capita consumption of 81 lbs. In the United States each person ate 90 lbs. The 1956 Meat Review compiled by the Commonwealth Economic Committee reveals also that Argentinians were the world's foremost beef and veal eaters in 1955. On the average, each individual ate 189 lbs yearly or approximately ½ lb. daily. Uruguay came second with 123 lbs. Although we usually associate Australia and New Zealand with mutton and lamb, Australians each ate an average of 118 lbs of beef and veal and New Zealanders 108 lbs. annually.

LOVE...THE GREATEST GIFT

I've never met Leon Ackerman, 910 Seventeenth Street, N. W., Washington D.C., but I intend to write him a letter one of these days to thank him. I'll tell you why.

Yesterday I was thumbing through a big Financial paper trying to keep posted on the world of business. My thoughts I assure you, were 100% materialistic. Then, staring up from the paper at me was a full-page advertisement, which must have cost Mr. Ackerman a pretty penny. Here's what the advertisement said:

'Love...the greatest gift. He who understands love understands God for God is love.

'Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you.

'If a man say I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen?'

'And this commandment have we from Him. That he who loveth God loves his brother also.

'Perfect love casteth out Fear.'

And the advertisement then ended with a layman's prayer:

'Father may we be ever mindful that it is in loving our fellow men that we truly love Thee.'

As I say, I don't know Mr. Ackerman and haven't the slightest notion what his purpose might have been in spending all that money to quote Scripture in a financial paper. Whatever his purpose, he succeeded in shifting the thoughts of one reader from materialistic matters to spiritual ones.

Not that I am ashamed of materialistic thoughts. Christ was extremely practical and did not hesitate to put his mind to materialistic matters. Charity requires that someone pay a great deal of attention to producing the wherewithal upon which charity often depends. I've no liking for the dreamy do-gooders who preach charity but fail to buckle down and do the work that has to be done before there's anything around to give. And I detest the socialist who wants to share the fruits of everybody else's labor, but gets quite cagey when it is suggested that he share what he possesses.

Nevertheless, it was a thrilling experience to leap from concentrated attention on material things into the more important spiritual level of thought, and read again, in the bold type of an advertisement, about the Divine Paradox. So I owe Leon Ackerman, whoever he may be, a vote of thanks.

A leader of men is not one who tries to get ahead of the others.

Tact allows a man to change the subject, but not his mind.

Your Home Is As Safe As You Make It

How safe is your home? It can be a pretty hazardous place, or it can be the safest on earth. It all depends on you.

Recent figures indicate that workers suffer more accidental deaths and injuries off the job, including in their own homes, than they do on the job. Almost three-quarters of all accidental deaths, and over half the injuries occur off the job. The deaths are principally due to motor vehicle accidents: the injuries are due principally to home accidents.

Home accidents occur to about one person in every forty, based on comparative U. S. figures. The leading cause of home accidents is falls, (two out of three) followed by injuries due to fire, and burns.

The principal place of occurrence for home falls, or for all home accidents for that matter, is the bedroom. Next in line are kitchens, stairs, and bathrooms.

Today one of the prime concerns in industry is accident prevention. Companies have found an organized program can bring results. For instance, at the plants of Canadian Industries Limited a planned program to prevent accidents has resulted in a reduction in accident frequency of over 90 percent during a 25-year period.

But, "the safety state of mind cannot be picked up at the door when the employee enters the plant to start work and left there when he goes home", says H. Greville Smith, President of CIL. "It must become a part of his whole life."

Some of the things industry has learned about preventing accidents can be used at home. Take accidental falls, for example which are also a leading cause of injuries in industry. Experience shows they can be prevented by taking measures to prevent tripping and slipping. At home this means anchoring scatter rugs, removing toys and other objects from floors and stairs, providing handrails, using night lights. Industry has found that rightly painted danger spots inspire caution—paint the stairs, or perhaps the top and bottom steps a bright color. Paint the handrails too. Yellow is one of best colors. Then too, it is wise to use a proper step-ladder to reach something on the top shelf. Standing on a tippy chair will sooner or later result in a fall.

Fires are often found to be caused by faulty electrical equipment, such as overloaded circuits or make-shift repairs. Having frayed cords and broken wall plugs is asking for an accident, perhaps a fatal one. Try a little home safety and see for yourself.

And the hills were hard to climb;
So He closed their weary eyelids,
And whispered, 'Peace be thine'."

Cashing Bigger Checks Than Ever

TV AND FILM STAR Abbe Lane, and her famous band-leader husband, Xavier Cugat (left), have returned from their travels in Europe. She is to star in the new Broadway musical, "Captain's Paradise." The oversize American Express Travelers Cheque was presented to them during a radio interview in recognition of their successful personal appearance tour in Spain and Italy, where real-size travelers cheques made their travels easy. And to convey a truly international flavor, the prominent show business couple took along their French poodle, Sportie, and their Mexican Chihuahua, Lorbito.

Saturation Patrols on Highways Prove Effective; Will Continue

Speaking to the Mid Year Meeting of the Alberta Safety Council, at Red Deer, October 9th., Asst. Commissioner G. B. McClellan, Officer Commanding the R.C.M.P. in Alberta, said that saturation patrols such as were used on the highway for the July 1st. and Labour Day week-ends will be continued on any week-end during which they can organize the manpower and the cars sufficient for the job. Commissioner McClellan said that he is satisfied that the extra patrol units helped to slow down the average speed of motorists on those holidays at least ten miles per hour and that it contributed a great deal to the safety of the motoring public.

RADAR SPEED METER APPARATUS ACCEPTED.

Speaking of everyday techniques of enforcing traffic laws, the Commissioner said that the speed meter apparatus known 'radar' seems to be well accepted by the public and courts alike. 'The accuracy of the apparatus,' he said, 'is tested before going out on patrol and during patrol and after the patrol is finished', and he felt that this attention to accuracy had been a major factor in public acceptance. Referring to unmarked patrol cars, or shadow cars, as they are popularly known, Commissioner McClellan said that this type of operation serves to apprehend the driver who is in the habit of violating whenever he thinks a policeman is not looking. In operation, he said that the shadow car and a marked patrol car travel down the highway some distance apart at a pre-arranged fixed speed. The two cars are in [illegible] communication with each other and the uniform car always acts as the interceptor to deal with the traffic violator. He said that those people who oppose the unmarked patrol cars still haven't come to regard the traffic offender as a criminal. Statistics show that the traffic violator is more dangerous to life and limb than any other type of criminal and until all of us realize this fact, no significant gains can be made in traffic safety.

R.C.M.P. ENFORCE

Referring to R.C.M.P. enforcement of water safety rules under the Canada Shipping Act, the Commissioner said that motor boating is rapidly becoming one of the biggest sports. Last year 1251 inspections of motor boats took place in Alberta and these mostly resulted in warnings to the operators. Next year the Commissioner predicted that prosecutions would be undertaken for violation of boating regulations. He said that more motor boats would be obtained by the R.C.M.P. to carry out this work next year.

Howard B. MacDonald of Calgary, President of the Alberta Safety Council, was Chairman of the meeting, attended by 22 officers and directors.

Reports from the five standing committees were given by their chairmen, indicating that the past six months have been active in all departments. The committees are as follows: Insp. Chris Stagg of the Calgary City Police, Chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee; B. T. Stephanson, Assoc. Professor of Agriculture, U of A., Chairman of the Farm Safety Committee; Steve Chaley of Edmonton, Chairman of the Child Safety Committee; H. P. Brown of Edmonton, Chairman of the Water Safety Committee and Jack Farish of Calgary, Chairman of the Membership Committee.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE

Inspector Stagg, reporting on traffic activities, said that the 'Slow down and Live' campaign had been conducted during the months of July and August. All of the cities and 80 towns had co-operated to distribute literature and publicity on the campaign, which gave direct backing to law enforcement of speed regulations. The Pedal Pusher development in Edmonton was highly praised by Insp. Stagg, who said that this activity should be pushed by every local Safety Council.

Operation of Farm Trucks: Overloading Is Dangerous

Some farmers think they save time by overloading their trucks. It's a dangerous practice because an overloaded truck can easily overbalance and human life and goods may be lost. It's damaging to highways, wear on the owner's truck is increased and the driver may be fined, says J. Klipper, Chief Inspector, Inspection Service Branch.

Ignorance of the law doesn't protect the farmer. He is wise if he acquaints himself with the rules and regulations governing operation of farm trucks and overloading. These rules tell how much weight is allowed on tires and axles. They also show the maximum gross load that is allowed on various types of vehicles and highways. Copies of the regulations are available from the Queen's Printers, Highways Building, Edmonton. Personnel of any of the Inspection Services Branches located at Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lethbridge, Drumheller, Medicine Hat, Vermilion, Westlock, Peace River or Grande Prairie will be glad to explain any point that isn't clear. For those not living near these points, other enforcement agencies also supply information.

MAY OPEN UP FAST—Don't bank on it being gradual when monetary authorities decide to ease the tight money policy, warns the Financial Post. Some investment people doubt that it can be done gradually. They expect a sudden sharp fall in interest rates when the decision is made.

INEVITABLE FARM TREND

There will be fewer farms but much greater production per farm 25 years from now, predicts the special study on Canadian Agriculture prepared for the Gordon Commission. There will be more emphasis on livestock, less on wheat.

Most serious observers will agree with those conclusions, declares the Financial Post. The trend has been in that direction for years. Under the circumstances, governments and farm organizations would be wise to frame their long range policies to fit the inevitable transition. Costly and short sighted moves, such as guaranteeing prices at unrealistic levels, can only halt temporarily a natural development.

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM MAYERS

Of happy days we spent together,
Precious are memories silently kept
Of a wonderful husband I'll never forget."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our baby son
FRANCIS EDGAR WELDON

"As we loved you, so we miss you
In our memory you are always near.
Loved, remembered, longed for always
For to us you were so dear."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my father
JOHN MARTIN McBRIDE
—who passed away Nov. 10, 1956, also
my mother, who passed away May 27th, 1950.
"We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to take it
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
To know we never said goodbye
Will always bring regret.
But the hearts that loved you truly
Are the hearts that won't forget."
—Always remembered by your daughter Neva, the grandchildren and great granddaughter.

Pleasant Valley News

The weather is much milder again. This brought a rain shower on Sunday which added to the toughness of the grain. There is still a considerable quantity of grain around in the district not combined and the wild ducks are really getting fat. They come over in clouds every day.

Congratulations go out this week to Mr. and Mrs. Giles on the birth of a son, and to Mr. and Mrs. C. Clarke on the birth of a daughter.

We will certainly see a crowd of young folk in this district soon again—enough to fill the old school house.

Quite a number visited at the writer's home last Sunday.

Mrs. Sylvia Gould, Laura and children motored from Strome with Tillie and Cecil Gould. Sylvia stayed and visited while the others went to see Mr. Van Patten and Joe. It really was a pleasant surprise to see them all.

Later on another surprise party drove in. This was Mr. and Mrs. A. Maggs from Wainwright, Mr. and Mrs. Len Noonan, Mrs. Fisher and Mary Ann. The four children went skating on the lake and really enjoyed it. Now the ice is all gone again for awhile. How changeable the weather can be!

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Reid and family are moving to Edmonton this coming week.

Last week Mrs. Gillies motored up with Ken to Edmonton and surprised son Bill and family.

Mrs. Lila Waterfield went to Creston to attend the wedding of Shirley Roebuck, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Roebuck. Hi Pearl, how about a letter?

Recreation Movement in Alberta

The Alberta Recreation Association is one group which is vitally interested in developing leisure time activities in Alberta. The A. R. A. is a voluntary lay and professional group whose purpose is to promote and coordinate the interests of recreation in all its phases in the province. Some of the functions of the A. R. A. are to interpret and promote the values of recreation, to educate its members and the public, to do research and encourage studies in this field and encourage high standards of procedure and practice in recreation.

A. R. A. PAST HIGHLIGHTS

Seven years ago on Feb 18th 1950, the Director of the Community Recreation Bureau (then Health and Recreation Branch), invited ten recreation personnel to a meeting in Calgary. This group formed the Alberta Recreation Executive Association. Today the members of the new Alberta Recreation Association look back on accomplishments as follows: three Christmas Recreation Leaders Institutes, all of which were held in the city of Red Deer. These three [illegible] conferences were [illegible] by the Community Recreation Bureau. A total of three hundred leaders from all over the province participated in the training sessions, learning much valuable [illegible] leisure time activities.

During these seven years the association has [illegible] committee workshops on various research studies. The result has been compiling material for publication of four brochures on the following titles: 'Personnel Standards in Recreation', 'Why Recreation', 'Camping Standards' and 'Facility Standards in Recreation'. These brochures have now been turned over to the Community Recreation Bureau for publication.

A Third [illegible] undertaken by this group was to do a survey on competitive athletics for children under the age of twelve years. The association went on record in supporting the Recreation Society State Directors and the National Recreation Association of America in their extensive study on the same topic.

A.R.A. FUTURE PLANS

First interesting item was at the annual meeting in Red Deer on May 10 when the A.R.A. voted to sponsor a conference in Alberta of Recreation representatives from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba in 1958 with a view to the formation of a Western Division of a National Recreation Association to promote and organize the conference. Mr A V Pettigrew, Superintendent of Edmonton Recreation Department was appointed chairman of that committee.

The next event of the A. R. A. is the fall general meeting to be held in the city of Grande Prairie on Saturday, October 19 at 9:00 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Park Hotel. Mayor R. R. Mills will give the welcoming address. A lively agenda is being planned to help the rural centres develop their recreation boards and community programs. At the close of the meeting the city of Grande Prairie will tender a banquet for all those in attendance. Anyone interested in attending [illegible] to arrange overnight accommodation should contact Mr Jack Boddington, Recreation Director, Grande Prairie. Car pools [illegible] arranged by Mr J. Ridden, 425 Legislative Bldg., Edmonton, Alberta.

A R A EXECUTIVE

The people responsible for the association are as follows:
President, Mr Jarvis Millar, Red Deer.
Past President, Mr A V Pettigrew, Edmonton.

Record Voices of Alberta Old Timers

Vernon Barford, left, retired organist and choir leader of All Saints Anglican Cathedral in Edmonton, records his impressions of early days in Alberta as part of a general government sponsored program to preserve the history and folklore of the province. Officers of the Department of Economic Affairs have recorded 75 such interviews this year. Non distructive recordings will be made from the 'tapes' and stored along with other information in the Provincial Archives. The program was authorized at the last Session of the Alberta Legislature. Future generations will thus be able to listen to the stories Alberta's pioneers have to tell.

Mr. Barford has been in Edmonton since 1900. He came to the capital city from Fort Qu Appelle, Saskatchewan, where he had emigrated from Oxford, England, in 1895. For many years Mr Barford led the choir and was organist at All Saints Cathedral in Edmonton. Conducting the interview is E. S. J Bryant, Alberta Government Director of Advertising.

Officials hope to interview all pioneers, still living in Alberta, who arrived in the province prior to 1905. Persons knowing names and addresses of such old-timers are requested to send this information to: Department of Economic Affairs, Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

Anglican Men's Club Attend Blood Clinic En Masse

Following an excellent supper, a short business session, and an interesting talk on recreation by Sid Moore of the V. S. A., the 22 attending the Anglican Men's Club meeting adjourned en mass to the Red Cross Blood clinic at the Legin Hall, all donating blood to that worthy cause.

During the business session, Tom Watts, chairman of the canvass committee and Mitchell Taylor, gave talks on the organization for the forthcoming canvass to be conducted by the men of the church.

Honored On 45th Anniversary

Married in the Earlie district November 4th, 1912 by the Rev. James Stevenson, Mr and Mrs. Frank Sperberg on Monday of this week observed the 45th anniversary of their wedding.

Since their marriage, Mr and Mrs Sperberg have lived in the Wildwood district where the groom homesteaded back in 1907. They continued to farm until 1956 when they retired and moved into Vermilion, purchasing a comfortable home here.

The wedding anniversary was celebrated by holding a reception on Saturday November 2nd, which was attended by many friends of the Wildwood district, and again on Monday, November 4th when friends from the town and district called in to pay their respects and to wish this couple many more years of happiness.

Mr. and Mr. Sperberg have four children, Fred of the Wildwood district, Alex in Kitscoty, Mrs. Ken Shattuck (Kate) of Kitscoty, and Mrs. L. A. Fry (Mabel) of Edmonton.

Every man has his price, and it's always higher than his friends think he is worth.

Evangelist Speaks At Rotary Meeting

At the Friday luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, the Rev Allan Dawe of Vancouver, who has become very well known in Vermilion and district, was the guest speaker.

Mr Dawe held the intense interest of his audience throughout as he told of a wonderful experience with the Lord when he was a young boy, which influenced his life ever since. Prayer on that occasion had saved his life. He went on to give vivid instances of the power of prayer which he had experienced at various times in his life.

The speaker was introduced by Chauncey MacKay and following his profound talk, was fittingly thanked by George Webb.

A half inch snowfall which is still covering the ground in spots fell on Wednesday, just a hint of things to come. A heavy shower of rain amounting to .02 came down Sunday afternoon. Otherwise the week's weather has been pleasant enough but very little progress has been made towards drying of grain.

Pay Tribute To Baseball Eskimos

Formal tribute was paid by the Government of Alberta to the Edmonton Eskimo Baseball team at a ceremony in the Legislative Building recently. The Eskimos were Canadian representatives and runner-up in this year's Global World Series held in Detroit. Hon. A. R. Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs, presented Alberta-made cuff links for every member of the team. Pitching ace, Ralph Void of Ponoka, centre, accepted the gifts on behalf of his clubmates. Eskimo general manager, John Ducey, left, in turn presented Mr. Patrick with a team-autographed baseball as a momento to the occasion. Meanwhile, Mr Void was engrossed in studying design of the cuff links which feature oxidized sterling silver finish with embossed Alberta crest and Prairie Rose emblem. The Ponoka hurler reports March 1 to the spring training camp of the National League San Francisco Giants at Phoenix, Arizona.

Livestock Feeders Assoc'n Needs Support to Survive

ers' Association needs support if it is to survive. Interest is at a minimum and if anyone can use the facilities offered by this association they should do so. It has served a very worthwhile function in the past in proving a source of funds for the purchase of feeder cattle. With an abundance of feed and grain from one and two crop years still in granaries, it does appear that considerable use could still be made of the Livestock Feeders' Association. 17-18

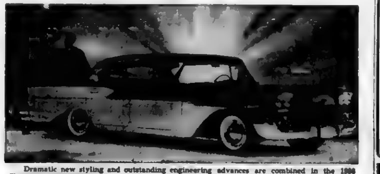
LOCAL FIREMEN BUSY

Elk Point firemen had a busy few days last week with two fires reported. On Oct 25th an employee of Superior Service owned by Hicks Bros. noticed flames in the parts department about 9 p.m. Firemen were called and the blaze was extinguished in short order. Although no damage from water was reported loss from flames and heat amounted to around $200.

On Sunday Oct. 27th firemen were once again called into action to quell a grass fire burning near the Loftus residence. There was no damage to buildings. The new fire engine still has to have a final check in Edmonton before being put into operation by the fire department.

Experience may be a good teacher, but you still see people taking post-graduate courses.



Dramatic new styling and outstanding engineering advances are combined in the 1958 Chevrolet. Completely new from bumper to bumper and from frame to roof line, the 1958 Chevrolet is longer, lower and wider, and emphasizes flowing sculptured lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear, are standard, while a new "Level Air" system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional. Shown here is the Bel Air 4-Door Sport Sedan.

Canadians Adopt 10,000 Children Annually

Couples applying for one of Canada's 10,000 children, being adopted annually are carefully screened before they are allowed to have a child reports November issue of Liberty magazine. Their friends, employer, minister and bank manager are all interviewed for a thorough check on character, habits and financial position.

Adoption is a delicate business and subject to numerous complications. A sad example of such complications was brought home to the public in the tragic case of Toronto's Mast twins, an adoption tangle which resulted in a two-year court battle. At the price of bitter heartbreak, the boys were returned to their natural parents before the foster parents could finalize adoption proceedings.

Protestant children seem to be the highest in demand and the hardest to come by. For every Protestant child available, at least seven couples apply. The Roman Catholic agencies, on the other hand, have a surplus of children for whom they cannot find homes.

In Ontario alone up to 1956, there had been 58,061 legal adoptions. The Toronto Children's Aid Society, only one of 35 such agencies in Ontario places an average of one child a day.

WILDMERE WINKS

The writer and the Community extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. H. Friesen of Wildmere in the passing of his brother-in-law Ray Friesen of Lloydminster who was killed in a car accident. To his sorrowing wife and children, we are with them in this hour of sadness.

On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cruthers and the writer attended the church service at First United Church in Vermilion to hear Rev. Dawe. On Friday evening Mrs. Cruthers and the writer again went to hear this grand speaker of God's word. There was a large attendance at both, and it was pleasing to hear that all the services had been well attended. It was heartening to have other Churches join in with these services. To hear the different choirs was a real treat. Rev. Dawe has now returned to his home in Vancouver.

After the service on Friday, Mrs. Cruthers and Mrs. Wallington had a cup of tea with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson at their home in town. They are getting nicely settled and are very comfortable. John has erected a garage on their lot since they moved in.

On Tuesday evening Jim Wallinton took Mrs. Wallington and Mrs. Cruthers to the chicken supper at Kitscoty. It was truly a grand supper. There was lots of everything, and the ladies were so nice and friendly and were right there to see everyone got plenty to eat. We can really say that if you want a chicken supper, go to Kitscoty next year when they have their annual one. The program after was well worth seeing, under the direction of Mrs. E. Batty, we listened to the broadcast of it over C. K. S.A. on Sunday afternoon and enjoyed it the second time.

Mrs. Ken Sheppard of Vegreville visited a couple of days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cruthers.

The dance put on at Basswood to raise money to help put lights in the hall was well attended. A good time was enjoyed by all. Geo. Stewart and his daughter Mary furnished the music. Ian Clark was M. C.

Don't forget the Bean Supper sponsored by the Senior Room of Preston Central School at the school on Friday, November 8 at 6:30. Program and a dance later in the Basswood Hall. Proceeds for the Christmas concert.

A nice crowd attended the Gay 90's dance on Thursday evening. Owing to not enough members being present, election was put off until November dance. Plan to attend that dance folks. The Hanna orchestra of Islay furnished the music and Tommy Thompson was M. C. Mr. and Mrs. W. Funnell entertained by singing during the supper hour to the pleasure of everyone. We truly missed you, Mrs. Rogan, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lachyk, Mr. and Mrs. B. Good, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. B. Elliott. See you all next time.

Mr. and Mrs. Marfleet of Vermilion visited at the C. Cruthers home on Sunday afternoon.

We chatted on Saturday with Miss Craig, Mrs. Kather, Mrs. Havenlew, Mrs. J. Stone, Mrs. A. Stone, Mrs. J. Grant, Mrs. S. May and Mrs. F. Sperberg. The afternoon goes by quickly when you talk with fine people such as these.

Noticed— J. Wallington's name in a curve sign since Halloween; George Harrison and helpers working on the new curling rink near Preston Central School. Clarence Lewis being at three chicken suppers this fall.

Recommend Conference on Farm Safety for Prairie Provinces

Prof. Stephanson's report recommended a Prairie Province Conference on farm safety to be hosted by Alberta during the Winter. He felt that farm safety problems common to Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta could be approached together more efficiently and with greater [illegible] than at present when each is going its own way.

H.P. Brown reported that the co-operative Water Safety campaign by the Safety Council and the Red Cross during the Summer had attracted more volunteer workers than ever before. Mr. Brown said that next summer a great many communities in Alberta can conduct their [illegible] water safety efforts with a [illegible]mum of assistance and direction. He said that the water safety conference held in Calgary in June of this year had been of considerable practical value to towns and communities proposing to build pools.

CLUBS FOR CHILD SAFETY

Steve Chaley, reporting on Child Safety, said that a province-wide campaign had been conducted in May and June by the Department of Health and that the Alberta Safety Council had joined in this effort which was particularly effective in Edmonton and Calgary. His detailed report on the Pedal Pushers Clubs showed that 4,130 children had taken part in Edmonton, Vegreville and Red Deer and that approximately 240 fathers had turned out voluntarily as instructors, giving about 12 hours of time each. Classes for Baby Sitters are being conducted in many centres, he said, and kits for the direction of these classes are available free from the Alberta Safety Council.

Jack Farish reported that the membership picture was encouraging, but that we have a long way to go to raise enough money to do a job [illegible] with the demand.

TOWN

New safety committees were [illegible] Lethbridge, Fort McCleod, Pincher Creek, Blairmore, Coleman and Claresholm. Speaking of the formation of Safety Councils or Committees in towns, President MacDonald said that the Alberta Safety Council would welcome enquiries from such towns and that they could depend upon help and direction from the staff of the Safety Council.

ASK LOWER SPEED LIMIT ON DIRT [illegible] GRAVEL ROADS

One resolution was debated and finally tabled for further study. This resolution would have asked the Government to give consideration to a lower maximum speed limit for dirt and gravel roads than the 60 miles per hour now in effect. It set forth the extra hazards on such roads as dust, absence of pavement markings, sharp corners, and loose gravel on curves and corners. A similar resolution was passed on to the government a year ago.

GREAT HOLOCAUSTS OF HISTORY

The most devastating forest fire in Canada's history was the Miramichi holocaust of 1825 which swept through three million acres in New Brunswick and Maine, taking 160 lives. In 1871, the Peshtigo fire in Wisconsin raged through [illegible] acres, with a casualty list of more than 1500 persons.

Practically anything in the world can be made popular by passing laws against it.

THE MEANING OF REFORESTATION

One of the most commonly misspelled words is 'reforestation', often given an extra 'r' in its last syllable. 'Reforestation' refers to planting trees on land once forested. 'Afforestation' refers to planting on land barren or used for purposes other than tree production.

CANADA'S RICHEST PROPERTY

Over 90 per cent of Canada's forests are owned by the public. By far the greater part of the timberlands used by forest industry is administered by the Provincial governments on behalf of the people of Canada.

Second Annual Hobby Fair At Mannville On November 16th

The second annual Hobby fair will be held at Mannville on Saturday, Nov. 16th and the list of classes is now available from Mrs. Nancy M. Coxford, the convener of the fair.

The fair is sponsored by the Happy Centre W.I. and though their initial effort last year was an outstanding success, it is hoped to have an even bigger one this year. There is a class for each and every hobby entered, also for collections and display tables. This year too it will be held in the spacious school auditorium which will allow for plenty of room to display the exhibits.

The Cultural Activities Branch of the Department of Extension have become interested in this Hobby fair and there is a possibility of it being televised.

Unique classes are for relics of [illegible] days, also for a special display of work done by those over 75 years of age.

Certificates of merit will be awarded for workmanship, design and harmony. The main objective of the fair is to stimulate interest in hobbies.

Tentative list of classifications include art, etchings, stuffed toys, crocheting, embroidery, costume jewelry, felt craft, quilts, rugs, woodwork, copper tooling, scrap books, collections, school displays, basketry, photography, model building, leathercraft, display of work done by those over 75 years of age, relics of homestead days. 15xtf people compete in the oil business

Did you know there are more than 10,000 people engaged in the search for oil in Canada? We know it, because we run into plenty of them each time we try to lease promising oil lands.

Did you know there are hundreds of skilled chemists and engineers in Canada's oil industry? We know it, because our own technical people have to work hard to stay ahead of the others in producing better products at lower cost.

Did you know Canada's oil companies employ thousands of salesmen to market their products? We know it, because every day our own sales people are competing with salesmen from other companies.

Canada's hundreds of oil companies wage vigorous competition. The result is increased efficiency, and benefits to the consumer.

Modern Homes For Veterans

"Build your own Homes" is not a slogan or a catch phrase, but is an achievement which has been accomplished by veterans numbering thousands and increasing as the years go by. The Small Holding feature of the Veterans' Land Act is steadily gaining in popularity. It provides a sound avenue by which veterans can acquire a country estate, in which to raise their families away from crowded centers and high taxation, in an environment of pleasant rural surroundings where children can enjoy freedom and the beauties of nature. Times and conditions have changed; country homes now have all the modern conveniences and utilities with easy access to paved roads and transportation. In conformity with other advancements, amendments to the Act now provide more money for house construction in order to meet modern requirements and the higher cost of materials and labour.

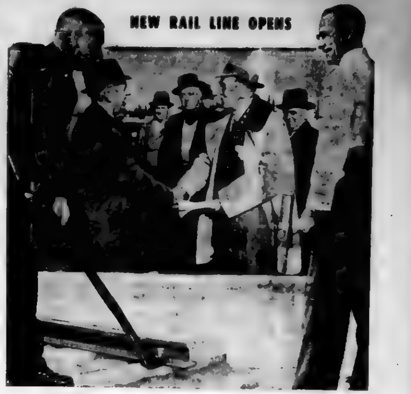
Originally $6000.00 was available, with the veterans making an initial cash deposit of $600.00 and the veterans being entitled to a conditional grant of $1400.00 which they earned by residing on and operating the property for the first 10 year period. The veterans contract was for the sum of $4000.00 repayable at 3½ per cent interest over a period of 25 years in monthly payments of approximately $20.00 plus their taxes and insurance premiums. Under the amendments an additional loan of $1400.00 is now available, with the veterans making a contributory payment of $700.00 which sum is used for building purposes, making a total of $8100.00 for land and construction of a house. The additional loan is also repayable over 25 years at 5% interest. The monthly payment on these two consolidated loans only amounts to approximately $28.00. This is an exceptionally low monthly payment, being only about one-third of normal rent charges for comparable housing.

The $8100.00 can be supplemented in value by approximately another $2400.00 as the veteran can be his own contractor and contribute much of his own labour and absorb overhead charges, profits etc. Certain deletions are also permissible, which can be finished at a later date when the veteran's finances and time permit. Under these flexible and ideal conditions, it is an established reality that veterans become the proud owners of properties valued at $10,000.00 or better. Homes where they can enjoy all the amenities of a combined urban and rural life and be in the enviable position of being able to supplement their incomes off their own estates. The monthly payments are the lowest in Canada, with the total repayable contract debt of only $3400.00 at a low rate of interest. These are the terms now enjoyed by our No. 1 citizens, the veterans of World War 11 who have been successfully rehabilitated and integrated into the ranks of society on a sound economic basis.

Other veterans, whose circumstances do not permit them to live in rural surroundings can solve their housing problem under Part 11, V. L. A. which assists veterans to build modern houses on town or city lots. Veterans establish their equity in this scheme by supplying their own lot, which must have a value of $800.00 or better. $800.00 interest free money is [illegible] while the veterans are building, and they can act as their own contractors and contribute much of the labour involved. This assistance enables veterans to build good homes on city lots. On completion of the house, Title is registered in the name of the veteran and the veteran executes a mortgage in favour of C.M.H.C. for an amount not less than the cost to the Director, V. L. A. The veterans have to pay an application fee of $35.00 to C. M. H. C., part of which is later refunded. The mortgage is repayable in monthly payments over a period of 25 years at the current rate of interest, which at the present time is 6%. The monthly payments are at the rate of $6.40 per $1000.00 borrowed, plus one twelfth of the annual taxes, and which amounts to less than current [illegible].

Under both of above schemes the Director V.L.A. provides free legal services for conveyance of titles, mortgages, searches, etc., free V. L. A. house plans, competent construction supervisors to assist in the selection of plans, arriving at estimates, and actual advice and supervision on the job. Construction schools are organized to educate veterans in becoming their own contractors, doing their own buying and dealing with the sub-traders.

The District Superintendent is now arranging for Construction Schools to run this fall and winter at central points throughout the Province. Interested veterans who wish to enjoy the privilege of home ownership, security, and an improved social and economic status, should immediately make application to the nearest V. L. A. office or Settlement Officer. Veterans who have not already been rehabilitated under the Act should carefully consider all the advantages of "Build Your Own Homes."



Premier Douglas Campbell of Manitoba, (right), is seen about to drive home a nickel spike to mark the completion of a new branch rail line from Sipiwesk on the Hudson Bay Railway to Thompson, site of International Nickel Company's giant new mining development in northern Manitoba. Assisting him is Major J. L. Charles, consulting engineer, Canadian National Railways, who surveyed the Hudson Bay Railway route in 1912 and in 1926.

The inset photograph shows S. F. Dingle, (left), CNR vice-president of operation, presenting waybills for the first freight train over the new 30-mile line to J. C. Parlee, superintendent of INCO's Manitoba division. Looking on, left to right, are: Hon. C. E. Greenlay, provincial treasurer and minister of labour, Ralph D. Parker, vice-president of INCO; Hon. F. C. Bell, minister of mines and natural resources, and Hon. Paul Comtois, federal minister of mines and technical surveys, Ottawa.

HELICOPTER BIRDS

The osprey and kingfisher are able to hover in the air like helicopters when preparing to dive for fish. The hummingbird is one of the few feathered creatures which not only hover in one position but can fly backwards with ease.

GUILTY HUMAN HANDS

The belief that spontaneous combustion starts forest conflagrations is without foundation. Four-fifths of fires in most provinces are set by public carelessness major part in northern Ontario and British Columbia. Campfires and lighted tobacco account for a third of the outbreaks in all Canada.

Health Unit Notes

COMMON RESPIRATORY DISEASES—

SINUSITIS

In the bone of the face there are several air-containing spaces called sinuses which lead into the nose through very narrow openings. When a person has a respiratory infection, germs may travel from the nose into one or more of these sinuses. As a result, the sinus pain in the cheeks or over the eyes, which is the most common symptom of acute sinusitis, is caused by the pressure of the accumulated pus on the sinus walls.

Always report to a physician when a cold is accompanied by pain or soreness in the cheeks or over the eyes, as chronic sinusitis may develop if the condition is neglected. A head cold that 'hangs on' or repeated attacks of head colds, particularly when accompanied by a dull headache or pain or soreness over the affected sinus, are signs that chronic sinus disease may be present.

EAR INFECTION

During a head cold, infection may also travel from the back of the nose into the middle ear by way of the Eustachian tube and cause a middle-ear abscess. Infants and children sick with measles, scarlet fever, or some other contagious disease are especially susceptible to middle-ear abscess and should be closely watched for signs of earache. The chief danger is the chance that the infection may be spread to the mastoid bone, which has a small connection with the middle ear. Always consult a physician without delay if a cold or some other respiratory infection is complicated by earache so that the proper treatment can be started in time to prevent the development of mastoiditis. The use of sulfa drugs or penicillin has greatly reduced the danger of this complication.

Forcible blowing of the nose is one of the principal ways in which infected material from the nose may be driven into the middle ear. Blow your nose very gently when you have a cold, and do not use a nasal douche unless a physician tells you how to do so and teaches you how to use it.

Chronic inflammation of middle ear is the chief cause of loss of hearing. Always consult a physician if nagging pain or a feeling of fullness or stuffiness in the ear, head noises, and dulled hearing accompany repeated or long continued colds.

TONSILLITIS

Acute inflammation of tonsils caused by germs of various kinds is called tonsillitis. The symptoms of acute tonsillitis are sore throat, fever, and 'aching all over.'

Prompt medical attention is important because certain types of throat infections particularly those caused by streptococcus germs (streptococcal sore throat or 'septic sore throat'), or other vital organs. Fortunately, physicians are finding modern drugs very helpful in treating severe throat infections.

Tonsils may become enlarged or chronically diseased from repeated acute attacks of tonsillitis or frequent colds. Enlargement of the pharyngeal tonsil, or 'adenoids,' occurs most frequently in childhood. Mouth breathing, loss of hearing, and the spread of infection to other parts of the body are the dangers against which the surgeon guards a child when he removes diseased or enlarged tonsils and adenoids.

INFLUENZA

Influenza is a respiratory disease which may be caused by any one of several different strains of influenza virus. The virus is present in the nose and throat discharges of an influenza patient and the disease seems most contagious in the early stages when it may be confused with 'just a cold.'

Influenza usually develops within two or three days following exposure. The patient has a fever; his back, head, and limbs ache badly, and he may have stomach or intestinal disturbances. Usually he is acutely ill for only about a week, but the exhaustion which follows may be severe and last for a long time. The chief danger is that pneumonia or other serious complication may occur during the recovery stage, especially if the patient tries to 'get back on his feet' too quickly. At the first sign of a cold with fever and aching, go to bed and call a physician. Stay in bed until he says it is safe to get up.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather - no complaints for this time of year, most of the harvest has been taken care of in this district.

An error occurred in last news. At the Armstrong home were Ruth and sons, not Vi as stated.

Mr and Mrs. Norman Walling who have been living at the coast have moved back to Edmonton. They have been visiting at the W Feenstra home.

It was an inspiration to hear our minister Rev. MacKay over [illegible] for a week. The messages, [illegible] one in particular "Second [illegible] Religion" was very true of so many of us. Our student in 1954, Mr Stanley Calder, had an excellent sermon on that theme.

The week end of Oct 19 Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayhew and two youngest children Brian and Wanda and Mother O'Fee of Bawlf were guests at the McCormick home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gordey on the birth of a daughter, Oct. 22, a sister for Barry.

On Oct. 24th Mr. and Mrs. D. McCormick, son Dennis and nephew John McIntyre left on the C.N.R. from Wainwright for Toronto where they will visit relatives and on the 29th they sailed on the Empress of Scotland for County Antrim, Ireland for a three months' holiday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Monaghan on the birth of a daughter on Oct. 24.

The week end of Oct. 26th Mr and Mrs. Woody Wilson had as their guests the latter's sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Pauls and four sons from Rabbit Lake, Sask. and brother Mr. and Mrs. Pete Martens and daughter of Chilliwack, B.C.

The same week end, guests at the Armstrong home were sister in law Mrs. Margaret Armstrong and [illegible] from Fort Saskatchewan.

On Oct. 27th Mr. and Mrs. Orley Omness visited sister Gertie Swanson at Elk Point. She and two grandchildren Lynda and Myrna Kepke accompanied the Omnesses to Spring Park and called on the children's mother Mrs. Rufus Kepke and on to see Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Darling.

The Evangelistic Mission by Rev Allen Dawe was wonderful beyond words. The theme "Undiscovered Riches of Christ". A week of salvation, winning souls to Christ.

On Oct. 29 Mrs. Stella Mayers from Chipman was visiting in the district. Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Arnold accompanied her to Elk Point on Friday to visit her sister Gertie Swanson.

Mr. Tom Souder and son Frank from Edmonton were visiting and doing some duck hunting in the surrounding districts last week end.

A Hallowe'en party was enjoyed at the Don Wilson home last Friday evening. Harry Goldsmith's family, Ralph Wilson's family and the Omnesses were guests. Raymond Wilson was the proud grower of the pumpkins for the funny faces. He's a proud boy when his pumpkin beats grandma's – and that's just what happened!

Church service was held on Nov 3rd in Clandonald at 3 p.m. conducted by Mr MacKay and Mr Schurman. The sermon on "Pride" was very interesting.

The Clandonald United Church W.A. and the Anglican W. A. are having their fowl supper in the Orange hall on Nov 15th.

Recent guests at the Wm. Armstrong home were daughter Joyce, Ronnie and family from Royal Park.

The Allandale W.A. met on the evening of Nov 4th at the Wm. Armstrong home. The men folk were along and enjoyed a good visit. Plans are for a social evening on Nov. 28th at the Gus Throndson home in town.

Closing Thought: "Love is never tired of waiting, love is kind, love has no envy, has no high opinion of itself, love has no pride.

Headlamp Aiming is Easy with New Device

Mother can aim the headlamps on the family car today just about as fast as a trained mechanic does it with new mechanical aimers developed by the headlamp manufacturers. She can do it in less than five minutes, and accurately, too! Here, Mrs. R. B. Baillie, wife of the Manitoba Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, and her daughter Nancy, prove the point. They were prize winners in a headlamp aiming contest sponsored by the Automobile Manufacturers Association at a recent conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators in Roanoke, Virginia. The contest emphasized the importance of having headlamps aimed properly for safe night driving.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Cabinet Minister, Hon. A. J. Hooke, Has Unusual Hobby

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Hon. A. J. Hooke takes the prize for the most unusual hobby among members of the Alberta cabinet.

Mr. Hooke, minister of municipal affairs and provincial secretary, is an entertainer. In fact, he's probably the only minister of the crown in the British Commonwealth who spends as much time on the variety stage as he does on the political platform.

He gives witty recitations in Lancashire dialect, plays the accordian, harmonica, and fiddle, sings, and leads his own dance orchestra. The reason for this unusual hobby, he explains, is simply that he enjoys it.

Mr. Hooke leads a troop of about 20 performers— most of them provincial civil servants— who appear on the average of once a month in towns and villages throughout the northern part of Alberta. They generally appear under the auspices of some worthwhile organization, and any proceeds which go to the troop are used for special projects in aid of underprivileged children.

Naturally, he hears plenty of complaints that the entertainment sideline is used for political advantage. This he denies emphatically. The group is known as Alf Hooke and the Westerners, and the minister stipulates that there be no mention of the cabinet, or of the prefix 'honorable' before his name.

Of course, there have been slip-ups. Local masters of ceremonies sometimes refer to him inadvertantly as Hon. Mr. Hooke. Once at Barrhead the sponsoring committee plastered posters all over town heralding the upcoming visit of 'Hon. A. J. Hooke and his Cabinet Orchestra.'

Colleagues in the cabinet sometimes tell him it is undignified for a minister to clown on the stage, but that's the least of Mr Hooke's worries. For one act, he dresses in an outlandish false beard, battered hat, and tattered clothing to sing a hillbilly number.

His usual stage costume is a multi-colored silk cowboy shirt, 10-gallon hat, frontier pants and high heeled boots.

The whole thing started while Mr Hooke was minister of economic affairs. He gathered a few musicians together for a dance to help raise funds for a regional library. It went over so well that more dances were demanded. Then entertainers were added, and it became a variety-type show. Today the Westerners have more requests than they can possibly fill.

Mr Hooke has always been interested in entertaining, and finds it relatively easy to play almost any musical instrument, although he's never taken a lesson.

The sharp wit he uses on the stage also serves him well in the Legislature. He goes over well in his home riding of Rocky Mountain House, which he has represented since Social Credit came to power in 1935.

Born at Whitecroft, England, Mr Hooke came to Canada with his family at the age of eight, and lived in the Halkirk area, near Stettler, where his father was in the mining business and later went into farming.

He began earning his own living at the age of 13 when he went to work as a farmhand at $1.00 a day. At the age of 17 he went back to school and took grades 8 through 12 in three years.

In 1925, he attended normal school at Calgary, obtained his teaching certificate, and went back to farming to raise enough money for the summer session at the University of Alberta. He taught school at Halkirk, Fleet [illegible] and was principal at Rocky Mountain House when he first ran for the Legislature.

Mr. Hooke was appointed to the municipal affairs portfolio in the cabinet shake-up of 1955 after C. E. Gerhart, then provincial treasurer was defeated in the provincial election, and Hon. E. W. Hinman moved up from municipal affairs to take his place.

At this time, observers saw the choice of Mr Hooke as a move by Premier Manning to improve relations between the province and the municipalities. Certainly a lot of ill feeling had developed, and Mr Hooke was the man with the personality to mend the fences.

Since then it is generally agreed that relations are happier, although Mr. Hooke feels his job is far from finished.

Fame may be a bubble, but let others blow yours for you.

NEWS OF THE CLANDONALD DISTRICT

Popular Minister and Wife Farewelled at Clandonald

Harvesting which has been in progress intermittently for well over two months is still uncompleted in many cases. Farmers with grain in the stook have fared slightly better than those left with grain in swath during the past few weeks. Ducks are having a heyday at the farmers' expense trampling the swaths flat to the ground, especially those fields which are adjacent to larger lakes which are as yet still open.

Residents of the Rusylvia district for about 30 years, Mr and Mrs Dennis McCormick left recently for a visit to their old home in Ireland. Accompanying them are their son Dennis and a nephew John MacIntyre. John is a comparative newcomer having only arrived here from Ireland slightly over four years ago.

Last Monday evening a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs. Hugh Hagen to bid farewell to Rev and Mrs Brian Brown. Mr and Mrs Brown have been here for just slightly over two years and have now been moved to the Tofield Sherwood Park parish and left for their new location on Tuesday. During the course of the evening the People's Warden of the Clandonald parish presented Mr. and Mrs. Brown with a sum of money as an expression of appreciation of the parishioners and other friends of their work during their comparatively short stay here. As well as Clandonald friends several families from the Landonville parish were represented. The previous evening at Derwent a number of parishioners also gathered to bid the Browns farewell and to wish them every happiness and success in their new surroundings.

Rev. Brown's successor, Mr. Preston, has already paid a flying visit to the parish and will be arriving here with his wife and three children to take up residence around Nov. 5th. The Prestons are at present located at Sion, near Dunstable, northwest of Edmonton.

Henry Dyjur for the past several months working for the bank in a Peace River district town, returned home to help with the harvest about a month ago. Since arriving home we understand he has decided to quit his job and return to the farm for the time being at least.

Also home to help with the harvest, Tony Gratton spent a week's holiday to good advantage helping his father and the neighbors thresh. Tony is employed at the plywood plant in the Edmonton west end.

Several district residents have been victims of the current flu epidemic. Art Gratton, endeavoring to help with the harvest, hold down a job at the hotel besides making the odd trip to Edmonton with the hotel truck, was laid low for about a week but is back at work again now.

Mrs. Rock Mead in charge of the rooms at the public school returned to work too soon and had to be hospitalized for a few days. During her absence Mrs. Fred West was in charge of her classroom.

Harry Brake spent a couple of days in Elk Point hospital caused by a painful eye ailment.

Week end visitors from the city were Tom Souder and Frank, also Dick Good and son Don. Tom and Frank are reported as having considerable success reducing the duck population around the Mead farm at Campbell lake.

Friends, many of whom had known the deceased for almost forty years, gathered at the Anglican church to pay their last respects to a former long time resident, Mrs. Rhodes. She had been in poor health for some time and passed away on Oct. 18 in the Elk Point hospital. Mr. Rhoades died about a year and a half ago. Mr and Mrs. Rhoades came to the Wellsdale district almost 40 years ago and farmed just south west of town.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT
by
W. G. MALAHER,
Director,
Research Department,
[illegible] GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Concerning the Price of Wheat.

Very interesting sometimes are items which appear in the columns of our daily papers from the files of say 20, 40 or 50 years ago. One such item appearing in a western paper recently brought into focus the price paid for a bushel of wheat in 1907 compared with that received by the farmer today. The article in question concluded: "Price continue high, 70c being paid for No. 1 Northern, the standard grade". Actually the records show that the average price of No. 1 Northern for the whole crop year 1906-07 basis Fort William-Port Arthur was [illegible] cents per bushel and that for the succeeding crop year $1.047 per bushel.

By present day standards, perhaps these prices appear low, being less than one-half the total price received in 1956 for No. 1 Northern basis the Lakehead, in the one case, and roughly two-thirds the price in the other. Yet, the index of farmers' costs, including the cost of living, is today roughly 3¼ times what it was in 1907. Thus the purchasing value of a bushel of wheat in those days was very much higher.

It may be said that the farmer of that day was much more self-sufficient than he is now and that his needs were fewer. That is undoubtedly true but it does not alter the fact that because of the present inflationary nature of things and the decline in the value of our dollar, the proceeds from the sale of a bushel of wheat do not go nearly as far at the present time as they did in 1907.

4-H Enrolment

Average age of the 73,483 members is 14.0 with an average of 14.4 members in each club.

The 4-H Grain Club held their achievement day on Saturday afternoon. The parents of each of the exhibitors were present, showing their interest. The day finished up by a couple of contests in which all participated. The grains shown were Wolfe Barley and one exhibit of Gateway Barley. Winners were as follows: Choice — won by Frances Kowalski; 2, Raymond Kowalski. Standard — Joyce Kowalski; 2, Don Martin; 3, Jack Teskey. Merit — Jim Shaw. CKSA recorded on a tape recorder and caught Bl. McLean the leader and each of the members. When played back to the audience the speakers didn't think their voice their own. Considering the weather conditions this season the samples of grain were very good. This club has worked enthusiastically with thematic displays for the fairs. In 1956 they won a first and a third and this year two firsts, one at Vermilion and one at [illegible].

On Tuesday Mrs. Bruce McLennan held a surprise afternoon party in honor of Mrs. Neil McLennan whose birthday was next day. Those present were Mrs. Sweet, Gladys and Muriel Stone, and Mrs Dave Martin. There was a very pretty birthday cake with candles and Mrs. McLennan blew them all out with one mighty blow but never mind Mrs Fraser there were not as many candles as were on your cake. For 86 years Mrs. Fraser, that was a big blow - but then, that is perhaps because you hail from the British Isles where the hale and hearty come from. May you both have many more chances to blow out the candles on a birthday cake.

The Home and School Association held a whist party Friday night and there the scholarships were presented to the two highest in Grade 9 results. They were Ken Gunn, an honor student, and Vera Budzilka, next in standing. Vera was not present to receive hers.

Mrs. Woodruff is visiting with her daughter Mrs. Moncrieff, Mr Moncrieff and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill King are holidaying at the coast and while away the two little girls are staying with Mrs. Bill Axley.

Mrs. Ed McFadyen spent a few days in Edmonton visiting her daughter Marion.

Last week Mrs. Axley gave a tea in honor of Mrs. Ken Reid. On Tuesday Mrs. Geo. Purves entertained for Mrs. Reid. Mr. and Mrs. Reid and family are leaving to reside in Edmonton.

We hear it said on the street corner that the Hallowe'en marauders should camouflage their truck, it is well known, and the other one should get both headlights working, one was out.

THE PRICE OF FOREST FIRES

The Canadian public, by carelessness with fire while travelling in the woods, burns down each year enough timber to build 85,000 five-room bungalows.

GOVERNMENT SERVICES
know them better to serve you better

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

The Department of Agriculture of the Government of Alberta maintains a Province-wide Extension Service which is constantly concerned in bringing information to farm families and assisting them to apply it.

District Agriculturists and District Home Economists, who comprise the field staff, are strategically located at 46 centers throughout the Province. These highly qualified workers provide direct, friendly assistance to farm people in planning their operations so that they may achieve the maximum in profit and satisfaction from their efforts. This is not done by arbitrarily telling them what they should do, but rather by bringing to them basic and scientific information and encouraging them to apply it in reaching better decisions.

Some farm families need only to be told of the latest research developments, while in others there is a need to consider a more or less complete revision of their operations.

The principal methods used are:
1. Supervision by field staff of the organization and operation of 4-H Clubs.
2. Provision of information by field staff with respect to specific problems, including better sires and seed.
3. Provision of general information through the medium of short courses, radio, press, etc.
4. Provision of specialists to assist farm families with more complicated problems.
5. Encouragement to farm families to solve their own problems by group discussion, with Extension workers present to provide information.

The Alberta Department has the highest ratio in Canada of Home Economics to number of occupied farms and was the first to have a specialist in home designing. The average number of occupied farms per District Agriculturist is about 1900 and per District Home Economist about 3500.

PROVINCIAL SCHOOLS OF AGRICULTURE AND HOME ECONOMICS

The Schools of agriculture and Home Economics provide practical training to young men and women who intend to make careers in modern farming and homemaking. Each school consists of modern dormitories, class rooms, laboratories, shops and barns. A farm is operated in conjunction with each school to provide practical instruction.

Schools are located at Olds, Vermilion and Fairview. The term is from late October to early April. The course for boys is one or two terms, depending on qualifications. In 1956, the course for girls became a one-year course.

Boys taking the two-year course in agriculture must have passed their 17th birthday by December 31st of the year in which they apply. For all other courses the minimum age (at registration) is 16 years. Both boys and girls must have grade 9 standing for entrance; however, consideration is given to older students who may have lower grades.

There are no tuition fees for residents of Alberta.

Approximate yearly cost for board and room, text books, and classroom materials is about $275.00.

AGRICULTURAL COURSES

The object of the course is to equip young men with practical knowledge necessary for farm operations. It includes:
Plant husbandry—animal husbandry.
Farm Mechanics (including carpentry, blacksmithing and welding).
Farm Management.
Poultry—dairying—horticulture.

The course in science shows the application of science in farming practices. English and public speaking are studied.

HOME ECONOMICS COURSES

While the course in Home Economics allows considerable time for the study of foods, clothing and home management other subjects include typing, bookkeeping, English, [illegible] culture, public speaking, poultry and home nursing.

Special laboratories are maintained for the study of Home Economics.

The Alberta Government courses in Agriculture and Home Economics not only provide valuable training in these specific subjects but as well, furnish students with experiences in living which will serve them well throughout their lives.

Prime Alberta Beef For Canada's Prime Minister

"Prime Alberta beef for the Prime Minister of Canada" formed part of the unusual banquet proceedings which concluded the annual meeting of the Canadian Tourist Association in Ottawa October 23. Tourist representatives from each province presented Prime Minister Diefenbaker an ardent outdoorsman, with a sample of fish for which that province is noted. Alberta's presentation, last on the program, deviated by drawing attention to the fact that this province holds a dominant position in the Canadian beef industry in addition to her fame for petroleum. Hon. A. R. Patrick, Alberta Minister of Economic Affairs, and R. R. Moore, Deputy Minister, presented banquet guest speaker Rt. Hon. J. G. Diefenbaker with a 16-pound 'oven ready, standing rib roast'. Viewing the packaged prize prior to its shipment east are Harvey Marples, manager of the beef department of Swift Canadian Company's Edmonton plant which supplied the choice cut; Dan E. C. Campbell, director of Alberta Government Travel Bureau; R. R. Moore; and John C. Peter, Swift's Edmonton Plant manager and company director.

Sheppard-Cruthers Wedding Is Solemnized at First United Church

A pretty wedding was solemnized in First United Church, Vermilion, by Rev. C. W. MacKay on Friday, September 27th at 3 o'clock when Janet Naomi Cruthers, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers of Wildmere and Kenneth William Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sheppard of Vermilion, [illegible] vows.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon lace over satin with matching bolero and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a pearl and sequin tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses and wore a necklace of rhinestones, a gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Betty Smith, who wore a ballerina-length gown of pink net over taffeta with bolero, gloves and bandeau to match. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and wore a Coro necklace and earring set which was a gift of the [illegible].

The groom was attended by his cousin, Bert Dutton, of Edmonton.

Ushering guests were Robert Sheppard, brother of the groom, and Gary Cruthers, brother of the [illegible].

Mrs. Albert West played the wedding music.

During the signing of the register, Mr. John Webb sang "The Wedding Prayer".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cruthers wore navy with beige accessories. The groom's mother chose a figured silk dress with white accessories.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Legion hall for one hundred guests. Mrs. C. Morand, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was laid with a linen and lace cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride. Adam Smith, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast, to which the groom ably responded.

Telegrams of best wishes and congratulations were read by Mr. Bert Duncan from Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Scroggie and Mrs. Kerfoot and Linda of Vancouver.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. C. Morand and Mrs. Wilson of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. R. Dutton and family; Miss Joan Sheppard, Mrs. L. Fortin and family, all of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Hinchey and family of Edson; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sheppard of Forestburg, Alta.

A wedding dance was held the same evening in the Thorncliffe school. Funnell and Fortin orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard are presently making their home in Vegreville.

LET'S BREAK RECORDS

The poet, Walt Whitman, claimed that out of every fruition of success, no matter what, comes forth something to make a new effort necessary.

My daughter, Sal, told me just last night that "Homework is like doing dishes —you get more to do the minute you finish one assignment."

That's life, isn't it?

Think about it. It means that you can always raise your sights. It means that there is no end, no "good enough," no [illegible].

Persons and nations are much alike. Nations that embrace a form of government that is hidebound, and static, and blue-printed from the top down gradually stagnate. Nations like our own, based on democracy, with a great deal of freedom for the individual can continue to improve steadily. We can raise our sights. We can change. We don't have to sign a form every time we turn around, the way they do in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, or any other country where everything is run by the government.

To you, as an individual, Walt Whitman's observation is vital. It makes you take a look — a hard look — at yourself. Have you lifted your sights a little higher this week than last?

Dr. Roger Bannister, the first man to run the four-minute mile, recently wrote in This Week magazine that "We should never be hypnotized by any mental limitation. We can always raise our sights."

He claimed that the record set by Walter George back in 1886 for the one-mile race went unbroken for so long because of a psychological rather than a physical barrier. Runners had it in their minds that a 4-minute mile was impossible. But once Bannister proved it possible, the barrier was broken. Inside of three years, the 4-minute record was broken on 28 occasions by 16 runners.

So, if there are any lessons clear in this life, we can all improve by raising our sights. By refusing to be hidebound. By denying old limitations.

Likewise, this Canadian nation, if it will remain free, can make progress beyond our past dreams. Unbound by bureaucratic chains, free to grow, and eager for a richer and more dynamic life, this young country can be a pacesetter for the world.

Bannister's slogan might be adopted by all Canadians, "We should never be hypnotized by any mental limitation. We can always raise our sights."

Canadian National Railways maintains an organization to assist industry in plant location. Proper location is an important asset to an industry, bad location a serious deficit.

Self-disciplined is the man who has learned to bridle his tongue and put a check-rein on his temper.

Parade, Cenotaph Ceremony, Service Mark Remembrance Day

Observances of Remembrance day carried out on Monday, Nov. 11th were probably more widely attended than ever before. The colorful and impressive ceremonies arranged and carried out by Canadian Legion Post 11, were comprised of the parade to the cenotaph, the ceremony of laying of wreaths, and the service of remembrance in the Columbia theatre.

The parade was formed up at the Legion hall under command of Parade Marshall Bob Allan. It was led by three R.C.M.P. officers in their dress uniforms, followed by the Legion color party, the "A" Coy., L.E.R. pipe band, the War Veterans, the W.A., the very smartly turned out "A" Coy., L.E.R. under the command of Lieut. Wm. Scales, the No. 97 Squadron Air Cadets, in charge of F/L S. Manyluk and Adjutant A. E. Moore with the squadron led by the Honor Guard, the V.S.A. students, Girl Guides, C.G.I.T., the Brownies and the Wolf Cubs. Practically every organization of the town was represented in the long parade.

At the cenotaph the ceremony of the 'Laying of Wreaths' was solemnly carried out under the direction of the Legion padre Rev. K. A. Minchin. Two minutes silence was observed.

Music for the service was played by the "A" Coy., pipe band.

REV. WM. PEELING IS GUEST SPEAKER

The Remembrance Day service held in the Columbia theatre drew an overflow attendance. Rev. K. A. Minchin was in charge and assisting him were [illegible] Holden of the Salvation Army, Rev. C. W. MacKay of the United Church, Mr. George [illegible]rdson, President of the Canadian Legion Post 11.

The guest speaker for the occasion was the Rev. William Peeling of St. Johns Anglican Church, Lloydminster. Remembrance day is a time when we look at the past with a view to our actions in the future for brotherhood, freedom, justice and peace. The speaker's earnest and thought-inspiring address deeply impressed his large audience.

To complete the service the Roll of Honor was shown on the screen accompanied by appropriate sound effects.

Sidney Busby Drops Dead At Work

Sidney Busby, aged 60 years, dropped dead at 4:45 p.m. on Wednesday while working at the new office building of the Monarch Lumber Co. Busby was employed by the roofing contractor Mr. McDermid. Death was from a heart seizure.

Mr. Busby had lived in Vermilion for the past year and a half, making his home with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sperberg. Surviving members of the family are two sisters, Mrs. Sperberg in Vermilion and Mrs. Nels Ingvartsen in Vancouver.

Funeral services will be held on Monday, Nov. 18th at 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Saviour's Anglican church. Interment will be in the soldier's plot in the Vermilion cemetery.

Takes Over Business At Athabaska

Mr. and Mrs. Max Wiecher and family left last week end for Athabaska where Max has taken over a bakery shop and grocery business.

Dates for Calf Club Meetings Are Set

The Vermilion Calf Club has called an organization meeting for Friday, November 22nd. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in [illegible].

Everyone planning on feeding a calf should be out to this meeting. Parents as well as boys and girls should attend, as rules and regulations will be explained.

Club Leader Jack Cross and District Agriculturist E. H. Buckingham will be in charge. Officers will be elected for the coming season.

On November 21st a meeting will be held at Preston School to organize a calf club in that area. Here is an opportunity for boys and girls in that district to have a club of their own. At least twelve members must join up in order to make a Club.

Two Business Premises, Five New Bungalows Wind Up The Town's Building Program for the Year

Building program for the season in Vermilion has been further highlighted by permits for two new business premises, the office for the Monarch Lumber Co., and a service station being erected on the south side by the B.A. Oil Co. By a co-incidence both permits were for $12,000 each. Work on both projects is being rushed with a view to completion this fall.

Continuing a home building program which has maintained a steady pace throughout 1957, five more permits for bungalows have been issued. Not only that, but work has really been rushed and some of the houses are already occupied. The last group of permits were issued to the following: John H. Neale, east end, Lot 11, Blk. 33, $8000; Nick Adams, Hospital Subdiv., Lot 9, Blk. 1, $9200; G. C. Rampling, east end, Lot 10, Blk. 33, $7500; Reg Ireland, east end, Lot [illegible], $6000, [illegible], west end, $14,000.

Home builders have taken a decided swing to pre-cut houses with the result that much of the work is done by themselves or in company with neighbors, consequently the size of the building permit is no indication of the house erected where pre-cut is being used.

Twelve very fine new houses have been completed or are now nearing completion during 1957.

$420,000 SCHOOL

The highlight of the building program, the new junior high and high school, being constructed at a cost of $420,000, is being rapidly completed. All outside work, painting, landscaping, laying of outside walks, has been finished, with endeavors now being concentrated on the interior. Completion of the big building is expected by the end of February.

Rotarians To Invade Clandonald

On Friday, Carl Heckbert, one of the members of Vermilion Rotary Club, spoke on "Remembrance Day" at the club's regular weekly meeting. Mr. Heckbert told of the great efforts and sacrifices made by Canada's navy, army and airforce in two world wars. The speaker, who was president of the provincial command, Canadian Legion for six years, gave first hand information on veteran legislation. He said that no country in the world had set up as good pensions and other assistance to veterans and their families as Canada.

Elmore Stewart introduced the speaker and Ernie Buckingham thanked him on behalf of the club members. Three Lloydminster Rotarians, Mel Lavold, Russ Robertson and Archie Miller attended the meeting as did also Rennie Hayward of Kamloops.

George Webb introduced his guest Ed Hart and Alex Palin presented Walter Deitz, a new member of the staff of the Vermilion School of Agriculture.

President Tom McPherson welcomed the guests and also welcomed back Ernie Buckingham who has been visiting in Europe for the past seven weeks.

Gerald Stephens had a birthday on Nov. 5th. It was felt appropriate to present Gerald with a miniature duck as to his hunting prowess this may be the only duck he bags this year.

Ross Boake also horned in on the birthday honors by claiming that he would be '29' years old on Nov. 9th.

On Nov 21st there will be an invasion of Rotarians into Clandonald. The citizens of that town need not be too greatly alarmed however. It is only a friendly gesture Rotarians from Vermilion are inviting some friends in the northern village to have lunch with them and to hear the guest speaker D. H. McCalum, Provincial Dairy Commissioner of Edmonton.

Treasurer — Mrs. W. J. Fisk

The next social evening will be held in the Elks hall on Tuesday, Nov. 26th at 8 o'clock. Anyone wishing transportation, phone 471 or 685. A large attendance is desired by the new officers.

"Sputniks, Mutniks, And What They Mean To You" Address At Town and Country Banquet

People of Vermilion and district are due for a rare treat on Friday evening, Nov. 29th when Prof. L. E. Gads, of the Faculty of Engineering, University of Alberta, will give an address on "Sputniks, Mutniks, and what they mean to you".

This is the annual Town and Country banquet sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade. Everyone, men and women, are invited to attend. The only requirement is that you purchase your ticket as soon as possible in order that the caterers may know how many to expect. A year ago this event had to be moved to a larger hall at the last minute in order to accommodate all those wishing to hear Don Rollins. This makes additional work and trouble, so purchase your tickets right away. They can be obtained from any store in town — ask for them.

This annual Town and Country banquet is sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade. It will be held in the Legion hall and the charge is $1.25 per plate. The day is Friday, Nov 29th, time 6:30 p.m.

Special guests will be the presidents of Farm Union Locals in the district, and their wives.

Attend Zone Rally Of Prayer Bands In Edmonton

VERMILION. Sixteen women from the Alliance Chapel journeyed to Edmonton on Thursday to attend the zone rally of Alliance Prayer bands, held at the Beulah Alliance church. The snow had made the pavement a bit slippery but the enjoyment more than made up for that inconvenience. There were six Bands besides Vermilion represented, making 127 women in all.

In the morning Mrs. P. W. Edwardson spoke of the work being done by the Bible schools in the Near East, Middle East and the Orient.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Dreger, missionary from Thailand, gave a thrilling message on "Someone Had Prayed."

In the evening Mrs. Edwardson gave a short address on Home Missions and their importance. Rev. Moun [illegible] from Borneo gave a report of the work there. So with music and discussion, prayer meeting of old friends and new and wonderful food served by the ladies of the Edmonton church, the sixteen women and one man returned to Vermilion feeling that they had had a really worthwhile day and with a renewed sense of their responsibility to uphold their missionaries not only with generous giving but with their [illegible].

Former Vermilion District Farmer Dies, Vancouver

William "Billie" Mitchell who farmed for many years south east of Vermilion, and who had been living in Vancouver for a number of years past, passed away in that city on Wednesday morning Nov. 13th. Funeral services will be held on Monday Nov. 18th at 3:15 p.m. Interment will take place in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Vancouver.

Curling To Start November 18th

Due to a delay in ice-making the mixed spiel planned by the curling club has been cancelled. Curling will commence with regular draws on Monday, Nov. 18th. Any rinks not yet turned in must be definitely submitted this week end.

New Business Man Is Welcomed At Board of Trade

Ron Harris of Lloydminster was introduced at the Board of Trade on Wednesday as a new business man in the town. Mr. Harris is opening a shop in the Vermilion Hotel block and will specialize in records, record players and hi-fi equipment.

Mr. Harris was introduced by Ernie Schurman.

E. H. Buckingham was guest speaker at the Board meeting, giving a short talk on business conditions as they exist in England and Scotland. Business was really booming, and enormous progress has been made in rebuilding destroyed portions of cities, new buildings are going up and cities are being modernized greatly. Streets are being widened on main thoroughfares: for instance the famous Strand in London is now twice its original width.

Mr. Buckingham dealt with traffic, the country is very accident free as far as highways are [illegible]. The food is good, but heating and lighting of buildings leaves much to be desired. There is strict coal rationing.

France continues in a depressed state with people not too hopeful of the future. In Belgium, on the other hand, things are quite prosperous.

The president, Mr. Miller, was in the chair and there were 27 business men present.

Lively Initiation Ceremonies At Vermilion School of Agriculture

Saturday afternoon saw the initiation of a new group of students at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Accompanied by the school orchestra, they paraded on tractor-drawn 'floats' into downtown Vermilion where they swarmed over the sides of the haystacks.

Then snake-danced [illegible] intersection of 50th street and 50th avenue while traffic was held up for a block. They sang the school song and finished up with a rousing school yell. The orchestra took over once again at this point and the parade returned in an orderly fashion to the school.

In the evening a mardi gras air prevailed when the freshmen all clad in wild and outlandish garb were formally initiated. A somewhat biased but thoroughly consistent jury pronounced all who were brought before them "guilty". No blood was shed and no feelings were hurt when the Second Year boys put the Freshmen through a series of fun-provoking gags to expiate their "crimes".

A good crowd of the Senior and Junior High school students from Vermilion town looked on, and later when the 'Court' adjourned, stayed to take part in the dance.

W. B. Elford Is Guest Speaker At Marwayne

Mr. W. B. Elford, a veteran of World War I, and a past president of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion, was the guest speaker at the Armistice banquet held by the Marwayne Branch of the Legion on November 11th.

Junior Farmers of Manitoba Visit Vermilion and District

A group of thirty-five farmers from Carberry, Manitoba, are currently making a tour by bus of Alberta. They belong to an association known as the Junior Farmers of Manitoba. Their first stop was at Lloydminster where they visited the Alex Mitchell Ranch Monday after dinner.

Late Monday afternoon they pulled into the farm of W. Lyle Robinson where they looked over his renowned herd of Shorthorn cattle. They paused long enough for coffee and doughnuts, and then back-tracked to the Vermilion School of Agriculture to have supper and spend the night.

After supper they met the members of the Vermilion Agricultural Society, and later toured the School buildings and the farm under the guidance of Mr. Palin, acting principal. Mr. Harcus, the Farm Manager, explained the functions of the farm and its place in the general scheme of the school course. A selection of slides were shown to illustrate the activities of the school.

Next morning the whirlwind tour resumed its course. At Vegreville on Tuesday they toured several places under the direction of the local District Agriculturist and were the guests of the Vegreville Chamber of Commerce and the Exhibition Association.

Their next step is Edmonton where they will tour a wide variety of plants and farms. Such places as the Sherritt Gordon Fertilizer Plant, the Alfalfa Drying Plant and the Namao Hog Ranch are on the itinerary.

The party will then work its way south, halting briefly at Leduc, Ponoka, Lacombe, Calgary, Lethbridge, Nobleford and Taber before returning home.

The trip was undertaken in the interests of agricultural education. That the Vermilion School of Agriculture and the Vermilion district were selected by such a group from as far away as Carberry, Manitoba, is a mark of distinction. More particularly, perhaps, it is feather in the hat of W. L. Robinson.

Some of the members on the tour: Don Craig, President of North Cypress Junior Farmers' Assoc'n, and a graduate of the University of Manitoba; Welland Stonehouse, Agricultural Representative; Keith Thomson, leader of [illegible] of the J. F. of Manitoba; Charlie Simpson, member of the Brookdale 4-H Calf Club; Charlie Swanson, Secretary of the local J. F. of Man. Assoc'n and leader of Brookdale 4-H Calf Club. He spoke on a tape recording made by Ken Stone for re-broadcast over CKUA on the V.S.A. program. Ken Fraser of Ingelow, Man.; he spoke on the same tape. Mr. Swanson spoke concerning the tour of the Alex Mitchell Ranch and Mr. Fraser spoke about the visit to the W. L. Robinson farm. Lester Baron, Carberry, Man.

He served as assistant agricultural representative and later as Supervisor of 4-H Clubs for the Manitoba department of agriculture. Remembrance Day Services Are Held At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Remembrance Day services began at the cenotaph with the singing of "O Canada," followed by prayer by the Rev. Ian Holter. The president and vice-president of Canadian Legion read the words of Flanders' Fields, and others suitable to the occasion ere two minutes of silence was observed, preceded by the "Last Post." The Legion president repeated the lines of the poem "They shall not grow old" to which all responded "We shall remember them" after which Reveille sounded. Laying of [illegible].

4-H CLUB MEMBERS

In recognition of their outstanding proficiency in 4-H Club work, 57 of Western Canada's most promising young farmers will leave this week aboard the CNR Continental for the trip of a lifetime.

Chosen as the representatives of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, they will be the guests of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs from November 16 to 21.

They will attend special receptions held at Ottawa by the Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker, Prime Minister of Canada, and the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's Governor-General.

At Toronto, they will visit the Royal Winter Fair, and later, tour the Niagara Peninsula. An extensive program aimed at giving them opportunity to discuss subjects affecting Canadians as citizens, and Canada's role in world affairs, has also been arranged.

Courtesy is merely the recognition of the rights of others.

FARM RADIO FORUM

Millions of dollars have been poured into farm machinery by Canadian farmers since the end of the Second World War to combat the scarcity and high cost of farm labor. Last year farmers spent 130 million dollars on the purchase of new farm machinery.

Is machinery properly designed for Canadian farms? Should it be more versatile? Is it adaptable for both large and small farms and is it easily serviced? These questions and many others will be discussed on the program 'A New Look in Farm Machinery' which will be heard Monday evening November 18th over Trans Canada network.

The broadcast will include interviews with farmers from every province, agricultural engineers, and representatives of machinery manufacturers.

THEY STILL LIKE TRAINS

It won't be news to most people to learn from the latest statistics that fewer passengers are being carried by Canadian railways, says The Financial Post. But that is only part of the story and the gloomy part. There is a more encouraging picture as far as volume is concerned when we look at passenger miles — the number of revenue passengers multiplied by the number of miles travelled. Here the totals for both lines last year are almost twice as big as in the years immediately before the war and they show some signs of gain in the last five years. In other words, what the railways have lost in short-run local traffic they have made up, and in recent years much more than made up, in long trans-continental trips. Fewer people are travelling by train but they are travelling much farther.

See Niagara Over-run

Little hope of saving lands of the famed Niagara peninsula for fruit growing is seen by the economists who did the special report on Canadian agriculture for the Gordon Commission. However this loss of some of the most valuable agricultural lands in Canada to industrial and residential construction, points out The Financial Post, won't mean that we are going to starve for fruit and vegetables. Other and less suitable land will be used for this purpose, further along Lake Ontario, along Lake Erie and in sheltered areas on the Georgian Bay and new earlier and hardier varieties of these fruits should help in this extension just as similar developments have extended our wheat and tobacco belts.

Observe 50th Anniversary

MANNVILLE. — November marks the 50th anniversary of Christ Church, Mannville, for Anglicans here, and fitting services are being held to commemorate the occasion. On Nov 2 the Venerable Archdeacon Tom Tapp was guest speaker at all points in country and town, and Nov 9th Rev. William Sewell of Edmonton delivered the address. Guest speaker at the Nov 17th service will be Rev J Flager from the parish of Wainwright.

GEORGE HOLMES

Holmes Head Of Alberta Weeklies

Meeting in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, last Friday and Saturday, publishers of Alberta's weekly newspapers elected George Holmes of Provost as President of their group for the coming year.

Holmes, who publishes The Provost News, heads an Executive comprised of Past President, Wm Bowes, Grand Prairie; 1st Vice President, Charlie Worton, Rimbey; 2nd Vice President, and Treasurer, Roy Willis, Stettler; Executive Members, Tom Ford, Lacombe; Walter Mandick, Castor; James Nesbitt, Brooks and Ernest Jamieson, Ponoka.

Meeting after the convention, the executive reappointed Ken Patrige of Camrose to the position of Secretary, a position he has filled with distinction for the past eight years.

During the convention, the members took part in a well balanced program which included a panel on the use of pictures in newspapers, a talk on the increasing importance of business forms to all types of business, and a lecture on gas development and its opportunities for Alberta delivered by J P Gallagher of the Canadian Petroleum Association, as well as discussing several matters important to the association, as a group.

The well rounded program was prepared by Walter Mandick of The Castor Advance, who was extended a hearty vote of thanks by his associates.

Fraternal visitors to the convention included Past President of the National Association, John Vopni of Davidson, Saskatchewan and Mrs. Vopni; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Manning of Reston, Manitoba, and Secretary-Treasurer of the National Association, Bill Telfer of Toronto.

New officers of the group were installed at an impressive ceremony by Wm. Draayer, of The Wetaskiwin Times, immediate Past President of the National group.

It takes a clear conscience to keep a man cool under fire.

Recognition Saw-Off?

Don't be surprised if a re-elected Conservative government chose to 'recognize' both Communist China and the Vatican, says The Financial Post. Thinking now French-speaking Canada would like the quid pro quo; English-speaking Canada would offer little objection.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

You'll enjoy cold weather more if you plan now to handle winter driving situations. Here are tips which I have found to be helpful.

Be sure your chains are in good shape. Use them when necessary. On packed snow, it takes 60 feet to stop without chains, with chains, 28 feet. On glare ice, the figures are 149 feet and 63 feet. The difference could save a life.

Letting air out of tires doesn't help on icy roads. It may shorten the braking distance slightly, but it adds to the hazard on curves and hastens tire wear.

To start on a slippery surface, use second gear and start slowly. This gives the car more traction and it will be less likely to slide sideways.

When making a curve on an icy road, turn the wheel slowly. If you go into a skid when braking the car, turn the steering wheel in the direction the rear wheels are sliding. Don't jam on the brakes harder, but pump them gently. This is particularly important if you have power-brakes.

With power-brakes and power-steering, you'll need a most careful touch on wintry roads. They make it easier to lock the brakes or over-steer. Never start, stop or change directions too suddenly.

If the car's engine steams, but the radiator feels cold, ice is blocking the circulation. Stop at once and pour water into the radiator until the ice is melted; don't try to melt it by driving further — you can damage the overheated engine.

Annual Hobby Fair, Mannville, This Saturday, November 16th

MANNVILLE. — Mannville's second Hobby Fair is to be held in the school auditorium on Nov. 16. Last year this event proved very successful both from an educational as well as an entertaining standpoint and it is hoped this year to make it bigger and better. The Home Economics Extension Service have expressed interest in this event with a view to televising it. It is hoped that all those interested in hobbies will bring them to the fair. Tentative list of classifications include art, pen and ink or pencil etching, pottery work, cake decorations, stuffed toys, crocheting, embroidery, felt craft, costume jewelry, copper tooling, petit point, needle point, quilts, rugs, woodwork, wood carving, scrap books, collections, novelties, school displays, group displays, basketry, hemstitching, dolls, photography, model building, fancy aprons, leathercraft, cushions and tatting.

There will be display tables for antiques, heirlooms, also items of interest from any country in the world.

Certificates of Merit will be awarded the winners, but the main object of the fair is to stimulate interest in hobbies not to produce anything professional.

Back Road Selling

Depressed stock market gives the securities authorities a new problem, reports The Financial Post. Hungry salesmen of highly speculative issues are now trying door-to-door tactics on the country back roads — a major switch from the days of long-distance telephone calls. The market watchdogs have their eyes on them.

Exciting styling changes that enhance the appearance from every angle mark the Oldsmobile Super "88" for 1958. Oldsmobile's new "mobile" look is evident in the entirely re-designed body, new rear quarter panels, a new front end with recess-type grille and four-beam headlamps, one-piece rear window with greater glass area and new rear deck and roof. The decorative trim on the side panels accentuates the length, flowing lines and low silhouette of the new Oldsmobile. Striking interior styling features a new "star-lite" headlining of sponge vinyl in light colours to set off the "fashion-flair" upholstery, offered in a variety of colours and fabrics.

Forsyth was hostess at this pleasant occasion, while Mrs. R. Lugg presided at the tea table and an enjoyable afternoon was spent over the tea cups. Miss Sutton thanked everyone for the happy surprise and lovely gifts.

The Bible Today

Never before has the Bible been in such great demand as it is today. Canadian audiences have been told by the Rev. Dr. W. J. Platt of London, England, who has just completed a speaking tour which started in Vancouver and ended in Montreal.

Dr. Platt, who is general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, said that if his society is to meet the orders that have come in from all parts of the world for 1958, a sum of three million dollars would be needed for production and distribution. The finance committee in London has budgeted for $2,200,000 in keeping with expected contributions, thus curtailing production for the first time in the Bible Society's history.

The speaker appealed to Canadians to increase their support of the organization which now produces Scriptures in over 800 languages, and sells some ten million copies annually at a subsidized price.

Young Couple to Reside in Dewberry

RURKE — SEATON

DEWBERRY. —On a beautiful fall day, October 30th, the Rev Mr. Shortt of Marwayne officiated at a very pretty double ring wedding ceremony, when Violet Seaton, daughter of Mr and Mrs Seaton of Morecambe became the bride of Edward William Rurke, son of Mr Harry Rurke and the late Mrs. Rurke of Holden.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor length dress styled in a triple tier skirt with lace insert over satin. The fitted bodice was of lace and had tapered sleeves. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion net was held in place by a tiara of net trimmed with sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses and her jewellery was a necklace of pearls with matching earrings.

Attending the bride were Betty Ewan and Joan Rooks. Betty wore a waltz length dress of yellow net and lace and Joan chose a blue dress of nylon and lace, also waltz length. Both wore coronets of net and rosebuds to match their dresses, and carried flowers of the same color.

Groomsmen were Edward Pierce and Donald Seaton.

The little flower girl, Joanne Romanuik looked sweet in pink and carried a basket of blue flowers. Kenneth Romanuik was the ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with a white rose corsage.

Mrs. Joe Braithwaite played the wedding music.

For going away the bride changed to a black flecked suit with white accessories.

There was a large crowd at the wedding dance in the evening. Music was supplied by the Myrnam Rough Riders.

The young couple will be residing in Dewberry, carrying on the cafe at the hotel.

Louisiana Favorites

Louisiana is rich in food products and combined in this dish are three favorites.

The shrimp represents the livelihood of generations of fishermen who have sailed from Louisiana Gulf ports. The shrimp boats and nets are still big business, since this is one of our most popular seafoods. A prominent crop is the rice grown in the Southwestern part of the state. It represents a good portion of all the rice grown in the U. S.

An especially delightful section of Louisiana is Avery Island, near New Iberia, where Tabasco is made. Tabasco peppers have been flourishing on the family owned island since before the Civil War and it has been almost a century since Tabasco was first commercially sold. It is unique because of the flavor of the peppers and that it is not cooked like other sauces. Its processing consists of aging like fine wine.

Louisiana, and Avery Island in particular, has much to offer the palate, as this recipe indicates.

Tabasco Shrimp Iberia

3 tablespoons butter
1 garlic clove, minced
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1½ cups chili sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lime juice
2 pounds shrimp, cooked
1 cup heavy cream
3 cups hot cooked rice

Melt butter in chafing dish. Add garlic and cook about 5 minutes. Add Tabasco, chili sauce, salt and lime juice; stir in shrimp. Cook, stirring occasionally, until heated through. Gradually stir in cream; heat to serving temperature. Serve over hot cooked rice. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Surprised on Their 43rd Anniversary

Mr and Mrs. George Reasbeck were genuinely surprised on the occasion of their 43rd wedding anniversary, Tuesday November 12th, by a group of friends who called on them. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies and this included a nicely decorated anniversary wedding cake from Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cross, and much enjoyed by all. Following the lunch Mr and Mrs Reasbeck were presented with a lovely Irish linen lunch set, along with loads and loads of good wishes for many more happy anniversaries.

Two Injured In Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bellingham are in hospital as a result of a car accident about 9 p.m. Monday. Their injuries are not thought to be serious, consisting of shock, a severe shaking up and bruises. The car is a total wreck. The third person in the car, Mr. George Bellingham, was not injured.

The party of three had been in Vermilion to attend the Remembrance Day services and the Legion Smoker. They had left to return to their homes in Edmonton. At the bend in the highway at Stony Creek the car ran off the road and turned over.

Passing motorists brought the three into hospital here and Rowe's tow truck later brought in the wrecked car.

Busy Bees Meet

The October meeting of Bowtell Busy Bees was held at the home of Mrs. A. Morrison with eight members and one visitor, Mrs. Scott from Edmonton being present.

A trip to Meridian House was brought up and date set. A grand time was enjoyed. Folks, while in Lloyd don't forget the Wild Life Museum. It's well worth your 50 cents to see, also the Hobby shop. Motions were then made to send $5 to the CNIB.

A cooking sale was a grand success and we wish to thank the manager of the Co-op store for the use of the building.

Betty Repp was appointed to contact the Handicraft instructor for the next meeting. Lucky draw was won by Betty Repp.

A pot luck dinner at the home of Betty Moses was decided upon for the next meeting.

Murray and Edith Have Twin Sons

Twin sons was the news received by Murray Millar from the Vermilion hospital on Sunday Nov. 10th, and twin sons it was . . . both husky specimens. Kenneth Murray weighed in at 6 lbs., 6 oz., while Raymond George went five ounces better.

Besides making Murray and Edith parents, the arrivals are also grandparents of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, and a grandfather of Mr. [illegible] Millar. Mrs. Millar came down from [illegible] to greet the twins and is spending the week here.

—Quick Canadian Facts.

Canadian Legion Notes

The dance, the smoker, the parade and the remembrance day service were all well attended by returned men and women and by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion. In fact everything was highly successful.

President Geo. Richardson of the Legion wishes to thank everybody, both veterans and citizens generally for turning out to the parade and the service and also extends thanks to Capt. Wm. Peeling of Lloydminster for his fine address, and our own padre Capt. Minchin for making all the arrangements. Thanks also go to all who took part in Remembrance day activities with special mention to the pianist Dr. Stephens, the electrician Ernie Schurman, the owner of the Columbia theatre for the privilege of using the hall for the service and to the Standard for valuable publicity received.

ABSENT VETERANS

All returned men and women in the district were invited to the remembrance day functions. Only a very few turned up who were not already members. You were all welcome and what is more we think that you have an obligation to join with your 'buddies' of other years in remembering those who did not come back.

We would like of course for you to join with us because it is the same with the Legion as with any other group dealing with the government — the more members the more strength behind our proposals.

It is reported in the recent issue of the Legionary that 80 per cent of help obtained through the Legion's efforts goes to non-members. We are glad to help but why not come around and join up with us.

THE SMOKER

The committee headed by John Webb wishes to thank the pianist Mrs. Sheila Barle and all the entertainers. Everybody appreciated the fine lunch put on by the Ladies Auxiliary.

Shower Fetes Ruth Rodwell

MANNVILLE. — Gifts, cleverly concealed in a minute replica of the local school, were presented to Miss Ruth Rodwell, local teacher and bride-elect of this month, on Monday of last week. Misses Marty Park and Heather Morrison heralded the approach of the gifts by ringing a school bell. Contests were conducted by fellow school teachers while gifts were presented by Beryl Swain. Miss Rodwell warmly thanked the ladies for her shower and the many beautiful gifts. Lunch served by her friends climaxed a happy evening.

New Phone Link With Far North

EDMONTON. — The Cassiar district in northern British Columbia has received its first direct telephone service with the outside world. Inaugurated by North West Communications System, the first six calls from Cassiar were directed to Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto and Moree, Australia, which is 400 miles north of Sydney.

The new NWCS service, which is operated by Canadian National Telegraphs for the Federal Department of Transport, was hailed by businessmen as an important step in the future development of that northern area.

All long distance calls to and from the Cassiar area are being handled through CNT facilities at Edmonton.

Plans were made to hold a travelling supper on Tuesday, Nov. 12 when the young people would travel by hayrack to various homes in the district for their supper. After the Tuesday evening supper a short meeting will be held at the manse to elect an executive for the coming season.

VARIATIONS ON A VEGETABLE THEME

The rewards of a summer's gardening are stacked in the vegetable bins and shelves in every basement. Here are a few suggestions for variations in your preparation of the every day vegetables.

FINNISH TURNIPS

This is a casserole type of vegetable dish which you begin by cooking a fair-sized turnip in the usual manner. Mash it thoroughly, put in a buttered casserole and add the following: 2 eggs, 2 tbsps. flour, 1 tbsp. of sugar, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, dash of pepper, ½ cup of milk or cream. Mix well, dot with butter and sprinkle lightly with cinnamon. Bake at 350F for one hour.

TOP OF THE STOVE SCALLOPED POTATOES

Peel and slice thinly one potato for each person. Put one-quarter of a cup of butter and the same of water in the frying pan. Arrange potatoes in layers with thinly sliced onion. Cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Then add a cup and a half of canned tomatoes; season with salt and pepper. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes longer. A delicious change for potato lovers.

DRESS UP PEAS

A fine way to pep up flavor of frozen or canned peas! Add butter and mint jelly while they cook and they appear at the table in spring-time dress. Cook peas, then drain. Add a few specks of pepper, butter and a third of a cup of mint jelly. Salt to taste.

NEW PAMPHLET

Annual Meeting Of U.G.G. At Winnipeg

Canadian consumers should bear the cost of production of wheat that is consumed in Canada, according to a resolution passed by the annual meeting of United Grain Growers Limited in Winnipeg on Thursday.

The resolution "resolved that we favor the general principle of the two-price system" was passed by the 300-member delegate body, drawn from Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, without a dissenting vote.

Spokesmen from the delegate body said that the price of other goods purchased by Canadians have been rising steadily, while the price of wheat has been declining.

Parity prices were also favored in a resolution passed by United Grain Growers' delegates. A resolution was passed which approved the principle of parity prices and instructed the company's directors to work with other farm organizations in attempting to have some level of parity prices achieved.

The delegates also agreed:

—that United Grain Growers should support the farm union demand for the payment of a deficiency payment on the 1956-1957 crop.

—that rye and flax should be handled by the Canadian Wheat Board.

—that United Grain Growers should continue to give grants to both the Manitoba Farmers Union and the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture and Co-operation, and should not become involved in any reported differences of viewpoint between the two farm organizations.

—that the Government of Canada should pay the charges for all grains stored in country elevators and terminals.

—That tariff restrictions, because they have the effect of making it difficult for other countries to sell in Canada and so earn Canadian dollars to buy in this market, should be reduced.

WHERE CONSERVATION BEGAN

Canada's first step in conservation took place shortly after the British conquest. By a special enactment the choicest of pine and spruce trees were reserved for use for naval construction.

The man with time to kill is a bigger waster than the fellow with money to burn.

Contentment may be a virtue but is certain death to enterprise.

Brownlee Reelected To U.G.G. Board

J. E. Brownlee, president of United Grain Growers, was re-elected to the Board of Directors for a further three-year term at the annual meeting of company delegates, held in Winnipeg on Wednesday and Thursday Nov 6 and 7.

Mr. Brownlee is one of the five U.G.G. directors for Alberta and has been president of the company since 1948.

The first vice-president of U.G.G. and managing director of Public Press Ltd., R. C. Brown of Pilot Mound and Winnipeg, was also re-elected for a further three-year term.

The three directors from Manitoba, Mr Brown, R. M. Wilson of Gladstone, and H. E. Staples, Benito, were all re-elected. Albert Cantin, McCreary, was nominated but withdrew his name before a ballot was taken.

The four directors from Saskatchewan were not up for re-election.

As a rule, it takes a mighty shrewd financier to make his theories pay dividends.

Health Unit Notes

RESPIRATOR DISEASES

BRONCHITIS

Acute bronchitis is an inflammation of the windpipe and the bronchial tubes. It is rarely serious in healthy adults but may be fatal in the young and the old. Acute bronchitis may develop independently, but usually it extends from some other infection such as a cold, tonsillitis or sinusitis.

Acute bronchitis usually starts with hoarseness followed by a feeling of heaviness and tightness in the chest. The temperature at first may be normal or show only a slight rise. Later a fairly high fever may develop.

It is very important to call a physician at the first signs of "a cold on the chest". The principal danger to guard against is the development of complications, especially pneumonia.

Chronic bronchitis may follow repeated attacks of acute bronchitis. In most cases, however, chronic bronchitis, marked by a persistent cough and shortness of breath, is associated with chronic lung infection, heart disease, or kidney disease. It chiefly affects old people, and the cough is most bothersome in winter. For that reason it has been called "the cause of the winter cough of the aged". A person suffering from chronic bronchitis should have medical attention.

PNEUMONIA

Pneumonia is a serious, infectious disease of the lungs. Its cause may be one of forty different types of pneumococci (pneumococcal pneumonia) or other bacteria or less commonly, a virus (primary a typical pneumonia or virus pneumonia).

The immediate forerunner of pneumonia in the great majority of cases is severe or long-continued cold or an attack of influenza. A cold or some other acute infection of the upper respiratory tract seems to make the lungs more than usually susceptible to attack. The ability of pneumonia germs to establish themselves depends a great deal upon the strength of the defense forces of the body invaded. The principal ways in which the body's defense forces may be weakened are (1) chilling of the body following exposure to cold and wet, or sudden chilling when overheated; (2) continued exhaustion from any cause; (3) other infections, particularly colds, bronchitis, influenza, and the childhood diseases, such as whooping cough and measles; (4) surgical operations and accidental injuries; 5, chronic or acute alcoholism.

The onset of pneumonococcal pneumonia is likely to be sudden. The patient may have a shaking chill or just feel chilly; his temperature rises; he usually has a cough; rapid, panting respiration, and sharp pains in the side, chest or shoulder, made worse by breathing; he may raise small amounts of sticky, rust-colored sputum. In the great majority of cases these signs and symptoms mean that the patient has pneumonia.

The chance of recovering from pneumococcal pneumonia is very much better than it used to be, because physicians now have effective drugs for use in treatment. The physician's choice of which drugs to use will depend upon the needs of the individual case and the facilities he has available. For safe treatment, these drugs may be given only under direction of a physician.

Skilled medical and nursing care is essential for all pneumonia patients and complete rest and proper nourishment are absolutely necessary. In some instances oxygen must be administered. It is important that a pneumonia patient remain absolutely quiet in bed and be relieved of all physical exertion, such as feeding and moving himself. Restlessness adds to the danger. If the physician decides that the patient should be taken to a hospital, his orders should be obeyed without delay or protest.

If the patient is treated at home, no one should enter the sick room except those who are responsible for his care. This will insure quiet, and help greatly in preventing the spread of the infection. The nose and throat discharges of the patient should be caught in pieces of cloth or soft paper and burned. The patient's eating utensils and linen should be taken care of separately and should be thoroughly scalded and washed with soap and hot water after use.

Hi, neighbour

they will save you time and money next spring!

First, either drain the radiator and block completely, or fill with the correct amount of anti-freeze. If storing for very long periods, also drain the entire fuel system, fuel tank, settling cup, fuel lines, screens and carburetor. Remember, fuel left in the tractor for a long period of time may form harmful gum deposits.

Next, remove the spark plugs and squirt light engine oil into each cylinder. Oil the valves and valve mechanism, then turn the engine over a few times to distribute the oil. This prevents rust and corrosion internally.

Now, lubricate the tractor thoroughly to remove any old grease which may contain moisture, acids or other impurities. Wash and clean the dirt off the outside of the tractor . . . and paint over any bare spots to prevent rust. Make sure the battery is fully charged and stored in a warm, dry place. Check frequently and recharge about once every thirty days.

Last but not least, don't let your tractor stand in the open or be a roosting place for the chickens. If you can't put it in a machine shed, then cover the tractor with a tarpaulin.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Amendments To Liquor Control Act In View For Next Session

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON—Premier Manning broke his silence on the liquor question last week and told newsmen there will have to be amendments to the Liquor Control Act during next year's session of the Legislature.

At his press conference, the premier made his first statement of government policy since the October 30 plebiscite in which citizens of the province voted so strongly in favor of a greater variety of liquor outlets.

Obviously, the premier is disappointed at the results because he personally has no use for liquor and staunchly opposes any relaxation in the laws.

But while the plebiscite was merely an expression of opinion and not binding on the government, it seems fairly clear that the administration will have to go ahead and implement changes in line with what the vote suggested.

For one thing, liquor being the political dynamite it is, the government could hardly risk another election without first making the changes a majority of the public obviously wants, even though it may well lose the vote of the dry element by bowing to public demand. For another, a sizeable faction of members on both sides of the Legislature favor relaxed liquor laws.

The premier said the amendments to the liquor act will make provision for local option votes on new types of outlets, and also will authorize the licensing of establishments not covered by the present act.

Although there is nothing definite yet, it is unlikely that the amendments to the act will set out the new types of establishments which will be permitted in the province.

Premier Manning said he expects the government will wait to receive applications for persons interested in setting up outlets. Presumably, detailed plans would have to decide whether the type of outlet proposed will be approved.

If approval is given, a local option vote would be ordered in the area involved, and the vote would determine whether the outlet can be established.

As the premier pointed out at his press conference, there are only half a dozen or so possible types of liquor outlets, and as applications are received and considered on their merit, categories will be established.

The main thing will be the setting out of regulations to control the new types of outlets, and to maintain certain standards. You can be sure high standards will be required, and rigid enforcement can be expected.

In the final analysis, of course, the Legislature will have to decide. There undoubtedly will be lengthy discussions of liquor again during the session which is expected to open in February, but beyond wrangling over administrative details, the House has little choice but to enact legislation in line with public wishes.

WHAT IT WILL LEAD TO

For what it's worth, here is your agent's guess as to what kind of drinking establishments Alberta will have eventually.

There probably will be provision for beer, wine and cocktails in hotel dining rooms and higher class restaurants, cocktail lounges in better hotels, and possibly liquor licences for cabarets offering food, music, dancing and entertainment.

At the same time as the rest of the province voted on liquor in general, Edmonton and Calgary voted about 75 per cent in favor of having the same mixed drinking privileges in hotel beer parlors as are enjoyed by every other place in the province.

In this case no amendments to the liquor act are necessary. All it requires is a change in liquor board regulations, and these are being drawn up. According to officials, it shouldn't take long.

MIXED DRINKING WILL DEMAND HIGH AND RIGID STANDARDS

However, it may still be some time before men and women can drink beer together in the two major cities. Indications are that to qualify for a mixed drinking licence, a hotel will have to meet high and rigid standards.

Premier Manning says the standards will be considerably higher than those required for mixed drinking in other parts of the province. In all likelihood, any hotel operator who wants a licence will have to undertake a major renovation program. Of course, a few of the newer hotels here and in Calgary look as though they were built with mixed drinking in mind, but the majority aren't likely to qualify unless big changes are made.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

Congratulations to Mrs. Ben Axley on winning the premium given by the Cream of the West Flour Co. at Hornigold's store. The premium consisted of half a dozen steak knives and forks and a carving set. Just in time for Xmas carving!

Mr Ed Weiland of Kitscoty has accepted the position of manager of the Co-op store.

Mr. A. Stuart of Mannville is now manager of the McKay hardware.

The long week end brought several visitors to Dewberry. Among them our University students. At the John Maltais home were their daughter and son-in-law and the children, also Eugene Maltais, all from Ed.

Mr and Mrs. Ernest Garnier and family motored to Edmonton to spend the week end with Mrs Garnier's parents.

Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs M Parker, Mrs Butz, Sr. and Mrs Joy spent some time in the hospital. Hope all are feeling better now.

Mrs. S. Hartwell also spent a few days in hospital recently.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Mae Finney out and about once again.

We are a little dilatory but none the less sincere in saying that praise and credit is due to the organizers and workers of the Hallowe'en party at the school. It was quite an undertaking and very much appreciated by the children and grown-ups. Over one hundred were in costume and made a colorful and amusing spectacle. It is to be hoped this will be an annual affair.

The L.A. chicken supper was very well attended and enjoyed. Congratulations go to these ladies. They certainly work hard to make the annual supper a success.

Congratulations to Mr W. J. Potvin on winning the Vermilion Elks Newspaper bingo. The writer was like the proverbial cow's tail — behind!

Mr Philip Porter has gone to Vancouver to spend the winter with his parents.

Mrs. Susan Hyatt has been teaching grade 1 during the absence of Miss M Whiteside, due to sickness.

If there's a job you've got to do,
It won't be done by sighing,
Or idly wishing that
This life were not so trying.
If you keep putting off you'll find
That late or soon you'll rue it.
If there's a job you've got to do —
The best thing is to "do it"!

Banquet, Program, Dance, Mark Charter Night for Kinette Club

While sociability was the keynote of Charter night for the Vermilion Kinette club on Wednesday evening, no effort was too great to insure the success of the occasion, and a complete success it proved to be. Full attendance of Vermilion Kinsmen and Kinettes, a large attendance by the installing club of Wainwright, a sumptuous and delicious turkey banquet served by the Legion W. A., the decorations of tables and hall with Kinsmen crest and Kin colors, all added to the primary object of the evening, that of the institution of the Vermilion Kinette Club.

Hosts for the evening were the Vermilion Kinsmen and toastmaster was the genial president, Jack Wright. A witty toast to the Kinettes was proposed by Bob Anderson with a reply in kind by Kinette president-elect Marguerite Webb. Mrs Mary Carl of Wainwright Kinettes, presented an inscribed gavel, accompanying the gift with a humorous poem of her own composing.

John King Wainwright, district Deputy Governor of this Kinsmen district, made the formal presentation of the beautiful Kinette charter to Marguerite Webb, at the same time setting forth some of the work and aims of the Kinette clubs. He stated that it was the aim of Kinsmen to serve the communities greatest need, and it was the object of Kinette clubs to help the Kinsmen to achieve that goal. Kinettes also proved a stimulus to their husbands, the Kinsmen.

Duly installed in office were:

Pres. — Marguerite Webb
Vice-Pres. — Joan Kowalchuk
Secretary — Betty Evans
Treasurer — Kay Hart
Registrar — Ruth Rowe
Liaison — Jean Wright
Editor — Kay Hart

The remaining charter members are Marion Anderson, Marj Flechuk, Norma Novak, Nora Ferguson, Mary Morgan, Jean Inman, Alma Polinsky, Loretta McKernan, Evelyn Polinsky, Vicky MacLean, Judy Anderson, Jean Sadownik.

Each member was presented with a Kinette pin, the honor being done in each case by the husband.

Following the completion of the charter night ceremony, the evening was completed by dancing.

Vermilion Rotary Club Hears Of British Rotarians

The Vermilion Rotary club heard at Friday's meeting a report by E. H. Buckingham on his trip to Britain.

During the seven weeks visit in the British Isles, France and Belgium Mr. Buckingham visited eight Rotary Clubs. These clubs were Westminster East and Westminster West both in London, Greenwich and Beckenham in Kent; Hove and Brighton in Sussex; York in Yorkshire and Glasgow, in Scotland.

Mr Buckingham stated that Rotary is very strong in Britain, there being 39 clubs in London alone. He was loud in praise of the welcome given to visiting rotarians. In every club visited except one Mr Buckingham was invited to a seat at the head table. In many ways like this the old country clubs showed hospitality to visitors.

The speaker made a few remarks on his trip to France and Belgium. The country around Ypres that was in 1915 and 1916 dug up into trenches for miles around is now cultivated fields. In spite of changes Mr. Buckingham stated that he had no difficulty in finding exactly the spot where he was wounded.

Within 5 miles of Ypres there are dozens of grave yards with hundreds of crosses "row on row". It is estimated that in this small area there are 300,000 soldier graves. It is the greatest grave yard in history.

On the Menin Gate beside the city of Ypres there are engraved names of 12,000 British and Commonwealth soldiers who fell in the fighting in the Ypres salient. These men have no known graves.

The speaker was introduced by Mitch Taylor and thanked on behalf of the club by Jim Robson.

The only guest at the meeting was Lloyd Seath of the School of Agriculture staff. Mr. Palin, acting principal of the college introduced Mr. Seath to the meeting.

Agricultural Society Stock Sale Sets Record For Boar Average

The sale of purebred Beef Cattle and hogs held by the Agriculture Society last Friday proved to be more successful than had been expected and the unusual average of [illegible] was established for the sale of boars, said to be the highest of any sale in Alberta this year. Yorkshire and Tamworth females also sold at good prices and buyers were quick to bid when offerings were made.

The top boar, raised by James Wyllie of Vegreville brought $165.00 and his entire offering brought a ready response from those looking for outstanding breeding stock.

Hogs were offered by Mr. Wyllie, Arthur Schmidt, Vegreville, Ken Hougham, Frenchmens' Butte, Sask., J. R. Read, McLaughlin, the MacMillan ranches of Clandonald, G. O. and A. L. Johnson, Wetaskiwan, E. E. Prill, Mannville, John Welsenbuk, Lavoy, Glen Berg of Minburn, P. M. Samoil of Lavoy; M. P. Hyska of Ranfurly and Mrs. Mary Kravetz of Innisfree offred some fine Tamworths.

Shorthorns took a rather surprising jump in numbers at this year's sale and high quality animals sold well, all things considered, chief contributors of Shorthorns were C. J. Green of Vermilion, who topped the sale at $400.00, Blair Veitch & Sons, Mannville, Peter Samoil, Lavoy, Arthur Hughes of Vermilion and John Fegirchuk of Hairy Hill who sold a fine heifer for $300.00.

Herefords were contributed by Homer Campbell, Clandonald, J. S. Crom, Vermilion, C. Christianson & Sons, Edgerton, A. Long & Son, Irma, Louis Hendal of Derwent and John Ilchuk of Ver[illegible], the Aberdeen Angus offerings were from the ranch of Wm. E. Crom.

It had been expected that due to financial stringency prices would fall short of previous years, but generally speaking quality animals brought prices in keeping with the times and the Society feels that the effort was entirely worth while in every respect.

Interest was keen throughout the sale and Don E. Ball, auctioneer of Edmonton congratulated the committee responsible for having kept up the desired objective of placing desirable breeding animals on the farms and ranches of northern Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The ladies of the Womens' missionary of the United Church filled a very necessary place by serving refreshments and the service was extremely well received.

The society wishes to thank Mr E. S. Wilson for the use of the splendid Auction Mart, the facilities of which were found to be entirely adequate for the purpose of the sale.

Barr Entry Wins First Prize and Reserve Championship At Toronto Royal Winter Fair

Robert Barr, showing a Shorthorn steer won first prize in a class of 26 entries in the Market Grades or Crossbreds, the heavy 1001 to 1250 pound class. Judging of this class was on Tuesday. Following this good news, Bob's steer went on to win in the reserve championship in the cross bred or grade class on Thursday.

With the keenest competition in history at the Toronto Royal, the number of entries being at an all time high, the showing made by the Barr entry is a phenomenal one, and the Standard joins in with a host of well wishers in congratulating this young showman and cattleman on his success.

Bob is looking after his entry himself, while watching the judging from the ringside were his father, Mr. Manson Barr and uncle Mr Clarence Barr.

Vermilion Tigers Organize For Season; To Ice All-Local Team

A meeting for the organization of hockey in Vermilion for the 1957-58 season was held on Wednesday when the following officers were elected:

President — Jack Brown
Vice-Pres. — Reg Ireland
Secretary — Murray Millar
Executive — Joe Brower, Irvin Gordon, R. E. Carroll.

Appointed as league delegates were Gordon Park and Reg Ireland.

A great many details were talked over and finalized and from all appearances the club has a good working executive.

In order to raise some much needed funds, a raffle of a wardrobe of clothing, either men's or ladies to the value of $150 will be held with the draw to be made before Christmas. The annual turkey bingo will be held shortly before Xmas also.

Opening league game has tentatively been set for December 14th but this hinges on the weather.

Considerable enthusiasm prevails over the re-entry of Vermilion into the hockey league, while there seems to be a wealth of young players anxious to make a try for a place on the team, most of them for the first time as far as senior hockey is concerned.

Wainwright Applies For Re-entry To Hockey League

Wainwright Commandos have re-considered and have applied for re-entry into the Eastern Alberta Hockey League. Apparently they had made application to the Battle River league to compete there, but that loop was already filled up. A telegraphic vote is being taken of all teams in this league to see if they have any objections to the Commandos again playing. If the application is accepted this will be an eight-team loop and will probably be broken up into two groups of four each, with a play-off between the winners.

Series of Accidents In Woodvale Area

(Woodvale News)

There has been a series of bad accidents in the Woodvale area this fall:

Elmer Lewis is in the Vermilion hospital as a result of a threshing accident. Elmer fell off a rack and then was run over by a tractor, suffering several broken ribs, one of which pierced his lungs. His condition was grave for some time but he is now out of danger and much improved.

Mrs. Art Ganton broke both her wrists when she fell off a load of bales, in trying to prevent one of the children from falling. A painful and very inconvenient accident for a busy mother and housewife.

Wes Isley, while leading a horse into the barn, was kicked on the leg when the horse stumbled. He received a badly bruised and painful, though luckily not broken, ankle.

Social Credit-ers of Vermilion Constituency Hold Annual Meeting

Social Crediters of the Vermilion Constituency re-organized for the coming year at the annual meeting held in the Legion hall Vermilion on Friday night. Despite the slippery roads there was a good representation from all parts of the constituency.

The delegates in attendance went on record as favoring the payment of gas and oil royalty dividends and commended the government for instituting such payments.

The meeting also looked with disfavor on the proposal to tax farm improvements; and further commended the government for discontinuing the single transferable vote system.

In his opening remarks the president of the constituency association Mr W R Cornish of Mannville stated that Social Crediters in the Vegreville and Battle River-Camrose constituencies were to be congratulated on the results of the federal election as both had elected their candidate. It was his opinion that the Conservative government at Ottawa would not be able to fulfill election promises so that another election was not far off. This was a very good reason to maintain active Social Credit organizations.

Delegates were appointed to the annual convention at Calgary as follows: Castle Scott, Roy Walker, D E Brown, Harry Whitcher, Clarence Ewing, Jack Youswyshyn, W. R. Cornish, Peter Noster, Ashley H. Cooper.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. Presidents — Hon. E.C. Manning, James A. Smith, M.P., Peter Stefura, M.P.
President — W. R. Cornish
Vice-Pres. — James Irving
Sec-Treas — Ashley Cooper

Executive is made up of representatives of the various districts in the constituency, and were elected as follow:

Vermilion — H. H. Hodgins, Angus MacMillan
Mannville — Clarence Ewing
Chatsworth — Leo Klashinsky
Ottawa — Rod MacDonell
Tankerton — Ralph Wagner
Irma — Leighton Barrs
Salteaux — Thos Smith
Minburn — John Miller
Beauvallon — Steve Uniat
Myrnam — Jack Youswyshyn
Derwent — Peter Noster
Buffalo Coulee — Alex Stone
Poplar Heights — Fred West

Appointment of directors for districts not represented at the meeting was left to the executive.

A public meeting will be held by the Constituency Association shortly after New Year's to hear reports of delegates to the convention. It is also hoped to have the members of Parliament Mr Smith and Mr. Stefura address the meeting.

Jas. A. Smith Heard On Parliament Hill

Many local residents were pleased to hear James A Smith, M.P. for Battle River-Camrose give an address over the radio on Sunday being the speaker from Parliament Hill.

California Devonian Co. paid $3,176 for rights to [illegible] acres, and $2,750 for 13,740 acres. Wm. E. Smith paid $3,420 for [illegible] acres.

W. J. Potvin Wins $1,000.00 Bingo

Wilfred J Potvin of Islay was declared the winner of the Elks Newspaper bingo and chose the $1000 cash for his prize. The presentation to Mr. Potvin was made by the Elks on Saturday, the time having elapsed on Friday for any others having black-out cards to make themselves known.

M. D. Crew Installs Large Culvert

Foreman Johnnie Fleming and his Vermilion River M.D. No. 71 crew have just recently completed the laying of one of the largest, if not the largest, galvanized iron culverts in this part of the province.

Located a few miles south of Marwayne on the Kitscoty - Marwayne road, the culvert lies on a 170-foot base and measures 10 feet in diameter, giving it a circumference of 31.4 feet. Weight knocked down was 24 tons and it took 1800 pounds of 1¼" [illegible] to assemble. 48,000 cubic yards of earth were placed over and around the culvert.

Inspected by the Engineering Dept. of the province the construction was found to be first class in all respects.

Seed Cleaners Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Seed Cleaners' Association held on Nov 16th in the Elks hall was attended by approximately sixty shareholders, their wives and families and some visitors. In all around 100 were in attendance. Three films were shown and coffee and doughnuts were served.

The financial report which showed a very satisfactory financial condition, was submitted to the meeting by the president, who in the course of his remarks mentioned the possibility of the Association purchasing a grain dryer and suggested that the shareholders might see fit to use any further dividend payments to finance the purchase of same. It was decided to recommend to the board of directors that the matter be taken up at their next meeting.

Four members of the board, having served their three-year term resigned. Three new members were elected and one returned by acclamation.

Members of the Board now are as follows:

Pres. — C. J. Mc Cormick
Junior Vice-Pres. — F. Van Wageningen
Sec-Treas — R. Good
Directors — Hugh Stewart, Roger Watt, Oliver Willes, Ralph Wilson, Arthur L. Tovell, Edward Clark, Karl Marklund, Wilbur Feenstra, Wm. T. Garnett, Donald McFayden

Ladies Win Prizes At Demonstration

On Wednesday, November 6, the Elk's Hall in Vermilion was the scene of the Westinghouse College of Laundry Knowledge, a very interesting and educational demonstration of automatic laundry equipment conducted by Mr George Glokas, factory representative of Canadian Westinghouse Ltd. This demonstration sponsored by Canadian Utilities Ltd. was catered to by the ladies of the Royal Purple who sold the tickets and served coffee, proceeds of which went to [illegible]. Among the 125 ladies at[illegible] the following were the [illegible] of the doorprizes: Mrs. Thos. Smith, Mrs. Angus MacMillan, Mrs. J Craig, Mrs. John Ilchuk, Mrs. W. J. Pettigrew, Mrs. E. Hodgson, and Mrs. Gordon Park.

HI-SCHOOL HI-LITES

Well, the fall exams are over and the high school is back to normal again, with everybody waiting anxiously for his first report card.

In the last write-up in the Standard, Bill Tough's name was omitted as a member of the Student's Union. He holds the position of Past Member. He is a member of last year's executive and was re-elected this year to advise the present executive.

We held our first dance on Nov 1st. There wasn't a very large turnout but everyone there seemed to be having a wonderful time. The hall was nicely decorated with Hallowe'en designs. the artistic work was done by Olive and Elizabeth Seminiuk and they deserve a lot of credit for their work.

With our House League Basketball nearing an end it won't be long until curling will get under way. The standings up to date seem closer than usual, with no House taking a very large lead in points. The standings up to the present are: Service 14 points; Carman, 13; Laurier 7.

We would like to extend our thanks to the college for the wonderful time which we had at their dance on November 16.

Tip to motorists: Control that urge to cut loose — you'll live longer, and get there just about as soon.

REST ROOM PROBLEM ACUTE—
(Extract from Woodside News)

With the closing of the rest room in the provincial building, Vermilion is once again without this much appreciated facility. 'Cannot you write something in your column about it' I have been asked. We made some inquiries and found that a canvass has been made and that as usual, everyone is in favor of having a rest room built and financial contributions will be forthcoming from organizations both in town and country, the Vermilion River M.D., local merchants etc., but so far no sponsor has been found.

The Elks built one in Wainwright, the district W.I.'s in Mannville with the co-operation of the town and other interested bodies so we understand. Can't that be done in Vermilion? Vermilion advertises itself as modern and progressive, why not co-operate in this case too?

The Mannville rest room is a good example to follow. Sponsored by the district W.I.'s they also help to run it very efficiently. There is a daily caretaker, the six W.I.'s in turn clean the building monthly and contribute $60.00 to the expenses, another $150.00 comes from other sources. The town levies no taxes on the building and gives light and sewer facilities free. Let us get together and do the same in Vermilion.

The writer privately has been wondering if the lovely old timers' cabin on the fair grounds, which stand empty and unused for 362 days of the year cannot be moved and with an addition serve for rest room purposes. Many an old timer, and old-timers-to-be and shoppers in general would enjoy it then all the year long.

Who will give the lead in this community enterprise? It well falls within the scope of Elk's, Rotary, Kinsmen, W.I's and practically any of the ladies organizations.

The secret of success is the ability to deliver the goods.

IT'S NOTICEABLE!

While town council has never announced that the new iron removal plant was in operation, it is obvious to the most casual observer that there has been a great improvement in the water. It is entirely iron free and there is much less sediment than formerly. The iron stain where water dripped from taps or the rings of rust around the toilet bowls has entirely disappeared. In place of that, water is now crystal clear. According to the best authorities, the water is now in prime condition where a household water softener would have the most effect on it ... could make it just like spring rain water ... wouldn't that be nice!

All in all the water conditioning or iron removal plant seems at the moment to have been a good move, justifying the work done on it by councillors, and the faith of the ratepayers who voted for it in sufficient numbers to carry the plebiscite.

Ambition is the thing that boosts a man up the ladder.

Keep your temper otherwise it may give you away.

WHY YOU SHOULD TAKE YOUR CHILD TO A PSYCHIATRIST

Last year approximately thirty-five hundred children with their parents were served by twenty-four mental health clinics in Ontario alone. Public acceptance is so increasing that most of these clinics, among them the Toronto Mental Health Clinic, have waiting lists and need to expand. Writing in the August issue of Chatelaine, Joan MacKenzie says that parents who bring children to the clinic complain of all sorts of symptoms such as poor school performance, temper tantrums, failure to carry out responsibilities, failure to get along with other children; physical symptoms such as tics, stomach upsets and bed wetting; anti-social behavior such as lying and stealing.

Of course, it goes without saying that all children at some time are timid and withdrawn, or have stomach upsets or tell lies. But if such symptoms persist even after parents have attempted to take some sensible measures to help the situation, then it is probably time to seek expert advice.

There are other signs which point to a need for outside help: if a problem returns after the parents think it is settled. If the child's reaction to certain situations is [illegible] out of all reasonable proportion. If the child is acting the way he did at an earlier age (for instance, a 7-year old behaving like a three year old.)

As the public grows in accepting mental-health services, more children will be brought to the clinic before their future happiness and mental healthiness are irrevocably impaired.

"GREEN ACRES"

The writer of this column is back in the harness again after a vacation of seven weeks in Britain. There is quite a boom going on over there. Everybody is working except the Gypsies. Farmers seem prosperous. Of course, the subsidies given on certain farm products help quite a bit. Labour is the worst problem on the farms. The eight hour day was never meant for farmers I guess.

SWINE GRADING

At the Edmonton Fall Sale it was announced that the grading of Alberta hogs was the lowest in all Canada. In Alberta only 20 per cent of the hogs are 'A' grade whereas the average for all Canada is 29 per cent. At market prices the $2.00 bonus means more to growers than when the price was 10 cents per pound higher than it is now. Now is the time to do something about next years market hogs. Good bacon type boars are the answer to hog improvement. Also if your sows are short and thick, good type gilts can be picked up [illegible]

FARM FORUM

Every Monday night the Farm Forum Programme comes over radio stations in every province of Canada. The idea is for neighbours to form groups and listen to the radio. Then the topic is discussed by the whole group and votes are taken on the questions suggested. There are several good discussion groups in this area. Why not start some others. See me for further information.

BULLS ON LOAN

There are about [illegible] pure bred bulls on loan in [illegible] area to groups of farmers who organize to handle these bulls. Five or more farmers must start a group and they must have 30 cows. One group south of Vermilion is disbanding as the members wish to buy bulls of their own. This is a good Hereford bull and is available now. The policy is being restricted so this may be your only chance to get a bull on loan this year. Enquire at this office.

CALF CLUBS

There will be seven calf feeding clubs here this year. This means every boy and girl in the area served from this office may join a club. It is a wonderful experience for young people to belong to a 4-H club. We invite you all to come into this popular program for junior farmers.

A $10.00 TRICK

An "ad" in some U.S. papers offers a sure-fire method of getting rid of Canada Thistle for a $10.00 bill. It is claimed that no chemicals or plowing are needed. The advice offered for the ten spot is "that you take a hoe and go to the thistle patch and cut off the weed". Well we knew that before but we might add that it takes more than one hoeing to do the job.

This Lunch Box Logic Makes Nutrition Magic

"What goes under the cover of your child's lunch box" Many mothers forget the real reason for packing that gaily painted box each morning. They forget that good marks in the class room, good scores on the play field, and good health all day long depend on foods that supply good nutrition three times a day, every day," says A. Corinne [illegible], B.H.Sc in an article specially written for the current issue of the magazine "Health", official publication of the Health League of Canada.

Every noon lunch is a meal, not merely a snack and it should provide one-third of your child's daily food needs.

A tasty, well balanced lunch should include at least one food from each the following groups:

MILK — to drink or eat (puddings, etc.)
BREAD — enriched white, rye, whole wheat, etc., with butter or margarine.
MEAT — or a protein food like fish, eggs, cheese, poultry or peanut butter.
FRUIT or VEGETABLES — raw or cooked.

If lunch-box planning haunts your dreams, here are a few tips that will make your task easier: Try to have a "Lunch-box Prep Centre" in a corner of your kitchen, one shelf, near the bread box for instance, where you keep waxed paper, small jars with tight fitting lids, sharp knives, etc. When sandwich making time has come, you will save time if you pair the two slices of bread that lie next to one another and butter all your slices at one time. Most kinds of sandwiches can be made well ahead of time, carefully wrapped, then frozen. When transferred into the lunch box they will help to keep other foods cool and will be just nicely thawed for lunch time.

Plan your lunch box menus in advance and avoid the monotony of repetition by varying the foods. Whole wheat bread one day, rye another day or fruit bread the next and so on. Vary the sandwich fillings too ... add chopped onion, celery or raw carrot to that left-over roast, blend with mayonnaise. Peanut butter, mayonnaise and chopped dates provide a new taste thrill between slices of bread. Variety in size and shape will do wonders and a sandwich-on-a-bun will delight the youngsters too.

Now, pack all 'like' sandwiches together. Lettuce and other fresh vegetables must be packed separately to keep their crispness and freshness. A paper place mat and a napkin placed on the top will make lunch more pleasant and home-like.

For children, a daily surprise package tucked into the corner of the lunch box will be an appetite tempter. A few dates, a favorite cookie, neatly wrapped packages of raisins or nuts for instance, will make lunch time a happy time when the daily mystery package can be opened and enjoyed. Following these general lunch-box rules will provide the necessary nutrition for healthy growing bodies.

It may be true that sympathy goes to the underdog, but most people put their money on the top dog.

People who live from hand to mouth sometimes find that the hand won't quite reach the mouth.

Anglican Groups Hold Drama Night At Mannville

MANNVILLE—Friday of last week was red letter day for G.A. and J.A. groups of the Anglican Church. Meeting in the church hall, the girls sat down to supper at about 5:30 being twenty-one in number, supper being prepared by their leaders. At 8 p.m. the Hall was filled to attend the entertainment offered by the girls comprised of a chorus action song by G.A. 'Tennessee Wig-Walk' followed by a play entitled 'Mrs. Hughes Brilliant Idea' by G.A. girls. Next came another chorus in more serious vein by J.A. 'The Lord Is Counting On You' rendered very pleasingly. The program began with O Canada and ended with the National Anthem, and while short, was packed with entertainment value which few will forget.

The Bible Today

Why is the Gospel of Mark usually the first book of the Bible to be put into a new language? This question is often asked, and has been answered in simple terms by a modern translator, the Rev. Pham Xuan Tin of Vietnam, as follows:

1. Mark is the easiest Gospel to translate from the literary standpoint.
2. Since Mark is the shortest of the four Gospels, it takes less time to translate it and it can be revised quickly.
3. This book does not contain a lot of proper names which are hard to translate.
4. The tribes people understand it easily when they read it.
5. I have seen many people saved as the result of reading this book.

NEWS from ISLAY

The names of Mrs. Neil McLennan and Mrs. Jack Carey were omitted from the list of those attending the surprise party at the home of Mrs. Bruce McLennan on Tuesday, Nov. 5. The party was held in honor of Mrs. Neil McLennan.

Extensive Improvements Made At Islay Community Hall

Mr. L. Bowser received word of the death of his brother in Winnipeg and left Saturday by train to attend the funeral on Monday. He will fly back.

The Community Association held a whist drive and dance on Friday night. Prizes were won as follows: Gents' 1st, Charlie Redmond; 2nd, Jackie Teskey, (they were tied); consolation, Garfield Simmons. Ladies' 1st, Mrs. Helen McCaughan; 2nd, Mrs. Charlie Hanna (she and Frances Sherwood tied); consolation, Mrs. Jim Miller. The Association has gone to considerable expense this year to improve the hall. A new tile ceiling was put on providing both insulation and beauty, natural gas installed, a porch now encloses the front door which prevents cold air entering the building when the outside door is opened. The Association needs the co-operation of the community to meet all this expense. Considerable free labor has been given by a number of the men for which the Association is indeed grateful.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Golby celebrated their 25th wedding aniversary, which is Nov. 12th, last Saturday, when Raymond Coombs and family could attend. They had received a gift and a letter from daughter Barbara who is attending school at West Surrey, a subdivision of New Westminster. It is combined high school and commercial. Barbara says "school is swell, life is swell, everything swell". Apparently she is enjoying her home with her uncle and aunt, and the school.

Bill Potvin spent the week end at Martin Craig's, Dewberry.

Wilfred Potvin was the lucky bingo winner of a $1000. He received it on Saturday ... but he isn't carrying it around in his pocket, it was banked at once!

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McLennan had dinner on Sunday with their niece Mrs. Olsen and Mr Olsen, at Kitscoty.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will address the annual Provincial Progressive - Conservative convention to be held in Calgary Nov. 29-30. All paid-up members of the association are entitled to participate in the proceedings of the convention. Several local members plan to attend. It is the wish of the management committee there be a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. James Allan had their 40th wedding anniversary Saturday, Nov. 16. Somehow Mrs. Winnie Torrance discovered this and as a pretext invited the Allans and Mrs. Jack Carey, Catherine and Marie for an afternoon cup of tea and to see her new home. The Careys were to call for the Allans by car. This they did and arrived at Mrs. Torrance's and were enjoying a fine visit. After a time Gladys and Muriel Stone arrived and then,, only then, did Mr Allan begin to think it more than just to see the new home. Then came Mrs. Edna Torrance and Linda, Mrs. Patsy Robertson and Sharon, Mrs. A. H. Sweet and finally Mrs. King and Cathie. Mr. and Mrs. were convinced at this point that it was a celebration in their honor as they were congratulated on their 40th anniversary by incoming guests. Were they surprised? Certainly were. Mrs. Torrance served a very delicious lunch, there was a special chiffon cake nicely decorated for the occasion. Before leaving Mr. Allan thanked the hostess for her very kind thought and expressed his very great appreciation to her and all the friends for making an extremely happy afternoon. Sometime too, Mrs. Neil McLennan had come to the Allans with some goodies, among them a delicious angel cake. Many cards were received too. Mr and Mrs Allan thank all the kind friends for their thoughtfulness which made their 40th anniversary a day to be remembered.

Keep Nov. 30th free — it is the day of the W.A. bazaar and we hope to have it in the church hall, in the afternoon.

The Home and School Association are sponsoring the play being produced by the players of the Anglican church, Vermilion. Date expected is Dec. 2nd in the Islay hall. Watch for further announcement.

HARWAYNE

Mr Howard Hines has been receiving orders for calves and steers from the States. Lately he has shipped 201 cattle to Wyoming which arrived in perfect shape. On Friday Nov. 8 he bought 273 head, giving cheques for over $21,000.00. Last Friday over 300 were bought and he has orders for more cattle from the States. Three big cattle liners from Vermilion were here on Friday and other cattle hauled in from as far away as Cold Lake. Mr Hines buys for the Swift Co.

Correction the 4H Sewing Club meets on 1st and 3rd Tuesdays.

On November 10 Mr Daryl Anton who is studying theology at St Stephen's College in Edmonton gave a Remembrance Day Service in the United Church. He spent the week end at the Manse in Kitscoty. Last Sunday was Youth Sunday and several of the young people of the church took in most of the service. The explorers and C.G.I.T. were the choir and sang very well. The Explorers held just two meetings in October owing to the 'flu. They welcomed Sandra Rooks as a new member at one of the meetings.

The W. A. will meet Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at Mrs. T. Rea's home. A car load of ladies motored to Mannville to view their Hobby Fair on Saturday.

Mrs. McKinnon of Wetaskiwan is visiting her daughter Mrs. T. Rea.

Larry Hines and Mrs. Elmer Parker are in the Lloyd hospital.

The W. A. of the Anglican Church are holding their Bazaar and tea in the newly finished basement of their Church.

Spanish Flood Victims Get Aid From Red Cross

The Canadian Red Cross Society has made a grant of $10,000 to aid flood victims in Spain earlier this month. In announcing the grant, Mr. M. Stearns, chairman of the national executive of the Society, stated that there was urgent need for antibiotics ... as a precaution against possible epidemics as flood waters recede. In response to this request, Mr. Stearns stated the grant of $10,000 has been used to purchase drugs in Canada which include penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, sulfadiazine and chloromycetin." These are being air lifted immediately to Valencia, Spain via Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Earlier this month 14 cases of relief supplies valued at $2,500 were shipped to Spain from League of Red Cross Societies' warehouses in Marseilles. These supplies were made by Red Cross volunteers of the Women's Work Committee in all parts of Canada.

In the wake of the worst floods Spain has experienced since the end of the 19th century the Spanish Red Cross estimates there are close to a million victims living in most precarious conditions and there have been hundreds of deaths. Damage is thought to be [illegible] $21,750,000.

Five Hundred Attend Outstanding Hobby Fair At Mannville

MANNVILLE. The day finally dawned on one of Mannville's outstanding achievements, namely, Hobby Fair, sponsored by Happy Centre W. I. to which event over 500 people viewed the exhibits, and there were plenty of them. Those placed on display only and not judged were from Miss Jean Allanach who showed her collection of round the world dolls collected from almost every country also from the same source was a collection of Round the World exhibits, articles of interest from nearly every country. Miss Allanach belongs to a Round the World Club and receives items from other members. Of great interest to the public was a display from Frank Hill Vermilion who certainly had an interesting audience at all times. J.J. Jones lent his oil paintings for display one of which was done by the artist with his teeth. All were well worth seeing including the 4H wheat club display "Learn to do by Doing" as well as the Rehabilitation Table for the handicapped with most intricate work in jewelry etc. Mrs. B. Jackson, 4H Clothing Club Leader gave an excellent demonstration on cake decoration and icing which highly delighted the young fry, as well as the parents. In summing up remarks for the judges, Miss Wright, Mr. Folk and himself Mr. Palin stressed need for careful classification, using Fairs as an example. If an exhibit is not placed in proper class, it is at once disqualified, and not moved to it's rightful place as was done here, he said. With a note of humor he gave as an example a swine breeder showing a Tamworth hog in a Yorkshire class. Mr. Palin mentioned simple themes and those self-explanatory such as the spoon collection, and at the same time referred to the salt and pepper collection which probably had a story behind each pair, which would add to the interest of spectators, and impart the deep personal meaning of the exhibitor.

All first prizes received certificates of merit, while second and third prize exhibitors were given letters of recommendation. Posters advertising the Hobby Fair were the work of grade seven, and four were awarded prizes by the Happy Centre W.I., namely those of Dianne Whitson, Adele Smart, Brian Scoggins and Karen Hubbard. Happy Centre W.I. are most grateful to all helping promote this affair and hope for their patronage at the next Hobby Fair. Members Mrs. A. Hubbard and Mrs. C. Finlay appeared on [illegible] with a few selections and posters recently which were later entered in the Fair.

Flooding Arena

Good news for the kiddie hockey players and skaters alike is the fact that Gordon Williams is now hard at work flooding the arena rink. All minor repairs to the building have been effected. Flooding to date has just been wetting down the earth as there hasn't been sufficient frost to allow for ice-making within a building.

Honor Student Feted By Marwayne Home and School

MARWAYNE. The Home and School Assoc. held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12th with a very good attendance.

A very short business period was held and then a special presentation program for the awards to Gary Gardiner, last term's Grade IX honor student. Mrs. Culford, president, was in the chair.

Mr. Brown of the Divisional Board spoke briefly on the need of stepping up education. Mr. Spence, mayor of Marwayne, followed with a few words and told of the number of Marwayne students out in many different fields of occupation.

Mr. Gardiner was then called upon and speaking as principal told of the number of scholarships available which have to be applied for in Grade XII, and appealed to parents to encourage their children to continue their education.

The Rev. Mr. Shortt of Kitscoty, main speaker of the evening marked the progress of time and said education forms the mind and great inventions start with dreams.

Mr. Petryshen, Grade IX teacher, was called on to introduce Gary. Mrs. Anderson, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, and Mrs. Culford on behalf of the Home and School each presented Gary with a $25.00 cheque and congratulated him on his good work. Gary then thanked the two associations with very well chosen words.

Musical numbers by Janet Swanson on the piano and Roy Bendixon on the saxophone were very much enjoyed. A bountiful lunch rounded out the evening.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, December 10th.

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. J. Wilson in Vermilion on Nov. 6th with 12 members and one visitor Mrs. W. Steele who now also lives in town. Meeting opened with O Canada and the Creed. Roll Call: Care of Fabrics which proved quite interesting as many varied ideas were given. Financial report was given by Mrs. W. J. Garnett treasurer. Money for the book to Preston Central was voted, also a donation to Creighton W.I. re Mrs. Bennett. Report was accepted on motion Mrs. Wallington and Mrs. Howard. Subscription to Home & Country was renewed. Directors are to have new program books ready for the December meeting.

Members decided to give Mrs. Wilson an A.W.I. ring.

W. W. I. are sponsoring a Xmas party for children of the district. Quite a discussion took place over the handicraft list. Our Handicraft convener to attend the meeting in Legion hall, Vermilion, on Nov. 21st.

It was decided that a member must have been in the W.I. for two years before being given a pin when they leave. We are sorry to say only four charter members are now left in the branch. Our W.I. has slipped to twelve members and Wildmere was once the largest branch in our constituency.

Two topics were given, one by Mrs. W. J. Garnett on "First Federated Institutes" which was a good paper. Mrs. Wallington gave "Spices of Ceylon", this too, was very good.

Mrs. C. Cruthers won Johnny Jump Up. Mrs. Holte and Mrs. R. Dibben moved the meeting adjourn, followed by singing of "The Queen." Next meeting at Mrs. C. Cruthers on Dec. 4th. Roll Call — Worldwide News. Topic: annual meeting. Social: Exchange of Xmas gifts. Lunch: pot luck.

Meeting closed with a good lunch served by our hostess and helpers.

Award Memorial Bursaries To V. S. A. Students

The names of six young farm people who have been awarded Henry Wise Wood Memorial Bursaries have been announced by the Alberta Department of Agriculture. These bursaries, worth $125.00 each, are awarded each year by the Alberta Wheat Pool in memory of the late H. W. Wood who for many years was president of the United Farmers of Alberta and chairman of the Alberta Wheat Pool. The bursaries are awarded to young farm people to assist them in furthering their education in a school of agriculture. Two bursaries are awarded to young people attending each of the province's three schools, one going to a boy and the other to a girl. Those receiving the Bursaries must be members or former members of 4-H clubs in Alberta.

This year's winners are:

Olds School of Agriculture: Dorothy J. Marryat of Alix, Alberta, and Steve Hadnagy, Bow Island.

Vermilion School of Agriculture: Kenneth R. Stiles, Didsbury and May Schwartz, Darwell.

Fairview School of Agriculture: Charles W. White of Rio Grande, Alberta, and Nina Cutra, Codesa, Alberta.

Money may have wings, but plenty of it has been brought down by long shots.

"Sputniks, Mutniks, And What They Mean To You" Address At Town and Country Banquet

People of Vermilion and district are due for a rare treat on Friday evening, Nov. 29th when Prof. L. E. Gads, of the Faculty of Engineering, University of Alberta, will give an address on "Sputniks, Mu[illegible] and what they mean to you".

This is the [illegible] Town and Country banquet sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade. Everyone, men and women, are invited to attend. The only requirement is that you purchase your ticket as soon as possible in order that the caterers may know how many to expect. A year ago this event had to be moved to a larger hall at the last minute in order to accommodate all those wishing to hear Don Rollins. This makes additional work and trouble, so purchase your tickets right away. They can be obtained from any store in town — ask for them.

This annual Town and Country banquet is sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade. It will be held in the Legion hall and the charge is $1.25 per plate. The day is Friday, Nov. 29th, time 6:30 p.m.

Special guests will be the presidents of Farm Union Locals in the district, and their wives.

CHILD ADOPTION IN ALBERTA

The CHILD WELFARE ACT provides for, and controls, the CHILD WELFARE BRANCH of the Department of Public Welfare. This branch of the Alberta Government is responsible for any adoption of any child in this Province.

In order to ensure that unsuitable persons do not become involved in dealing with child adoption the following section of the Act was introduced:

Except on the order of a District Court judge, no parent shall surrender the custody of his child and no person shall accept the custody of that child without having first obtained the approval, in writing, of the child welfare commission; and a surrender without such approval is null and void.

HOMES FOR CARE OF DEPENDENT CHILDREN
All homes for dependent children are authorized and monitored by the Child Welfare Branch under the Act. To these homes come children whose parents are incapable of caring for them properly and those children who have been abandoned or mistreated.

APPLICATIONS FOR ADOPTION
Adoption applications made by prospective parents are assigned to the HOME INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE. This committee, after a thorough examination of the applicants and their home, pass the application on, if acceptable, to the PLACEMENT DIVISION. The prospective parents then discuss with this Branch the individual children available for adoption and a decision is reached for the placement of a particular child in their home.

IT TAKES TIME
Due to the splendid response to adoption in Alberta, approved applications now accumulate more quickly than children become available for adoption. This, coupled with the care that must be taken before placing a child, creates a waiting period that at first may seem unreasonable to the adopting parents. However, the decision to adopt a child is never made in haste nor is the adoption speeded unnaturally to any risky conclusion.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD
Because of the great care taken in pre-adoption planning, reconsideration of a child placement is extremely rare. A one year period is however provided by the Act to insure that there is complete adjustment of the parents and the child in their new life together.

DISTRICT COURT MAKES ADOPTION FINAL
The new parents make petition to the District Court for legal adoption papers. This petition along with a full recommendation by the Child Welfare Commission is considered by the District Court Judge before a legal adoption order is issued. The child, to all intents and purposes, is legally a child of the new parents. A new birth certificate is issued and all records pertaining to the adoption are placed in a sealed packet.

FOSTER HOMES
Private homes, voluntarily contributed for the care of children are always in demand. If the child is not adopted, a good foster home will provide the love and understanding so necessary to his development.

Fire, Car and Casualty Insurance Companies Have Bad Year

A 'large portion' of the underwriting loss of close to $29,000,000 suffered by fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies in Canada last year was brought about by a disastrous year in the field of automobile insurance, All Canada Insurance Federation revealed this week. The Federation termed the year "by far the worst in the history of automobile insurance in Canada."

Disclosure of the $29 million loss was contained in the annual report of the Superintendent of Insurance for Canada to the Federal government. The Superintendent, to whom all federally registered insurance companies must report by law, said that [illegible] out of [illegible] companies — 67 — in the fire, automobile and casualty business in Canada showed underwriting losses in 1956 and that the average loss of 5.3 replaced an average profit of 1.9 recorded the previous year.

Commenting on the report, All Canada, an association representing virtually all companies engaged in these fields in Canada, said that automobile insurance was the biggest of the insurance worries throughout 1956. Final figures are not available for 1957 as yet but the Federation statement added that "there is every indication that the position will be worse."

Claims paid on automobile coverage for 1956 totalled $141,000,000, a record jump of $24,000,000 over 1955. Premiums paid also rose moderately but the increase in revenue fell far short of the spectacular jump in claims.

Although auto insurance stands out as the main factor in the poor showing of 1956, the report of Superintendent K. R. MacGregor, indicates that it was not solely at fault.

"The many catastrophes involving fires, floods and windstorms since 1950 have resulted in unusually heavy claims in most years of that period with a corresponding adverse effect on the underwriting accounts of the companies.

"These events have been serious but, in addition, inflation and intense competition have had an even more important and increasingly adverse effect upon the underwriting experience in recent years . . . ."

The report concluded that "no further evidence is required of the immediate need for such readjustments by the companies as will restore a satisfactory relationship between premiums on the one hand and claims and expenses on the other."

LOSSES OF AGRICULTURE AREA

(A Commentary)

Although the loss of agricultural land to urban and industrial development has been considerable in some parts of Canada in recent years, it is probably small by comparison to the losses that have been suffered, for instance, in the British Isles. Here during the past fifty years, the actual agricultural area of England and Wales has declined by about 2,250,000 acres or approximately an area equal to that now currently being seeded to wheat.

It is estimated that, during the next twenty years, an additional 600,000 acres will be needed for all forms of industrial development and that the new acreage will be taken largely at the expense of better-than-average land. New afforestation may also require about 3,000,000 acres by the end of the century but this will be taken largely from the poorest types of agricultural land.

During 1957 roughly one-quarter of the total cultivated area in England and Wales was seeded to the three major grains, wheat, oats and barley, (wheat 2 million acres, Barley 2.4 million acres and oats 1.3 million acres) and approximately half was in permanent grasses. Considered probable is a further expansion in the production of home-grown feeding stuffs, with special emphasis on the intensive use of grassland.

Claysmore W. I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Claysmore W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. MacMillan on the afternoon of Nov. 13th with 12 members and one visitor, Mrs. E. Larcombe of Claysmore, present.

The meeting opened by the singing of O Canada followed by the Creed and Roll Call "Members to bring clothing for the Bethany Children's Home at Gwynne, Alberta". The contributions were very good and the parcel will be shipped this week.

The President Mrs. Watling was in the chair and a brief business session followed. It was moved and seconded that all outstanding bills be paid. Prizes were given to several of our members who were winners in the Bread Baking contest. A donation of $5 was received from one of our members when the bazaar was held.

It was moved and seconded that we send a letter of thanks to Mrs. L. Robinson of Vermilion who so efficiently assisted Miss Edna Craig District Home Economist in judging the contest. Another letter of thanks is to be sent to Searle Grain Co. for making the contest possible.

Correspondence: A letter of thanks was received from Doreen Gerhart of Mannville who received the scholarship this year. Letter from D. Williams acknowledging the lovely basket of fruit from Mrs. P. Sloar, constituency convener thanking the W.I. for the nice afternoon spent at Claysmore in October, from the Red Shield asking for a donation.

It was moved and seconded that our projects for 1957 be taken care of, namely $5 to the Arthritis Fund and $5 to the Salvation Army.

Under head of 'new business' the treasurer Mrs. R. Bauer read a letter from the District Home Economist suggesting that she would visit our W.I. in February and give a demonstration on bazaar gifts and ideas.

The members were in favor of a Christmas cheer by a unanimous vote.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. P. Palruchney on Dec. 11th.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess Mrs. R. MacMillan at the conclusion of the meeting.

Safety New Project Or Junior Red Cross

The promotion of safety for young people at home and at play is a new project of the Canadian Junior Red Cross.

The plan for the current school year is based on a classroom calendar now being distributed throughout Canada. This colorful calendar outlines the various factors of safety for youth. It is accompanied by a teacher's guide for instructional purposes. The calendar was designed on the advice of leading safety officials in co-operation with educational authorities.

A miniature of the calendar is also being made available to school children at cost. These are intended for the youngsters' rooms in their homes and include a guide for parents to supplement the instructions given by teachers in the classrooms.

The project was announced by Dr. John T. Phair, the national chairman of Canadian Junior Red Cross. He said that safety authorities are alarmed by the increasing number of accidents among children in the home and at play.

"It is the hope of the Canadian Junior Red Cross that this project will make our youth more conscious of safety", he added. "The teachers of Canada have promised their full co-operation and their effort will give a new interpretation of the rules of safety to children in their care. This, supplemented by the interest of parents, will play a major role in the reduction of accidents of all kinds among our children."

Believe-It-Or-Not Stories . . .

While in London, England, the Buckinghams met the McCormicks accidentally outside of Buckingham Palace while trying to get a glimpse of the Queen on the day of her return from Canada.

Mr and Mrs. Buckingham registered at a Glasgow hotel and were asked shortly after to contact a young airman who was from Cold Lake, Alberta, and who had just landed in England. He turned out to be related to the Vaughn Smiths at Marwayne and formerly at Vermilion.

Mrs. Buck[illegible] on her last night in Britain visited an Eastern Star Chapter in Glasgow and was befriended by a lady who asked if she knew a certain OES Chapter in Edmonton. Mrs. Buckingham took off her past matron's jewel to show this lady that she was Worthy Matron of that particular Chaper in 1938. The reason for the inquiry was concerning a lady in Scotland who had had an unfortunate accident four days before she was due to leave for her home in Edmonton. Mrs Buckingham had known this lady for over 30 years. Being obliged to leave the airport at Prestwick the following day, Mrs. Buckingham purchased a get-well card and was on her way to mail it at the airport when the door opened, a stretcher appeared, and here was the afore-mentioned lady, all set to travel on the same plane.

Greek Catholic Church Is Scene Of Suvak-Carey Wedding

A lovely wedding was solemnized at the Greek Catholic church in Vermilion on Oct. 10 at 11 a.m. by Rev. Father Cherkowsky, when Mary Leslie Carey, daughter of Mrs. Nora Carey of Vermilion and John Suvak, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Suvak of St. Paul, exchanged vows.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. James Carey. She wore a floor-length portrait gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. The fitted bodice featured a Grace Kelly neckline with long sleeves tapered to a lily point. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a pearl-studded headpiece. She carried a white prayer book and an orchid, complemented with lily of the valley and fern on white streamers. A sterling locket was a gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by Lucille Spencer who wore a floor-length gown of mauve net over satin with long-sleeved bolero to match. She carried a mauve and white bouquet. Elizabeth Warawa wore a floor-length gown of coral net over satin with matching bolero and carried a bouquet of coral flowers. Both received pearl and rhinestone necklace and earring sets from the bride.

Flower girl was Sharon Guy, a niece of the groom. She wore a pink nylon dress with white nylon on the bodice and a pink bandeau. Her bouquet was of sweet peas and fern.

The groom was attended by his brother, Steve Suvak and Bill Ference, both of St. Paul. The ushers were Jim Powell, uncle of the bride, and Dan Phelan, a brother-in-law of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carey wore a three-quarter-length sleeved afternoon dress of green and black with accessories of black and white. Mrs. Suvak chose a wine suit with black and white accessories.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Legion hall in Vermilion. Miss Katherine Chrisp, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace table cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Father Landrigan proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. Father Cherkowsky very fittingly addressed the gathering.

A wedding dance was held in the Islay hall with Chas. Hanna's orchestra furnishing the music and Dalton Torrance as floor manager.

The following day a reception and dance was held in Armistice hall, east of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Suvak are making their home on the groom's farm, south-east of St. Paul.

COLOR IN THE SKY

The next thing you are likely to see in the sky, says The Financial Post, will be clouds of bright orange sodium vapor. Released by rockets, they should produce a glowing trail 100 miles or more up. Scientists plan to use these sodium flares to find out more about the upper atmosphere.

Textile manufacturing is one of the few major Canadian industries that is almost wholly Canadian-owned.

THE Homemakers

EDNA M. CRAIG
District Home Economist
Wainwright, Alta.

With Christmas only a few short weeks away, homemakers will be assembling the ingredients for the delicious fruit cakes which are so much a part of Christmas tradition.

Here are a few suggestions which may help you in baking your cake.

Fruit cake crumbles when the fruits and peel are too dry. If raisins and currants seem dry and deeply wrinkled, either leave in scalding water for five minutes, then dry, or boil fruit in a little sugar syrup one or two minutes until the syrup almost disappears. Drain and dry a little while before using.

Mold may appear when mixed chopped peel sold in packages is used. To avoid this either add a little syrup to the peel and hold in a slow oven 275 degrees until the surface is dry, or boil the peel in syrup as suggested for the raisins.

The aging of a fruit cake seems to create a flavor which no cook, no matter how skillful, can imitate. Allow plenty of time for your fruit cake to ripen.

Make it now!

FACTS ABOUT FRUIT CAKES

Prepare fruit the day before.

If fruit is dry soften by placing in a sieve and steaming over boiling water (or use one of the suggestions above).

To keep cakes moist, line the greased tin with four layers of heavy waxed papers, grease again.

Place a shallow pan of water on the floor of oven while the cakes bake.

Before applying almond icing, seal the surface with slightly beaten egg white. This helps the icing to stick too.

ADD 'ZIP' TO SCALLOPED POTATOES

A good old standby can become a new dish by the simple addition of a new and unexpected ingredient — add a cup of grated cheese among the layers of potato and onion.

Use a cream soup as the sauce e.g. cream of mushroom, cream of celery, cream of chicken or whatever suits your fancy.

Gideons International presented it's thirty-five millionth Bible to an executive of the world's largest hotel.

The handsome blue-leather, India paper volume was accepted by George McSwain in the tower of the 3,000 room Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago.

Mr. McSwain, administrative assistant to the executive vice-president of the 29-hotel Hilton group, observed that Bibles give much comfort to the guests who occupy Hilton's 25,000 rooms.

'In fact, guests let us know whenever they fail to find a Gideon Bible in their room,' he said.

SNEAK THIEVES

Prefer Men to Women 6 to 1

Mother's purse, not father's wallet, may be the place to carry the wherewithal for the family trip, according to a man who knows, John Stewart, former FBI agent, now chief inspector for American Express.

Stewart voiced his opinion as pickpockets and purse-snatchers prepare for the holiday shopping season. A rich harvest is expected because more money than ever before will be in circulation.

The light fingered brigade lifts between $40 and $60 million each year from Americans, Stewart said, with the man in the family supplying them with the lion's share of the loot.

Stewart has statistics to prove that women are far more careful than men when it comes to money. Of the 50,000 persons who report losses of travelers cheques to American Express each year, less than one-sixth are women.

Why are men heavier losers than women?

Major reason is because women are more cautious in dealing with strangers. They are more reserved. Less apt to flash a big roll in a restaurant or crowded bar.

To keep sneak thieves from getting too rich, Stewart offers these hints.

For women: Never put your purse down in a store, church, or theatre. Thieves are experts at whisking it out from under your nose and disappearing. Avoid using a shoulder bag on vacation or shopping trips when you'll be walking through crowds. If you do carry a shoulder bag, keep one hand on it constantly.

For men: Try to avoid carrying a wallet in your hip pocket or any side pocket. Keep a flat one in your breast pocket. Don't load it with papers – keep it thin. In a crowd, be sure your suit coat is buttoned. When you use your wallet, never put it down. Replace it immediately in your pocket.

And remember – sneak thieves usually work in pairs, and keep a sharp eye out for bulging pockets and dangling pocketbooks. The common practice is for one to bump or otherwise distract the intended victim while the second reaches into the man's pocket or woman's handbag.

Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefannson born in Manitoba of Icelandic stock is one of the few native Canadians to rank with the great Arctic explorers.

WILDMERE WINKS

No Winks last week as the writer went to Calgary with her husband Councillor Jim Wallington to the municipal convention which was held at the Palliser hotel. The weather was not so nice but seeing all the stores in their Christmas array was pleasant. On two of the afternoons there was a program for the councillors' wives in the Palliser. One afternoon Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova in person gave a talk on want and distress in India, Lebanon, Syria and Greece. If anyone would like to knit a pullover sweater with high neck and long sleeves in sizes of 3 to 15 years or make a layette consisting of 4 diapers, 2 nighties, 2 vests, 1 towel, 1 cake of soap (preferably Ivory) and 4 large safety pins and 1 binder to send to these countries it would be greatly appreciated. Sweaters can be knit out of odds and ends of wool. Address to send these is Mrs. H. B. Collier, 11018-87 Ave., Edmonton. Please note only send sweaters and layettes to this address.

The community joins with the writer in extending deepest sympathy to Mr. Gordon Ross of Vermilion on the sudden loss of his brother recently.

On Sunday Nov. 10 Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore and daughter Edna and Mr. H. Lumsden were visitors at the Wallington home and we really enjoyed the visit. Hope you got home safely folks. Do drop in again.

Wildmere W.A. held their November meeting at Preston school on Wednesday last week. The writer was absent but we hear that a Xmas service will be put on by the W.A. ladies in December. More about this next week.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. Cruthers and Mrs. Wallington attended the wedding of Leona Whitlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitlock of Triangle district at the First United Church, Vermilion. Rev. C. MacKay officiated. A reception was held later in the church hall. We all wish the happy couple many years of happiness.

On Sunday morning Laurence Graham left for Edmonton on the first leg of his journey to Dawson Creek, B.C., where he will be a Commissionaire at the RCAF base there.

Peggy Graham of Elk Point spent Sunday afternoon at her home in Wildmere.

Gary Cruthers who has spent the past couple of weeks at his home in Wildmere, returned to Wainwright Saturday morning to resume work with the oil drilling outfit for which he has worked the past year.

We wish to make a correction in the report of the Shepherd-Cruthers wedding. We spelled Ken's name incorrectly. It is Shepherd not Sheppard. We are also sorry Miss Marlene Smith's name from Claresholm was omitted from the list of those attending the wedding.

Several Wildmere and Basswood young folks attended the dance held at Woodvale school last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Shepherd of Vegreville visited over the week end at the Cruthers' home in Wildmere.

Adam Smith left last Thursday for Vancouver where he will spend the winter with his mother and where he will also help with the caretaking job at a curling rink. Billie Smith will leave later also, just as soon as he gets things in shape for the winter at the farm.

Mr. Jimmy Veitch who has worked the past six months at Lloyd Howard's in Wildmere, is now working for Frank Wilhelm of Thorncliffe.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. M. Millar on the birth of twin boys; Mr. and Mrs. H. Friswell on the birth of a baby daughter and to Mr. and Mrs. R. Lake (nee Margaret Fadden) of Grande Prairie on the birth of a son.

We wish to send belated birthday greetings to Miss Gertrude Craig of Vermilion who celebrated her birthday on Remembrance Day.

W.A. Groups Meet

Mannville. The Senior group of the W.A. of Christ Church met at the home of Mrs. A. Rutherford on Wednesday of last week in the afternoon. Mrs. J. Lugg read from the study book and arrangements were discussed for the coming Fall Tea and Bazaar. A happy hour followed the meeting during lunch attractively served by the hostess.

Thursday evening was the scene of the United Church W.A. meeting with 15 members present at the home of Mrs. A. Gerhart with Mrs. W. Gerhart as co-hostess. Plans for the forthcoming Fall Bazaar were discussed, and it was decided to accept the offer of the Anglicans to use their Church hall. A most delicious lunch concluded the evening.

4-H AND RURAL LEADERSHIP

The 4-H Club movement in Canada, a nation-wide program for rural young people, continues to grow in numbers and achievement. In 1957, a total of 73,[illegible] members, an increase of 721 over 1956, were enrolled in 5,082 4-H Clubs in Canada. Today, there are 1,940 4-H Clubs in the Prairie Provinces with a total membership of 28,192. These young farm people are actively taking part in a well-planned program designed to develop better farming methods, future rural leaders, and good Canadian citizens.

National 4-H Club Week. The highest award in 4-H Club work is the all-expense trip to National Club Week which, each year, is held in Toronto at the time of the Royal Winter Fair. On this occasion, proficiency winners in 4-H from the ten provinces are brought together to discuss subjects affecting not only Canadian agriculture and Canadian citizenship, but the important role of Canada in world affairs. The theme chosen for this year's National Club Week, "4-H and Rural Leadership", is timely and significant.

Rural Leadership. Every aspect of Canadian living, and more particularly rural living demands leaders—well-trained young men and women with vision, initiative, ability and courage. Perhaps the greatest contribution of the 4-H Club movement in Canada is the part it has played in raising the standards by which farm boys and girls judge themselves—and by which they have been able to raise the standards of the community in which they live. Not all 4-H [illegible] will, of course, become [illegible] leaders, but the principles [illegible] and skills they develop [illegible] their 4-H Club [illegible] activities is the very stuff of which leaders are made.

The Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, the national organization through which the 4-H Club program in Canada is [illegible] deserves the highest praise for the outstanding contribution it is making toward the training of young people for future leadership and service in our rural communities. The need for rural leadership is greater today than ever before.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

When this column criticized the proposed compulsory egg marketing board recently, Alberta weekly newspaper editors began to receive letters from champions of the scheme hinting that I am either one of Mr. Manning's minions or that I am hand-in-glove with the packers in wanting to skim profits from the labor of producers.

I cannot say how editors will respond to such letters, but for my part I feel that it serves to show how weak the arguments of these people must be. If their scheme has real merit why don't they argue it's merits instead of making personal attacks on those who disagree?

The Alberta Egg Plebiscite is news. It is legitimate material for any columnist, particularly at a time when in Ontario the farmers are putting up a vigorous fight to get rid of a compulsory hog marketing board which was foisted on them three or four years ago with just such flimsy arguments as certain farm organizers are using to support compulsion in marketing eggs.

I read that Mr. Harper, secretary of the Co-operative Union of Alberta, has (according to press reports) stated 'that the Egg Marketing Board would have no power to limit or control the production limit of eggs. All surplus profits would be used to the benefit of the producers and all surplus eggs used to create a new outlet on the world market.'

Does Mr. Harper honestly believe this? When have surpluses ever helped to do anything else but depress prices? And when have such compulsory Boards ever used 'surplus profits' for any other purpose than to issue propaganda taking credit for price increases or dodging responsibility for price drops? If compulsory marketing boards are such a whopping success, why not give a realistic picture of their success?

Theodore Parker of Stratford, Ontario wrote to the editor of the Edmonton Journal to say "I with thousands of farmers in the province of Ontario have been fighting to do away with a compulsory hog marketing scheme that was imposed on the producers more than four years ago. At the present time we are getting petitions signed to do away with this vile legislation. Our minister of agriculture released a statement to the press last week which says that 'a constant stream of critical correspondence is being received by this department.' I would like to warn the egg producers of the province of Alberta to think very seriously before voting such legislation into effect. Compulsory legislation is restraint of trade and is cold-blooded state control: you have ONE market, and only one."

Some farm leaders who take the attitude that fellow farmers can only be led into the light by compulsion are due for a lesson one of these days. Not from packers or government – but from the rank-and-file farmers who are fed up with hearing them rant about monopolies, cartels and combines on the one hand while trying to create those very things to be operated by themselves.

Potato Chips

Canada's hustling potato chip industry, growing at a rate of 15% a year, needs raw material reports The Financial Post.

Believe it or not, this $36 million industry can't get enough Canadian spuds. Processors are importing potatoes from as far away as Florida and Virginia.

Problem: Getting the spuds when they're needed.

Solution: Storage of adequate quantities, free from frost.

The processors themselves cannot store a whole year's potato supply.

Many lay in as much as they can in late summer but this seldom amounts to more than an eight-month supply. City storage space is too expensive.

European Capital Said Interested In Canada First

European capital is more interested in Canadian than in U.S. real estate development.

The authority for this is John C. Tysen, a New York realtor and president of the world-wide realty organization Previews Incorporated.

At a press conference held in Chicago in connection with the 50th annual conference of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Tysen said it was "like pulling hen's teeth" to get European investors interested in U.S. real estate. "Their first interest is Canada, and then Australia and South Africa," he said.

Tysen praised subdivisions in Metropolitan Toronto saying that they were better planned than anything he had ever seen. He said the industrial, commercial and residential planning of the Metropolitan Toronto community of Don Mills — now beginning its fifth year of development and already containing a population of 15,000, was "absolutely splendid". The positioning of luxury housing, medium-priced homes, churches, schools and shopping centres helped to achieve an ideal form of community living in Don Mills, he said.

HELP PREVENT ICE ACCIDENTS

ONE inch thick. Keep Off
TWO inch thick One May
THREE inch thick Small Groups
FOUR inch thick OKAY.

Remember this rhyme — it may save your life

Last year in Alberta ice accidents resulted in the death of eight persons.

All of these accidents could have been prevented if the rules of ice safety had been observed. Many of the tragedies were caused by children and adults walking or skating on thin ice and by hunters neglecting to check the ice before crossing rivers and streams.

Water Safety instructors for the Canadian Red Cross suggest the following simple but effective prevention and rescue aids in case of ice accidents:

1. If there is an opening in the ice place a bush in it as a warning signal.

2. If you have to cross a body of frozen water a pair of six inch spikes tied on a piece of cord around the neck carl be of great assistance in getting out if you fall through the ice.

3. Always carry a pole when crossing ice on foot. This will bridge the hole in the ice and can be used to lift your body out of the water if you fall through. Once out of the water roll away from the hole. This distributes your weight over a greater area and there is less chance of reoccurrence.

4 Trucks or cars crossing ice is very dangerous. If this is absolutely necessary all windows should be opened and one passenger should walk ahead of the vehicle with pole or rope to check for weak spots in the ice.

With care and caution drownings which result from ice accidents can be prevented. Your Red Cross asks your help to stop these accidents by keeping ice safety rules.

The federal government must collect more than $5 million a day in taxation to pay for its current spending on social security, health and welfare.

What Good Would Damming the S. Saskatchewan Do?

What sort of crops could they grow on the land to be irrigated by damming the South Saskatchewan, asks The Financial Post? It points out:

"You don't need expensive irrigation to grow wheat or other grain. In fact you can't grow high quality wheat on irrigated land In any case grain and a lot of other crops are not valuable enough to pay the high overhead — an overhead that continues regardless of whether the season is wet or dry. In California irrigation does not pay unless two and three crops can be produced in a single season, a feat very difficult to repeat in the cool climate and the short growing season of Saskatchewan.

"About the only possibilities are things like lettuce and radish and marketing 450,000 acres of lettuce and radish would be quite a problem indeed.

"No one questions the desirability of more people, more crops and more industry for Saskatchewan, but before gambling $250 million let's make sure that irrigation is the best answer."

Everyday people find that the [illegible] the world to do is [illegible] matter worse.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

by KEN MASON

S. C. Government To Assume Costs Mothers' Allowance, Child Welfare

EDMONTON — These must be interesting times for members of the Alberta cabinet, judging by the public utterance of some ministers lately.

Some [illegible] of the proposed overhaul in provincial-municipal relations have been fairly definitely set out and adopted as cabinet policy, but there are still plenty of ideas and suggestions being tossed about and the ministers are far from agreement on many of them.

And while the heads of state argue, time is running out. The "new deal" has been under discussion for about two years, and the government realizes it must produce something concrete during the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

The latest idea came from Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke, addressing the annual meeting of the rural municipalities in Calgary last week. He suggested the abolition of all municipal taxes on improvements to property.

This appears to be Mr. Hooke's own idea, and there are no indications of how much support it enjoys from his cabinet colleagues. He advanced it as a means of settling the dispute over whether farm buildings should be assessed.

Instead of talking about assessing farm buildings the same as urban homes, he said, why not abolish all taxes on improvements? This would put everyone on the same basis. It also would mean a loss in revenue of about $18,000,000 a year, and the minister warned that this "would have to be made up from some other source." He did not elaborate but privately he he says he has ideas on that subject.

The provincial municipal committee studying the new deal has talked about taxing farm improvements, but it's fairly well agreed that this would be politically unwise since farm buildings have been exempt for years. At the same time, in the interests of uniformity, farm property should be assessed [illegible] residential property

Mr. Hooke's idea is certainly the most original to date, but whether anything comes of it is anyone's guess.

The minister also spoke strongly in favor of adopting the county system of local government for all parts of the province, and once again it isn't known how much support there is for the idea within the cabinet Some ministers are known to be opposed.

There has been talk of making government grants to municipalities in lump sums with no strings attached This could probably best be done through the county system, where a single council administers municipal and school matters, and in some cases the hospital district as well.

Mr. Hooke freely admits he is a booster of the county system, which has proven successful in areas where it has been adopted The opposition comes mainly from people who feel the school boards should retain their absolute power to requisition whatever amounts of money they want from the local authority.

The minister also made the first definite statement of cabinet policy on the new deal. He said the government will take over the full cost of mothers' allowances and child welfare, now financed partly by municipalities, will abolish the poll tax and personal property taxes, set less money aside for reserve funds, and channel more into municipal services.

A few weeks earlier at the meeting of urban municipalities, these things were mentioned as proposals, but at the meeting last week Mr. Hooke said they WILL be done. Of course, this depends on the Legislature but apparently government policy is set on these features.

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman, the man who started all the talk about a new deal also addressed the Calgary meeting. He said Alberta will not have a provincial sales tax until a majority of residents favor it. I don't know how he'll be able to tell when that time arrives, but if it were put to a plebiscite the results would be easy to forecast.

Mr Hinman warned that imposition of some new tax is inevitable, and there were some delegates who favored the sales tax The treasurer said he personally favors an increase in the gasoline tax. He emphasized that the government has not abandoned studies of various forms of taxation.

There are other proposals being discussed that the public has yet to hear about, and they may not be known until the Legislature sits in February Municipal matters probably will be the major issue during the forthcoming session and there certainly will be discussion at the Social Credit caucus in the capital this month.

Delegates To Convention Give Reports To Islay Hospital Board

The report given by the two delegates who attended the Associated Hospitals of Alberta convention was accepted with thanks.

Cost tables for the first eight months of 1957 were reviewed and adopted as read.

WOODVALE NOTES

Mr. Alf Nichols, Inez Anderson and Jean Ruud were hospital patients. The latter had her tonsils out on Saturday. Mrs. M. Roberts was also on the sick-list and Mr. E. Watt took her place in the junior room of Woodvale school for a week. We wish them all, and others who are still down with the 'flu a very speedy recovery.

Now we come to the November meetings. The Tolland U. F. A. had one on the 5th and appointed Keith Lysons as delegate to the annual convention in Edmonton early in December.

The Red Cross Auxiliary met on the 6th at the home of Mrs. Gladys Wolters and twelve members were pleasantly occupied all afternoon with the cutting and sewing of two baby layettes and a baby quilt for the Unitarian Service Committee. Four more baby quilts are on hand and some old cloth will be sent with them.

A draw for a blue blanket among the members was made by little Dale McQuid and Mrs. Betty Lysons was the lucky winner. A delicious lunch was much enjoyed in the end and the date for the next and annual meeting set for December 4 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Seile.

Another large quilt will be sent to a needy family and a lovely patched quilt top was received from Mrs. Belle McGrath made mostly from pieces donated by [illegible].

The Woodvale Community club had a meeting at the centre on the 8th. Dave Sweeney was elected president and Arnot Brown secretary-treasurer. It was decided to put the barn up for sale and have a card party at the centre on November 22. Arnot Brown showed wonderful slides of flowers grown in the community and in Vermilion, others from a trip to Banff and the wild life museum in [illegible].

Marie Benoit and baby son Marc visited a few weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goutier before returning to her home at Fort Resolution.

Harry Ferguson has left again for Calgary after seeing most of his old friends in the district.

Duff McGrath attended the school trustee convention in Calgary last week. Keith Lysons took his mother to airways, where she will stay for a week with her daughter Mabel Crooks and get aquainted with her nineteenth grandchild. Mrs. Thelma Lysons and her four children came along and returned with Keith again. Next week Walter Lysons and family will fetch his mother home again. Friends and neighbors have been helping to shingle Walter's house so that it will be ready for winter use.

Several Tolland men are helping with the building of the new curling rink near Preston School.

Sorry we did not get news delivered in time for Nov. 15th paper. We hope readers will remember the dance at Tolland on th 22nd and the card party at Woodvale centre on the same night.

they'd be cheaper by the gallon

It costs plenty to raise a family these days. But if youngsters, like your car, ran on gasoline you'd be better off.

Want to know why? Today everything costs more, including the scores of things a growing family needs. Gasoline costs more, too.

But government figures show that since 1939 the cost of living has gone up more than 120 percent while wholesale gasoline prices have risen about 40 percent – less than a third as much.

And what's more – today's regular gasolines are far superior to the premium grades sold only ten years ago.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

You're a smart motorist so your car has been serviced for winter. Even so, if we get extreme cold, you may find starting hard. Here are some tips for taking the edge off winter nights.

If you keep your car in a garage, stretch a rope across the end of the garage and hang a blanket over it. Then, when you put the car away at night, snug the front end up to the blanket. This preserves some of the heat left in the motor and keeps the fan from scooping up icy early morning air, blowing it into the motor.

If you ever have to leave your car outside all night, you can still cut down warm-up time. Save a large shopping bag, fold it flat and slip it down inside the hood between the grill and radiator. To secure the bag, run a cord through one end of it and tie the cord to the radiator cap.

Here are three ideas for frozen door locks.

On a warm day, fill an old squirt can with a solution of carbon tetrachloride (95%) and paraffin (5%), and squirt it around the outside door push button. Or, if there are no warm days in prospect, get some rubber chair leg tips from your local hardware store and slip them over the ends of the push buttons. This usually keeps out rain and snow.

And if all else fails, try heating your key over a match before putting it in the lock.

Sound Government

Constitutional or parliamentary monarchy with a sovereign like ours, is a very sensible form of government, says The Financial Post.

Republics, taken by and large, don't stack up well in comparison. They and their leaders are constantly engaged in fighting the next election, and to that party interest, the interest of the country is most of the time taking second place.

A president may become sick in body or mind. He may lose touch with public opinion. His leadership may falter or disappear. There's nothing to [illegible] in any of these [illegible] except wait for his [illegible] or have a revolution.

The Canadian system of course is not the product of superior wisdom. It's strictly a matter of historical good luck.

These ten farm young people received scholarships and bursaries totalling over $4,000 from the Alberta Wheat Pool at a luncheon held recently in Edmonton. All are now attending the University of Alberta in Edmonton. Seven of the awards were for $300 each and were made to young people of outstanding merit. Three were for $200 each and went to former garden club members now taking the household economics course. Tales of A Traveler Employes of American Express are used to the unusual. It's their business to remain calm and cool when travelers get [illegible]. Every now and then, however, something happens that shatters the poise of the hardiest.

It happened this summer in the Copenhagen office when an American Air Force Sergeant came in to cash some travelers cheques. It was the first time he'd ever been in Copenhagen, but the American Express cashier promptly cashed his travelers cheques on his signature.

He put the money in his wallet, but then he walked away leaving [illegible] the counter. A Danish policeman, standing nearby picked it up and reached the GI just as he was leaving the building.

He asked the GI to show his passport. The GI didn't have one, and tried to explain in English, while the policeman could only talk Danish. The American Express cashier came up to be helpful and suggested to the GI:

"Do you have any other identification papers?"

"Sure," replied the sergeant. "Just a second."

Then he casually reached into his mouth and lifted out his upper plate. Tucked in behind it, typed on tissue paper, were his [illegible] papers.

"Always carry them here," the GI explained. "[illegible] a [illegible] or two too much."

No trouble at all . . .

Tourists walking into the Genoa office of American Express were startled by a strange sight. Spread out on the floor, over every available desk and even on the chairs were travelers cheques – some $3,000 in all.

The day before, it seems, an American girl traveling by ship from the United States to Genoa, had fallen overboard into the Mediterranean. Happily, she was quickly rescued, little the worse for her experience. However, her travelers cheques were thoroughly soaked, soggy, matted together.

Her first task, upon landing in Genoa, was to rush to the American Express office to see if she could get some cash.

"Certainly," she was told.

First, the cheques were spread out all over the office on blotting paper to dry. Then they were carefully examined to see if any of them had a legible signature.

Her own signature [illegible] the wet cheques were home. Then she received a full refund and a cheerful "no trouble at all" from the staff.

The self-made man may have his faults, but he's still better than a machine-made politician.

Cancer Crusade Sets All-time Record

The largest amount yet to be raised in this province in the [illegible] was subscribed by the people of Alberta this year, it was announced this week by Walter E. Huckvale of Lethbridge, President of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society. Mr. Huckvale reported that $297,703.69 had been received by the Society's 400 branches and units throughout the province in the Crusade just completed. Although a little more than 1% short of the $300,000 objective the fund was $8000 ahead of 1956, which in itself had been a record year.

Over $70,000 was directed into research that will ultimately find a cause of and cure for this disease. A grant of $41,500 was made to the National Cancer Institute of Canada, the Cancer Society's research affiliate, which co-ordinates cancer research across Canada.

More than $62,000 was allocated to a wide-spread program aimed at bringing an awareness of cancer's dangers, and the hope for cure through early detection, through public education. Public meetings, films, newspaper features, radio, television, literature, exhibits and many other media were used in furthering this aspect of the Society's work which Mr. Huckvale described as "saving lives today, while we look for research to come up with the answer tomorrow."

Mr. Huckvale expressed gratification at the low cost of the Cancer Crusade which at slightly less than $13,000 was about 4c to collect each cancer dollar. He credited the low cost of fund raising, and the low cost of administration to the zeal of the thousands of volunteer "cancer crusaders" whom he described as the backbone of the organization.

Mr. Huckvale stated that this record donation was received from over 98,000 individual donors throughout the province. The total donations received from the various districts with last year's figures in brackets are as follows:

Vegreville $1,282.03 ([illegible]);
Vermilion $2,214.14 ([illegible]);
Edmonton $102,727.16 ($100,364);
Peace River $7,173.46 ($5,714.39);
Gr. Prairie $6,973.45 ($6,642.01);
Red Deer $7,779.88 ($4,482.69);
Calgary $115,487.69 ($116,633.87);
Drumheller $4,198.79 ($3,179.74);
Lethbridge $33,100.78 ($31,365);
Med. Hat $15,807.96 ($13,277.21)

The annual general meeting of the Alberta Division of the Society will be held in Calgary on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6th and 7th.

Health Unit Notes

ARTHRITIS

Arthritis is the term applied to a large group of rheumatic diseases which cause inflammation of the joints. These diseases are alike in that they affect the joints but they differ from one another in causes, symptoms, and many [illegible] respects.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

This is the most common in young adults and usually begins before 40 years of age. Since they are the most productive years it has a special economic significance although it is seldom fatal. The first definite symptoms are usually preceded by a long period of ill health and the person is easily fatigued and is susceptible to colds. Heredity seems to be a predisposing cause and other contributing factors may be injury to joints, prolonged exposure to cold and damp, overcrowding and other unfavourable living conditions, infection and prolonged emotional stress. In fact, a severe cold, sore throat or emotional shock may be the trigger which sets off an attack of this disease. Rheumatoid arthritis is a disease of the entire system, not only the joints. If untreated it may lead to thinning of the bones at the joints, and wasting of cartilages and muscles. The smaller joints are affected first, perhaps fingers and feet and later the larger joints become involved. Slight joint pain and swelling may come and go for years until finally one joint after another becomes stiff painful and swollen. In addition there may be anemia, fever, digestive disturbances, depression, irritability, loss of weight and energy.

OSTEOARTHRITIS

This is a disease of middle or old age. It is caused by aging of the cartilage of the joints and wear and tear of the joint tissues. The joints usually affected are those at the ends of the fingers and those which bear strain produced perhaps by overweight or faulty posture. Physical defects (flat feet or curvature of the spine) which put an unequal pressure on a joint may also contribute.

The disease usually begins as a slight stiffness or soreness aggravated by exercise and this gets worse as time goes on. If untreated the joints become thickened and grate on movement. Small pieces of bone or gristle may collect in the joints and hamper movement; this makes the person feel unsafe and may suddenly throw him.

WHAT TO DO FOR ARTHRITIS

The most important thing to do if symptoms of arthritis develop is to consult a [illegible]. The earlier treatment [illegible] the more relief can be obtained. It is a great mistake to wait until the joints are stiff. Specific treatment will vary with the [illegible] or arthritis. The general health may need to be built up and any teeth abscesses, infected tonsils or sinuses or any forms of infection would need to be cleared up.

Rest for the whole body is important. During the acute phase, rest in bed may be necessary although certain daily exercises may be prescribed to prevent joint stiffness. In both types of arthritis care should be taken to avoid strain, injury, and excessive use of the joints.

Emotional stress plays a large part in arthritis and a person will improve much more rapidly if he can avoid worry and despondency. He must reconcile himself to a long period of treatment and co-operate with his physician and follow the plan of living recommended for him.

Certain adjustment in diet may be necessary—if the person is underweight they will need building up and if they are overweight they will need a low calorie diet. The evidence of constipation is also important.

The use of heat and massage should only be done under the supervision of a physician. Patent medicines that promise quick relief do not cure the disease and may often be harmful.

Another form of arthritis is due to joints becoming involved during infection such as tuberculosis, scarlet fever and meningitis. This type of arthritis is becoming less common due to the more efficient treatment of the infections with modern drugs.

Arthritis associated with gout usually occurs in men between 40 and 50 years of age. There is a strong hereditary susceptibility to this disease, also overweight, overfatigued, sedentary living habits and excesses in food and drink are important. This form of arthritis responds very well to treatment and with care and attention the chronic stage may be avoided.

On the Piggy Back Trail: Canadian transportation's recent marriage of rail and highway finds the Canadian Pacific Railway operating solid piggyback trains in both directions between Montreal and Toronto, carrying the trailers of a number of well known trucking firms to and from their destinations in Canada's two largest cities. Fast overnight service permits pick-up of trailers after close of business every evening and guarantees their delivery in the other city before the start of next day's business. Popularity of the service is attested by this view of a Canadian Pacific 'piggy-backer' at Christie Lake, Ont. Specially-designed roller-bearing flatcars carry the trailers. Piggyback trains are diesel-hauled.

Bottle Pick-up Saturday Morning

The Cubs and Scouts in Vermilion need some funds to finish the addition to their hall and they are trying to do something about it, all they need is a little co-operation from every householder in Vermilion.

On Saturday morning the Cubs will call at every house in town and ask for all the empty beverage bottles, beer bottles or what have you, that you may have about the place. They mean to sell the bottles and the money derived from the sale will go towards completing the addition to the hall built this summer. They have heating and plumbing expenses, need cupboards and the many things that go along with a new building.

All householders are therefore asked to put the bottles in boxes and leave them on the front steps this Saturday morning. You will be doing the Cubs a good turn and they will also be doing you a service, because those bottles have a habit of accumulating and cluttering up basements, kitchens and garages.

Co-operate this Saturday — help the Cubs to help themselves.

All Farmers Are Invited To Annual Bonspiel Dec. 5, 6, 7

All farmers are invited to take part in the Vermilion Farmers' bonspiel which is scheduled for next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4, 5 and 6. Entries should be made as soon as possible to George Webb or Russell Carroll, the deadline is Wednesday noon next week (Dec. 4) as the draw has to be made immediately after and the rinks notified of the hours they play. Don't leave it to the last minute, make your entry now.

Another thing, this man Harold Whitson and his rink of Mannville curlers is coming back and plan to win the Webb trophy for the third straight time. If he does that Harold might demand that he be given the trophy outright and then George and sons would have to dig down in a bad year and buy a brand new cup . . . so all you other rural curlers try and stop Harold from winning the Grand Challenge at the Farmers' spiel for the third straight time.

The annual Farmers bonspiel is sponsored by the Vermilion Curling club and the business men of the town. A good time is planned, the ice is perfect, 6 sheets all with matched rocks, nothing is lacking for a grand bonspiel, except your entry, so send it in right away. Vermilion wants you and you and you as their guests at this annual event.

Graduates As Flying Officer

Bob Hemmingway, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hemmingway of Vermilion, graduated on Friday, Nov. 22nd with the rank of Flying Officer at R.C.A.F. exercises at Portage La Prairie, Manitoba. Mr. and Mrs. Hemmingway went from Vermilion and attended the graduation.

Bob is now home on a week's leave. He will then spend four days in Edmonton being briefed on survival exercises after which he will spend ten days in the mountains near Jasper. If he manages to survive the experience of being left in the wilds he will go to Saskatoon RCAF station for three weeks, and will then be posted to Cold Lake.

F/O Hemmingway is a graduate of the Vermilion high school and of the Vermilion Air Cadets. It will be remembered that he won a flying scholarship as an air cadet and earned his private pilot's license during a summer course in Edmonton. The Air Cadets here started him on his career in the RCAF and he is now a pilot of jet aircraft.

Dramatic Club To Present Comedy-Mystery Play Dec. 6th

You'll have an evening to remember, if you make a date to see 'The Will of Lucille Evans' a comedy-mystery play to be presented by St. Saviour's Dramatic Club, at the Armouries, December 6, at 8:00 p.m.

The plot boils in the late Lucille Evans' house in the Missouri Ozarks, to which, Jonathan Black, a lawyer, played by Jack Kneale, has invited pretty Helen Wayne, played by Marie Miller, and handsome Jack Martin, played by John Barnes, to be present for the administering of a will at the peculiar time of eleven-thirty at night on the 31st of October.

Odd things happen, some of which are described by Minnie Strange, housekeeper to the late Lucille Evans, played by Edith Kneale, as 'Fingers that don't know the meaning of locks! Fingers that can strangle and leave no marks! And fingers that can play where humans can't touch! Ghost fingers — spirits!'

Jack Martin, a fellow with an investigative turn of mind, who with Helen Wayne provide the love interest, soon begins to sniff the wind. He smells shenanigans and with the reluctant help of darkie retainers, sets out to stop them.

The 'cullud folks' provide the farce, fast and furious, with a healthy respect for the supernatural and problems of their own, they are in double trouble.

Sally Ann, 'Hide your throats if you-all don't want them strangled', Helen's maid, played by Eleanor Evans, is the object of the affections of Amos Hill, played by Lloyd Seath and whose main interest is the pursuit of Sally Ann.

Lily Violet, played by Jessie Stevens, has her problems in the pursuit of Pete Washington, 'Oh mah Lawdy! Wheah my rabbit foot' — Jack Martin's chauffeur, played by Gib Stevens.

Jessie Stevens also doubles as Elvira Tadd, a villager.

The role of Mrs. Scott, played by Anne Inman is an ingredient of the plot and hints would be 'no fair.' The same for the Watchman, played by Ken Stone.

The Ghost? Well- you'll see it at the play.

Lighting and stage are again ably handled by Keith Minchin and Keith King and Alf Logan dubs in the sounds that provide the chills and thrills.

Alex Palin, directing, will become the 'trade mark' to look for in plays.

You'll forget your cares if you go to 'The Valley of The Ghosts.'

Cecil Kennedy Elected President Buffalo Coulee Home & School

The Buffalo Coulee Home and School held their first meeting of the season last week. Following the regular opening and business meeting, there was the presentation of awards to students who had earned them last year. Mr. Facey, school superintendent, was unable to be present, so Jack Bauman, Principal, on behalf of the School Division, presented Lorene Everett and Barbara Hinton with their honor awards, lovely silver bracelets suitably engraved for receiving honor standings in grade 10. There were only 7 of these won in the division, so it is quite an honor to have two come from Buffalo Coulee. Congratulations girls! Lorene is now at Wainwright High and Barbara is at Mannville.

The Buffalo Coulee crests were given by the Home and School to pupils in Grades 7 to 10 for a total of [illegible] points for credits received for Academic work, student activities and club work. The award came as a reward for good salesmanship. Frank works as an electrical appliance salesman for Canadian Utilities at Lloydminster. The Gurney Company offered the prize of a free trip to the salesman selling the most electric ranges. Several in the province qualified for the award with tie sales and when the names were drawn from a hat Frank was the lucky boy.

Vermilion Lady Wins Mercury Sedan

Buying three tickets for $1.00 on a Mercury four-door sedan, and then receiving a long distance phone call at 1:15 o'clock a.m. with the news that she had won the beautiful new car, was the exciting experience of Mrs. Anna Fisher of Vermilion. Mrs. Fisher makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Len Noonan, in Vermilion.

The car was raffled at the Lions' Club carnival in Swift Current, Sask. Mrs. Fisher purchased tickets locally, and one of them proved to be the winning number.

The day after receiving the good news Mrs. Fisher was taken to Swift Current by Mr. and Mrs. Noonan and daughter Mary Ann, where they were presented with the keys to the beautiful car.

Mrs. Fisher has received congratulations from friends all over Western Canada on her good fortune and thanks one and all for their good wishes.

Generally the man who claims to be self-made had a wife who superintended the job.

Alumni Hold Dance At the V. S. A.

The Alumni and friends of the Vermilion School of Agriculture held their annual Fall Open dance in the spacious gymnasium last Friday evening. Despite the treacherous road conditions, and the threat of still worse to come, a good crowd assembled early to renew acquaintances made in years past.

Dancing occupied the major portion of the program but minor re-unions which took place on the dance floor and in every corner of the gym were the highlight of the evening. From Yellowknife in the north, Calgary in the south, and Winnipeg in the east, old grads made the trek back to Vermilion, just to see the old school, their friends of other years and to sing once more the old school song.

The crowd began dispersing shortly after midnight, returning to their several homes tired but happy and looking forward to the next re-union in March.

Four Hundred Attend Amateur Hour At Buffalo Coulee

Close to four hundred people, men, women and children packed the gym last Friday night for the Amateur program sponsored by the Students' Union to raise funds for the Christmas tree treats. A very good program was put on by the participants who came from near and far. Mr. Ivan Inman of Islay acted very capably as M.C. for the show. Mr Bob Carmichael and Mrs Shelia Dowdell of Vermilion, and Mrs. Dorothy Schryer of Mannville were the judges.

In the Junior Vocal class, the first prize went to Johnny Bauman, second to Bonnie and Wendy Arthur all of Buffalo Coulee and third to Pauline Fletcher of Paschendale.

Intermediate Vocal: 1. Frances McCauley, Vermilion; 2. Betty Marfleet, Buffalo Coulee; 3. Myrna Taylor and Eileen Oldham, Fabyan.

Senior Vocal: 1. Bell Hipson, Edmonton; 2. Loretta Chaland, Buffalo Coulee.

The door prize was won by Keith Marfleet. The draw was also made for a clock-radio which the students were raffling. The winner was Norman Wells, a young man from Australia, who came down from the north with Sonny Eyben this fall and is working with him near Edgerton.

Lunch was served by the Students' Union. A dance followed with music supplied by the Williams orchestra of Vermilion.

The Union greatly appreciates the wonderful attendance at this function, which will enable them to provide treats for all the children of the community at Christmas.

National Safe Driving Week Starts Saturday, Nov. 30th

Canada's national Safe Driving Week, an annual campaign to reduce traffic fatalities and to point up to the responsibilities of motorists and pedestrians in preventing highway accidents, will get under way from coast to coast at midnight Saturday, Nov. 30. The drive will end at midnight Saturday, Dec. 7.

Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta's Minister of Highways and Chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, sponsors of the week, has appealed to every individual driver and walker to take a 'serious and earnest part in Safe Driving Week.' The conference, he said, seeks 168 hours free of accidents across the nation. Pointing at the driver and the walker Mr. Taylor said: 'You alone can do it.'

In sponsoring a national Safe Driving Week, CHSC selects one of the most potentially dangerous weeks of the year for traffic. "This is done," claims W. Arch Bryce, general manager of the Conference, "because the selection of a reliably safe week would do little to dramatize a reduction in accidents. It would also be of little use in establishing the habit of safety in motorists and pedestrians.

"Besides reducing traffic deaths all who participate in Safe Driving Week strive to show and convince the motorist and pedestrian singly in each community, that he alone can bring about a substantial drop in highway accidents. This is best done when he has most traffic problems and hazards to cope with."

Safe-Driving Week in Canada gets active support and co-operation from federal, provincial and municipal police forces, the judiciary, education authorities, governments, industry, business, public groups and many others.

Daily records of traffic deaths in the province will be announced from the Conference's Ottawa head office.

The Alberta observance of S-D week is being arranged by the Alberta Safety Council. Paul Lawrence, Safety Director has been named by Hon. Gordon Taylor as Provincial Safety Coordinator.

Mr. Lawrence reports that 300,000 pieces of printed material have been sent to the mayors of all 75 incorporated towns and to all cities.

In Medicine Hat December 4th has been set aside as the day to celebrate having passed three full years without a traffic death. This milestone was reached on November 12th and is the longest death free period of any Canadian city of like size since traffic accidents became a major problem. Everyone in the city will wear a distinctive emblem. Speakers will tour the schools, and schools will be dismissed early. The evening will feature a civic banquet followed by a public dance.

In Edmonton S-D Week will be preceded by a dinner rally with several mayors and officials of nearby towns attending. The dinner will be held in the new A.M.A. building on Wednesday, November 27th.

Mr. Lawrence said that Safe Driving Week and its follow-up saved lives in 1955 and 1956, turning the traditionally bad month of December into one of the best months of those years with only four deaths in December 1955 and fifteen deaths in December 1956. "As long as the Alberta public responds in this manner we will continue to promote Safe Driving Week," he said.

NOT QUITE FLAGLESS

Both the main political [illegible] in Canada are committed to a national flag — but neither intends to do anything about it now or soon. There's a respectable excuse for this delay: no design could please everybody, says The Financial Post. Both sides in the Canadian argument feel hotly. Whoever raises the issue now, as Wilfrid Lacroix of Quebec did in Parliament the other day, only makes them feel hotter. The worst of it is that the division is mainly on linguistic and racial lines, the saddest kind of split that can happen in Canada.

Fortunately, there's always the red ensign with the Union Jack in the top corner next the staff and the Canadian coat of arms, including the fleur de lys, in the fly. This is supposed to be a merchant flag, but it's so widely used on land, here and abroad, that the outside world would never hear of Canada's flagless condition if Mr. Lacroix and others would only keep mum about it.

GET FEEL OF THE ROAD

Some of Alberta's most recent tractor fatalities have had a remarkable similarity of pattern. The tractor was pulling a free-wheeling load, the road surface was slippery or snow covered, and the tractor and load were travelling downhill.

Experience has shown that under such conditions the load behind the tractor will push it, causing a severe swerving or jack-knifing action that usually results in loss of control by the operator.

The Alberta Safety Council suggests extra care when driving the tractor this winter — "Take time to get the feel of the road".

The Big Western Malady Is Now "Grey Cup Fever"

'Grey Cup Fever' this week replaced Asian flu throughout the country as the number one bug of the moment.

The minute the final whistle sounded their victorious notes for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers at Edmonton and the Hamilton Tiger Cats at Hamilton last Saturday, even the most confirmed pessimists were converted to the new malady.

Thrilled by the great game played by the Blue and Gold, western fans are confident that the Blue Bombers will keep the Grey Cup in the West for another year. Equally confident are the eastern fans that Hamilton will win the title.

Fans throughout the west want to see the great clash between the Bombers and the Tiger Cats on Saturday at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

"Since Sunday, our phones have not stopped ringing for reservations on the CNR Grey Cup Special," said F. N. McKenzie, CNR passenger traffic manager. The special will leave Winnipeg on Thursday evening at 8.30, and arrive in Toronto early Saturday morning. 'If the big rush continues, there is a good possibility that we will be operating a second football special for the game of the year, and it is tentatively scheduled to leave the CNR station, Winnipeg, at 7.30 on Wednesday evening,' Mr. MacKenzie added.

'I guess Blue Bomber fans are no different than any other sports enthusiasts when it comes to supporting their favorite team. And there will be plenty of them on Saturday."

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Guinette of Edmonton were Saturday night guests at the Robert MacMillan home. Mr. Guinette is a nephew of Mrs. MacMillan and he and his bride were on their honeymoon trip to Manitoba. Stan Gerrie of Edmonton was also a Saturday evening supper guest at the MacMillan home returning to Edmonton that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Larcombe and family spent the week end in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mason of Edmonton, Mr. Gordon Gerrie of Portage La Prairie, Man., and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Gerrie and Caroline of Edmonton were all supper guests at the MacMillan home Wednesday, Nov. 20th after attending the funeral of their father Mr. Gerrie in Lloydminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Odin Olstad of Edberg, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Karlstrom, Duane and Darrell of Meeting Creek were guests at the Allan Olstad home for the week end.

Sandra and Donna Olstad, Laurie and Paul Horne, all attended Mavis McCauley's birthday party in Vermilion last Thursday. Mrs. McCauley with the capable assistance of her husband Tom served a lovely supper to about 20 boys and girls.

Donna Olstad celebrated her birthday on Monday, Nov. 25th with 20 little friends and their mothers attending.

We wish to extend congratulations to Mavis and Frank McCauley on winning prizes at the amateur program at Buffalo Coulee Friday night. Mavis got first prize in the instrumental group with a piano solo and Frank won first in the intermediate vocal group.

Vern Willies attended the Toronto Royal Winter Fair and is at present visiting his brother Edwin and family at Ottawa.

There was a good turnout at the Farmers' Union meeting held at the Claysmore school Wednesday, Nov. 20th.

"GREEN ACRES"

BANG'S VACCINATIONS

Once again veterinarians have started the vaccinating of calves as a prevention against Bang's Disease. This program has been going for 7 or 8 years in Vermilion River and Minburn. The disease is gradually being weeded out and very few losses are now reported. The Alberta government is assuming a large share of the cost of vaccinations this year. All heifer calves in this area will be vaccinated whether they are to be kept for breeding stock or to be fed and sold. Stock men are asked to give their usual good support to this programme again this year.

FINISH THE TURKEYS

Because the price of turkeys is running a little lower than usual this year is not a good enough excuse for not finishing the market birds. Grade B turkeys right now are 5 cents under grade A and grade C is 10c below that. Three weeks of heavy feeding, right killing and careful plucking will bring in the higher prices.

Another thing worth noting is the Vermilion 4-H Turkey Show and Sale. The date is set for December 13th. There will be about 200 well fitted and well dressed turkeys for sale that day.

BARN VENTILATION

At last we have a plan showing the Natural Draft System and the Fan Ventilating System, all on one sheet of paper and easy to follow. Anyone planning on building barns, pig houses or hen houses ought to get this new chart. It is free on application to this office.

MIXED FARMING

Not so long ago we were advising farmers to practise mixed farming, that is, to grow and raise a little of everything. But times have changed. Now it seems better to concentrate on one or two enterprises and forget about the rest. At Edmonton now there is a poultry farm raising a quarter of a million dressed birds every year and only five men are needed. In New Zealand one man milks 60 cows in 60 minutes and has time to do all the other chores. See what I mean?

ORNAMENTALS AVAILABLE

The Provincial Department of Horticulture is offering to a limited number of farmers ornamental trees and shrubs for shelter-belt purposes. There are fifty rooted shrubs in each bundle. They are free to farmers as long as they last. Get further particulars and application forms from this office.

Increase In Grain Movement Forseen

Confidence that shipments of Canadian grain will increase next spring was expressed by S. F. Dingle, CNR vice-president, operations, when he spoke recently at Edmonton.

Mr. Dingle—on a western line inspection tour—said in an interview that while passenger traffic is holding up well there has been a falling off in the volume of freight traffic, due in part to decreased grain shipments.

"I believe we will see increased grain shipments in the new year, however," he added.

Impressed with Edmonton's steady growth, Mr. Dingle said that the CNR's policy is to keep pace with the city's expansion.

"The Bible Today"

A cheque to cover the cost of publication of two Gospels in African tongue has been received by the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada from a Montreal subscriber who wishes to remain anonymous.

One thousand copies of St. Mark's Gospel in Mattakam for the Cameroons, and five thousand copies of St. John's Gospel in Idoma for South Nigeria, will be financed by the special contribution. These Gospels had been translated and were awaiting funds for publication.

The donor had paid for an African Gospel some years ago, and inquired about financing publication of another translation. When he discovered that the Mattakam and Idoma translations could be published for a total of $750, this Montrealer and his wife sent a cheque for that sum in thanksgiving for God's blessing upon their household.

Phillips - O'Connor Nuptials

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church, on Tuesday, November 19 when Eileen Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connor and James Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Phillips were united in marriage. Rev. Father Stewart officiated at the ceremony.

The bride entered the Church on the arm of her brother Gerald and she looked lovely in a floor length gown of white net with a lace bolero. A coronet held her veil in place and she carried a white prayer book.

The bride's attendants were Ann O'Donnell of Calgary and Lillian Batloch of Derwent. Miss O'Donnell wore a semi-formal gown of blue and Miss Batloch wore a semi-formal gown of yellow net.

Best men were Mr. Gordon Phillips, brother of the groom, and Mr. Gerald O'Connor, brother of the bride.

Miss Donna Snyder played the wedding music.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Legion Hall, Vermilion for 75 guests.

The bride's table was centred with a lovely three tiered wedding cake.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a brown afternoon dress and brown accessories, with a corsage of roses.

Later in the evening, a wedding dance was held in the Legion Hall.

The newly married couple will make their home in Wainwright where the groom is employed.

Endorses Safe Driving Campaign

"There can be no greater work than that designed to save lives, prevent injury and reduce damage to property," claims Prime Minister Diefenbaker in expressing his support of Canada's national Safe-Driving week. The Prime Minister calls on every Canadian citizen to regard this work as his personal responsibility.

Safe-Driving Week, Dec. 1 to 7, is being sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference.

"Since traffic is rated only below cancer and heart disease as a killer of Canadians, every action that might reduce this hazard to our national life and economy must be strongly encouraged," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

After a short meeting, Mr. Ken Rowe of Vermilion showed pictures taken on his trip to England, Scotland, France and Switzerland. They were really enjoyed very much and are so clear. Some Scotch friends present remembered some of the scenes he showed. A lunch served by Mr. and Mrs. Leighton brought the evening to a close. Next meeting Dec. 17th: Mr. D. Hughes and Mrs. R. Smith, lunch committee.

MRS. REDMAN ADDRESSES THE F. U. A.

On Wednesday evening the F. U. A. had Mrs. Redman as guest speaker. A film "Mr. Christmas" was shown, which everyone enjoyed. Mrs. Redman then gave a talk on her visit to Ottawa, also on car insurance and the Egg Marketing program. We were pleased to see several from Thorncliffe, Woodvale and Tolland attend. Mr. Fred Haines president of Wildmere F.U.A. was in the chair.

Mrs. C. Cruthers visited on Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Ken Shepherd at Vegreville. Ken and Janet brought her home that evening.

A rink of curlers from Wildmere are curling in town these days. Bill and Albert Smith, Wally Westman and Dick Donily, with George Harrison filling in when Dick went hunting with Lloyd Howard and Jeff Martin.

We were very pleased to see our Woodvale scribe put in a word for a much-needed restroom in town. We wish you luck; we have tried several times without any success.

At time of writing we heard that a little grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erie Watt of Viking had passed away. We wish to extend our sympathy to her parents (nee Marjorie Watt) and her husband and grandparents in their hour of sorrow.

ATTEND AMATEUR HOUR

On Friday evening several from Wildmere and Basswood attended the amateur hour and dance held at Buffalo Coulee school. Some good numbers were enjoyed and a large crowd attended. Mr. Ivan Inman of Islay was the M.C. and kept things going very smoothly. Mr. Carmichael, Mrs. Dowdell and Mrs. Schryer were the judges.

Some Wildmere and Basswood young folks attended the dance at Tolland Friday evening where a good time was had. Melody Ranchers orchestra furnished music. Billie McGrath was M.C.

On Saturday six members of Wildmere W. I., Mrs. Holte, Mrs. W. J. Garnett, Mrs. Noel Garnett, Mrs. Haines, Mrs. J. Wilson and Mrs. Wallington were guests of Princess Anne W. I. at the elementary school in Vermilion to hear Miss Edna Craig, District Home Economist of Wainwright, give a talk on Christmas gifts. This proved very interesting. Vermilion W. I. also attended. Mrs. F. West president of Princess Anne was in the chair and she heartily welcomed everyone. After the talk a delicious lunch was served with a good cup of tea or coffee. Many thanks Princess Anne, for your kindness in inviting us to your meeting. We all enjoyed it very much.

The writer and several others from Wildmere attended the K. of C. bingo at the Armouries on Saturday evening. None were lucky enough to take home any prizes though.

On Thursday evening Mr. Buckingham of Vermilion came out and formed a 4-H Beef Club in Wildmere. We believe it will be called "Preston 4-H Beef Club." Twelve joined up with more promised. We wish this group every success in their new venture sponsored by the Preston Home and School.

Mrs. Fred Haines very kindly did the collecting for the British and Foreign Bible Society in the Wildmere district.

Don't forget the Wildmere Beavers Girls Club is holding a bake sale and bazaar at the Co-op. store in Vermilion at 2.30 on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 30th. Plan to attend and help the girls.

People who don't amount to much usually have their sign out.

Letter to the Editor

Vermilion, Alberta,
Nov. 25, 1957.

Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion.
Dear Sir:

I would appreciate it very much if you would allow me a little space in your paper in which to reply to the article 'Of Many Things', by Ambrose Hills in your edition of Nov. 21st.

I attended a public meeting held on Nov 13th in the Legion hall in Vermilion. Here Mr. Joe Miller of the Alberta Poultry Federation spoke in favor of the Alberta Egg Producers' Marketing Board.

The Alberta Poultry Federation is an organization made up of poultry producers of Alberta. Any poultry raiser can belong for the small sum of $1 a year.

Mr Miller is a farmer living near Edmonton. He had 1300 laying hens a year ago but has cut his flock down to 150 because he had to buy the feed for his flock and the receipts from egg sales just weren't doing that.

Mr. Miller had figures to show that Canada just has an egg surplus of 3 per cent. Australia has an egg surplus of 30 per cent. Australia also has an egg marketing board and over the past several years the price received for eggs in Australia has always been higher than that received in Canada.

Mr Miller had a copy of the Alberta Egg Producers' Marketing Board Act from which he read clauses whenever any questions arose. Mr Ambrose Hills should have procured one of these. They are available at 10 cents per copy from the Department. If Mr. Hills had one he wouldn't need to wonder why Mr. Harper said "that the Egg Marketing Board would have no power to limit or control the production of eggs". The Marketing Board Act says just that.

The Marketing Board Act also says that the Board will have no control over any eggs which are sold direct to the consumer. A lot of people have wondered about that, but only those eggs which must come up for resale must pass through the Marketing Board.

The question of surpluses arose. The hatcheries turn in statements each year showing how many chicks are hatched. From these figures the egg production of the year can be fairly accurately estimated. How many are needed for the year is also known so the number of surplus eggs that there will be can be arrived at almost a year ahead. If these eggs are all going to the Producers' Marketing Board they will be able to afford to send a man abroad to make deals with other countries whereas if these eggs were all going to be divided among several companies, none of them would know what proportion of the surplus eggs he would have nor would he be so well able to afford to investigate possible deals. Hence the marketing of surplus eggs would be simplified by having a marketing board.

Mr Hills is afraid of a combine being formed and the prices being too high. There is no need to worry about that. If the price of eggs should reach a level too high in comparison with the price of meats, the consuming public would just stop buying eggs. The price of eggs would have to remain on a par with other products.

What we producers want is a more settled price and one that would give us a little for our labor. We think a more settled price would suit the consumer also. He wouldn't have to wonder when doing the weekly shopping whether the eggs would be 10 or 15 cents higher or lower the next week, and then feel gypped whatever happened — gypped because he had either bought too few or too many. The small surplus of 3 per cent which we have shouldn't cause the big changes in egg prices which we have.

According to the rules laid down in the Egg Marketing Board Act the Egg Marketing Board will be elected democratically. Alberta will be divided into a certain number of zones and each will have their elected representative.

If we find after awhile, that we don't want an egg marketing board we can always vote it out of existence. So folks, what have we to lose in voting for the Egg Marketing Board? Mr. Miller pointed out that if the plebiscite doesn't carry this time it will be a long time before the government will go to all the expense of having another plebiscite.

The people who attended the meeting all seemed favorably impressed. Many questions were asked and were satisfactorily answered. One man who is a large poultry producer and who went there I am sure, with the idea that he was against the Marketing Board, said upon leaving, "Well, you have me convinced. I'm voting for the Board."

Thank you Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
(Mrs.) Mavis M. Tovell.

Care With Cleaners

Cleanliness may be next to godliness — but it also can be dangerous. Certainly many human beings go to meet their Maker because of cleaning fluids and laundry bleaches.

"It is surprising how much a locked cabinet or even a tightly closed container on a high shelf might do to make unnecessary a discussion of laundry bleach poisoning," says the Pfizer Spectrum, a medical magazine.

Many housewives thoughtlessly store chlorinated laundry bleaches and the cleaning fluid, carbon tetrachloride, in soda-pop containers, wine bottles and even baby bottles. These are even placed on the floor within easy reach for toddlers in an exploring stage of life.

After a seven year study, three doctors reported in the Canadian Medical Association Journal that carbon tetrachloride is one of the commonest medical causes of serious and even fatal kidney damage. The fluid has have dangerous effects whether it is inhaled, swallowed or absorbed through the skin.

The corrosive and caustic action of the chlorinated alkalies used as laundry bleaches are well-known to anyone who has mourned a favorite garment eaten away by strong laundry bleaches. When swallowed, these chemicals cause severe burns in the mouth and digestive tract — a terrible reward for the enterprise of young explorers.

Like other forms of poisoning, poisonings due to laundry bleaches and cleaning fluids are enormously simple to prevent. "What is required," says Spectrum, "is minimal education of housewives to keep such commonplace and dangerous agents out of reach."

New Alberta Minister of Health Is Politician By Accident

DR. J. DONOVAN ROSS
Minister of Health

EDMONTON. Hon. Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Alberta's new minister of health, is a politician more or less by accident.

Five years ago he had no idea of entering public life, and he knew no more than the average citizen about the philosophies of the Social Credit party which forms Alberta's government.

In fact, he was all set to wind up his thriving medical practice in Edmonton and move to Jasper (because he likes the mountains) when a good friend telephoned one night in February of 1952 and suggested he run for Legislature.

'I was sort of floored,' he recalls. 'I talked it over with my wife, my parents and my friends. Surprisingly, many of them thought it was a good idea. Then I spoke to Premier Manning. In August of 1952 I was elected.'

That's the story of the political career of Joseph Donovan Ross, family doctor. In five years of public life he has moved into one of the most important portfolios of the provincial cabinet, heading a department which spends millions of dollars every year to administer a mammoth public health program.

It came as no major surprise when Premier Manning called on Dr. Ross to take over on the retirement of Hon. W. W. Cross, who headed the health department for 22 years. The only unexpected thing was the timing. Even Dr. Ross says he expected Dr. Cross to remain in office until the next election.

The new minister says the toughest part of the decision to become a full time politician was losing the associations and close friendships developed since 1938 when he began his practice in Edmonton after graduating in medicine from the University of Alberta.

When I called to interview him in his spacious office in the administration building, he had a stack of 40 or 50 letters from patients, congratulating him but at the same time chiding him gently for leaving them without a family doctor.

The slight, soft-spoken minister is a hard worker and should be a valuable addition to the cabinet. He's a man with ideas of his own about many things, and has proven that he can be outspoken when the occasion demands.

He has strong ideas about the practice of medicine. He regards it as a high calling and deplores the tendency to regard it as just another way to make a living. The trend toward specialization frightens him, and he can't say enough about the valuable contribution of the old-fashioned practitioner.

He has demonstrated in the Legislature that his views on liquor are quite broad and in sharp contrast to those of Premier Manning and other cabinet collegues. He is not a teetotaller, and believes education is needed to teach the public how to use liquor without abusing it.

Even before he joined the Social Credit party he admired the province's health program, and he isn't likely to introduce major changes. He believes in the idea of free treatment and assistance for long-term, extraordinary illnesses which can cause financial catastrophe for the average family.

These are the type of illnesses which require big hospitals, elaborate facilities and trained staff which only a government can provide. Polio, tuberculosis and cancer are examples, and free treatment has been available for years.

Dr. Ross says he has one major problem to tackle, and that is mental health. He believes there should be more research and emphasis on preventative measures by early diagnosis. It may be significant that 22 years ago when Dr. Cross was sworn into office he regarded mental health as one of the biggest problems.

Since joining the party, Dr. Ross has read up on Social Credit theories and is convinced they are sound. In addition, he believes Social Credit is a movement that is closer to the people. He has an answer to criticism about mixing religion and politics. He simply asks the critic if he would support a party which denies the importance of religion.

'As a doctor I know the importance of the spiritual side of life,' he says. 'I think religion, in a very broad sense, must have a place in public affairs.'

Dr. Ross, the father of seven children, is a veteran of active service with the navy, a founder of the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, and, in his spare time, an enthusiastic outdoorsman who enjoys hunting, fishing and horseback riding.

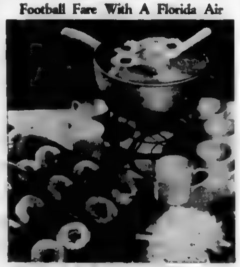
Football Fare With A Florida Air



The nippier the day, the more fun the football game, and the more bracing the air, the more everyone thirsts for a bracing warmer afterwards. Ideal fare is mulled Florida orange punch served with doughnuts.

This year's crop of juicy thin-skinned Florida oranges is going to be a record one, and the quality is fine now. Get them by the dozen or the bag, and buy plenty so that you'll have juice handy for thirst-quenchers and also for adding flavor to many recipes. The small-sized fruit coming into local markets are exceptionally good buys and, regardless of size, you're assured of getting more than a quart of juice from every five pounds of Florida oranges.

After the game, this hot punch would be welcome refreshment indeed. The slight heating which you give the orange juice doesn't damage its natural vitamin C goodness to any great extent. Float "moons" made from orange peel on the punchbowl for a gala touch.

Mulled Florida Punch

½ cup sugar	2 2-inch pieces stick cinnamon
½ cup water	2 quarts Florida orange juice
12 whole cloves	1 quart sweet cider

Combine sugar, water and spices in saucepan; simmer 10 minutes; strain. Add Florida orange juice and cider. Reheat and serve hot from punch bowl. Float orange "moons" on top. To make "moons" cut 2 inch rounds from orange peel. Press 4 or 5 cloves in center of each round. Cut ½-inch strips with scissors from edge to clove center. Float on top of punch. YIELD: 28 ½-cup servings.

Photo Greetings Most Personal of All

People who want their holiday greetings to be "strictly personal" send out photographic Christmas cards every year. They've found that nothing else "personalizes" their special Yuletide wishes quite the way one of their own snapshots does—and we feel that you'll have the same experience if you say "Merry Christmas" photographically.

In choosing a subject for your card, you may dip into your album and come up with a picture you've taken some time during the year or even one snapped last Christmas. Or you may prefer to shoot a new picture with a special holiday theme designed to express "Season's Greetings."

A vista of pine-studded hills, a stained glass window, a majestic church portal snapped on a vacation trip may be your way of symbolizing the season. But a favorite snapshot of the youngsters making friends with a baby fawn or frolicking with the household pet can carry your holiday greeting, too. Or if you're planning to shoot "from scratch", how about a close-up of a bowl of shiny red apples, pine cones and fir boughs—or a stack of brightly wrapped and ribboned boxes—a tree made entirely of colored Christmas balls—or a choir of tiny ceramic angels and cherubs?

By all means, don't overlook the excellent picture possibilities in outdoor scenes at night. Supplied with flash—and shooting at about six feet—you shouldn't have any difficulty at all in catching a fine after-dark exterior shot.

Naturally, many nighttime subjects come to mind. But one we feel you might want to try is a picture of your youngsters dressed as holiday carolers on their nightly round of song. Snap them in the traditional pose—singing under a lighted street lamp that sheds its glow on the sheets of music they hold in front of them.

Whatever the subject, you can be sure a photographic card will express your Christmas message in a warm, individual way. This year, why not count on your camera to custom-make the seasonal good wishes you send friends and relatives at Christmastime.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Thursday of this week we hope to have another packed hall for the play "Valley of Ghosts" being presented by the St. Saviour's Dramatic Society of Vermilion.

Ladies of the Auburndale W.A. are asked to remember the central meeting at the home of Mrs. George Harrison on Dec. 4th at 8 p.m. Reports from the individual groups should be ready for the conveners.

Several former V.S.A. students attended the opening dance there last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kennedy spent several days in Edmonton last week. Mrs. Willes Sr. of Claysmore came down and stayed with the children.

Dick Eyben is working at Stanley Motors in Vermilion for the winter months.

Brent Macnab was noticed busily engaged erecting a T-V aerial last week assisted by Jack Barlow.

According to a feature story and picture in the Edmonton Journal recently, a black coyote is quite a rarity but Meeting Creek has nothing on Buffalo Coulee as there are several around here and Walt Hinton and Henry Haverslew are trying very hard to get one to prove it.

The C.G.I.T. have elected their new officers for the coming season as follows: President - Alayne Stone; Vice-Pres. - Colleen Kennedy; Sec-Treas. - Lyla Eyben; Group Rep. - Ruby Boler. A social evening with the Boy Scouts and the parents of both groups is being planned for early in December.

CLANDONALD

Bingo Night in the Columbus hall on Dec. 4th at 8:30 p.m. One grand prize and 11 other good prizes. Admission $1. Extra cards 2 for 50 cents. Sponsored by Clandonald C.W.L. 21

Canadian Legion Notes

Information has come to hand that the Legion Curling playoffs for Zone 3 will take place on Jan. 18. This gives only a few weeks to select a rink to represent this Branch. It is asked that any Legion member interested in getting on a rink should notify President Richardson or Secretary Buckingham very soon. Rinks will have to be made up and a Branch playoff arranged very shortly.

W.V.A. CHANGES

At last Canadian veterans who served in Britain during the 1914-18 war will be eligible for the War Veterans Allowance. It is necessary that the veteran served at least 365 days in Britain before Nov. 12, 1918.

Every returned man in this area who considers himself eligible should see Vic Tillett, Welfare Officer of Vermilion Branch.

IMPERIAL VETERANS

The period of residence for Imperial veterans in Canada before being eligible for pension has been reduced from 20 years to ten years. This also applies for Imperial widows. Anyone eligible should see Mr. Tillett.

POLIO FUNDS

Another canvass for donations to replenish the Legion Polio fund will be made in January. It is hoped that the response from this district will be as good as good as in the past several years. It may be of interest to Vermilion people to learn that that only this week a substantial payment was made on behalf of a child in this town who needs treatment from polio.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The Circle Eight Square Dance club of Vermilion held their regular dance with Harold Schacher calling last Saturday. Despite the extremely poor condition of the roads that particular day, visitors were present from Rivercourse, Lloydminster, Islay, Mannville, Myrnam, Derwent, Elk Point, Lindberg and Albert.

Thanks to the Elks Lodge who are presently sound-proofing their hall, we shall be able to have our dances on the first and third Saturday of each month again this year. Saturday has proved to be by far the most popular night with both 'locals' and visitors.

Our next dance will be Saturday, Dec. 7. We shall be pleased to welcome our newest members to this dance as they are having their 8th lesson at the Bowtell Community hall this Friday night. This new enthusiasm will certainly be a lift to our club and we are extremely proud to have such fine dancers representing the C8 at neighboring club dances.

It is with regret that we must announce that our president, Walter Coulter found it necessary to resign due to pressure of business and other commitments. Walter realizes that each dance requires a great deal of time and work of some person extremely interested in keeping the club as active as it has been in the past and found himself short of time so Johnny Maxwell consented to act as president for the remainder of the term.

Plans are already underway for our big Christmas party on December 21st.

Rotary Club Hold Annual Rural Meet At Clandonald

Once again the Vermilion Rotary Club has taken one of their meetings to a neighboring town. This time it was Clandonald.

About 25 residents of Clandonald and district were invited to be guests of the Vermilion Club at a dinner meeting held in the Orange Hall, Clandonald.

The Women's Auxiliary of the United Church did the catering for a very excellent dinner.

The guest speaker was Mr. D. H. McCallum, Dairy Commissioner, Provincial Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. Mr McCallum talked about Agriculture in Alberta. He discussed the situation at present and the changes that are taking place. The speaker is a rotarian of long standing so it was very appropriate that he should speak on this subject at a rotary club meeting in a country district.

Mr. McCallum was introduced by Walter Duncan, Dairy Inspector for this area and thanked by Bill Cross.

A debate developed during the meeting on the relative merits of Aberdeen and Hereford beef. It appeared to be rather spontaneous and nothing was settled.

President Tom McPherson of the Vermilion Club was chairman of the meeting. Mr McPherson welcomed the guests and thanked the Women's Auxiliary for the exceptional meal, the speaker for his fine address and the arranging committee which consisted of Walter Duncan and Bill Cross.

Mr Clair Laird of Clandonald thanked the Vermilion club for arranging such a fine get-together of businessmen and farmers of the two districts.

"The Exceptional Child" Subject of Address at Mannville Meeting

MANNVILLE—Thursday was the selected time of the Home and School meeting at which a capacity gathering heard Superintendent of Schools for Wainwright, L. G. Hall, M.A. deliver a most thought provoking address. Speaking on the subject of 'The Exceptional Child,' in this case the gifted one, Mr. Hall declared that no one was born equal, some thrive on opportunities offered, others fall by the wayside. The exceptionally gifted child is one with an I.Q. of 124-140. A forceful, witty speaker using gestures to fullest advantage, Mr. Hall reminded those assembled that the 'greatest potential wealth of any country is it's brains.' It was pointed out that while many institutions are provided for the mentally retarded, few if any offer any special classes for the gifted child. Two states only offer grants for these children in the U.S.A. In this country acceleration is popular (skipping grades) but Mr. Hall strongly advocated doing so only after the first grade, as groundwork is all important during the first year of school. An intelligence test was also not advised until the third grade. Addressing honor students of the evening, Mr. Hall urged them not to postpone their educational advancement for financial reasons, as many are only too willing to help if contacted. Illustrating this statement, he outlined the case of a student in Northern Alberta, who, having graduated with high honors from school was unable to continue studies for financial reasons. Three citizens appeared in Mr Hall's office with offers of financial assistance, to everyone's surprise and delight. This aid was unsolicited. Concluding with the story of the 'Man of Jericho,' who fell among thieves, Mr. Hall asked for more Good Samaritans in this day and age. The warm applause which greeted the ending of this address was proof of the appreciation of the audience.

Big Order For Massey-Harris

A huge new order, this time for 1,000 Ferguson tractors and 150 combines, has been placed by Yugoslavia with the United Kingdom subsidiary of Massey-Harris-Ferguson. The Company's total sales to Yugoslavia since the contract was made in 1955 now amount to $18,375,000.

The first order was for $9,975,000 worth of tractors and implements. In May of this year the second order amounting to $5,935,000 was placed covering 2300 Ferguson tractors, 12,500 Ferguson implements and 240 large self-propelled combines. The order just received amounts to $2,365,000. Delivery of this equipment is to start immediately from Great Britain and is to be completed by the end of this year. All the tractors and self-propelled combines are fitted with Perkins diesel engines made by F. Perkins Ltd. of Peterborough, England. The value of these engines is not included in the above sales figures.

The original contract made in 1955 covering purchases in 10 years for tractors and 7 years for implements and combines was for a minimum purchase commitment of $10,000,000 and has been almost doubled in less than two years of the contract period.

The 1955 contract was secured after exhaustive tests over two years in Yugoslavia of equipment made by 25 of the world's leading manufacturers, with companies from North America and Europe competing for this business.

The Yugoslavs decided to standardize on tractors, combines and other equipment made by Massey-Harris-Ferguson and on the Perkins diesel engines to power these machines.

The Ferguson tractor is proving very popular with Yugoslav farmers who have shown marked preference for this equipment over material from Eastern Europe. The after-sales-service arrangements made by the two British companies are superior to any previously known in Yugoslavia and Massey-Harris-Ferguson have a number of resident technicians in that country advising in the establishment of a national network of service stations and spare-parts depots.

Mudryk-Bugera Wedding, Derwent

DERWENT.—The Ukrainian Greek Catholic church was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Miss Helen Bugera, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bugera of Northern Valley, became the bride of Mr. John P. Mudryk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Mudryk of Rusylvia.

Rev. Father Cherkiawsky performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of white lace and net over satin with lily point sleeves. The neckline was trimmed with rhinestones. A rhinestone and lace headdress held her three-quarter veil of lace and net and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Her jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and bracelet, a gift of the groom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Ann Bucharsky, aunt of the bride. The bridesmaids were the Misses Catherine Mudryk, Lillian Burharsd, Thresta Bugera and Irene Andriachuk, all dressed in semi-formal gowns.

The best man was Mr. Peter Mudryk and the groomsmen were Eddie Bugera, Mike Mudryk, Peter Molyiak and Emil Yaremch.

The flower girls were Connie Chupka and Marilyn Slywka, who were dressed in white net over taffeta dresses and carried baskets of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the King George hall and later a wedding dance was held at the Derwent National hall.

After a honeymoon in the States Mr and Mrs. Mudryk will reside in Derwent.

Pews Are Dedicated to Oldtimers At Christ Church, Mannville

MANNVILLE. — Conducted by Rev. C. C. McPherson the last of Jubilee Services for November was held in Christ Church during which three pews were dedicated to old timers faithful to the church 50 years ago. Dedications were made in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Everett, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams, and to the glory of God. Statistical records were read of first baptisms, first confirmations, marriages and burials, all taking place fifty years ago. A history written and compiled by the late Harry Thomas of the Church and its beginning was read by Warden Osborne, an everlasting testimonial of a man who loved his church.

When some men air their knowledge they seem to think they are raising a miniature cyclone.

Colder weather brings out the sweaters! Whether they are of wool or of the new synthetic, proper care is necessary for a longer life. Launder sweaters correctly and you can keep them fresh and new.

TO WASH

Wash sweaters wrong side out, turning cuffs down, if there are any, and buttoning cardigans. If your sweater has a wide scoop neckline, or a turtleneck, ribbed cuffs or waistband run longbasting threads around their edges. Pull threads tight and tie them—to prevent stretching while wet.

LUKEWARM SUDS

Use lukewarm suds and rinses for Acrilan, Orlon and Vicara. All nylon sweaters may be washed in slightly hotter water. Wool sweaters may be done in cold water with a cold water detergent. Wash all sweaters by hand, squeezing gently in soap or detergent suds. Always support the fabric while wet with a cupping motion of the hands to prevent stretching from the weight of the water. Don't rub or scrub, massage spots and spoiled areas with well lathered fingers. If your sweater is heavily soiled, it's better to use a second helping of clear suds than to keep it too long in the first. If your synthetic sweater is labelled — 'Machine Washable' you may wash it that way, but put it in a mesh laundry bag.

RINSE WELL

Rinse sweaters several times in lukewarm water. Roll in a thick towel to blot. To dry, spread synthetic fibre sweaters flat over a clean towel. Or hang each one on a shaped wooden or plastic hanger. If you use narrow hangers, insert folded wash cloths to give the shoulder padding.

Wool sweaters should be blocked. Make a frame by outlining sweaters on a cardboard before you wear it. Cut the board into three pieces, body and sleeves. Use this as a frame to keep sweater shape.

Remembrance Day Services Are Well Attended at Marwayne

(Held over from last week)

The 1957 Remembrance Day service and wreath laying at Marwayne will long be remembered by many people. The parade of Legion members, led by the Colour Party, followed by the Cubs, entered the community hall where the Queen's Colours and the Legion Standard were deposited each side of the stage, where the Rev. Jas. Shortt of the United church, with Legion president Carpenter and Auxiliary president Anderson on each side, then conducted the impressive form of service. His memorial address made one think of what was signified by this short annual hour of remembering "those who gave their lives that we might live." This was followed by a wreath laying at the "home-made" cenotaph placed on the grounds where the permanent memorial is to be erected in a planned Garden of Remembrance before another 11th of November comes round.

So many people remarked about the impressive laying of wreaths from the "Silver Mothers" and other organizations because "we will not forget."

The message of Remembrance was read by Rev Mr Shortt, followed by the reading of the names of those who came not back from World Wars I and II. The salute by the Cubs was very impressive, after which the Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Trumpeter Protsch . . . this sounding was something out of this world — like voices of those over there echoing back. The full meaning of those notes of farewell and eternal hope . . . did you hear it? Was it the wind causing the wierd, erie reverberations of sound, hitting the Elks hall, on to the Legion hall, and then to the listeners' ears? Was it an answer from those who died that we may live!

One listener remarked, is it reaching those who were not able to be present amongst the comparatively few who were there?

This list of names is not complete for the roll to be made. Will anyone who can fill in the omissions please do so as soon as possible to the Cenotaph Committee Secretary, Marwayne post office.

It is estimated that between Grades 1 to 12 the average student reads more than 500 textbooks. Thus it is easily realized that to retain this knowledge there is a great dependence upon our visual skills in the modern school systems.

Mannville Students Receive Pins

MANNVILLE. — In a unique presentation ceremony at the Home & School meeting on Nov 21st, students received honor pins from their parents on behalf of the school. Principal Doherty named each student respectively. Those attaining the honor marks of 80 per cent or over were as follows: Grade 9, [illegible], Grade 10 Jackie Hasinoff, Eunice Sawchuk, Donna Doherty, Grade 11, Harold Keuschnig, Clara Brokop, Dixie Schreyer and Danny Hasinoff. The above were pupils' grades last year and awards achieved therein. It was suggested at the meeting that the school board be approached with the view to securing more reference books for the High school. Miss Donna McCauley favored the gathering with a pianoforte solo.

Arnold Platt, President F.U.A., Addresses Clandonald Meeting

Residents of Clandonald and adjoining districts were fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing the Farmers' Union President, Arnold Platt, when he addressed a gathering in the Columbus hall on a recent Friday evening. It would appear that the Union is indeed fortunate in having as their leader a man of Mr. Platt's calibre. During the course of his address he dealt with the various problems facing the farming industry and progress which has been made so far.

Mrs. Mildred Redmond, Union director for district 7, arranged the meeting and also spoke at some length in regard to the newly-formed car insurance scheme.

BIG GAME HUNTERS

Several district farmers are at present in the big game area to the west of Edmonton. One party includes Billy Goad, Dick Dorey, Frank Molineaux all of Clandonald, and Frank Bowman and several others from Dewberry. Heading off in the direction of Whitecourt were Cliff Goad and Gordon Malonek. Needless to say, friends and relations are looking forward with keen anticipation to a feast when the hunters return.

It was stated in error in a previous news column that Henry Dyjur was planning to return to the farm, although he was home for about a month while he and his father were fortunate enough to complete harvesting their crop. He has now however returned to his banking job.

SUPPER A HUGE SUCCESS

Although extremely dangerous condition of the roads no doubt kept quite a number away, the Clandonald chicken supper was a huge success to all appearances. This affair was sponsored jointly for the first time by the ladies auxiliaries of the United and Anglican churches. It has proved in previous years to be too big an undertaking for one group alone.

SLIPPERY ROAD CAUSES ACCIDENT

A victim of the slippery road conditions, the Clandonald section foreman had a narrow escape from serious injury or worse recently. Coming to work from his home in Derwent, his car went out of control and plunged over the bank on the long hill north of town. Fortunately the car kept right side up and the driver was uninjured. Damage to the vehicle, however was extensive, and a winch truck had to be summoned from Vermilion to pull it back up onto the road.

FATALITY ON 45

The first known fatal accident on highway 45 in this area, ocurred some weeks ago about midway between Clandonald and Dewberry. A light truck loaded with livestock went out of control. The driver of the truck from a town on the Cold Lake line was thought to have suffered a heart attack. The passenger escaped with minor injuries.

HARVESTING ATTEMPT MADE HERE

Some attempt was made last week to resume harvesting operations but with little success. However providing there is not too heavy a snowfall it should be possible to thresh grain in the stook with the advent of colder weather.

VERMILION ROTARIANS INVADE CLANDONALD

Last Thursday evening the invasion of Clandonald by the Vermilion Rotary club took place as planned. About 25 members had as their guests a similar number from the town and district of Clandonald. The gathering included farmers, grain buyers, merchants, salesmen, clergymen and educators from both areas. Following a very tasty banquet catered to by the ladies' auxiliary of the United Church, a get-acquainted session and sing-song was held. Following this, the gathering was treated to an interesting talk on dairying and its accompanying problems by Mr D H McCallum, Provincial Dairy Commissioner.

All those present seemed to enjoy the affair and in the case of the Clandonald guests all went home with a better understanding of what the Rotarians stand for and what they are trying to accomplish.

The past week has been a busy one for Nick Convey who has moved to brother Tony's place, the former Geske farm just on the outskirts of town. Difficulty of getting young son Andrew to school was one of his chief reasons for making the move. The road gets really tough occasionally and two years ago it was barely negotiable for a team at times and completely blocked for motor vehicles for several months.

Dewberry Home and School Discuss Many Matters

The Home and School meeting was held Nov. 14th with a fair attendance. It is always nice to welcome new members.

It was decided that the H. & S. finance the skating rink the same as last year. In order to raise funds Home and School are sponsoring the New Year's Eve dance.

Interviews are to be held Nov. 26th and a tea will be held at the same time. Nothing like a good cup of tea or coffee to keep folks in a good mood.

Remember, if resolutions are to go into head office they must be handed to the resolutions committee before next meeting.

To try and create more interest, starting next meeting, a banner and a book are to be presented to the room which has the most parents represented.

Mrs Durnie pointed out the inadvisability of children having money, especially large sums, on their person at school. Most parents heartily agreed with her.

Mrs. Goad gave a very interesting report on the highlights of the Banff Workshop.

Next meeting Dec. 12th, the Explorer group will entertain with a Christmas play. A sing-song with all joining in to sing the old loved Christmas hymns and songs will also be part of the program. Come and join in the fun and lend your ear and your voice.

Meeting adjourned followed by a contest and lunch.

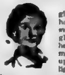
Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority



Gardenias that glow in the dark have nothing on sweaters that glimmer in a headlight! Garments that light up when strong light strikes them are among the newest — and most exciting — contributions to pedestrian safety.

Reflectorized garments are made of cloth that looks like any other cloth — until headlights shine on it. Then it glows a bright silver that can be seen for several hundred yards.

And here's why that's important An average [illegible] his car 40 miles an hour cannot stop in less than 164 feet. He'll probably need more That could mean trouble, especially if he suddenly came upon someone walking at night on an unlighted road.

Reflectorized cloth can multiply the margin of safety tenfold. It picks up the headlight beam and shines so the driver can see it 1000 feet away — plenty of room for safety.

The prime ingredient of the reflectorized cloth is a new type of grey yarn. It works on the same principle as that used in reflective sheeting developed some time ago for marking military supply routes and outlining life-saving gear

Jackets for boys, girls and adults, as well as snowsuits, rainwear capes and mittens have been made from the cloth and are now on the market.

Poultry Producers Urged To Mark, Return Ballots

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture urges all poultry producers to mark and return their ballot for the proposed egg marketing plan

Ballots have been, or are now being mailed to all registered producers having 20 or more laying hens. The ballot is supplied with a self-addressed, postage paid return envelope All that is required of the producer is to mark his ballot for or against the proposed plan and mail.

The Federation takes the stand that all producers receiving a ballot should vote. Before the plan can become operative it must secure a 51% favorable vote of all registered producers. This simply means that all ballots not returned constitute a vote against the Plan.

Farm organizations for many years through their annual meetings have urged the establishment of a marketing board for egg products It was not until 1955 that necessary legislation was made available which would permit the operation of marketing boards in Alberta. If the marketing board principle is rejected at this time it could well delay any improvement in the marketing of egg products for many years to come, according to the A.F.A

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

We have a room in our basement, full of well-stuffed chairs, a beat-up Toronto couch, and a chesterfield we bought when first married plus a 4-year-old TV set

At first, I suppose it was TV that drew us together in this comfortable room. Now the set is off most of the time, but the family still gather to chat, loaf or read. Last night, in a moment of quiet, Sal read aloud a few words that started a lecture from Dad.

"This sounds like you or Grandma," Sal said. "Gilbert Highet says a person ought to memorize something every day, and then when he's waiting for a bus or riding a train or has an idle moment he has something good on his mind instead of just gawking"

That started my lecture Oddly enough, the kids enjoyed it. I'm sure they did, because when we [illegible] having our late snack, Sal said, "Go on, Dad . . . you're really interesting . . . better than TV!" Kids now-days aren't given to idly flattering their parents, so the fact that no one disagreed with Sal encouraged me to pass on the gist of my lecture.

I told them about the difficult times fellows like me had in the depression . . . how a thousand times I remembered something my father had written to me in a letter He'd said, "Every locomotive has a sandbox and when the tracks get slippery on a hill, the engineer uses some of the sand. Every person has some sand in his makeup, in the form of character and the time to use it is when things seem difficult. Just don't give up. Use some sand." I can still see those words in his handwriting as if I were only now reading them, and I hope my youngsters will remember them too.

I recited to my children something I read in the paper the other day It said, "Neither Sputnick or Muttnick can destroy a poem, an act of kindness, or the satisfaction a man gets from [illegible] more in the world than he expects from it."

My son piped up, "There is a danger that we are raising a generation of youngsters who enjoy shooting at sitting ducks, or delight in [illegible] from the hunt more birds than they brought down with their own guns."

"Hey," I said, "that's the point. Did you make that up?"

He grinned and held up a copy of Sports magazine. "Read it ten minutes ago . . . right here."

"Memorize it," I told him, "and remember it. Next time you're tempted to feel sorry for yourself, it'll pop up in your mind."

I am convinced that if every youngster in Canada started life with a determination to do more than his share but ask less than his share, we'd build a nation stronger and greater than the world has known. Unfortunately, too many youngsters are spending [illegible] and sometimes get dirty with it!

ALBERTA EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

CO-OPERATION IN SCHOOL SUPERVISION

Under the Chief Superintendent of Schools, the welfare of education is maintained by continuous co-operation with local school boards. A forward step in rural education was made by the Alberta Government when the province was organized into 52 school divisions and 7 counties, thereby permitting more modern schools and more effective teaching through the centralization of rural school districts. Close liaison is maintained with school boards through 58 provincially appointed School Superintendents, one of whom is assigned to each school division. These men are responsible for working closely with the school board, providing them with advice and interpreting for them the educational policies of the provincial government. The Superintendent also works closely with the principals and teachers in his school Division. Direct supervision and counsel to high school teachers is regularly provided by qualified High School Inspectors who visit all classrooms in the Province from grades 10 to 12. As well, special supervisors are provided to supervise instruction in Home Economics and Industrial Arts in all schools where these courses are taught.

ALBERTA SCHOOL BROADCASTS

One of the most popular government services is the School Radio Broadcast service maintained by the Department of Education which has grown to the point where more than 50% of all classrooms from grades one to nine listen regularly to these informative interesting radio programmes. Prepared under the direction of the School Broadcasts Branch they comprise instruction on social studies, literature, current events, speech, music and so on, based directly on the curriculum. Teacher guides are published to assist in preparing classes for each educational broadcast [illegible]

TEACHING BY AUDIO-VISUAL METHODS

The Provincial Government maintains an Audio-Visual Aids Branch from which films are provided to Alberta Schools free of charge at the request of the School. The library contains some 1200 carefully selected films which cover a wide range of approved curriculum topics for Alberta Schools.

THE ALBERTA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

Another Alberta government service in special education is the modern residential school for the deaf at Edmonton. It provides academic and semi-vocational instruction for Alberta's deaf children between the ages of five and eighteen, all costs of which are borne by the Provincial Government

THE PROVINCIAL INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY AND ART

The Institute is located at Calgary under the direction of the Department of Education and is affiliated with the University of Alberta. The purpose of the Institute is to train men and women for semi-professional positions as assistant engineers and technicians in industry. Courses are terminal and provide the necessary theoretical knowledge and skills for students to qualify, ultimately, for responsible supervisory positions.

"See Better — Learn Better" Week November 25th to 30th

While reading requirements have increased more than 170% since the turn of the century, the care of children's eyesight has not increased correspondingly in the same period, H. C. Arnold, President of The Canadian Association of Optometrists warned today.

He was inaugurating "See Better — Learn Better Week" in Canada, a week set aside on the recommendation of The Canadian Association of Optometrists to bring home to Canadians the urgent need for better eye care.

"Look around you at all the adults who have poor vision today. We in the C.A.O. believe that poor vision can in many cases be prevented and we want to make sure that our children today have the best eye care."

Children today must read 15 times more for school work than was required in 1900, he said. C.A.O. studies show that more than 80% of a child's school work is done "up close."

"A child's eyes are not fully developed at birth. They grow with him and are not fully mature for many years. If they are to grow [illegible] they must be guarded against the strain of too much close work."

"Moreover, eyes that are strained result in poor school work and lower marks," he said. "Eyes should be regularly examined," he said, "with the full battery of tests that reveal every possible defect -- not just the defect of short-sightedness."

"During See Better — Learn Better Week," he said, "we are asking parents to sit down with their children while they do their homework, and watch for any signs of eyestrain that may, up to now, have gone unnoticed."

Alberta's S.C. Govt. Increases Widows and Disabled Pensions

Eligible old age and blind pensioners in Alberta may anticipate no delay in payment of the nine dollar increase to $[illegible] in basic pensions which went into effect across Canada November 1. Efforts are being made to have upward adjustments included in November cheques which will be mailed during the latter part of the month, it was announced this week by Hon. R. D. Jorgenson, Minister of Public Welfare.

New pensioners who become eligible through easing of residence requirements should also be included in November payments. Additions to the list of pensioners and adjustments which cannot be processed before the end of this month will be carried over for payment shortly after the middle of December.

Widows' Pensions and Disabled Persons' Pensions paid entirely by the province are also raised by nine dollars. Increased pensions in other categories are still shared equally by the federal and provincial governments

Overall increases in basic pensions will cost the provincial treasury an estimated $1,450,000 per year. From now to the end of the current fiscal year, March 31, 1958, the cost is placed at $600,000.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by
W. G. MALAHER,
Director,
Research Department,
[illegible] GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

The [illegible] drouth which this year, has affected all of Australia has not only created serious problems for that country but has also changed to some extent the probable pattern of world wheat trade in 1957-58. So serious indeed has been the drouth that Australia, with an estimated outturn of only 70 to 80 million bushels is likely to have little, if any wheat to export when it is considered that her normal domestic needs are approximately 75 million bushels annually and that this year the shortage of feed grains and forage will make additional demands upon available supplies It is more than likely that wheat will have to be shipped into New South Wales and Queensland to make up deficiencies and it has even been suggested that Canada may be called upon to supply some high quality wheat which will assist in meeting her milling requirements

Under a gentleman's agreement made some months ago, Australia was to have supplied the United Kingdom with 750,000 tons annually With offers from Australia withdrawn, however, Britain is already purchasing more French wheat of a similar type to bridge the gap Just how world trade in wheat may be affected by Australia's short crop is not known but it is interesting to note that of the 129 million bushels which she exported last year the major portion went to the United Kingdom India, New Zealand Ceylon Malaya, West Germany, Indonesia and Pakistan, exports having been greatly increased over those of the previous season to both the United Kingdom and India The demand pattern may, of course be different again this season but there is reason to suppose that Canada may stand to benefit, to some extent, because of Australia's inability to export wheat abroad in the months ahead

Making every minute count is the first rule of success — but don't try to count them twice.

Don't be a motor maniac. Use your common sense at the wheel, advises the Canadian Highway Safety Conference. 31-3

Ruth Rodwell, Bruce Hubbard Married at Mannville Church

MANNVILLE. — Baskets of white and bronze mums decorated the Anglican church for the wedding of Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodwell of Ranfurly, to Bruce, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hubbard, Mannville, at three o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Ian Holter officiating.

For the double ring ceremony the bride chose a gown of tier-upon-tier of scalloped Chantilly lace and matching jacket, with pearled and sequined Peter Pan collar Her headpiece was a sequin and pearl jewelled pillbox from which misted her French illusion imported silk veil. She carried a white Bible (gift of the groom) with trailing red rosebuds and a bouquet of red roses.

For their sister's wedding the two bridesmaids, Misses Nora and Margie Rodwell wore matching gowns similar to that of the bride, in colors of blue and pink scalloped tiers of Chantilly lace, cocktail length with feathered headpieces to match. They carried bouquets of colonial pink, blue and white flowers.

Jan Baker was the flower girl, dressed in pink and carrying a basket of blue, pink and white carnations.

Accompanying her as ring bearer was Master Colin Hasinoff, in a charcoal wool suit, carrying both rings on a velvet cushion.

Groom's attendants were Mr. Howard McLuckie and Bernard Chrysler. The ushers were Robert McCauley and Foster Suddaby.

Prior to the vows being pledged Mrs. R. Lugg sang "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Miss Donna Doherty, who played the wedding music During the signing of the register Mrs. Lugg sang "O Perfect Love."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rodwell chose a gown of black crepe with complementing accessories, and a corsage of mums. For her son's wedding Mrs. A. Hubbard chose for her dress an afternoon frock of old lace over satin, with complementing accessories and a corsage of mums.

At a reception in the Orange Hall Mr. Hunter proposed the toast to the bride after which the groom responded

Mrs. Lugg, accompanied by Miss Doherty, sang for the gathering "At Dawning." Following this Howard McLuckie read telegrams of congratulations to the happy couple Mr Nestor Bohaichuk and Dr. D. Hasinoff took movies at the reception supper, to which approximately one hundred guests sat down.

En route to her honeymoon in the United States the bride chose for her going away costume a fitted charcoal suit with Persian blue hat, scarf and gloves, with jewelry to match, the latter being the gift of the groom, black shoes and purse. Her corsage was of yellow Talisman roses.

The young couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Vestry Hold Card Party, Mannville

MANNVILLE. — The United Church vestrymen were hosts at a card party held on Wednesday last week in the church hall in the evening with a fair crowd in attendance. Two radios kept fans aware of football scores while the card game continued despite moments of suspense. Of the ten tables in play, Mrs. Malin emerged victorious winning first prize and Mrs McLuckie won the consolation. In the men's efforts, a tie between R. Scott and Mrs. Norman acting as a gent, resulted in Mrs. Norman capturing first and Ivan Smith the consolation. OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Loss of Crude Oil Markets Worries Alberta Government

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Premier Manning and members of his cabinet are finding themselves in an unusual position. For the first time in at least 10 years, they're worried about money.

They're wondering how they'll raise the cash for the huge budgets to which Alberta has become accustomed, if the current decline in oil production continues, and if gas export is delayed further.

This was the biggest problem Premier Manning took to Ottawa with him this week when he went to attend Prime Minister Diefenbaker's conference on federal-provincial financial and tax-sharing matters.

The premier planned further discussions with Mr. Deifenbaker on the disappearanc of the U.S. Pacific Northwest market for Alberta oil. Indications are he wants the prime minister to take it up with Washington. The situation is that Middle East and Venezuelan oil are squeezing out Alberta crude.

And Alberta is losing large chunks of royalty money every day the market is slack. The province's oil fields are capable of producing around 700,000 barrels per day, but October production was just slightly more than 300,000.

The trouble is, royalties may not increase for the time being. Premier Manning hasn't said what the plans are regarding the dividend. Conceivably, if things became too bad it would have to be dropped. A reduced payment would be embarrassing enough, but the legislation stipulates that one-third of the year's royalties be set aside for the payoff.

This, however, isn't the half of it. If the market situation continues in it's present state, there is danger of a cutback in oil and gas exploration. And this, in turn, would mean a cutback in oil company purchases of crown reserve leases and reservations. These sales, of course, are what have brought in the big money since 1947. In addition to the market slump here, there is a two percent drop in gasoline sales all over the continent, and that isn't helping matters.

Of course the government has known that revenue from oil had to drop sometime. But for several years now it has been expecting royalties from exported gas to take up the slack.

However, gas export is still delayed. And Prime Minister Deifenbaker's recent statement that a federal policy on gas export will be delayed until the finish of a royal commission study of energy resources hasn't helped any.

More important though, the situation could affect the government's whole financial position. Unless the picture improves, the government might be faced with cutting back expenditures. Highway construction and public buildings would probably feel the pinch first, and all 'frills' would certainly be out.

It would be suicide to cut down on welfare and health services, and the government is deeply committed to continue it's programs of aid for education and municipal services. Maybe that sales tax talk isn't just talk after all.

The situation adds a note of urgency to the proposed revamping of provincial municipal financial relations. With the danger of less money being available for the municipalities, the government probably wants to get rid of the present grant system and establish a new method of distributing whatever amounts of money are surplus.

The provincial auditor's interim report for the first six months of the year isn't encouraging. Released last week, the report shows that for the first time since the 1930's the province had to run up a bank overdraft of $15,732,760. In addition, it had to dip into it's reserves for $26,871,734 to make ends meet. This means expenditures exceeded revenue by $51,435,494. Of course, the province's financial position is still good, but all in all these are trying times for the government.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

By James A. Smith

M. P. for Battle River-Camrose Federal Constituency

The debate on the Address in reply [illegible] Speech from the throne was finally completed on Friday November 15. While the actual time devoted to this débate is limited to ten sitting days of Parliament, it took well [illegible] a month to find these ten days in which to complete this phase of the work of this session of Parliament, this debate being set aside for the discussion of such matters as Cash Advances on Farm Stored Grain, Increases in benefits to our Senior Citizens, Veterans and other deserving citizens.

The need for cash advances, for increased benefits to our senior citizens, veterans and others has been urged in Parliament by us for many years, and as a consequence this legislation received not only our support but nearly unanimous approval of all the [illegible].

In speaking on the Cash Advances measure, I pointed out that while we welcomed this legislation, we did feel that it must be considered only as a temporary partial solution, that the surplus of grain would continue to be a problem to Canada just so long as we maintain trading policies which have proven to be ineffectual. It is generally conceded that instead of having a world surplus of food today, we have an acute shortage The Prime Minister himself pointed this out when he spoke at the opening of the Saskatoon exhibition on July 22, and I quote his words

"To those who think that in Agriculture we have arrived at a point where we need no longer expand, I say this I learned one lesson at the Commonwealth Conference in London We must expand our agricultural development. With one-quarter of the world's population going to bed hungry at night, methods must be found to enable the distribution of our surpluses to the end that happiness will come to the people of the world"

The Social Credit Members have constantly argued that our so-called 'surpluses' should not pose as a national problem but rather would become a blessing if realistic trading policies were followed which would place this food in the mouths of the hungry peolpe of the world. A revamping of our whole concept of marketing is one of the major problems which this Parliament as a body must tackle this session. Our markets must not only be restored to what they were in former years, but new markets must be developed. While the Prime Minister knows this, he has not yet done anything of an effective nature Instead of our export trade increasing since the Diefenbaker Government took office, it has actually decreased If the Government does not choose to take action along these lines our future prospects, as far as trade is concerned, are black in[illegible].

Much concern is being expressed in the House over the steady increase of our unemployment We are given to understand that this situation is already very serious in certain areas in Canada, and fear has been expressed that unless there is some relaxation in our present tight money policy that we can look forward to ever increasing numbers of able bodied men and women out of work Surely we do not have to face another depression or any semblance of one at this time. But we must face realities the warning signs are already flashing [illegible] slow downs in basic industries high interest rates credit restrictions [illegible] continual rise [illegible] cost of living [illegible] small businesses being forced to close [illegible] surpluses of consumer goods lack of markets all dangers to the well being of a buoyant prosperous economy

During the course of my talk on the Speech from the Throne I asked the Government to give very serious consideration to the following suggestions

1 That the Government make an all out attempt to increase our overseas markets by accepting sterling or the currency of other lands by engaging in barter deals and in instances where the people of other nations are actually hungry and have no funds [illegible] our [illegible] outright gifts.

2 The immediate establishment of government owned permanent storage facilities in Western Canada and immediate extension of [illegible] policy of off-site storage so that the grain can be moved from the farm [illegible] proper [illegible].

3 The immediate appointment of a transport controller with not only the responsibility but the authority to see that there is an equitable distribution of box cars in the West at all times so that the farmers will be able to deliver their grain to the elevators of their own choice.

4. The equalization of the floor prices on hogs right across Canada to remove the discrimination that now exists, so far as Western hog producers are concerned.

5. Amendments to the Canadian Farm Loan Act which will make this Act of greater use to the farmers of Canada and in particular to young men who wish to enter the agricultural industry.

6. Extension of the Prairie Farmers Rehabilitation Act, so that it will include other areas in Western Canada, particularly those in B. C. and those north of the Palliser triangle in Alberta [illegible].

7. Broadening the scope of the Agricultural Prices Support Act, in order to make this Act of some worthwhile value to the farmers from coast to coast in Canada.

8. A thorough investigation into the freight rate structure with a view to eliminating the discriminatory rates which are now in effect in Western Canada.

9. The establishment of a committee to explore the possibility of setting up some type of unemployment insurance for farm labour in Canada.

10. To give serious consideration to the establishment of an all risk crop insurance plan, in conjunction with the province, for all agricultural products grown in Canada.

In closing I wish to thank your Editor for making this space available to me. I always welcome any opportunity which permits me to give my constituents a brief report of the work of Parliament.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather is grand for this time of year. Nov 22 was a lovely warm day with slightly lower temperatures following. There is not very much snow.

Sorry about the errors in last news — the Garner family from Dewberry were at the Hudson's Bay store and Curly presented them with a pound of Fort Garry coffee.

There is a dance only in Allandale on Dec 6th. Everybody welcome.

It is Jimmy Martin and not Nelson, doing carpenter work on the Pool elevator in Islay.

Mrs. Omness spent most of the week of Nov 18th in town at the Fleming home helping while Mrs. Fleming was in hospital.

The school now has a new look on the inside. Six willing workers tore out a partition leaving the small room on the north-east corner. A porch was donated by Idelore Nelson some time ago and now the men have put a floor in it, a window and a door. A great improvement to our hall is the result of all this activity and gives much more room.

The week of Nov 18th Mr and Mrs Jimmy Armstrong and family motored to the city to attend a football game and to visit relatives.

Eddie Throndson and Ralph Strome took a truckload of cattle to Edmonton and attended the football game while there.

On Nov 22 Mr and Mrs. Lee Nelson left for Prince George, B.C. Lee will be employed at the Martin Bros. mill.

The card party at the school on Nov 22 was well patronized, ten tables of whist were played. Prizes were won by Ladies' first, George Mead, playing as a lady, Mrs Thelma Armstrong and Mrs F Throndson. Three tied for men's first, Ort Strome, George Richardson and Fred West with Ort winning out.

Herb McPhee was a guest of the Vermilion Rotarians at the banquet held in Clandonald on Nov 21st. He was taken by Mr Stephens and reported a wonderful evening. He appreciated their hospitality very much.

Misses Margaret and Kathryn Laird of Clandonald spent last week end at the Omness home. Mr and Mrs Laird motored to the city to attend the Bank of Toronto convention.

Leonard and Irene McPhee are taking square dance lessons at Bowtell, while Myrna McPhee who attends high school in town also takes lessons coming out to Bowtell with her uncle and aunt Mr and Mrs John David. Mr Johnny Maxwell is caller.

Closing Thought: Living safely. Safety is of vital importance to all of us. It costs nothing yet pays off in a big way. It's just as easy to be careful as it is to be careless. It's all a matter of habit and the habits we form may mean the difference between suffering and happiness for ourselves and others. Only one careless moment may cost you your life so think before you act. The Christmas season is just around the corner so do practice good safety habits, now and always.

A Dime's Worth Of Hope

Canada's share of the cost of keeping up the United Nations works out at about 10 cents per person, points out The Financial Post which comments: It's true that Canada, like the other 81 members does not always get precisely the results she would like to have from her support of the UN.

Nevertheless, it's most unlikely that Canada would get better results from any other form of international activity. As a small nation with great friends, Canada can operate more effectively in a UN setting than she could in a non-organized world.

What we buy with our assessment is not a guarantee of peace and prosperity on terms favorable to us, we buy a dime's worth of opportunity or perhaps a dime's worth of hope. Any way you look at it, it's a bargain.

Paradise Valley Couple Honored; Fifty Years of Community Service

PARADISE VALLEY — On Wednesday evening Nov 20th, friends of Mr and Mrs. W. A. Gunn gathered in the Paradise Valley Community hall to honor this popular couple of "Old Timers" who have contributed so much towards building all that is worthwhile in the community.

Upon entering the hall Mrs. W. A. Nickle presented Mr. and Mrs. Gunn with a corsage and boutonniere, then they were escorted to their seats at the front of the hall by Mrs. Nickle and Mr. A. M. Levitt while their friends sang, "There's Just a Little Street Where Old Friends Meet". This was followed by a short community sing-song, led by Mr. E. Walter and his Valley Nightingales, accompanied by Mrs. M. Hoskins at the piano.

Mr. D. B. Baxter was M.C. for the evening and he gave a very interesting history of the Gunn family, which had been prepared by Mrs. W. A. Nickle.

The audience thoroughly enjoyed the following program:

A series of jokes, imitations, pantomines and tap dancing by Messrs. Dowson and Schlitt of radio station CKSA, assisted by Neal Moffat; a trio by the Gunn's granddaughters, Sharon, Maureen and Beverly Dobson, accompanied at the piano by their mother, Mrs. Park Dobson; a violin solo by Mr Allan Weeks, accompanied by Mrs. Weeks; a trio by Mrs. H. A. Welsh and Mr. and D. L. Clark, accompanied by Mrs. M. Hoskins. Mr and Mrs. H. Leighton gave a very amusing skit "Mr and Mrs. Gunn Sorting the Mail".

The [illegible]m came to a close with Mr. Parke Dobson, assisted by his three daughters singing "Grandmother's Old Arm Chair".

A delicious lunch was enjoyed by all followed by Miss Sharon Walter who spoke on behalf of the C.G.I.T. and presented Mrs Gunn with a gift from the girls.

A message of appreciation was given by Mr N. Stepenoff on behalf of the school board. Mrs. H. E. Swayne represented the Garden Club and Miss Linda Stepenoff gave Mrs. Gunn a gift from the group. Mr. G. M. Venner on behalf of the United Church, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Gunn for the faithful service they have given to the church and Sunday school. Mrs. J. W. Gordon spoke for the Women's Association and mentioned that Mrs. Gunn is to receive a Life Membership pin from that organization in the near future.

Mrs. D. B. Baxter thanked Mr. and Mrs. Gunn for their support and interest on behalf of the curling clubs. A guest book and purse from their many friends was presented to the Gunns by Mrs. G. M. Venner.

In a few well chosen words both Mr. and Mrs. Gunn expressed their appreciation and thanks to their many friends for a wonderful evening.

The happy gathering came to a close by everyone singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Annual Meeting of The Farmer-Owned Alberta Wheat Pool Now in Session

The annual meeting of the farmer-owned Alberta Wheat Pool opened in Calgary on Tuesday of this week and is expected to last for ten days.

A. T. Baker, general manager, told the 70 delegates, representing all regions of the province, that the organization had experienced another favorable year. Grain handlings through country elevators amounted to about 61,300,000 bushels or 37 percent of all grain marketed in the province. This was an increase of more than 7,000,000 bushels over the previous year.

Net earnings for the 1956-57 season were $1,292,815 after taking into account normal and special capital cost allowance (depreciation) totalling $2,020,981. This was a little higher than in 1955-56. Later in the week delegates will decide on the distribution of earnings and it is likely most will go out to members as patronage dividends or in the purchase of reserves.

Mr. Baker reported the construction of six new elevators, the purchase of five and the demolition of three old elevators, bringing the total at July 31 last to 533. The capacity of the Pool country elevator system was increased by about 750,000 bushels in the last crop year making a total of nearly 40,000,000.

As a result of low ocean freights, a record volume of grain moved through West Coast ports in the past year and Mr. Baker said the Alberta Wheat Pool shared in this large movement. A 2,000,000 bushel extension to the Pool's Vancouver terminal was completed during the year. Another large terminal is located at Port Arthur. It, too, handled an increased volume of [illegible].

For the first time in history there was a heavy movement of flax to Pacific ports and cleaning machinery installed in the Pool terminal was operated on a 24-[illegible]. There was also a substantial westward movement of rapeseed for the first time.

Delegates will discuss agricultural problems and particularly the disposal of surplus wheat and the cost-price squeeze.

Among the delegates attending the Pool's annual meeting is Geo Bennett, of Mannville.

Alberta Govt. Loans $18 Million For Rural Power

October loans granted from the provincial government's $20 million Rural Electrification Revolving Fund totalled $110,640.36. This brings the total of loans granted since inception of the fund in 1953 up to the end of October this year, to $18,263,317. Repayments to the end of the same month amounted to $4,902,731.19, leaving a balance of $6,639,413.73 available for loan at November 1, 1957.

WE'RE NOT SO SMART

Wanted — More Canadian inventors.

The reason, says The Financial Post, is that U.S. inventors are dominating Canada's list of new patents.

Figures just released by the Commissioner of Patents show that Canadian residents obtained only 4.9% (or 761) of the 15,513 patents issued in the year ended March 31, 1957.

U.S. inventors outdistanced the field by wrapping up a big 71.7% (or 11,131) of the new patents.

The standing of [illegible] European countries 12.% (1,[illegible]); U.K. 10.5% (1,630); Commonwealth, African and the Asian countries, 111 (less than 1%).

Applications for patents numbered 21,762, up 714 over the previous year.

The World's Best Wheat

Canada's western-raised prime minister admitted a shock when he learned that an exhibit of wheat grown in Great Britain had carried off the sweepstake at the Royal Winter Fair. Mr Diefenbaker, and probably many other Canadians too, naturally expected that our own prairie-grown wheat would have no difficulty in holding the top award.

In normal years, says The Financial Post, there is little doubt that Western Canada grows the finest hard spring wheat in the world, at least on a substantial scale. But that is only one kind. There is winter wheat, which is quite different. This is the kind largely grown in Great Britain, in Eastern Canada and indeed throughout most of the world. This is not a hard wheat, nor is it supposed to be.

It would be quite possible, of course, to have a hand-picked sample of this soft wheat that would be considered more outstanding in its class than a hand-picked sample of spring wheat in its particular group.

This is what seems to have happened at the Royal this year and Canadians will congratulate the winner.

TEST PLANTS

Petunias and plum trees, carrots and tomatoes are being planted in the grounds of some industrial plants, reports The Financial Post. The reason — they are among the flowers and vegetables which quickly register damage when the air is polluted.

FEAR CAN HARM YOUR CHILD

It is normal for your child to be frightened at times. But if his fears are too intense or too prolonged they can be harmful and cause much permanent damage to his developing personality. For this reason take his fears and worries seriously and make every effort to relieve them.

Some fears are brief and immediately forgotten, like a loud noise, or a scary Hallowe'en mask. Others are lasting and deeply injurious. Fear of authority may develop from a father who is too stern; fear of soiling from too rigid toilet training; fear of dirt from constant harsh scolding for getting dirty during his play. The list is a long one. Whatever seems to make you withdraw your love will worry your child because he loves and needs you so much. Avoid the growth of such fears in your child by being tolerant and friendly about his progress, or lack of it, in his eating, playing or keeping dry. Praise him for his efforts even if they are clumsy. If you make him feel a failure he will be full of fears.

Afraid of being alone in the dark at bedtime is common—and the child cannot be persuaded there is nothing to fear. Ridicule or stern measures only make it harder for him. He is showing how badly he needs comfort, love and reassurance, not just at bedtime but during the day too. The usual cause is lack of self-confidence. Ease up on your scoldings. They make him feel guilty, a failure. Halt the battles over toilet training and eating. And if Dad has been using the "stern father" method, he'll soften up when he realizes his child needs less managing and more affection and approval. Praise your child's little successes and so build up his inner security.

For the two-year-old, leaving the bedroom door partly open will help. Fear of bed-wetting can make a child of his age afraid to go to sleep. His bladder control is not yet perfect and he may be afraid he'll lose his mother's love if he wets his bed. Such a child needs to be told his mother loves him, wet or dry.

THIS WORLD CAN BE FRIGHTENING

A child of three or four often fears thunderstorms, snakes, cats, dogs, etc. especially if the parent has shown similar fears in his presence. Or he may imagine frightening things. Reassure him and avoid ridicule. He needs affection to help him over the insecurity that is the basis for such fears. And show him that you are not afraid, but appreciate his feeling the way he does.

Your child is more disturbed about family matters than you probably realize. Discuss such domestic troubles out of his hearing. Fear of death shows up at this age and you can allay his worries by treating the subject reassuringly, telling your child that people don't usually die until they are old and (with a cheerful hug) we'll all be happy together for a long time! Meet his questions honestly and cheerfully.

Parents often promote a child's fears through ambition for him to shine. If you want him to be the tidiest, best-dressed and best mannered of all children and push him too hard to reach unnatural and impossibly high standards, he'll very likely react by not showing off as you desire. Instead, he'll show symptoms of fear, maybe not obviously but in some "nervous" habits.

DO YOU CRITICIZE TOO FREELY?

Many parents criticize a child constantly. They feel that unless they do this he won't have the urge to improve and won't grow up properly. Criticism is a form of punishment. It can make your child feel afraid and insecure. Don't withhold your praise and admiration because you think he will become conceited. He should know that his parents are always ready to appreciate and enjoy him. He will come along faster if you tell him now and then what a wonderful child he is.

A child who cringes as a result of harsh or frequent punishment has been made emotionally sick. His days and night are full of fears. He may start lying and deceiving just to protect himself against pain and humiliation. No thoughtful parent will use such punishment.

Prof. Gads' Address On "Sputniks and Mutniks" Attracts Capacity Audience Friday Evening

Gaining in popularity year by year, thanks to the excellence of guest speakers, the Town and Country banquet held on Friday evening under the auspices of the Vermilion Board of Trade, proved an unqualified success. Too much praise cannot be paid to Professor L. E. Gads, Faculty of Engineering of the University of Alberta. Dr. Gads held his audience of 182 persons, enthralled with his witty and humorous speech which at the same time carried a very large amount of information about satellites, ballistic missiles, and of the experiments now being carried on by Russia, and which will soon be emulated by the United States.

Just in case anyone was interested in space travel, Prof. Gads stated that at the speed of the present Russian Sputnik, it would take three days to reach the moon, while a trip could be made from earth, right around the moon and back to earth in two weeks. Reaching the planets would be a two months' journey, Mars four months, Jupiter five years and some other 23 years.

Mentioning the Russian dog which was sent aloft in Sputnik, the Professor stated the reason for this was doubtless to see if it is possible to live with no gravity. The dog lived for a week.

The entire talk was spiced with rare humor, wit as well as a great deal of knowledge.

G. W. Sutherland who was associated with Prof. Gads in the days of the last world war, both being attached to the Education branch of the R.C.A.F. introduced the guest speaker in an excellent and humorous vein, very much in keeping with the address which followed.

Professor Gads was born in Turkistan. He arrived in this country following the first world war as a youth of 18 years, unable to speak English, and with nothing in his pocket. Since that time he has made his way, obtained a university education to the degree of just about achieving his Doctor of Philosophy. He served with the R.C.A.F. during the war in the Education branch and then spent some time in occupied Germany as an interpreter.

The gathering was the largest for the annual banquet in the history of the Board of Trade. It was held in the Legion hall and accommodation was stretched to the limit. Catering was by the Canadian Legion W.A.

Acting as chairman on the special occasion was Mr. Israel Miller, President of the Board of Trade. Guests were the Presidents and their wives of the Farm Union Locals of the adjacent rural districts. These guests were introduced by Mr. E. H. Buckingham.

Expressing thanks for the fine address, excellent meal and enjoyable gathering, on behalf of the rural people, was Mr. Ralph Wilson, alternate director of the F.U.A. for district No. 14.

Tribute was paid to Mr. and Mrs. Manson Barr whose son Robert won a first prize and reserve championship at the Toronto Royal Fair. The honors were done by Mr. Ashley Cooper who outlined the success of the Barr children during the past year at livestock shows in Calgary, Edmonton and Toronto. He paid tribute to the parents for the encouragement, knowledge, guidance and aspiration which has resulted in the outstanding success of their family. Louise, Keith and Bob Barr have reached the championship circles in every livestock show in which they have exhibited this year, Calgary, Edmonton and now the Toronto Royal, at which shows the competition and showmanship is the best to be found anywhere.

Acting Mayor K. E. Rowe congratulated the Board of Trade for convening such a fine effort which brought town and country people together at a very enjoyable social event. The gathering then adjourned with the singing of the 'Queen' after which many took the opportunity to meet Professor Gads to express thanks for his very entertaining address.

Former Vermilion Couple In Edmonton Tragedy

A couple who spent several months living in Vermilion during the fall of 1956 and spring of 1957 were involved in a tragedy in Edmonton this past week. Mrs. McQueen-Smith was an instructor on the staff of the V.S.A. and the family lived in a house in the west end of town. The following account is taken from the Edmonton Journal:

WANTED MAN FOUND DEAD

Edgar MacQueen-Smith, 44, of 10027 83 Ave., Edmonton, wanted by city police for questioning in connection with the brutal beating of his wife, was found dead in his car at a cabin at Lake Wabamun west of Edmonton on Saturday.

Mrs. MacQueen-Smith is in the University hospital where her condition is reported as satisfactory. She is recovering from 20 head wounds and a skull fracture. She told police she was beaten with a 10-inch crescent wrench at her home Friday night.

Police launched a search for the man shortly after the beating. RCMP were called to the Wabamun area Saturday when it was reported a man was dead in his car parked near a cabin.

An RCMP spokesman in Edmonton said the man's death appeared to be suicide. He said a hose was attached from the car's exhaust and led into the window of the car. Death has been attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mrs. MacQueen-Smith told the police she was lying in bed Friday night when her husband entered and began beating her with a wrench.

Pioneer Clergyman and Wife Are Honored At Elk Point

ELK POINT. — A pioneer Alberta clergyman and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Day, were guests of honor at the 5th annual banquet of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce. The banquet is held for the purpose of paying tribute to worthy citizens of the town and district. Also introduced were the winners of the 4-H Forage club.

This Jubilee banquet proved to be a three-fold anniversary for the Rev Mr Day. He was ordained at Toronto in the year 1907, entered the ministry of the Anglican church. He first answered a call as a missionary among the Indians at the isolated settlement of Fort Simpson in the far north, located along the McKenzie River. 1957 is also the Golden Wedding anniversary year for Mr and Mrs Day. The village of Elk Point celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1957 having been established in 1907.

Mr and Mrs Day have many moments to remember while in the north. They were hosts while there to the author Alice Deans Cameron who wrote "The New North". Then again the noted explorer John Steffanson was a guest of theirs while at Fort Simpson.

After the Rev and Mrs. Day left the far north they spent two years in charge of the Anglican church at Vermilion, settling after that at Elk Point.

"After fifty years of life well blended
Fifty years of service rendered,
Fifty years devotion tended,
May God's blessings be upon them never ended."

Mr C Bone as president of the Elk Point Chamber, was the chairman. A toast to the ladies was proposed by Mr. Ronnie Barwick and answered by Mrs. Tredger. A token gift was presented to the honored guests by Mr. E. Brailsford. A sumptuous turkey supper was served by the United Church Ladies Aid, giving a satisfied feeling of goodwill to the 120 guests present.

Films of local happenings of the year at Elk Point were shown including the Jubilee year parade which topped the attractions for the celebration of June. Another highlight was the visit of Vernon Grey, movie star, who has completed ten years with the J Arthur Ranks Corporation of England. Vernon Grey is now filming a picture in Africa with M.G.M. He lived and was educated in Elk Point. All of this along with the opening of the new elementary school, meant that Elk Point had a very successful Golden Jubilee year.

Anglican Vicar Is T.V. Host, Mannville

MANNVILLE. — Football fans of the Mannville district had no worries about Grey cup tickets being sold out, for they all gathered, who wished, in the Anglican church hall where the vicar, Rev. C. C. McPherson set up his TV set with the aid of R. Forsyth. Result: Everyone interested could see the game, and even though the reception was not too good that day, it was exciting to view the plays during moments of clear periods.

Pre-Lenten Supper Held at Derwent

DERWENT. A pre-lenten 'Pyrohy' supper was sponsored by the Ukranian Catholic Church committee on November 25, at the Derwent National Hall. A variety of 'pyrohy' were served, coffee, fruit jello and cake. Refreshments were served and a dance followed the supper. A cushion top donated by Mrs. Bill Wysocki was raffled during the evening and Eleanor Charchun was the lucky ticket holder. A large crowd was in attendance.

LOST FOREVER

Disagreeable days are not subject to recall, so make the most of it when the going is good.

Les Williams To Coach The Tigers

One of Vermilion's most popular and talented hockey stars will coach the Vermilion Tigers for the coming season. Les Williams, just as smart a manipulator of the steel blades as ever donned a skate locally has agreed to do whatever he can for the team. Ice-making is a slow process this fall with little or no frost finding its way into the arena rink so that the day for practices to start is open to guess at the present time.

Until the turn-out for practice is called it is not known how many aspirants there will be for the team. Indications are that with an all-local line up no less than thirty players will be striving for a place on the first string.

GAMES TO START DEC. 14 IN VERMILION

Regular league games are scheduled to open in Vermilion on Saturday Dec 14th, weather permitting, with the Wainwright Commandos meeting the Tigers right in our own arena.

Vermilion then goes to Bonnyville on Wednesday, Dec. 18th, and on Saturday Dec. 21st the new entry, Bonnyville, will be back in Vermilion.

Watch next week's Standard for full details of the schedule.

Where Is It? Who Has It?

The Tigers need a first aid kit, and the one belonging to the club cannot be located. Who has it? Where is it? Parked away for safekeeping no doubt, but where? Jack Brown, president of the Tigers would dearly like to have it as the training season for his Tigers is due to start right away.

26 Rinks Compete In Farmers' 'Spiel

Twenty-six rinks are now competing in the annual Farmer's Bonspiel and are trying to wrest the Webb trophy from Harold Wilson of Mannville. The Wilson rink has won it three years in a row. Finals of the spiel will be played Saturday evening.

Rotary Xmas Tree To be Feature of Christmas Season

Arrangements have been made by the Vermilion Rotary club whereby all persons wishing to do so may donate Christmas gifts to needy children in the town and district. This plan was inaugurated by the Rotarians last Christmas and proved very successful.

The Rotary Christmas tree will be conveniently located in the lobby of the Bank of Commerce. Those who have gifts for needy children are invited to place them on the tree at any time from now to Christmas. Each gift should be marked with the age of a child for whom it would be suitable and whether it should go to a boy or girl. The gifts may be clothing or toys.

The Salvation Army in Vermilion have undertaken to distribute all the gifts placed on the tree.

Christmas Mails On Increase

Postmaster Don Taylor informs us that overseas parcel mail for Christmas is just about over and that domestic mail is on the increase. He asks the Standard to bring to the attention of its readers to pack and tie parcels securely, not with tissue paper and ribbon, be sure they are fully addressed with a return address included inside as well as out.

In connection with two-cent Xmas cards separate the locals from those going out of town, tie in bundles or hand in at the wicket. Do not include any first class mail in these bundles.

Get your parcels and cards away early. Do not wait until the last minute. Remember that last suggested mailing date in Alberta by the 14th with locals by the 17th.

Your cooperation along these lines would be much appreciated by the post office staff and would do much to speed up the despatch and delivery of mails during the rush season. [illegible]

Turkey Bingo At Derwent

The Derwent Curling Club are holding a 10 Turkey Bingo in the Derwent town hall on Friday Dec 13th commencing at 8.00 p.m. Admission is $1.00. Win your Christmas dinner for a dollar! [illegible]

Wainwright Back In the E. A. H. L.

A telegraphic vote from the seven teams in the Eastern Alberta Hockey league favored the application of Wainwright for re-entry into the league by 5 votes to two.

The addition of Wainwright boosts the number to eight teams and necessitated an interlocking schedule being drawn up.

St. Paul, Bonnyville, Vermilion and Wainwright will form group A, while Lloydminster, Maidstone, Lashburn and Neilburg will fall into section B.

Each team will play two rounds in their own group and one lone round in the other group, so that all teams will be seen in action in every town in the big circuit.

Kitscoty Board Of Trade Reorganized

Twenty citizens of Kitscoty assembled in the Legion hall on Monday, November 25th, for the purpose of reorganizing the Kitscoty Board of Trade, which had not been active for some time.

Officers elected included:
President — M. Christofferson
Vice-President — Dick Evans
Secy Treas. — C. A. Richardson

Convenors of various committees were: Road Committee, C. W. Miller; Membership, Bert Stokes; Rural, Archie McLean; Town, R. D. Trask.

Regular meeting dates were set for the first Monday of the month at 8 p.m. commencing on January 6th, 1958, meeting on alternate months.

The secretary was instructed to register the Kitscoty and District Chamber of Commerce with the federated association of Canada.

Arrangements were made for a speaker for the next meeting.

General discussions took place on several problems closely related to the welfare of the Village of Kitscoty, and the meeting closed on a distinctly optimistic note for the future of the Chamber. Everybody is welcome to come to the next meeting in January.

Buys Grocery At Mannville

MANNVILLE. The local Red and White store formerly owned and operated by John North has been sold to Donald Lawrenceson. The place of business will be known as "Don's Meat and Groceries" and will be run by Donnie and wife Doris, well known young newlyweds of Mannville. Monday was their first day in the new business. Mr North will pursue further business interests elsewhere, while the family remain here as Mrs. North is on the teaching staff of the local school.

Not Same Man

The Lawrence Harris who was killed in an accident at Camp Borden Ont. on Nov 28 was not the Lawrence Harris formerly of Vermilion. It was mistakenly reported that it was the Vermilion man of the same name in last week's Standard.

Iron Removal Plant in Operation — Beneficial Results Evident

A big forward step for consumers of water in Vermilion was recently completed when the iron removal plant was placed in operation the middle of October.

Still on a more or less of a trial run, the last details are being straightened out and it is expected that final tests will be made after the beginning of the new year.

Capacity of the unit is 200 Imp. gallons per minute and when in full operation it is capable of bringing the iron content down to 0.3 parts per million. The plant is so designed that a second unit may be added when deemed necessary.

Idea of the filtration plant is to remove the iron at the well head before entering the town system. This is accomplished by diffusion of air, by means of compressors, through a pressure filter containing beds of gravel and sand with a "Zeoglas" culture grown to catch the solid particles of iron. The action of the air on the water causes a physical change to the iron and converts it from a soluble to a non-soluble state thereby permitting its removal in the filter.

Eventually the mains, domestic systems, etc., will lose their accumulation of iron gathered over the years, but until they are completely clear, periodic charges of rust will come through the water taps.

Another Water and Sewer Department project commenced and completed during the past year, was the duplicate supply line between the wells and the underground storage tank. This duplicate 10-inch line will make it possible to provide a water supply for increasing water demands of an increasing population.

Three Dewberry Boys Play Hockey In Edmonton

DEWBERRY. Three Dewberry boys are playing hockey in the Edmonton Gardens this winter. The three are Ernie Braithwaite, Lorne Braithwaite and Jimmy Jones.

Ernie Braithwaite, now playing defence with the Oil Kings, scored the clincher goal in a 4-2 win over the Ponoka Stampeders in Edmonton Nov. 26th. He has missed some action lately with a shoulder injury.

Lorne Braithwaite and Jimmy Jones are playing in the Maple Leaf juvenile team; this team plays in a league of juvenile and junior teams and play all their games in the Edmonton Gardens.

As Jimmy and Ernie are attending University, permission has to be given by the Golden Bears for outside activity. The boys may be recalled by the "Bears" when they get going on their natural ice.

Mixed Chorus Sunday, Dec. 15th

Sunday, Dec. 15th is the night of the Carol Concert. This concert is an annual event presented by the Vermilion Mixed Chorus and the entire proceeds go to make up hampers, etc. for the less fortunate in Vermilion and district.

A program consisting of sixteen items will be sung by the chorus. Carols of English, German, French, Polish and Czechoslovakian origin will be included in this evening of Christmas music.

Mark the date on your calendar and plan to give your support to this organization that is giving freely of its time and talent to provide you with an evening of fine entertainment and Christmas cheer where it is most needed and appreciated.

Annual Meeting Of Agricultural Society Friday, Dec. 12th

A very cordial welcome is extended to all district residents to attend the annual meeting of the Agricultural Society which is to be held in George's Lower Deck on Friday evening, Dec. 12 at 8:00 o'clock sharp.

Reports covering the past year's work will be given and plans made for the coming year.

The Society's directors very sincerely appreciate the cooperation of the district in their work and hope for a goodly turnout of citizens, both men and women for the meeting. Coffee and doughnuts will be served on conclusion of the meeting.

In the past year the Society has, in addition to carrying on the annual exhibition, held short courses for farm men and women, sponsored a farm and home improvement competition and a calf club show and sale and the usual fall sale of pure-bred beef cattle and hogs.

Considerable work has been done among the younger folk and the yearly summer camp for boys and girls, held in conjunction with the School of Agriculture was, as usual, an outstanding success with 125 farm boys and girls taking part. The Vermilion camp has been said by Dominion Government officials to be the most comprehensive in Canada and this is doubtless largely due to the Provincial School of Agriculture.

It is hoped that district folks will turn out well for the annual meeting and give the directors the benefit of their advice in keeping Vermilion Fair and its allied endeavors to the forefront among the B Class fairs of Western Canada.

Please bear in mind that ladies are most welcome as well as the men, and that the meeting is scheduled for Friday evening, Dec. 12th at 8:00 o'clock.

Approximately fifty medical and lay people from Alberta's 24 health units attended a two-day joint conference with officials of the Alberta Department of Public Health in Edmonton at the end of November. Shown during pre-session discussion are Miss M. R. Black, senior nurse of Vegreville Health Unit, Vegreville, Miss Dorothy Bailey, Minburn-Vermilion Health Unit, Vermilion, Miss Alice Sampgrad, Department of Health, and L. A. Mahon, chairman Edson Health Unit Board, Edson. Main topics at the conference were proposed changes in the Health Unit Act to provide for inclusion of additional services such as dental hygienists, sanitary inspectors and welfare officers. Proposal was made also that adjacent health units might share the cost and use of expensive clinical equipment which serves a vital but limited medical field. Unit medical health officers and senior nurses met in separate conference the day prior to joint sessions to study common problems in administration and services.

LESS EXCUSE THAN EVER BEFORE—

Never before have the stores in Vermilion been more Christmasy, never before have they been so full of gift merchandise, and never for many a year have these fine goods been so reasonably priced — so never before have shoppers from Vermilion and a wide district less excuse to go elsewhere for their Christmas shopping. You cannot do better than by doing your Christmas shopping right here in your home town.

Nowhere else will you find that friendly atmosphere, where the clerks take a personal interest in you and wish to see you obtain exactly what you want. Shopping in a crowded city can be a tiresome chore; shopping in Vermilion stores is a pleasant pastime. Shop at home this Christmas.

If you have a sense of humor use it occasionally in looking over yourself.

READ EVERY LINE—

This issue of the STANDARD is a veritable gold mine of Christmas gift suggestions. It contains gift ideas for mother, father, sister, brother, in fact, everyone on your gift list. Read every advertisement and you will be able to do your entire Christmas shopping right here at home, quickly, economically and to the delight of the recipients.

Men, who are notoriously poor gift shoppers, would especially benefit by perusing the Xmas suggestions every ad has them, follow the ideas, and the resultant shopping will be easy for you, and there will be delighted female members of the family Christmas morning. Shop where you are invited to shop, through the columns of the STANDARD.

PEDESTRIANS' RIGHT . . . NO LIFE ASSURANCE—

It's against the law for a motorist to strike a pedestrian but that is hardly consolation to a pedestrian who has been hit by a car. The surest way to avoid it, warns the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, is for pedestrians to walk safely, and make a habit of it.

The pedestrian who demands his rights as he walks across or through traffic, seldom realizes that many, too many, things can happen to prevent a motorist from stopping in time. It's night and raining. Pavement is wet, slippery and reflects all the lights in the vicinity while drastically reducing the effectiveness of vehicle headlights. Some vehicles have faulty brakes, or faulty drivers, or both. Even if the brakes and the drivers are in good shape, wet pavement never co-operates with a motorist who wants to stop fast.

If you drop something or lose a rubber of a heel while crossing in traffic even on a green light, never stop to pick it up. Drivers are accustomed to a certain rhythm in traffic, and most will expect the walker to maintain a definite pace. A sudden interruption in that rate of walking can cause a driver to mistake the timing. The result another pedestrian death.

Pedestrians simply cannot afford to take a single chance. Life is the ante in the game of traffic, and the ante is always as high as life itself.

At Sept. 1, 1957, Canada's population was estimated to be 16,745,000, an increase of 552,000 in the preceding 12 months, and of 2,177,000 in a five-year period.

Dear Editor:

On Sunday evening, Dec. 15th at 9 p.m. the Vermilion Mixed Chorus will again present their annual Christmas Carol Concert in the Columbia theatre. The date and place have been chosen so there will not be confliction with any other Xmas activities. I do wish to strongly urge the good people of Vermilion and district to attend this well worthwhile effort, we have been forced to rely on the generous support of those attending, being on Sunday, a fixed charge is not allowed.

Certain facts need to be stressed: first, the net proceeds all go to help in a small way for Christmas hampers to be presented to the ones who are less fortunate than ourselves, handled through the good offices of the local Stagettes, and I do mean "net" the only deduction being necessary expenses for advertising, and the carting of equipment to and from the theatre. This group is so enthused all the music was paid for by each member. Mr Kowalchuk usually donates the theatre. Mr. Brown gets thanked by the kindly remarks (complimentary and otherwise) from the male section of the chorus. Dr Stephens is in his usual place at the piano. What we wish is this, a full house, and a very full collection plate, the theatre holds 400 people, is it too much to ask that the returns do net over $130? Proceeds last year were extremely disappointing.

Thank you for your space, and I feel music lovers will do their share.

Thos. Watts, President.
Vermilion Mixed Chorus.

Double-Ring Wedding Ceremony Unites John Lizotte, Hilda Brass

On Saturday, November 23rd First United Church, Vermilion, was the setting for the pretty home-town wedding of Hilda Rachel Coralie, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney G. Brass, to John David Lizotte, only son of Mrs. Doris E. and the late W. J. Lizotte of Fort Vermilion.

Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the impressive double-ring ceremony before the altar decorated with baskets of vari-colored mums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was an original model in cocktail-length fashioned from rows of French Chantilly lace with long-sleeved bolero of nylon net. Her matching veil was attached to a Juliette cap adorned with pearl drops. She wore earrings and pendant to match and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and heather.

Betty Brass, sister-in-law of the bride as matron of honor and Deirdre Lizotte, sister of the groom as bridesmaid, preceded her up the aisle. They wore identically styled cocktail-length gowns of charm crystal in rose pink and mallard blue. They wore feather bandeaux in matching shades and carried bouquets of white baby mums.

Attending the groom were Mr. Rupert Clarke and Mr. Gerald Brass. Mr. Beverly Baldock, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Gordon Allen ushered the guests to their pews.

Mrs. A. M. West provided the music. Mr. Thos. Watts as soloist gave added beauty to the ceremony with his rendition of "The Wedding Prayer" and during the signing of the register sang "Bless This House".

An open reception at the home of the bride followed immediately after. A short delay was caused as the bride and groom paid a short visit to friends ill in hospital.

For receiving their guests the mother of the bride wore charcoal dress with pink accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy gown and both chose corsages of pink carnations.

The bride's table was laid with a hand-made cloth centred by a three-tiered cake topped with a vase of pink rosebuds. Against the vase rested a tiny gold horseshoe and dove. Silver candelabra with white tapers stood at either side.

Mr. G. S. Maxwell as toastmaster paid a very heartwarming tribute to the bride to which the groom responded.

Pouring tea and coffee during the reception were Mrs Neil MacLean and Mrs. Iris Clarke. The guest book was in charge of Alayne Stone and Jean Hildreth.

The arrangements for refreshments were attended to by Mrs. Jory, Myrtle Killion, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Maggs and Mrs. Toner.

Serviteurs were Helen Schmidt, Alice Allen, Anna Nelson, Pat McLaughlin, Dorothy Westman, Anne Bristow, Ethel Hodgson, Genie Sadowyk and Anne Baldock.

Mrs. T. L. Conboy, Janey Mayer and Frances Mills displayed the gifts.

Telegrams of good wishes were received from relatives of the bride in Saskatchewan and friends from Saint Catharines residence, Edmonton, and friends of the groom from Fort Vermilion. Also telephone [illegible] from the Chessick family, the Stephen family and Mrs. George Duffield, all from Edmonton.

Out of town guests were Mr P. Lizotte, Mr. and Mrs. Art Congdon, Mrs. I Clarke and Mr. Rupert Clarke, Betty and Gerry Brass, all of Edmonton, and Mrs. Doris Lizotte and Miss Deirdre Lizotte of Fort Vermilion.

For going away the bride wore a woven suit with red fur hat and corsage of red and white carnations. Her jewelry, a gift of the groom, were earrings and lapel pin of Oriental silver from Siam.

Mr. and Mrs. Lizotte will make their home in Edmonton.

Miss Hilda Brass Feted At Pre-Nuptial Showers

Miss Hilda Brass was truly surprised when, having been asked to assist in serving a group meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Allen she found instead, a shower in her honor.

In one corner of the room a gaily decorated telephone booth had been set up complete with book and phone. A very business like table was set before the bride-elect but instead of work she was given numerous lovely parcels to open.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Chas. Upshall and Mrs. Len Mills served a sumptuous lunch to conclude the happy evening. There were 28 present to wish Hilda happiness.

On Nov. 21st Mrs. Chas. Heckbert and Mrs. Basil Hawley were co-hostesses with Mrs. A.M. West in the latter's home at a shower for Hilda Brass whose marriage to Mr. John W. Lizotte took place on Nov. 23rd.

The large group of friends assembled in her honor were kept very busy with most novel contests. A clever jumble using names of guests caused real thinking and a good deal of laughter.

The hostesses then placed a beautifully decorated basket piled high with gifts for the bride-elect to open. The lovely presents and the kindness of friends gathered to wish her well only served to remind Hilda that her town is a wonderful one to belong to.

The hostesses provided a delicious lunch to conclude the evening. Hilda, in saying her thanks, asked all her friends to be with her on her special day both at church and at home.

Lodge To Hold Bingo At Mannville

MANNVILLE. At a recent meeting of the Loyal Orange Lodge, it was decided to again hold a pre-Christmas Turkey Bingo. The event will take place on December 11, in the evening, in the Orange Hall. Discussion of this project took up most of the evening, as well as other pertinent business matters. It was decided also to once more sponsor the Annual New Year's Eve Ball.

Mannville Loses Basketball Game

MANNVILLE. — In an interesting display of strategy on Friday evening of last week, the High school gym became the field of combat for Vermilion and Mannville basketball teams, with Vermilion emerging the victors. Score was tabulated as 13 to 8 in their favor. Interest has been stimulated in this school sport as a result of a recent basketball school attended by students at Banff on the week end of Nov. 9th.

Greenlawn Good-Will Club

The Greenlawn Goodwill Club met at the home of Sheila Green for their November meeting with 15 members and one visitor present. As there had been no meeting since August due to harvesting and the rounds of Asiatic 'flu, the secretary had several letters for the members to hear. One of interest was from Miss Craig, whom we plan to have attend the January meeting, with one of her helpful topics for homemakers.

Ten dollars was voted to go to the Dewberry Home & School to help buy treats for the kiddies this Christmas. Much credit goes to the teachers in their effort to put on a Christmas program.

The ladies are sponsoring a bingo party in Greenlawn hall on Dec 6th. Everyone is welcome. Good prizes are offered with the grand prize a dandy. Admission $1.00, and lunch will follow.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Holmen and—note this—is to be held on the 11th to avoid the usual Christmas rush. All members should try to come and bring that little something for your secret pal.

After the president declared the meeting adjourned, Sheila served a very tasty lunch, and the happy gathering of the clan dispersed for another month.

"The Bible Today"

For the thousands of blind people in this country the Braille Bible is made available at a fraction of its cost by the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada.

The Braille alphabet and signs are composed of six dots arranged in 64 combinations, and the complete Bible is produced in 39 volumes. This is a shelf of books seven feet long, weighing 150 pounds. One ton of paper is required to print 15 Braille Bibles, and this special paper costs the Society about $400 a ton.

The printing of the Bible in Braille is done from 5,365 master plates impressed on the heavy paper, and these plates take one man eight years to prepare.

Braille in languages other than English is also printed by the Society. There are only two persons in the British commonwealth who are able to make foreign Braille plates, and these are both employed by the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Former Vermilion Man Honored By Masons at Wiarton, Ont.

Many friends will remember Don Montgomery, a homesteader and farmer of this district for many years prior to returning to live in Ontario. The following story is taken from the Wiarton, Ontario "Echo"

"PRESENT MASON WITH FIFTY-YEAR JEWEL"

Monday evening, November 12, a very important event in the history of Maple Leaf Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 282 of Tara took place when Worshipful Master G. S. Matthias, Very Wor. W. A. Dalgarno and Bro. Dave Tedford journeyed to Wiarton to present Bro. Donald Montgomery with his fifty year jewel. Although Bro. Montgomery has lost his eyesight his memory and sense of humor are as keen as ever, and he recalled many interesting [redacted] both in the Masonic Lodge of fifty years ago, and in the militia where he held the rank of lieutenant. Leaving Bruce County three or four years after joining the Masonic order, he spent 40 years farming at Vermilion, Alta bringing back an Indian tomahawk which he had ploughed up on his Alberta farm.

The Worshipful Master in pinning the medal on Bro. Montgomery congratulated him on having attained this milestone in Masonry and expressed his pride on behalf of Maple Leaf lodge for the opportunity of presenting it to a veteran who was initiated six years before the present Master was born. The jewel bears the inscription "Presented to Bro D. Montgomery, fifty years a Mason. 1906 - 1956."

Maple Leaf Lodge joins with its Masonic brethren in the Wiarton district in wishing Bro Montgomery and Mrs. Montgomery many more years of prosperity and health."

One Hundred Attend 4-H Club Rally At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Approximately 100 people attended the Mannville Calf, Grain and Clothing Clubs annual buffet luncheon on Nov. 29th, which was served by members after singing of the 4-H grace. C. Gamble, club leader, called the meeting to order and introduced Miss Josie McDonald as chairman for the evening. The 4-H Pledge was led by Gene Schreyer, after which Miss McDonald introduced Mr. Buckingham who presented an interesting talk on 4-H Clubs in this district. He was given a vote of thanks by Lily Fedechko. Two guest speakers were unable to attend, Arnold Malone and Miss Edna Craig. R. Whitson, M.L.A. gave an informative comparison of the 4H and School Fairs, and was thanked for same by Bob Willis. Mr. Buckingham was then called upon to introduce Mr. Graham, supervisor of District Agriculturists in Alberta, who chose as a subject "The Changing Farm Scene." Joan Finlay passed a vote of thanks to the speaker. Miss McDonald called on Mr. C. Gamble, who presented calf club members with prize money. The manager of the local Bank of Commerce, Mr. A. Baker, then presented John Clennett, efficiency winner in the Calf Club, with the Bank of Commerce trophy.

Slides were then shown by Mr. Buckingham of his trip to England and France, and were much enjoyed by all. Appreciation of same was expressed by Mr. C. Gamble, at the same time complimenting the club members on a job well done. The evening was spent for the remaining time by dancing to records played.

"Success To Safe-Driving Week"

The work of bringing about a public awareness of the hazards of highway travel 'must be the work of all', writes Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Governor General, in supporting Canada's nationwide Safe-Driving Week.

In a letter addressed to Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta's Minister of Highways and chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, Mr Massey said, 'I wish earnestly to endorse and support the Safe-Driving Week campaign which is being sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference from December 1st to 7th. May it achieve the fullest possible success in all its aims.'

SPUTNIK CONSCIOUS

Showers Honor Bride-Elect Of November

In honor of Miss Marina Capeton, bride-elect of Nov. 27th, Miss Alice Keith, Mrs. E. Corley, Mrs. S. Surby, and Mrs. E. M. Stewart, entertained at a dessert shower at the home of Mrs. Stewart on November 14th. The guests enjoyed vocal selections by Mrs. Terry Kelly accompanied by Mrs. A. M. West after which Marina cut her pretty mock wedding cake which proved to be filled with lovely gifts.

On November 16, Marina was honored at an afternoon shower at the home of Mrs. N. Kowalchuk, co-hostesses being the Misses Sue Carmichael and Betty Cawthorpe. Following games, the gifts were brought in on a gayly decorated toboggan by little Susan Kowalchuk.

On November 20, Mrs. M. Hill and Mrs. Dr. Clarke entertained at the home of Mrs. Hill. Following an evening of rollicking games and fun, the bride was the recipient of a lovely gift.

Mrs. Baden Anderson returned home this Thursday morning from Galt, Ontario where she was called by the death of her brother Mr. Hugh Wannop. The death occurred on Nov. 25th and Mrs. Anderson travelled by TCA in order to attend the funeral.

K. G. Urquhart attended the annual convention of the Yellowhead Route Trans-Canada Highway Association held in Edmonton recently. An outstanding feature was the attendance of all four highways ministers of the four western provinces, the first time in history that the four have met together at one time. Judging from the discussions Ken has high hopes that the Yellowhead route will be a first class highway before many years. He was disappointed at the poor representation from this portion of Highway 16, as Vermilion was the only town represented between Saskatoon and Edmonton.

Transportation difficulties due to winter weather conditions almost prevented Mrs. Doris Lisotte and daughter Miss Deirdre being present at the wedding of their son and brother John and Miss Hilda Brass. At first they hoped to cross the river and come by bus and when that was impossible decided to come by the weekly plane. Heavy weather prevented the plane landing and so they decided they could not come. However, a plane was sent in only the day before and they made the trip, although Miss Deirdre found when she was at long last in Vermilion that she had left her luggage keys in Fort Vermilion. Gerry Brass decided to find someone with that type of luggage for sale, and Mr Thos Watts was able to come to the rescue and all was well.

Art Christenson and Milo Fleming are attending the Alberta Wheat Pool convention in Calgary, Art for a few days and Milo for two weeks. Mrs. Christenson and Mrs. Fleming joined their husbands for the week end of Nov 29th to participate in the activities of the A.W.P. Ladies Association.

Thomas A. Gould formerly of Islay writes the Editor a line enclosing his renewal sub. Tom has this to say in part: "It is 13 years now since I left Islay and Vermilion but it seems that I must keep in touch with the home town news. So many items are still of interest to me, particularly local news of the outlying districts. It is ten years since I last visited Vermilion. We have a goodly number of Islay and Vermilion people living out here now. Weather at present is mild and the nights cool. My daughter Dorothy and myself are keeping well and wish to be remembered to all friends at Islay and Vermilion and extend to them best wishes for a Merry Christmas".

the Snapshot Guild

A tree, the small fry, and Christmas morning—a sure-fire snapshot [illegible]

Plan to Shoot a Christmas Story

Today we'd like to tell you how one family we've heard about records Christmas at their house.

A week or so before the holiday, all the members sit down for a "story conference." Everybody makes suggestions about what should be included as picture material, and a list of all the mutually-agreed-upon items is drawn up.

This "shooting list" generally contains such preliminary activities as Junior's letter to Santa, making and decorating Christmas cookies, putting the traditional trimmings on doorways and fireplace, festive store windows and fat Santas; packages and mail, bringing home the tree and decorating it, hanging the children's stockings; carolers on Christmas Eve, etc. For Christmas Day itself, high on the list come gift-opening, holiday callers, test runs of skates and bicycles, and, of course, Christmas dinner.

As you can see, the story begins to take shape. The first shot will probably be Junior peering into a store window—then a close-up of one particular toy. From then on, the toy becomes the unifying theme that holds the story together—whether it's to be recorded on snapshot film or by a movie camera. Junior confers with a curbstone Santa; he writes a letter to Santa.

Then, a series of shots will show trimming the tree—until the Star of Bethlehem at last shines forth from the very top. The gifts—including the toy—are wrapped and piled high at the foot of the tree—and the stockings are "hung with care" at the fireplace.

On Christmas morning, Junior opens his gifts—and "Boy meets toy". A good close-up shot of his reaction will almost tell a story all by itself—and so will the faces of the holiday callers to whom he shows off his new and already beloved toy. Don't even be surprised to see the toy going along to the dinner table—and finally to bed with him after a wonderfully exciting day!

Mrs. Saltzberry spent a few days with her people at Lacombe and is attending Beverly Campbell's wedding in the city on Dec. 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott spent a couple of days in Edmonton last week. Mr. and Mrs. Arnol Johnson have had their little boy Gerry in an Edmonton hospital having his throat operation. We are pleased to say he is home again. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ramsey have returned from an extended trip to B. C. and are settled in Mrs. [illegible]'s house.

The various choirs are practicing for the Christmas Carol Festival, which will be held shortly before Christmas.

The Civic Affairs Society is organizing three prizes for decorated homes, the most attractive and fitting for the season. The residents are asked to please help make the town gay and festive for the Xmas season.

For any trouble with the waterworks, phone Murray Lowrie, the caretaker.

The initiation service for the new Explorers will be held this Thursday evening at 7:30 sharp. All parents and those interested are cordially invited to attend. Last Sunday the Explorers, 21 in the group, conducted the Church service with most of them taking part and all in the singing. Some of the girls were the organists for the service and they all did very well. Mrs. Rea based her talk on one of their Explorations being studied this year,—homes, what they mean to us, how one should act in the home, how we reflect our home in our actions, and "It takes a heap o'livin' in a house t' make it home".

The 4H Grain and Beef clubs held a game night on Nov. 19th with members from both clubs present. An enjoyable evening of hockey, ping pong, crokinole, and monopoly followed by a delicious lunch was had by all.

The regular weekly meeting of the C G I T was held on Thursday November 28th. It was decided to go caroling December 3 and return to the Church Hall after for lunch and exchange of gifts.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

SEARLE GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

THE 1958 SEED SITUATION

The variable nature of the Western Canadian crop this year, plus some local damage from frost and weathering, will undoubtedly mean some shortage of good seed in a few areas. Generally speaking, however, the supply situation for the coming season promises to be relatively good. Possible exceptions, if the acreage in these crops is greatly expanded in 1958, are flax and rapeseed. Registered and Certified seed of certain malting barley varieties may not be too plentiful in some areas.

In any years, the closer it gets towards spring the more difficult it usually is to secure some of the better seed that is always available at the beginning of the season. Producers who are anxious to get fresh seed of any particular kind or variety of grain, therefore, would do well to make their arrangements early either speaking for local grown seed, or ordering their supply of Registered or Certified seed from suppliers well ahead of time.

Last season, partly because an increasing number of farmers were turning towards malting barley and various special crops, there was an unprecedented demand for Registered and Certified seed of all kinds. The special 'over-the-quota' delivery privilege, established several years ago by the Canadian Wheat Board, was again in operation during 1957 and this provision meant that many producers who would have been hard pressed to make the necessary outlay for this class of seed were able to purchase it by using the proceeds from the sale of commercial grain. Undoubtedly, this policy will be continued in 1958.

Every year seed testing facilities are heavily taxed as spring approaches. Once again, therefore, farmers are being urged to send in their samples early, particularly if there is any doubt as to the performance of their seed from a germination standpoint. Those who purchase Registered or Certified seed are, of course, protected with respect to germination for the reason that each of the official grades for these classes of seed carries minimum germination requirement.

McLAUGHLIN'S SELF-SERVE

WILDMERE WINKS

Remember folks, this is safe driving week, try to keep it that way all the time and you will drive in 1958.

On Tuesday evening last week, the writer and husband visited at the Arnold Ruud home in Battleview where a nice evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lake and baby son of Grande Prairie, and Mr. Lake Sr. visited at the Fadden home in Wildmere last week.

Bill Smith of Wildmere and Gordon Green of Auburndale left last Wednesday, Nov. 27 on a hunting trip in the west country.

A nice crowd attended the Gay 90's dance on Thursday, Nov. 28 in the Legion Hall. The Hanna orchestra from Islay furnished the music. Tommy Thompson was M.C. At supper time, Mr. Hurst, the drummer in the orchestra sang a couple of songs which everyone enjoyed. Later, election of officers took place. Mr. Ches Waldenburger is the new President and Mrs. Edwards is Secretary. We do not remember all of the directors names. Mr. Thompson has been very interested in the Gay 90's while he was President and we are sure Ches will be too. Good luck to the new officers.

Callers at the Wallington home on Sunday were Mrs. L. Howard and Laverne and Philip, Mr. H. Coburn and son Murray, Donnie Johnson and Ken Shepherd.

Saturday night or early Sunday morning when coming home from town, Cliff Cruthers, Maureen Cruthers, and Bobby Graham saw a very bright orange light in the eastern sky. It flashed very brightly and then disappeared behind some hills. Maybe a piece of sputnick eh?

The writer had a letter from Mrs. T. Cairns of New Westminster and she said Mr. Cairns had passed his 92nd birthday on Nov. 24. Mrs. Cairns herself is keeping well, but said Mr. Cairns had a cold, they wished to be remembered to all their friends here.

competition scores for you

There's competition when more than 10,000 men representing more than 900 companies match their skills in the search for new oil fields. Result: more Canadian oil for Canadian consumers.

There's competition when the skilled workers in each of Canada's 42 oil refineries must strive night and day to improve the quality of their products. Result: today's low-cost, better gasolines.

There's competition when Canada's more than 30,000 service station operators vie for your business. Result: prices held down, and better service.

Competition calls the tune in every phase of the oil business—in exploration, refining and sales. Result: benefits to you as the consumer.

Mannville Church Bazaar A Success

MANNVILLE. — Saturday, November 30, proved to be a most profitable day for the W. A. ladies of the United Church, when their bazaar proved to be highly successful. The amazing pile of aprons was soon cut down after the Tea and Bazaar was only begun, and the Tea tables were occupied at all times. The Home Baking Table was popular also, as was evidenced by the crowd around same.

Mannville and District Local News

Friends of Mrs. Duke (formerly Mrs. A. Emmott) now of Edmonton were pleased to see and visit with her this week at Mannville.

•• •• ••

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kreller recently returned from a trip to Regina, where Mr. Kreller attended to business affairs, and both visited relatives at the same time.

•• •• ••

By error last issue of the Standard it was stated that Doreen Gerhart had returned from the city after receiving medical advice. This should have read Doreen Bennett.

•• •• ••

Too late for last week's issue was news received that Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin, now of Vermilion, their sons Emmett and wife Elsie, Francis and Pat McLaughlin all motored to Morinville to attend the funeral of Mrs. McLaughlin Sr's brother, Nov 25.

Both United and Anglican Sunday schools are planning concerts for Xmas to be held on Dec 18, we understand.

•• •• ••

Word received by relatives here advised them of the serious illness of Mrs. J. Croft in Edmonton, in the General Hospital. At time of writing some improvement is reported. Mrs. Croft is an old timer of Mannville.

•• •• ••

A number of choir members of Christ Church took part in the service of Burial for the late Mrs. P. Davies, Sr. Minburn.

•• • ••

Miss Doreen Gerhart was home for the week end from Edmonton.

•• • ••

Mr. and Mrs. Diltz have been in Edmonton recently, returning this week, where Mrs. Diltz underwent medical tests.

•• • ••

Mr. McKinnon is expected to be well enough to leave the hospital, here at Mannville, on Wednesday of this week we are happy to report.

•• • ••

The money stolen from Co-op Store recently, was found with the aid of R.C.M.P. with only a few dollars missing, and culprit sentenced.

GOOD RED BLOOD

The blood is a suspension of tiny cells. A single drop of blood contains millions of these cells. Most of them are filled with a red coloring material called haemoglobin, which is a combination of iron and other substances. The blood circulates through the body carrying [illegible] to all parts and removing waste products. The red blood cells carry oxygen which is necessary for the life of all body cells. These are no small tasks and to do them well the blood must be in good condition; this depends very largely on the food eaten. For good red blood we must eat a variety of foods such as milk, fruits, vegetables, bread and cereals, fish and meat, and select within these groups foods especially rich in iron.

The body is constantly making new cells to replace cells that are lost or have become old. Although most of the iron is used thus again, some of it is lost. Then if there is not enough iron in the food eaten the body cannot make enough haemoglobin. Cell by cell the body becomes weakened. To guard against low haemoglobin which makes people eventually become pale, thin and undernourished —

Eat a variety of foods rich in iron:

1. Fruits — dried apricots, peaches, prunes and raisins.
2. Vegetables — beans and peas, dried, canned, or fresh; and dark leafy green vegetables including in some areas dandelion greens, fiddleheads and lamb's quarters.
3. Cereals and Bread — whole grain cereals, especially oatmeal, whole grain ready-to-eat cereals, and whole wheat bread. These should be given a definite preferenc to refined cereal products as the iron content of whole grains is greatly reduced in the milling process.
4. Meats — liver, kidney, tongue, heart, beef and eggs.
5. Molasses.

We who are about to die . . .

AS AN INTRODUCTION to the carnage of the spectator sports of ancient Rome, the gladiators would face the crowded tiers of the Colosseum and in chorus repeat the classic cry, "We who are about to die, salute you."

From the 24 hour-a-day slaughter on Canada's highways comes the chorus of anonymous thousands, "We who are about to die, implore you . . .

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Square up! . . . is music to the ears of all our new members. Nov. 29th was a very gala night in the lives of our four squares of graduates and two squares of brush-up members, this was the 8th lesson and graduation night. Johnny and Cora had a great variety of novelty numbers and prizes to add gaiety to the evening. In return, John David, on behalf of his fellow classmates, with a few very well - chosen words presented Johnny and Cora with a lovely bed throw. John said, "In considering an appropriate gift, I thought of various games of skill such as chess but reconsidered because anyone who can untangle a square from any sort of a mix-up would find any such game boring."

We are sorry that the many people who are now asking how you get into the fun of square dancing missed our recent set of lessons. With the new enthusiasm in town, some are just now becoming square dance minded. If you are one of the ones who just couldn't make it in by the third lesson which is the [illegible] line and are still anxious to join in the fun, leave your name with our president, Johnny Maxwell and if there are another four squares still desiring lessons, another series will be sponsored at the Bowtell Community hall.

A brush-up dance was held at Bowtell on Monday, Dec. 2 for all square dancers requiring a little extra coaching to bring them up on equal basis of those who dance the year round. Another brush-up dance will be held at Bowtell next Tuesday, Dec. 10th. Any square dancers are welcome and to these dances each lady takes a few sandwiches.

Our next regular C8 square dance is this Saturday, Dec. 7 in the newly sound-proofed Elks hall with Johnny Maxwell as the caller. Square up all square dancers!

Robert Hall and Marina Capatos Pledge Vows in Candlelit Ceremony

Baskets of chrysanthemums were arranged with tall lighted tapers in First United Church, Vermilion, when Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated at the double ring wedding of Marina Capatos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Capatos of Vermilion, and Robert Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Hall of Oliver, B.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white nylon tricot with full skirt poised over crinolines, shirred bodice, buttoned to the waist at the back, cap sleeves, and shirred back panel, forming a train.

Her elbow-length mitts were of nylon net with shirred cuffs. A tiara of pearls and irridescent sequins held in place her chapel-length veil of nylon net and she carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and lily of the valley.

In complement to the bride's white gown, were the frocks of yellow net and lace worn by the bride's attendants, Miss [illegible] Carmichael, maid of honor, and Miss Sandra Harrison, as Junior Bridesmaid.

With the floor-length frocks they wore bandeaux of pleated yellow net trimmed with sequins and carried Colonial bouquets of Christmas red and yellow mums.

Philip Capatos, brother of the bride, and Eddie Frizzell, attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. Charlie Weiss of Pibroch, Alta., and Mr. Eddie Frizzell.

Mr. Wm. B. Elford was organist. The soloist, Mrs. Madeleine Edey, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Joy Be Thine" during the signing of the register.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Capatos chose a blue dress and matching hat and her corsage was of white Shasta mums.

The groom's mother wore a beige sheath-style dress and a feather bandeau. Her corsage was of bronze mums.

White and pink streamers and baskets of chrysanthemums decorated the church hall for the reception following the wedding ceremony.

Receiving with the bridal principals and attendants were Mrs. Cavil, the bride's grandmother, and the groom's sister Brenda.

The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth centred with a three-tiered wedding cake nestled in white tulle sprinkled with yellow Shasta mums. Tall white tapers flanked each corner.

The United Church W. A. catered for the over two hundred guests who attended the reception and Miss Alice Keith was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. E. M. Stewart was hostess assisted by Mrs. R. Bushell.

Flower arrangements were by Mrs. M. Hill.

Pouring tea during the reception were Mrs. Corley, Mrs. Surby, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Waterfield.

Margaret Puckett, Mrs. Ethel Hodgson, Dorothy Jean Stewart, Mrs. Joan Kowalchuk, Sharon Serby and Brenda Hall passed the punch.

Mr. Don Taylor proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Telegrams were read by Eddie Frizzell. Candid camera shots were taken throughout the evening.

For her going away costume the bride wore a blue suit topped by a coral colored wool coat, white accessories, and a white orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

They left for Vancouver where they boarded the S.S. Oronsay for an extended trip to New Zealand and Australia. On their return they will make their home at Okanagan Falls, B.C.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Hall and Brenda, Oliver, B.C.; Mrs. Turtin, Mr. Arthur Ward, Kelowna, B.C.; Mr. Jerry Capatos, Calgary; Mr. Charlie Weiss, Pibroch, Alta., and Mrs. R. Bushell, Edmonton.

It's much easier to build a reputation than it is to keep it from getting tarnished.

Over two hundred years ago this warning was written, and it is as true today as it was then.

There are no secrets about how to be successful in business. A fair profit must be made, or one does not last long. To sell cheaper means that either quality or service must be cut—usually both. Medicines or health-aids must always be of the best quality, and prescription service should be the best possible.

We wouldn't like to be called the cheapest or the dearest pharmacist. We just want folks to always say that our prices are fair and our service is good.

A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Tougher Sledding for Car Makers

Canadian auto makers are running over tough roads and, says Rodney Touche in The Financial Post, they may get rougher!

Car sales in Canada have shrunk 5.1% in the first nine months of this year, compared with the same period of 1956.

But sales of North American type cars have shrunk 9.6%.

The key point here is that European cars have grabbed an 11.5% share of Canada's new car market.

But there's a bright side to the market picture.

While total car sales for Jan.-Sept. 1957, are down 5.1% by volume, they are down only 2% by value.

"Chewing Days" Almost Over

Tobacco men in Western Ontario say that 'chewing days' are just about over, reports The Financial Post. Chewing tobacco has a 350-year history. Once there were dozens of brands — now only two or three are available in limited quantities. The tobacco needs a special leaf and special curing.

Letters to the Editor

(OPEN LETTER)

Editor, Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

It has been brought to our attention that there is a business firm in this province soliciting membership from farm people, at a cost of $40 per year. When you have joined you are entitled to buy supplies at a discount price. We have not been able to get much information about this firm as yet but will endeavor to find out as quickly as possible. Past experience in this province in schemes of this kind has not been a happy one for the farmers putting up the money. This deal may be different, but before you invest, investigate.

We would also point out that the farmers themselves, have set up the U.F.A. Co-op and the Alberta Co-op Wholesales. Both of these farm-owned and controlled organizations can supply your local with farm supplies at discount rates. Before you give your support to something new, [illegible] out, if you do not already know, how to buy at discount rates through your local. Either these co-ops or ourselves will supply you with this information. These concerns are established businesses with a reputation for fair dealing, low prices and good service.

Let us build up our own organizations and share in any profits rather than build up someone else's business. At least give your co-operative a chance to show you what they are doing and what they can do for you.

More Working

Canada's labor force is growing fast, reports The Financial Post. Total number of job-holders and job-seekers at mid-October this year estimated to be just over 6 million. This is 233,000 or 4% higher than a year ago, more than double the usual annual increase. Bigger-than-average advance reflects influx of immigrants over the past year, says DBS.

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

Mr and Mrs. Jim Horne attended a banquet at Vegreville on Saturday evening for Art Hayes. Mr Hayes is a Farm Supply traveller for United Grain Growers and the banquet was in his honor.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Oil and Gas Royalty Dividend To Provide Fuel for Debate

by [illegible]

EDMONTON. — Watch for bitter debate during the next session of the Legislature when the opposition sinks its teeth into final figures on the first year of the oil and gas royalty dividend program.

Figures released last week indicate the government may have lost as much as $42,360 to persons suspected of making false claims for the $20 payments. The amount could even run higher.

The latest tally shows 532 persons are or have been under investigation by the attorney-general's department, with a total of 2,418 separate dividends involved. Half a dozen applicants on the list are believed to have grabbed 20 or more dividends and one man, using the same name on every certificate, is reported to have obtained more than 60.

So far the government has paid out some 504,000 dividends, using $10,000,000 of the $11,000,000 fund, and another rush of claims is expected as Christmas approaches.

Of course everyone expected there would be abuses of the dividend scheme, people being what they are, but the apparent extent of them is more than anyone anticipated. There is a strong possibility that many of the offenders will never be tracked down, and there is also a chance that some sharpies have taken more than their share without rousing suspicion.

All of this adds up to ammunition for another major attack against the dividend plan next year by the Liberals, Conservatives and CCF-ers in the House. A repeat of last year's con-confidence motions can be expected.

Some of the criticism will be aimed at the system of distribution used this year. Under the system, a citizen can go to any bank and collect his cash simply by signing a statement saying he meets the qualifications.

It is known that the provincial audit branch, which has the mammoth task of checking all completed certificates and spotting suspicious ones, is unhappy with the system. So is the attorney - general's department, which must investigate all possible cases of fraud.

Reliable sources say the government was advised beforehand against the system of on-the-spot payments. It was advised to use a system of application forms which would be checked before the money went out instead of after.

The government, however, wanted to adopt a method which would allow the public to collect its $20 bonus cheques as quickly as possible and with a minimum of red tape.

Premier Manning says that changes will be made next year to cut down the possibility of fraud. He says the government is considering issuing identification cards which the applicants would present to the bank when calling for their dividends. The bank would punch or endorse the card, showing that the bearer had received payment.

The premier says the cards would be issued to eligible citizens on a master list drawn up from applicants who drew their dividends this year.

It would have been extremely impractical to establish any registration of half a million or so people this year when the plan was first introduced he said, but now a master list is [illegible]

He also pointed out that the provincial treasury doesn't lose anything as a result of false claims for dividends. The government is restricted to setting aside only one-third of oil and gas royalties for the dividend pool each year he said and that must pay for the whole program.

If there is a deficit he said it must be made up from the dividend pool the following year. Therefore anyone who chisels on the plan is just cheating the public because it means less money next year. On the other hand if there is money left over at the end of the year it goes into the pot and there is that much more to distribute next year.

FARM FORUM TO TALK 'IMPORT CONTROLS'

Dad and Grandad never talked about Import Controls. They used to argue on free trade and tariffs. What are import controls and what do they mean to the present-day farmer? The economists say import controls appear on the horizon whenever our prices are controlled or supported in any way.

What do farmers know about import controls? What do they think? You will find out Monday night Dec. 9th on National Radio Farm Forum. The topic is 'Import Controls — Are They Necessary?'

The broadcast will include a factual presentation of how import controls affect farm products and prices, and a cross section of opinion from individual farmers from coast to coast.

Signal your turn even though there's no other traffic in sight. Make proper [illegible] during Safe-Driving Week and every other week. 21 2

PLANNING ALBERTA COMMUNITIES

Alberta's development has not been confined to the large cities. Towns and rural areas also reflect the growth and the problems of systematic planned expansion [illegible] with it. The Government accordingly established the Provincial Planning Advisory Board in 1951 to determine planning policies. These policies are administered by the Town and Rural Planning Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs. The technical advice and assistance of the Branch is available upon request to any municipality under 5,000 population which is not a member of a District Planning Commission. An aerial survey is made of the community from which contour maps are prepared. Plans are then made for subdividing and zoning. Detailed layouts for housing and commercial areas are drawn up. In addition a report based on economic and population surveys is prepared for a planning period of ten years. Proposals for the orderly development of the municipality are included in this report. One half of the cost of the aerial survey is the only expense borne by the municipality representing a small percentage of the total cost for this complete service.

ASSESSMENT BRANCH

Uniformity in assessments for municipal taxation purposes is a problem which has long existed. The Assessment Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs was formed in 1935 to achieve this end. Since its inception many changes have been incorporated to keep pace with the growth of Alberta. It has also been necessary to alter assessment methods in view of the new types of construction and building techniques presently being used. Practically all of the towns and villages in the province have requested departmental assessments for taxation and other purposes. Rural assessments are not undertaken by Branch assessors although under certain conditions the government pays 50% of costs. Urban areas are required to pay one-half the cost of assessment, with the government paying the remainder notwithstanding who carries out the work, whether a municipal or government assessor. Assessment Branch sub offices have been established at Red Deer, Grande Prairie, Calgary and Lethbridge to ensure close liaison with the local municipal officials as well as to give advice and assistance to appointed municipal assessors.

INSPECTION BRANCH

The Department of Municipal Affairs Act requires the books and records of every municipality to be inspected at least once a year. This is the responsibility of the Inspection Branch and all assessment and tax rolls, minute books, by-law registers, cash books, bank books and any other records the Inspector may require of the Municipality are examined. Assistance and advice on procedure for effective administration of the municipality is an important service of the Inspection Branch. In cases of where new towns, villages, municipal districts or counties are incorporated a member of the inspection branch may act as administrator of this new unit until the council has been elected. Each year an annual report is prepared by the Inspection Branch in which is incorporated the financial statements of every municipality in Alberta.

These important service branches are also part of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

NEWS from ISLAY

The hunters have returned! One party didn't have any luck, and one got a cow-moose. Anyway they had a good outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin spent most of Tuesday in Lloydminster. Mrs. Midgley spent the time with her mother.

Remember the annual meeting of the Prog Conservative Assoc. for Battle-River-Camrose constituency in Wainwright on December 9 at 8 p.m.

Turkey will be the main prize at the Home and School Assoc. Bingo in the Hall Friday night. $1.00 for a master card.

The play sponsored by the Home and School Assoc. Monday night and produced by the Anglican Drama Club of Vermilion was very well attended. It was much better weather this time. It was a much spookier play, very well produced too. We all hope they come again—and before too long.

NEW HALL IN USE

The Bazaar on Saturday was a success. Before it was declared open, a very short dedication was held, as it was the first event of the W. A. in the new hall. At a later date when more has been done we hope to have a proper dedication service in the hall. The tables were well patronized, and there was a nice assortment on sewing tables and the home-baking table fairly groaned, it was so loaded down. The W. A. do thank all who contributed towards the tables and all who so kindly helped them in any way that day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Vermilion, attended the play in the hall Monday night, also Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kent of Marwayne.

It was nice to see Rev. Mr. Shortt and Mrs. Shortt, and Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Gray of Kitscoty at the bazaar.

Sorry to report Mrs. Allan in the hospital, also George Schaffer and little Jeanie Axley. We hope they soon are able to get home. Mr. Buchanan is home but still confined to bed.

Mr. Merlin Moncrieff and son Pat went by bus to Edmonton on the week end to see the football game on T. V. The reception was good but they didn't like the score.

SKIING BOOM

Ski resorts in the Laurentian mountains are looking for a record winter, reports The Financial Post. Bookings are at an all time high. One snag: Advanced bookings looked good this time last year too, but lack of snow caused a wave of cancellations.

It Isn't Tragic

There's going to be more unemployment this winter, says The Financial Post, but the situation isn't tragic. It is very different in kind, degree and significance from that experienced during the 'great depression'.

There is a broad measure of business health in the number of people with jobs. Indeed, the number of people without jobs serves to indicate how well, until recently, the influx of immigrants matched the country's immediate absorptive capacity. In the last 12 months immigrants have been pouring in at the very time when Canadian expansion was slow.

Even so, there is nothing tragic about the outlook. Some temporary difficulty this winter is unavoidable; but there need be no fear of widespread hardship. The temporary lull will offer a chance to shake out rigidities and inflationary cost increases resulting from the very tight labor market of 1956.

First Canadian Heart Fund Opened; Plan Literature, Teaching Aids

James Muir, Chairman and President of The Royal Bank of Canada, has been named general chairman of the first Canadian Heart Fund Appeal to be launched in February 1958.

Appointment was announced by Dr. John D. Keith, President of the National Heart Foundation of Canada, a federation of provincial heart foundations, organizations and individuals.

"Mr Muir's acceptance of the Chairmanship of the 1958 Canadian Heart Fund Appeal gives us great confidence in its success." Dr Keith said.

Dr. Keith pointed out that heart disease results in as many deaths in Canada as all other causes combined, yet until now there has been no nation-wide program to attack it.

"The National Heart Foundation was organized in 1956 to give form and direction to the fight against a disease which last year resulted in the deaths of more than 60,000 Canadians," he explained. "Our program is designed to co-ordinate and promote the efforts of the various provincial foundations, and to carry out research and education in fields that previously have been neglected."

The National President said at present several dozen heart research projects are delayed due to lack of funds. "There has been no central body to review and facilitate requests for research grants and fellowships, and much vital work is being left undone."

"Another neglected field of heart work is education," he said. "The National Heart Foundation is now engaged in preparing literature, films and teaching aids that will help keep both the medical profession and the general public up-to-date on progress in the fight against heart disease."

Two-thirds of the money that is raised will be devoted to research, Dr. Keith said. The remainder will be spent on program development, field work, education and community service.

DIPPING CHOCOLATES

Have you ever tried making your own chocolates for the festive season? They are delicious, and making them provides an evening of fun for the family. The fondant for the base: make it soon and allow it to age for two or three weeks before dipping.

FONDANT

1 cup water
2 tbsps. light corn syrup
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

METHOD — Combine water, corn syrup and sugar in saucepan; place over low heat, stirring only until sugar dissolves. Slowly bring to boil, cover and continue boiling 3 minutes with cover on. Remove cover, carefully insert candy thermometer and boil slowly till temperature reaches 240 degrees. If you don't have a thermometer mixture should form a soft ball in cold water. If crystals form on the side of the pan cover again for a few minutes.

Pour mixture onto a large platter which has been rinsed in cold water. Cool to 110 degrees (lukewarm) then beat with a wooden spoon until it hardens. Add vanilla and knead with hands till soft and smooth. Place in crockery jar and allow to ripen.

No Wonder He's Smiling!

Alec Russell, 15-year-old Vermilion High school student is here shown being presented with a $300 cheque as a result of the recent Grey Cup bingo held by Knights of Columbus. Making the presentation is Joe McIntyre, Grand Knight of the Order. Alec had the choice of a free trip and ticket to the Grey Cup game in Toronto, or the $300 cash. While the desire to make the trip and see the football classic was a strong one, he finally decided to take the money and put it away for educational purposes following the completion of his high school course.

Net proceeds from the bingo are used for support of Vermilion's Juvenile hockey team, the Bobcats.

Shorty Whitson Rink of Mannville Wins Fourth Farmers' Spiel

The Harold "Shorty" Whitson rink comprising R. McFadzean, Francis McLaughlin and Emmett McLaughlin won their third straight Grand Challenge at the annual Farmers' Bonspiel played in Vermilion last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The finals for all three events were played at 8 p.m. Saturday before a large gallery of fans.

Following the completion of the spiel the president of Vermilion Curling Club, Warren Rosequist, congratulated the winners of the events, stating that it was a real pleasure to be the hosts to such a bunch of [illegible] sports, and then asked George Webb to present the winners with their trophies and prizes. Warren suggested that this bonspiel should be renamed the "George Webb Bonspiel" as he takes such a great interest in it and makes such a good job of providing prizes and generally managing the event every year.

George then took over and called up in turn all twelve prize-winning rinks, commenting on the remarkable record of the Whitson rink which had come from the Mannville district to win the Grand Challenge competition four times in a row. The personnel of the rink had been the same for the four years.

The winning rinks and districts represented were:

Allendale United Church W. A. Present Life Membership Pins

The members of the Allandale United Church W.A. gathered at the home of Mrs. Florence Throndson for a social evening on Thursday Nov 28th. The highlight of the evening was the presentation by Mrs. MacKay on behalf of the Allandale W.A. of two life membership pins to two faithful workers in the group. Mrs. Florence Throndson and Mrs. Ellen Omness each received a pin and certificate for faithful service to the group for the past 28 years.

During the 28 years Mrs. Omness has worked with the group she has held the position of president for 22 years while her sister Mrs. Throndson was the treasurer of the group for 21 years and secretary also for 16 of those 21 years.

It was a great thrill to the group to gather for this special occasion and have a part in this great honor which was bestowed on their two members. Only one other member of the group holds this life membership pin, that being Mrs. Erna Armstrong.

Following the presentation a duet was sung by Mrs. Laird, and Mrs. Baldock, "The Old Rugged Cross", accompanied by Mrs. McPhee. The selection chosen was the favorite of Mrs. Omness. The balance of the evening was spent making carnations and a delightful lunch was served by the members of the group.

At the Carol Concert you will hear "Lullaby Jesu."

Mannville Without Gas For Twelve Hours On Sunday

Natural gas service to customers in Mannville was interrupted for more than 12 hours Sunday last, according to word from officials of Northwestern Utilities Ltd.

While full reports of the cause are being prepared, it appears that the trouble was due to freezing of a section of a two-inch supply line which draws from a six-inch line in the Vermilion area.

Apparently the freezing was caused by the low temperature of the line as a result of the light load it was carrying under prevailing mild weather conditions. Officials said such freezing is a rare occurrence and is regarded as most unlikely in the case of larger lines.

First evidence of trouble was noted at 3 a.m. Sunday, though the exact location was not established. Service was restored at about 8 a.m. and continued for about an hour, when it was suspended again. Following a more complete clearing out process, normal service was restored at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The company has 240 customers in the Mannville area. Crews from various points including Vermilion, Lamont and Viking assisted in restoring service.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY APPEAL TO ALL MOTORISTS

Let's not wait until Christmas to show goodwill toward men, proposes the Canadian Highway Safety conference.

Begin right now, the Conference suggests in a pre-Christmas safety appeal directed to all Canadian motorists. "We can show our goodwill by driving with extra care when streets are crowded with holiday traffic."

To prevent accidents which would be especially tragic at this season, the Conference issues these five safety rules which, if followed, could practically end the traditional holiday accident toll.

1. If you are at all likely to drink at holiday parties, travel to and from them in bus or taxi, and not in your own car.

2. Refuse a lift from anyone who has been drinking. What's more, try to dissuade him from driving.

3. At the end of the evening a cup of coffee will help to keep you alert on the way home.

4. Realize that the holiday rush is not for the wise driver. [illegible] of rushing, the careful [illegible] slows down and realizes that traffic laws are made for his protection.

5. On holiday trips, don't wait until you are drowsy [illegible] for a coffee-break. When you are dead-tired, draw over to the side of the road — sleep is your only restorative.

WHAT WILL THE RURAL COMMUNITY OF TOMORROW LOOK LIKE?

What should the rural community look like? Will it have more families or fewer families and what services will they require? These are some of the questions farm broadcasters Jack Trower from Edmonton, George Atkins from Toronto and Jack Johnson from Halifax will discuss with young farmers and their wives on December 16.

After reading the Farm Forum Guide and listening to the broadcast, many neighborhood groups will discuss 'The Rural Community' and report their findings to their communities through their local papers and to the nation through National Farm Radio Forum.

Last year the forums were asked what is needed to make an ideal community today. Neighborliness, co-operation, good leadership and recreational facilities were the main things required according to the forums. The Farm Forum Guide for December 16 contains suggestions for improving both the community hall and the programs to be held in it. Another article shows how youth groups help to develop community leadership. Several interesting changes taking place in the rural community are mentioned in the Guide.

Much information is available for the discussion following the National Farm Radio Forum broadcast at 8.30 p.m. on the CBC trans Canada network.

"GREEN ACRES"

TRAPPING MAGPIES

One farmer west of Vermilion reports that he has caught over 75 magpies this fall in an ordinary wire crow trap. Plans for building these traps can be had by applying to this office.

CREDIT UNIONS

Money deposited with a credit union bears interest. Members can borrow money also — so it works both ways. There are branches in all the towns and cities. Why not look up your own local and see what it has to offer. The insurance angle covering all members is worth investigating.

POISON FOR COYOTES

Strychnine pellets for poisoning coyotes can be obtained from your municipal office free of charge. Or you can order them through this office. Now is the time to poison coyotes when food is scarce and they are hungry.

FROZEN FLAX

Prussic acid develops in frozen flax. It is a deadly poison and has often caused losses to livestock. Farmers in this area having frozen flax should bring small envelope samples to this office so they can be checked for poison content. Advice can then be sent out about feeding it. The service is free.

FROZEN CREAM

Cream should never be frozen before delivery to a creamery. Cream and milk should be cooled quickly but not frozen. Frozen cream is hard to grade, hard to handle and the butter is usually streaky.

PLANNING SHELTERBELTS

Every farm can do with more trees around the buildings and along the roads. Why not get a bulletin on farmstead planning from this office. More evergreens such as white spruce, Colorado blue spruce and lodge pole pine and tamarack are available free of charge. Orders should be placed now for trees to be planted next spring.

CULLING LAYING HENS

Laying flocks should be culled at least once a month to get rid of poor layers. This can be done by handling them. Circulars are available from your D.A. office on how to cull pullets and laying hens.

Marwayne Couple Celebrate 25th Anniversary

MARWAYNE — Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs George Berry on Nov. 29 in honor of Mr and Mrs. T. Burke who were observing their 25th wedding anniversary.

A short story contest was played using district names to fill in spaces and give it the necessary meaning. Particularly neat spaces were filled with 'Hines' pickles and 'Berry' pies'.

Following the contest, Mrs. Berry gave a short talk, particularly stressing the fact that it was the first time a local boy had been born, grown-up, married, and lived all of those 25 years in this same district.

They were then presented with a modern tri-light for which they thanked their friends.

Court whist was then played, causing lots of merriment. Pretty hard to keep quiet when someone takes your ace high trick and puts it on their side of the table and the rules forbid any talking!

The evening was rounded out with a bountiful lunch. Best wishes for the next 25 years May and Tom!

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The Circle Eight held a very successful square dance on Dec. 7th with eight squares in attendance. There were visitors from Islay, Clandonald, Mannville and Myrnam. We are always pleased to have visitors. Come again folks. We were also glad to see so many of our old club out, and boy, were the new ones on the bit!

Our next square dance will be the Xmas party in the Legion hall on Saturday, Dec. 21 with two callers, Johnny and Harold at the mike. There will be extra entertainment and don't forget those calico ladies.

Like to see you all out at Bowtell on Dec. 17th.

Felicia Barclay, Donald Fontaine Married In Edmonton Ceremony

Central United Church, Edmonton was the scene of a very pretty wedding on November 23 at 3 p.m. when vows were exchanged between Felicia Joyce Barclay, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barclay of Vermilion and Donald Edward Fontaine, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fontaine of Vancouver, B.C. Rev. McNeil performed the double ring ceremony.

The bridal party entered the Church to the music of the wedding march played by the Church organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length bridal gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. It was princess style, featuring a strapless bodice, topped by a lace jacket which extended into lily-point sleeves.

Her finger-tip length veil of nylon net dotted with rhinestones was held in place by a tiara of rhinestones and pearls. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl droplet earrings, and she carried a cascade of red roses.

Mrs. Audrey Barlow, sister of the bride and Miss Clarice Laird were her attendants.

Clarice wore a ballerina-length dress of yellow nylon net over satin with a lace bolero and matching headpiece and gloves.

Audrey chose a ballerina-length dress of mauve lace and nylon net over satin with net bolero, headpiece, and gloves to match.

They both wore triple strands of pearls and matching earrings, gifts of the bride, and each carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The groom was attended by Mr. Ralph Gillis and Mr. Bill Grover both of Edmonton.

Mr. William Mercier of Edmonton and Mr Larry Barlow of Vermilion, brother-in-law of the bride ushered the guests to their pews.

During the signing of the register, the organist played the organ and the Church bells chimed.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a mulberry crepe afternoon dress with three-quarter length sleeves and pink accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of black crepe and lace with black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the Cathayan Restaurant, in Edmonton following the wedding, when seventy friends and relatives of the happy couple gathered to wish them well.

The bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake placed on a white and blue lace tablecloth crocheted by the bride's mother.

The cake was flanked with the bouquets of the bride and her attendants.

Rev. McNeil said the grace.

Mr. Jim Connors of Edmonton proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded.

Telegrams of congratulations were read from relatives in New Westminster and Vancouver B.C. by Mr. Ralph Gillis.

Miss Elizabeth Dow was in charge of the guest book.

When dieselization of locomotives is completed in 1961, it is estimated that the saving in unnecessary wage costs from elimination of firemen in freight and yard service will be $11.5 million per year on the Canadian Pacific alone, an amount equal to about one-third of the railway's revenue from grain traffic in Western Canada.—Quick Canadian Facts.

Pleasant Valley News

(Held over from last week)

The roads are very slippery in places but it doesn't seem to keep the cars and folks at home by the fireside, which is the best place and probably safest. Did I say the safest place? Well, we know one little lady who thought she would try riding on a chair on a slippery step and down she went, chair and all. The result was the chair was broken and the little lady suffered a painful hip which had to be set in place, some bruises, and she got "all shook up" too. By the way, the lady was Mrs. Gillies, but don't tell her I told you!

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Stone suffered a fall. A speedy recovery is wished her.

The Clarke family journeyed to the Hobbis home on Sunday for dinner. The children had a good time playing on the lake.

Keith, Jean and boys were dinner guests at the writer's home, and then journeyed to Lloyd's home for supper.

Mrs. Perry Golby celebrated her birthday with a few friends in for supper. How long ago Ester? Way back in 1901 in Manitoba? Happy birthday!

Mr and Mrs. Moore spent an evening with yours truly. Do it again, folks!

It's really pleasant today, 20 above with the sun shining. The roads are still slippery but no snow as yet. Let's hope it stays away for a while.

A jolly time was had at the Pot Luck dinner which was held at the home of Jean Harrison. Oh what a dinner! Isobel your apple pie was delicious, then again there was Annie's Yorkshire pudding and sausage rolls. How many did we eat Thelma? Won't tell will we?

The Potter family from Kitscoty were supper guests at Marion Gould's home Sunday night.

On Monday, the Golby family, Marvin and Agnes spent the evening at the writer's home. Some real good games of crokinole were played.

Sorry to hear you have been ill Mrs Jack. Do hope you will be able to eat your Christmas turkey with all the trimmings.

Everybody seems to be in a rush these days. Is it really worth it folks? If one would stop and consider the true meaning of Christmas . . . It's really a pleasure and something to look forward to, so slow up in case you fall down.

Jim Carey visited the Potvin family Sunday night. The writer enjoyed a chat with Mrs. Belton on Saturday.

Mrs. Jones, Enid and family Mr and Mrs. Knutson, we are so glad you enjoyed yourselves on Wednesday. Hope to see on Friday — keep smiling!

"The Bible Today"

"GOD SPEAKS"

God must speak to men. Despite the barriers of language and dialect which separate nation from nation, tribe from tribe, God must speak to men!

This conviction has long inspired the British and Foreign Bible Society in its stupendous task to translate God's word into every tongue: to place the Bible in every hand.

In 1,109 tongues God has now spoken to men through inspired Scripture. In marble cathedrals and mud huts the same timeless truths are read, heard, taught and discussed in words men know. And millions of Bibles, Testaments and Portions of Scripture are being placed in eager hands.

This is our triumph and our continuing challenge — the countless Christians who individually and through our churches make possible the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society. Thank God! Carry on!

CNR Takes 1,000 To The Grey Cup

WINNIPEG — Recording one of the busiest Grey Cup weekends ever, Canadian National Railways carried nearly a thousand fans from Western Canada to see the big game at Toronto.

Nearly 500 of these were aboard the 17-car CNR Grey Cup Special from Winnipeg while others travelled on regular CNR trains to which extra equipment had been added.

Among groups aboard were the Bomberettes girls drill team and the Winnipeg Police Pipe Band.

Holiday Hostesses Urged To Care For Safety of Guests

"Stop and think before making those elaborate preparations for Christmas and New Year's entertaining," was the word of caution delivered in a pre-holiday statement by Mrs. Keith Rand, Port Williams, N.S., the president of Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

"All of us during this festive season look forward to having good times with old friends and new, but those of us who so far have been lucky enough to stay off the traffic fatality list must exercise every caution to keep it that way", she said.

She stressed that lack of alertness was particularly dangerous to drivers, and urged hostesses to keep the safety of their guests in mind when planning festive entertainment this year.

Mrs. Rand suggested a few simple rules to follow to keep this holiday season not only a happy one but a safe one.

1. Keep a variety of tasty snacks on hand such as cheese and crackers, little hot sausages and potato chips. They are easy to serve and add to the enjoyment of the evening.

2. Make sure you have a good supply of non - alcoholic beverages such as fruit and vegetable juices, soft drinks, coffee and tea, hot chocolate for 'non-drinking' guests.

3. If you serve stronger beverages never press "one for the road" on a parting guest. Make the farewell drink of the evening a hot cup of coffee. It will help every driver to stay alert and alive.

4. Check your radio for the weather reports and if your guests have a long distance to travel, persuade them to stay overnight when a storm is forecast.

5. If your friends have any distance to travel through isolated areas, suggest they bring a thermos of coffee to provide a break during the drive. Refill the thermos for them when they leave to provide a break on the way home.

WILDMERE WINKS

On Wednesday evening Mr. Holte very kindly took Mrs. Holte and the writer to a W.A. meeting of the Auburndale ladies held at the home of Mrs. George Harrison. A very interesting meeting was enjoyed, also a nice chat with the ladies. They have four W. A. groups, Battleview, Willoughby, Auburndale and Heatherbell. They meet together every three months. This one was a group meeting, owing to icy conditions of the roads not too many ventured out. These four groups do a lot of useful work throughout the year and are to be congratulated on their fine efforts.

Mrs. Wear had the devotional part of the meeting. Mrs. George Eyben and Mrs. W. Crabb were in the chair. After the business session Mrs. G Eyben conducted a little song contest. Mrs. F. Seale and Mrs. Cunningham were the winners. Mr. and Mrs. H. Leighton of Wildmere were also visitors. A delicious lunch followed, served by Willoughby group. Many thanks Mrs. Harrison for having some of Wildmere W.A. attend, we surely enjoyed it very much.

Wildmere Curling rink is beginning to look like a rink as many hands work on it. It will soon have a nice aluminum roof and a new waiting room. Geo. Symes has been busy wiring it for lights and it is hoped to have it ready for action shortly after Christmas. Good luck boys on this big project.

Gordon Green and Billie Smith returned home on Friday after a week's hunting trip. No game was sighted so they came home meatless.

A rink from out our way attended the Farmers' Bonspiel in town, consisting of Frank Gibson, Dick Donily, Howard Coburn and Cliff Cruthers. They did not manage to cop any of the prizes, George Harrison of Battleview and Art Lysons of Tolland also each had a rink in. The former won second prize in the second event.

Rev. C. MacKay held church last Sunday at Preston Central school with about 40 attending. It was nice to see Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. G. Harrison and Sandra, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Alexander and family attend. Rev. MacKay chose "Slothfulness" for his text. He will hold a Xmas service at the same place on Dec. 22nd. Plan to attend.

On Sunday Dec. 15th the Wildmere W.A. ladies are holding a Xmas service in the Wildmere church at 2:30 in the [illegible]

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Geo. Rodgers (nee Louise Stone) on the birth of a baby girl, 9 lbs., 10 oz. on Nov 28th. Mr and Mrs. Alex Stone are now grandparents.

The program committee of the Preston Home and School met at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Harrison on Friday evening re candy bags for the district's children at the concert Dec 20th. Ladies of the Home and School are to fill the bags at the next meeting on Dec 17th at the school.

Mr and Mrs J Wilson of Vermilion [illegible] on Sunday at the Holte home in Wildmere, also attended church while there. It's nice to see them amongst us again.

Mr T Best was a visitor to the Wallington and Howard homes last week. He recently had a chimney erected on his house by Mr. I Laboucane and son Clarence.

Peggy Graham of Elk Point hospital spent the week end at her home here in Wildmere. She is now matron at the hospital but intends to leave in the not too distant future to nurse in California and see other parts of the world. Good luck Peggy.

Several Wildmere and Basswood folks attended the dance held at Thorncliffe on Friday evening. The Funnell orchestra supplied the music with Chas. Sweeney as M.C.

Will the truck driver who gave Tom Best a lift for a short ways last Tuesday and in whose truck Tom left some mail, please return it to the P.O. Thanks.

Stores are beginning to get in the Xmas mood even if weather isn't. Roads really have been treacherous lately.

New Buildings, Store Modernization Natural Gas Mark Progress in Islay

It's worth your while to stop into Ford's hardware. Some drastic changes are going on; will tell you more about it when it is all finished. One must keep pace with progress, as it has been going on in town. First the Miller store set the pace by adding freezer units, etc; the Municipal house and machine building; Mrs. Torrance's new house; the huge Pool elevator, to mention a few. Possibly the one that is enjoyed by the most people is the natural gas. It's wonderful!

Mrs. Lyle Anson went as a delegate to the Cancer convention in Calgary last week. Mr. and Mrs. Anson motored, stopping over night with Mr. and Mrs. Polson, sister of Mrs. Anson. Arriving back Monday they had a hazardous trip on icy roads.

The Bingo Friday night, sponsored by the Home and School Association for a Christmas tree for the school, was well attended. The turkey was won by Linda Torrance. Other prizes: Antifreeze given by C. Robertson, won by Albert Beck; Clock by Bill King, won by Mrs. Tom Brown; the Drug store's cup and saucer won by H. McPhee. J. H. Ford's table lamp won by Mrs. Gordon Gould, box of Christmas cards given by Geo. Schaffer won by Mrs. Schaffer; Mrs. Chas. Redmond gave a Christmas cake and Bev Good took that home. Doug Reid (on the elevator crew) won the Jim Miller chocolates, bath towels donated by McCaughan's won by Mrs. Percy Golby; Dalt Torrance's ornamental dog also went to Doug Reid, and the Inman flashlight was taken by L. Buchanan. There was also a lucky door number and this was won by Len McPhee.

Beginning January, the time of service for the United church will be changed to 7.30 p.m.; Dewberry 9 30 a.m.; Marwayne at 11 30 a.m.; Kitscoty 3 p.m.

There is always a special part of the church service for children, so come to church, children, you will like it!

The Sunday School is preparing a program for Christmas.

Mrs. Wylie and Alvin were in town Saturday. Mr. Jack Wylie hasn't been in for some time.

The Derwood Bowmans, Lydden Buchanans, Charlie Hannas, even Bill Bellchambers were all in town lately, but scarcely see Mr. Bill Purves. He is building a new house on his farm. Mr. and Mrs. Jim McClelland were in too, though the roads are slippery. Some of the farmers took part in the farmers' bonspiel in Vermilion. Some brought home a prize, some just brought themselves, but all had a good time.

The December meeting of the W. A. which is our missionary meet and Christmas party, was held at Mrs. McLean's, with 22 present and four visitors. A very happy afternoon was spent. There are still a few bazaar articles, beautifully worked pillow slips, aprons, double mitts, etc., you can purchase from Mrs. McLean.

TURKEY BINGO DEC 13
Vermilion Tigers Hockey club will hold a turkey bingo on Friday Dec. 13th at 8 p.m. in the Legion hall. 10 games for $1. Win a Christmas turkey and at the same time support the Tigers Hockey club. 23-3x

Ashley Cooper Speaks On Rotary Foundation

Vermilion Rotary Club members listened at last week's meeting to a very interesting and instructive talk by Ashley Cooper. Mr Cooper related the history and extent of Rotary Foundation which is considered to be one of the finest movements within Rotary International.

Mr Cooper told of the gradual growth over the years since it was first proposed in 1917 by Arch Klumph, president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs as it was then known, to a convention in Atlanta Georgia.

The objects from the start have been the same, to give selected college students fellowships so that they may attend a university in some other country but their own. It is not hard to understand the effect that such ambassadors of good will can have on world affairs. Here at least the rotary movement is living up to it's name, 'Rotary International'.

The foundation was slow in getting support but in 1937 it took on a [illegible]. Since it's inception 40 years ago, contributions to this fund have been more than five million dollars.

Since the revised plan was set up in 1947 a total of 953 fellowships of one years duration each have been awarded to young men and women in [illegible].

Canadian students numbering 37 have gone to 28 countries under the Rotary Foundation Plan.

The local club has qualified as a 100% Rotary Foundation Club from contributions made to the central fund.

Mr Cooper was introduced by Martin Shalka and thanked by Ken Rowe for a very excellent address on a subject highly valued by all Rotarians.

The only visitor last week was Harold Cooper, accountant at the School of Agriculture. Alex Palin introduced Mr. Cooper as his guest.

Mild weather prevails and is quite a contrast with the same period of a year ago when one of the old time cold snaps was experienced with steady below zero temperatures. Only one sub-zero reading has been registered all week, in fact the only one [illegible] this winter, and that was in the dead of night on Dec. 6th.

Kaye Simonsen Honored At Dessert Shower

Mrs. E.M. Stewart, Mrs. J.A. Smith and Mrs. A.H. Cooper were hostesses at a dessert shower held at the home of Mrs. Stewart on November 30 in honor of Miss Kaye Simonsen, whose marriage to Mr Herbert Mockford will take place on December 23 in the Mount Zion Lutheran Church, Edmonton.

Santa Claus danced into the room to the tune of Jingle Bells and presented Kaye with a well filled pack of miscellaneous gifts. The bride elect opened her gifts, thanking the individuals for them, and then expressing her deep appreciation to all for the enjoyable afternoon.

Most every man is engaged in making history, but luckily little of it gets into circulation.

FIRE BRIGADE DOUSES FIRE

Elk Point Firemen were called out early last Sunday morning to extinguish a fire at the Daniel residence. Mrs. Eaton is in charge of the material for knitting and sewing and Mrs. Keck and Mrs. Steps in charge of the used clothing department in Elk Point. PLAN IMPROVEMENTS TO SCOUT HALL—

The Elk Point Welfare Association held a meeting December 2 in the Scout and Guide Hall, at which time tentative plans were made for improving the building. Reports from the various Groups were given and show a very busy schedule for Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Cubs.

The Boy Scouts are selling Christmas trees this year and anyone wishing to place an order for a tree can contact Dr. Didow, Scoutmaster.

The Girl Guides held a candy sale on November 23 and are holding another sale Saturday, December 14. Proceeds from the Candy sales are going towards the coming summer camping trip.

The welfare Association would like to thank all those persons who so generously contributed towards the building fund for the Guide and Scout Hall, in the recent canvass.

Although more persons are attending the Welfare Meetings it is hoped by the executive that more parents would turn out and give their support to this organization which spends a good deal of time looking after boys and girls in Elk Point.

LESS ON THE CUFF

On-the-cuff buying of cars, trucks and other durable items is levelling off, acording to The Financial Post.

Sales finance companies predict total retail credit outstanding on their books by year-end will be $1,050 million, only fractionally higher than a year ago.

This contrasts with trends of a year ago when installment finance firms reported a 30% increase in retail debt outstanding during 1956.

Letters to the Editor

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

R.R. 1, Vermilion
December 2, 1957.

Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alta.

Dear Sir:

With your kind permission, I would like to comment on the letter published in your Nov. 28 paper, defending the egg marketing board. Your correspondent seems to have covered the angles of the question very well.

I raise a few eggs for sale, and if it was not for an abundance of cheap feed, and my own cheap labor, I could not continue to do so. It is nice to see someone with enough public spirit to try to do something to better matters. I myself had missed Ambrose Hill's criticism of the egg marketing plan, as I never read his column. I broke that rule this week, and old man that I am, I would rather be outside sawing wood than reading his trash, which is a product of his imagination from start to finish.

Mr Editor I have no use for these hirelings who sell their pens and their souls for gain.

Man has advanced a long way from the Jungle mainly by sharing his knowledge with other men from all parts of the world and by co-operation. We must co-operate in [illegible] make a Nation. We must co-operate with the other nations in the commonwealth to make a successful commonwealth and we must co-operate with the rest of the world to abolish that scourge of war and to bring true that dream of the idealists "Peace on Earth Goodwill to all Men." It's either "grow up or blow up" which shall it be? There doesn't appear to be any middle of the road, let's grow up and learn to co-operate.

Yours sincerely

Rotary Xmas Tree To be Feature of Christmas Season

Arrangements have been made by the Vermilion Rotary club whereby all persons wishing to do so may donate Christmas gifts to needy children in the town and district. This plan was inaugurated by the Rotarians last Christmas and proved very successful.

The Rotary Christmas tree will be conveniently located in the lobby of the Bank of Commerce. Those who have gifts for needy children are invited to place them on the tree at any time from now to Christmas. Each gift should be marked with the age of a child for whom it would be suitable and whether it should go to a boy or girl. The gifts may be clothing or toys.

The Salvation Army in Vermilion have undertaken to distribute all the gifts placed on the tree.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

Ye writer and husband, Beverly and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robinson, Bryan, Margaret, and Allan Coutts enjoyed a [illegible] dinner at the home of Mr and Mrs. J Repp on December 1, the occasion being writer's 27th wedding anniversary. A lovely three tiered wedding cake was baked by Thelma. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. B. Riedale and boys joined the gathering.

Don't forget our Xmas Church service will be held at Pleasant Valley December 22.

The Loafers' Lodge enjoyed a pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs D. Harrison, with 14 present. We were pleased to have Mrs. Knutson a visitor and Mrs. Carr as a new member. Thanks is extended to these two ladies for their kind donations to our club. It was decided to have a Xmas tree and party for the members' children on December 13 at the Sherwood home Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McGaughey are to purchase candy and fill the sacks.

Next meeting and card party will be held Jan. 2nd at Mrs. William's home. Lucky draw was won by Isabell Repp.

We were sorry to learn Ernie Seminick was a patient in the hospital for a short time.

Miss Margaret Gow of Edmonton spent the week end with her dad at Borradalle.

We enjoyed your visit Mr. R. Mead, come again.

For our friends who have moved away the weather here is grand. Not much snow and really mild.

Some six tables of cards were played at our last card party at the Harrison home. Prizes went to the following ladies Frances Sherwood, Isabelle Repp, Beverly Sherwood. Gents who won prizes were Bert Gould, Tom Sherwood, and Margaret Robinson who played as a man.

WOODVALE NOTES

The card party at the Woodvale hall on Nov. 22 was such a success that another one for Dec. 6th was immediately arranged. There will be a dance on Dec 13th, also in the Woodvale hall.

The dance Nov. 22 at Gaston hall proved to be a very enjoyable evening too, and Jimmy Spence won the reversible wool quilt. A nice sum of money was raised this way and will be used on improving the community hall and on local projects.

[illegible] a number of hunting parties went to Drayton Valley, Rocky Mountain House and Edson areas to hunt so if the cooking smells extra delicious around here, well, it's all that moose and deer meat getting extra attention from the ladies to be served to hungry men.

Tommy and Johnny Brown with Clive Jones were the first to leave, but did not bring any game home, but had lots of fun on the trip. Kaare Seite and Bert Portsmith came back with a deer. Mrs. Seite accompanied them as far as Edmonton where she visited her sister. Roger Watt and Cliff Crocker arrived home with a moose each. Mrs. Crocker and youngest son went along and stayed with her sister at Rocky Mountain House Keith stayed with Mrs. Roger Watt. Herman Krueger and Herman Wolters got a moose, or rather Mr Krueger got a moose on his 76th birthday, which made it a very special event. It was the first moose he had ever shot, and a very big one it was at that! Bill McGrath, Frank Wolters and Hugh Leighton came home last week end and had a very successful trip. Bill got a moose, Frank and Hugh each a deer. Ray Preston and Frank Watson brought back a moose, shot by Ray. We have not heard of anyone else from here going hunting but it seems there are more becoming enthusiastic over it every year.

The Red Cross Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Seite for their annual meeting on Dec. 5th. After a quilt was finished there was ample time for the ten members to hear the reports and choose the executive for 1958. The financial report showed a balance of $89.22 which is a drop from December 1956. This is due to heavier expenses in 1957 and more material on hand. Collections and donations brought in $52.54, a sale of goods $15.40 and the net profit on the picnic booth was $41.20, making a total of $109.24. Money contributions to the Red Cross and other organizations and to memorial donations amounted to $69.34. Materials bought and postage amounted to $78.34. The ladies made eight [illegible] and one baby quilt, a layette for the Unitarian Service Committee, and on hand are three quilt tops and a year's supply of wool bats. They also sponsored a shipment of wool for blankets sent boxes of used clothing to the Presbyterian W.A. in Edmonton and to the Unitarian Service Committee. They held twelve meetings with an average attendance of eight, and can look back on a successful year. The president for 1958 will be Mrs. Flo McQuid vice-president and work convener, Mrs. Seite, secretary is Mrs. Amy Portsmith; treasurer, Mrs. Betty Lyssons; sick convener, Mrs. Gladys Wolters. It was decided to buy material and [illegible] another layette for the [illegible] and also some more baby quilts and collect another box of used [illegible] clothing. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Flo McuQid on Jan. 9th where Miss Craig, District Home Economist, will speak on the topic "Flowers the Year Round". She will also show slides. A very delicious lunch was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Every member is sending a Christmas present to a girl or boy at the Provincial Training school in Red Deer who has no friends or any relatives [illegible]

A rink of Tolland curlers is taking part in the Farmers' Bonspiel in Vermilion this week. The rink is composed of Kaare Seite, Fred Sloan, Art Lyssons and Fred McGrath. They won one and lost one game the first day. Thursday but as we send our notes in on Friday we are unable to give any further reports on their progress.

Last week I included directions for fondant. This week I'll explain methods for dipping chocolates.

FONDANT CENTERS

Shape fondant in balls, wafers and crescents. Nuts, cherries, ginger and marshmallows can be used with fondant or alone as centers.

METHOD FOR DIPPING

Shred or finely cut one or two pounds of semi-sweet dipping chocolate. Check the label to see if it's suitable for dipping. Fill lower part of double boiler with with boiling water. Place shredded chocolate in upper part and melt chocolate. Temperature of chocolate should be 130 degrees. Empty water from pan, fill with cold water and cool chocolate to 83 [illegible]. Fill double boiler with water at 86 degrees.

Drop centers one at a time into well-stirred chocolate, stir chocolate, stir well with fork until completely coated. Lift candy with fork and tap fork several times against rim of pan. Then draw fork across rim to remove excess chocolate.

Turn fork over and drop chocolate on waxed paper, shaping the thread into a decorative top knot or finish with a nut meat. Place freshly dipped chocolates in a cool place. NEVER REFRIGERATE.

When the amount of chocolate is too small for further dipping, stir in toasted peanuts, raisins, etc., and drop by small spoonfuls on waxed paper.

These will give you a delicious array of chocolates for festivities and guests. Fondant can also be used without dipping for a variety of delicious candies.

TIP FOR THE WEEK!

Here's a tip for parcel wrapping which will help keep parcels well wrapped. Dampen cord lightly before tying. When it dries: it shrinks and is tight.

Police parking tickets were first issued in Toronto in 1907.

SAFEGUARDING ALBERTANS AGAINST FIRE WASTE

The Fire Commissioner is appointed by the Provincial Secretary. He is in charge of that Branch of the Department which administers the Fire Prevention Act and The Lightning Rod Act. The Fire Commissioner's Branch is well qualified in all phases of fire prevention and control. The inspection staff has experience and knowledge which is available to all Municipal Fire Chiefs throughout the province, if required. The assistance of the Department is especially beneficial to the volunteer fire brigades in smaller communities. The branch provides an educational program designed to familiarize firemen with the latest methods of fire fighting. Fire Prevention films are shown at meetings of interested local groups as well. Inspections of buildings are also regularly carried out in co-operation with the local fire department. Investigation into the origin and circumstances of fires frequently provide information which the Department finds valuable for fire prevention. Hospitals, schools and other public institutions are inspected for fire hazards and any necessary changes ordered for protection of life and property.

The proper means of storage and handling of explosives and flammable materials is also controlled. The public is the most important ally of the inspectors in their endeavour to reduce the incidence of fire. It is essential that individuals inspect their own property for fire hazards. The Department provides a safety check list for property owners who wish to make the inspection of their property. Use the coupon on this page to obtain your copy. Specify "Safety Check List". The Fire Commissioner and his staff stand ready to give advice and assistance in co-operation with the local fire department, to make your community as safe from fire as possible. The Public can do its part by using this assistance to maximum advantage.

HELLO EVER[illegible]

Each time I read over the branch reports I'm amazed at the amount of very worthwhile activites and projects each group engages in. The A.W.I. truly lends a helping hand and lives up to its motto "For Home & Country".

There have been several enquiries re names of the Standing committee chairmen for the constituency. They are as follows:

Agriculture and Canadian Industries -- Mrs. R. MacMillan, Vermilion; Health — Mrs D Astley, Vermilion; United Nations -- Mrs. Calder, Mannville; Home Economics -- Mrs. Nick Romanick, Hazeldine; Education -- Mrs. A Pheasey, Mannville; Handicraft — Mrs. D Wagner, Mannville; Social Services -- Mrs. James Wallington, R.R. 2, Vermilion; Citizenship -- Mrs. Alex Henderson, Mannville

Once again it is the season of "Peace on Earth, Goodwill Toward Men". To everyone I send the wish that your Christmas may be bright with happy memories and the New Year leave nothing to be desired.

In closing I would like to quote a piece that is most fitting for this Christmas season. In 1600 a yeoman farmer died on Xmas eve and left this advice as the best Christmas gift he could give his family:

"Learn you to live by faith,
as I did live before.
Learn you to give in faith,
as I did at my door.
Learn you to keep by faith,
as God be still thy store.
Learn you to lend by faith,
as I did to the poor.
Learn you to live, to give, to keep, to lend, to spend
That Jesus Christ, from birth to death, may prove thy friend."

FUA Membership Reports Coming In

EDMONTON. — Monday, Dec. 9th, the first day of the F.U.A. annual convention finds the reports from locals on the drive for membership rolling in at a very good rate. These reports up till last week were very slow, although the membership shows an increase in those districts heard from.

To date 175 locals have sent in returns reporting 12,180 members representing 6650 farm units.

Space will not permit the listing of all locals which have reported, although all districts are now reporting a strong desire on the part of the farm families in Alberta to belong to the F.U.A. Many areas which have been inactive in the past are coming forward with a good sign-up.

Christmas Mails On Increase

Postmaster Don Taylor informs us that overseas parcel mail for Christmas is just about over and that domestic mail is on the increase. He asks the Standard to bring to the attention of its readers to pack and tie parcels securely, not with tissue paper and ribbon, be sure they are fully addressed with a return address included inside as well as out.

In connection with two-cent Xmas [illegible] separate the locals from those going out-of-town, tie in bundles or hand in at the wicket. Do not include any first class mail in these bundles.

Get your parcels and cards away early. Do not wait until the last minute. Remember that last suggested mailing date is Alberta by the 14th with locals by the 17th.

Your co-operation along these lines would be much appreciated by the post office staff and would do much to speed up the despatch and delivery of mails during the rush season. 22-3

Health Unit Notes

CEREBRAL PALSY

The human brain is like a telephone exchange. It receives a message, it studies it and sorts it out from other messages and decides what to do about it; it then sends the message out directing muscles to take action. This kind of process — translating a desire into action — is so quick in the normal brain that one is not conscious of any mental action. But if the brain is damaged or that part which controls muscular action it may be physically impossible to perform even the simplest action — this is called cerebral palsy.

A child with cerebral palsy may not be able to [illegible] things, he may have [illegible] in walking or he may not be able to control the muscles of his throat and tongue in order to speak. A child may be able to understand what you say even though he cannot talk. There are two main types of cerebral palsy depending on which part of the brain is damaged.

1. Spastic type — the muscles are tense and contracted and so will not work properly.

2. Athetoid type — the muscles are in continuous purposeless movement [illegible] cannot be directed.

A child may have a combination of various types of cerebral palsy but usually one type predominates.

Damage to the brain usually occurs before the baby is born, as an unborn baby is subject to injury and defects in development. Cleft palate and hare lip are other examples of such variation. The damage may occur during birth or afterwards due to an accident or illness such as whooping cough and meningitis. Cerebral palsy is not hereditary and casts no reflection on the mental or physical health of the parents.

A child with [illegible] palsy has all the needs, [illegible] hopes and fears of any [illegible] child. They are constantly [illegible] by their inability to [illegible] their wishes into action [illegible] to play with [illegible] their own age. Because [illegible] to dress [illegible] walk or talk many [illegible] they are mentally retarded. [illegible] however, is only true in a small proportion of cases.

With special training by highly skilled people a palsied child can be taught much. The slightly affected child can be taught to be independent and self-[illegible] and the more severely [illegible] child can be taught to walk, talk, feed himself. Treatment will be carried out by a doctor, a psychologist to advise on the child's ability to learn, a social worker to help the family to get adjusted, a physiotherapist to train the muscles, an occupational therapist and a speech therapist. Training should start early and be continued without interruption. Cerebral palsy cases all differ from one another and so need individual attention.

A child with cerebral palsy cannot be expected to progress as quickly as a normal child and this must be appreciated by the parents. It is important not to threaten or ridicule the child as this may produce a condition of maladjustment.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Nigel Aspeslet of Edmonton spent the week end with Mrs. Aspeslet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Levitt.

Mrs. William Aitken is spending her vacation at her former home in New York City.

Mrs. Ada Henry Sr. is visiting with relatives at Portland, Oregon for the winter season.

Mr and Mrs. Parke Dobson have returned from Calgary where Mr. Dobson attended the annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool as delegate from this [illegible].

The Ladies Hall Club held a very successful bingo and dance on Friday night. The prizes were nearly all donated. Chickens, turkeys, bologna, and yes— a real live goat.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stoddart and family were week-end visitors with Mr. and [illegible] dart at Red Deer.

On Tuesday evening a play, a comedy-drama entitled 'The Will of Lucille Evens', or the 'Valley of Ghosts' was presented in the Hall by St. Saviour's Dramatic Society of Vermilion, and sponsored by St. Peter's Anglican Church of Moyerton. The Hall was well filled and the play very much enjoyed. It is certainly no play for small children.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strett who celebrated their Golden Wedding on Saturday, December 7. A full report of this event will appear in a later issue. Best wishes Mr. and Mrs. Strett for many more years of married life.

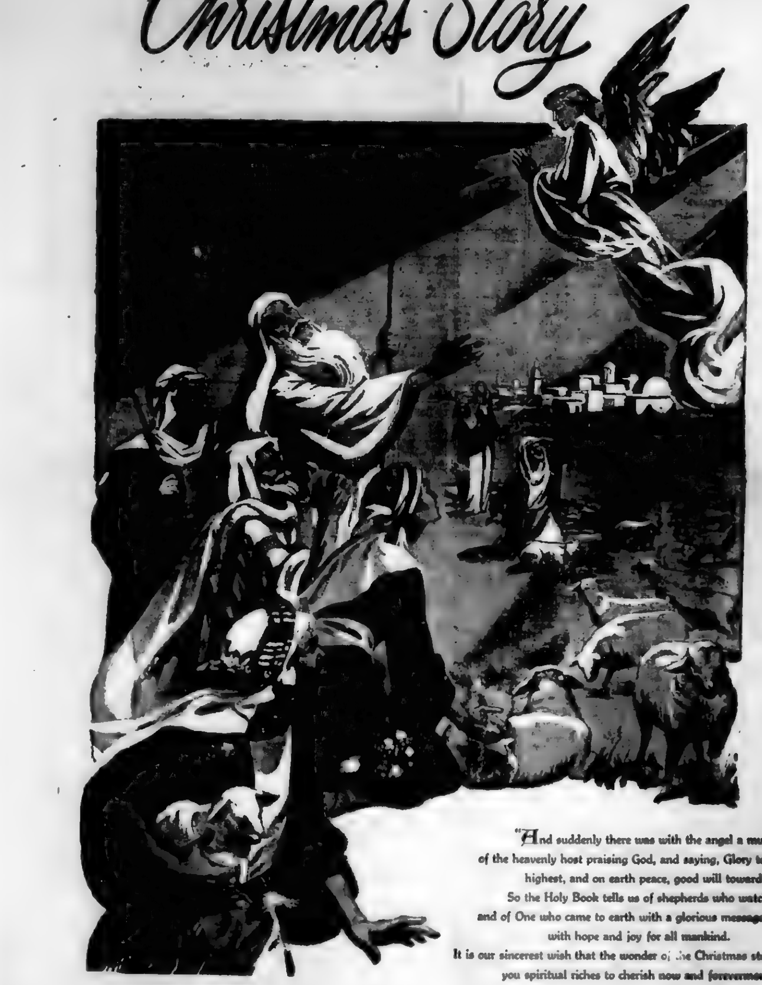
THE Christmas Story



"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."
So the Holy Book tells us of shepherds who watched by night, and of One who came to earth with a glorious message, with hope and joy for all mankind.
It is our sincerest wish that the wonder of the Christmas story bring to you spiritual riches to cherish now and forevermore.

Local Agents Are Appointed For New "Isetta" Small Car

A British-built car — no longer than the width of an average sized automobile — may soon alleviate local motorists' parking [illegible].

The 'Isetta', manufactured in Great Britain and distributed in Alberta by the Nance Company of Red Deer, is a scaled-down model which seats three persons comfortably, and is recommended as an ideal 'second car' for Alberta drivers.

It has a cruising speed of 50 miles an hour with gasoline consumption of 75 miles per gallon, an air-cooled one-spark plug engine four forward gears [illegible] reverse gear and is fitted with tubeless tires.

Already 60,000 Isettas are in use in Europe, and the manufacturer claims that neither cold weather or rough roads will make the Isetta unsuitable for Alberta driving. The pint-size car is fitted with an efficient built-in heater and the advantage of four wheels for safety and two-wheel drive. It holds to practically any type of roadway.

Though advertised as outrageously cheap to run, comfortable and safe, the little British-made model has an advantage even more spectacular in the eyes of Canadian [illegible] by parking problems. Because its length is no more than the average car's width, the Isetta not only gets into small parking spaces, but gets into them nose-on to the curb.

C. J. McCormick is the local agent.

See the display advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Give Interesting Meeting Reports

Two very interesting reports on recent conventions were given by D. R. Mitchell and K. G. Urquhart at the Board of Trade [illegible].

[illegible] day session of the Industrial Board of Alberta of which he is a member. This was held in the new Research building on the University campus. Members of this board come from all parts of Alberta.

Mr. Urquhart attended the annual meeting of the Yellowhead (Trans-Canada) Route Association also held in Edmonton. This meeting brought the ministers of highways of the four Western provinces together for the first time.

Mr. Urquhart after telling of the discussions which took place, advocated the immediate re-organization of the Yellowhead Route association along this portion of highway 16. It was at one time the most ardent advocate of a trans-Canada route through the Yellowhead. As the time is nearing when the Dominion will be thinking of a second trans-Canada highway, it is highly important that this route be promoted.

This was an excellent report by Mr. Urquhart and caused considerable discussion. The executive and a special committee are taking up the matter of re-organizing the highway 16 centres between North Battleford and Edmonton.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Christmas just about two weeks away and you're still stuck on what to get your car-owning friends? Here are some suggestions that may solve your problem. (Prices are approximate.)

For motorists in icy climes, there are traction treads made of flexible steel mesh. Slipped under the back wheels, they provide a sure-grip surface to get the car out of any slippery spot. They're good for sand and mud, too. A set of two, $1.79.

A vinyl plastic windshield cover will keep snow and ice off the glass when the car's parked outside. The cover has cloth-backed corners that can be wedged into the door jamb. It'll fit in glove compartment when not in use. Price 98 cents.

An altimeter is a good idea for a motorist. Registers to 16,000 ft. Price $9.29.

A good flashlight is essential in any car. You can get them at all sorts of prices. But there's a useful extra — a flashlight holder that clamps onto the car's steering column. About 50c.

For emergencies, there's a new sealed-beam lantern that serves as a spotlight and a [illegible] safety beacon to warn approaching cars. $7.09.

A trouble or reading light plugs into the car's cigaret lighter socket. It hangs on its own hook, leaving your hands free. $1.25.

For about $1.00, you can get a vanity mirror that clamps on the sun visor. It'll let the females check their hair and [illegible] up without moving the [illegible] mirror.

Finally, for the motorist who has everything, there's the portrait key. For $65 you can have a photo reproduced on the face of a blank key. Then have the key cut to fit the ignition.

BE PREPARED

Never attack an enemy until after you have mapped out your own line of retreat.

Christmas quiets the chain saws' roar in pulpwood forest. Hundreds of miles from the din of smoky towns and the hectic traffic of busy streets, lies a winter wonderland where Christmas trees grow in countless numbers. It is Canada's number one natural resource, the rich pulpwood forest where in hundreds of depots and thousands of camps, no decorations are needed to give a Christmas atmosphere. At left, in the stillness of Holy Night, a depot glistens with sparkling lights as pulpwood workers prepare for their Midnight Service, while at right Santa thanks a plow driver who has brought him to the camp. From these camps, in the heart of the nation's managed woodlands, comes the wood harvest that, when converted into pulp and paper, becomes Canada's leading export.

Dr. Fred Bentley, University of Alberta, Speaker at Rotary Club

Dr. C. F. Bentley, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Alberta was guest speaker at a recent Rotary Club meeting. His topic was 'Education in the Faculty of Agriculture.'

The speaker explained that in spite of what is generally understood the education requirements for entrance into the agricultural faculty are the same as for all club executive had agreed to investigate the possibilities of sponsoring an Old People's Home in Vermilion. The meeting approved that the executive should proceed with the investigation.

It was reported by President Tom McPherson that the Rotary Christmas tree was now set up in the Bank of Commerce. Citizens are invited to leave gifts for needy children under this tree. other University students. Also, a very high standing is required for the first two years or students are not permitted to complete the course.

Science subjects are stressed in the curriculum. Courses in Chemistry, bacteriology, biology, physics and mathematics are taken with science students in other faculties. Dr. Bentley stated that students must obtain a 60 percent mark on all subjects to take advance courses leading to master's and doctor's degrees in science of agriculture.

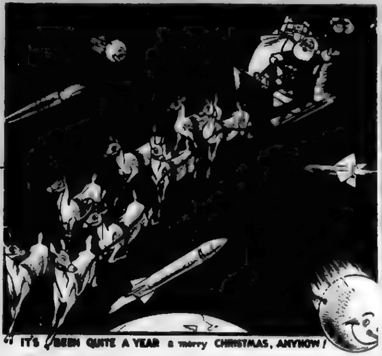
Dr. Bentley was introduced by Alex Palin and thanked by Carl Heckbert for a very informative talk.

Jim Robson reported that the Gifts should be marked with the age of the child for which they are best suited and whether they should go to a boy or girl.

The Salvation Army has agreed to make distribution of the gifts throughout the town and district.

It is hoped that citizens will donate as many presents as last year which amounted to over 60. It is not much for each one of us but it means a lot to the kiddies on Christmas morning.

There were six visitors at the club meeting. Ben King introduced by Tom McPherson, Ken Kennedy by Bill Sutherland, Claude Brennan by Elmore Stewart, Ort Strome by Ed Corley, Morley Douglas by Ernie Buckingham and Frank Smith by George Webb.



IT'S BEEN QUITE A YEAR a merry CHRISTMAS, ANYHOW!

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

"The Light That Never Fades"

By Rev C W MacKAY, First United Church, Vermilion

"THE Light is still shining in the darkness and the darkness has never put it out."

John 1:4 (Goodspeed)

When that light first shone in the dark world of Jesus day there was much evil and suffering everywhere. The conditions were appalling throughout the world when Jesus came in the flesh. It is estimated that two-thirds of the world were in slavery. The clanking of chains could be heard everywhere, and human bein[illegible] bought and sold in the [illegible] place. There was a law passed by the Imperial Romans that if a man killed an ox the death penalty followed for such a terrible act, but if a man killed a slave, his fellow man, it was passed by and little thought about it. It was possible for one man to own ten thousand slaves. The position of women and children was very low and they were given heavy burdens to bear. The sick for the most part, were uncared for as it was thought that disease came in one's life as a result of sin.

This dark world would have depressed us very much. We would have felt that there was no hope. But John, the gospel writer, takes the darkness for granted. He was a realist. Of course the times were grave, the sin of man was beastly, moral depravity and injustice of every type was everywhere present. But John taking all this for granted emphasized the light. He was one of the greatest realist and optimist in the world. He states "The Light is still shining in the darkness and the darkness has never put it out."

We speak of the darkness of ancient times but there has been grave darkness in our century. Two world wars fought in which many precious lives were taken. Hundreds of thousands of Jews persecuted and killed. The great power of Russia descended upon little Hungary where 20,000 men, [illegible] in Budapest alone. How true are Thomas Jefferson's words: "The Tree of Liberty must be replenished from time to time with the blood of patriots."

"Yet in the dark street shineth the everlasting Light."

"The Light is still shining in the darkness and the darkness has never put it out."

A missionary came home from overseas and was telling of her experience how she was taken from her work in Japan where she had spent a great deal of her life and was placed in a concentration camp. One sentence gave her hope in those dark hours. "All the darkness in the world, she kept repeating, cannot put out the light of a single candle".

1. We shall note in the first place that this light that the gospel writer speaks about, shone in Jesus' teachings and the darkness has never been able to put it out. Let us note two of Jesus' teachings in this regard.

Almost two thousand years ago Jesus spoke these words to His followers: "Blessed are the [illegible]makers". How absurd [illegible] must have sounded to the citizens of Jesus' day. At that time the Roman Legions were marching all over the countryside and towns and cities were falling before their mighty forces. What an absurd idea this was. "Blessed are the peace-makers." Most of the citizens would have reasoned thus: "Blessed are the powerful for they get what they want." Almost 2000 years have past and great throngs in the twentieth century still believe as the Romans. Did not Hitler believe that the mighty shall inherit the earth? But men of experience as far as war and military might is concerned believe that the humble Teacher of Nazareth was right after all. General Douglas MacArthur states "With present weapons there no longer is any advantage in winning a war. Everyone loses, with the victor only losing a little less than the vanquished."

Again the Master spoke to His listeners, "whoever would be great among you let him be your mini[illegible] and whoever would be first among you shall [illegible]vant of all." Here the Master is saying in effect that 'greatness [illegible] measured in usefulness to mankind."

What a strange idea this would be to the people of Jesus' day. The people were bringing their gold and gifts to the dictators of that day. People in those days felt that the great men were the conquerors – men who had money, power and might. How strange this teaching of the humbleman of Galilee would sound that "Greatness is measured in usefulness to mankind."

As one studies history one notes, however, that the outstanding people have been those who have served their fellowmen. Emerson states "He is great who confers the most benefits". A poet puts those thoughts in these words, "that best portion of a good man's life, his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love"

These two teachings are part of that light sent into the world and the darkness has never put it out.

2. This light that John speaks about not only shone in the Master's teachings but in a memorable way in His life. He was the embodiment of His teachings. He lived as He spoke. He was the Prince of Peace. He was the servant of mankind. He was unselfish. He was LOVE.

This Light (Jesus' life) shone in that dark world and the darkness has never put it out.

But the dark world tried to put out the Light.

So often we sing in our churches the hymn —

"The head [illegible] once was crowned with thorns,
Is crowned with glory now"

Yet a tremendous [illegible] was made to put out that [illegible] as it shone in the [illegible]. At Jerusalem they mocked Him, spit upon Him, flogged Him, crucified Him hand and foot to the cross. And as they saw His limp form on the cross some might have remarked, "That head will never be crowned with glory" But incredible as it may seem, "the head that once was crowned with thorns, is crowned with glory now."

This is a known historic fact. Kingdoms rise and pass away. Kings rise and fall, Dictators have their day and cease to be, but the Light of the World shines on in ever-increasing brightness. So in this Christmas season well might we sing with gladness in our hearts, "yet in the dark street shineth the Everlasting Light."

To our many friends in Vermilion and district who have made so many years happy and bright for us, my wife and family (four boys) wish you God's blessings during this sacred season, and brighten your New Year

Season's Greetings

Our sincere wishes to you and yours for a house full of love and happiness all through the holiday season.

Suey Fore Host To B. of T. Members at Christmas Dinner

All Board of Trade members attending the regular weekly dinner meeting on Wednesday were guests of Mr. Suey Fore, manager of the Rio Cafe, at a full course Christmas dinner. Thirty-two businessmen and farmers were in attendance. The dinner was by courtesy of the Rio Cafe.

Mr. Fore was called forward and presented with a bonus cheque of $25 for good services rendered during the year. The Board of Trade hold the regular weekly meetings at the Rio and appreciate the accommodation and services rendered.

Not to be outdone in generosity, the Board members contributed to a cash gift to the waitresses amounting to $32 and this in turn was presented to Vi Toner, head waitress, for distribution to the four girls concerned.

The Board agreed to arrange transportation for the hockey team to all outside games with the ways and means committee in charge. Mr. Angus McMillan is chairman of the committee.

Next meeting, January 8.

Board of Trade meetings have been cancelled for two weeks during the holiday season.

Don't Be Fooled!

With seed as well as with people looks can be deceiving. Why take a chance on whether your forthcoming crop will grow? A germination test soon settles any doubts. Carefully carried out, a home test may be satisfactory but because it is difficult for a farmer to tell normal from abnormal seedlings, R. H. Pharis, Supervisor of Alberta's Crop Improvement Service, favors sending a representative sample to Plant Products Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Calgary. Sample the grain at various depths and different places within the bin. Then send your sample with [illegible] to Plant Products. An unofficial test may be obtained through your local elevator agent. The rush for germination tests starts later on. Get ahead of it.

Should you wish registered or certified seed, any elevator agent can order it for you.

Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E. Present Hospital Board With $475.00 To Furnish Ward

At an interesting ceremony at the Vermilion municipal hospital on Saturday, Mrs. K. E. Rowe, Regent of Frog Lake Chapter, I.O.D.E., presented a cheque for $475, the amount estimated to fully furnish a private ward in the hospital. The cheque was accepted on behalf of the hospital board by Mr. Brenton Macnab, the chairman.

A gold plaque is now mounted on the door of the ward engraved with the words: "Furnished by Frog Lake Chapter, I.O.D.E., 1957". This plaque can be seen on the door just back of Mr. Macnab in the above picture.

It was back in November 1954 that the members of the I.O.D.E. here resolved to raise funds to furnish a ward in the hospital. They have progressed steadily since, and Saturday saw the culmination of the extremely commendable and worthy effort.

The following appear in the photo, from left to right — B. A. Macnab holding the cheque and showing genuine satisfaction with it; Miss Alice Keith, for many years the matron of the hospital; Miss Jean McPhee, the present matron; hospital board member Jim Wallington whose face is obscured; board member [illegible] Peter Noster of Derwent; Miss Ann Snaychuk, treasurer of the I.O.D.E.; Mrs. K. Vermilion Agricultural Society Annual Meeting Well Attended

The Vermilion Agricultural Society held its annual meeting on Dec. 12th when reports of the work of the past year were reviewed and plans laid for conduct of the work of the Society in the new year.

President Orton A. Strome presided and an unusually large turnout of district residents attended the meeting, evincing a keen interest in the work of the Society. Reports indicated some decrease in revenues for the year due to the cold exhibition weather, but entries in livestock and other classes were generally well maintained and interest in all phases of the activities of the organization was keen.

Reports presented covered, in addition to the operation of the annual three-day exhibition, the major activities which included the sponsorship of the calf show and sale of the Mannville, Vermilion and Derwent clubs; the holding of a Boys' and Girls' Summer Camp over a five-day period attended by 125 farm boys and girls. Short courses were held at Mannville and Vermilion for both men and women and a Farm and Home Improvement competition was carried out with some 25 younger farm families participating; the annual fall sale of pure bred beef cattle and hogs proved successful, with prices for stock keeping well up to previous levels.

Plans were initiated looking to bigger and better things for the year 1958 and it is desired at this time to express thanks of the Fair Board to all who assisted in the conduct of the work of the Society; particular thanks are due the Board of [illegible] the Regimental Band, the organizations carrying on the various refreshment concessions, the M.D.'s of Vermilion River and Minburn and the Town of Vermilion, as well as the Vermilion School of Agriculture, the staff of which gave unlimited assistance in almost every department.

C.G.I.T. Conducts Beautiful Vesper Service Sunday

The Vesper or Candle-Lighting service, pleasing and inspiring, was conducted at the United Church on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. by the Canadian Girls in Training. It is a beautiful service and exemplifies the excellent training received by the C.G.I.T.

Frances Mihalcheon, president of the C.G.I.T., was in charge of the service. The C.G.I.T. choir led the congregational singing as well as rendering two anthems. [illegible] sang a duet very beautifully. Taking parts in the service were the readers Betty Robinson, Dorothy Jean Stewart, Elizabeth Stewart and Marie Tovell. The candle lighters were Jeanette Wilson, Margaret Ronin, Myrna McPhee, Jean Puss, Merle Marshall and Jacquie Bell. Ushering was done by Ruth Stewart, Merilyn Smith, Vivian Tillett and Joan Stephens.

A very large congregation attended the service.

HI-SCHOOL HI-LITES

Well, it won't be long now until Christmas and everybody is waiting anxiously for the holidays.

The basketball 'A' teams have been chosen and the girls have already played their first game. They went down to a 27 to 14 defeat at the hands of the Derwent girls. The point-getters for Vermilion were Linda Long with six, Betty Robinson 2, Lorraine LeRossignol 2, Shirley Porter 2, and Gloria Wilson 2. The girls' 'A' team is being coached by Murray Miller.

The boys have also organized their 'A' team, but the first game which was to be played against Derwent was cancelled.

Basketball is pretty well the main picture around the high school and with House League basketball nearing an end the standings are: Service 18 points, Carmen 20 points, Laurier 14.

The high school is putting up a Christmas tree in the hall and on Friday afternoon there will be a sing-song. After the sing-song two basketball games will be played, one for each the boys and the girls.

Still Time To Put Your Gift On Rotary Christmas Tree

The Rotarians have a lovely big Christmas tree, prettily decorated in the Bank of Commerce and all the tree needs to complete the picture are several hundred gifts for distribution to needy children. The gifts may be clothing or playthings. Simply wrap it up, write the age of the child it would be suitable for and whether for a boy or girl place it under the tree in the Bank.

The Rotarians have arranged with Capt. Holden of the Salvation Army to distribute the gifts to the needy or less privileged folks at Christmas time. Look after this little duty today. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Death of Mrs. E. S. Ross at Mannville

MANNVILLE — Carbon monoxide poisoning was reported to be the cause of the death of Mrs [illegible] Ross of Mannville on Friday, December 13. Her husband Mr. Alex Ross and his partner Mr. Chuck Thumlert, found her when they returned home from work at 6.15 p.m., as they entered the rear of the house which the garage adjoins.

Apparently Mrs. Ross, preparing to use the car, had started the motor and then gone into the house for her coat which she put over the front seat. In attempting to reach the big garage doors she was apparently overcome by the fumes.

Mrs. Ross was born at Cremona, Alberta, receiving part of her education there and the remainder at Mount Royal College and the University of Alberta in Calgary. She had taught school for twenty years, coming to Mannville in 1951 and taught here for six years.

She leaves to mourn her loss her loving husband, three sisters and three brothers. The funeral was held in Calgary on Tuesday, December 17. Sincere sympathy is extended to her husband at this time.

Local Artists Present Greatly Enjoyed Comedy-Mystery Play

The three-act comedy mystery play entitled "The Will of Lucille Evans" presented by the St. Saviour's Dramatic Society on Friday evening last, was an exceptionally well enacted and presented play. The play itself was a happy choice, having plenty of comedy with a nice mystery plot running through it which kept the large audience guessing right up until the whole affair was unravelled in the final stages of act three.

The play has been presented at five places, Islay, Kitscoty, Paradise Valley, Buffalo Coulee and Vermilion. The Society still has a date for Vegreville.

The play was presented here in the armouries with a sell-out crowd of just a few under 400 in attendance.

Taking part in the play were Jack Kneale, Marie Miller, John Barnes, Edith Kneale, Eleanor Evans, Lloyd Smith, Jackie Stephen, Gib Stephen, Anne Inman, Ken Stone, Alex Palin, the latter also doing the directing.

Lighting and stage effects were handled by Keith King and Kells Minchin, while Alf Logan was responsible for the blood chilling sounds. It was a good effort, requiring a tremendous amount of work on the part of each and every one concerned, and very well done.

Mixed Chorus Sings Enjoyable Carol Service to Large Audience

Seldom has so much enjoyment been derived from a program of carols as that of Sunday evening when the Vermilion Mixed Chorus sang sixteen numbers on their regular program and then obliged by singing two more the choice of the audience. Possibly it was the fact that a really polished performance was given by the choir, they sang as if they loved doing it and so had their listeners right with them from the start, while there is little doubt that the nearly full theatre close to 400 people further inspired the musicians. This was full testimony that the ability and efforts of the chorus are fully appreciated in town and district.

The program presented was a little more varied than usual and this seemed to meet with the approval of the audience. When it came to the time when the director Mr Jack Brown gave the listeners their choice the pieces named were "Silver Bells" and "Angels and Shepherds". In two of the numbers too, the audience was asked to take part and this they did quite wholeheartedly.

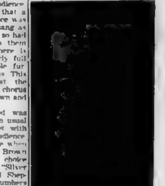
Mr. Jack Brown is director and founder of the mixed chorus and directed the concert. Dr. C. W. Stephens is accompanist, while 29 formed the chorus on Sunday evening.

Mr. Ashley Cooper was chairman for the evening and gave some interesting facts about the chorus. It was originally formed as a male voice choir in 1948 by Mr. Brown, so that this was the ninth annual concert given, and the fifth annual Christmas Carol concert. It was operated as a men's choir for several years but a few years ago the ladies were invited to sing with the men, allowing for greater variation in the choice and rendition of the numbers. Some of the members singing on Sunday night had been with the chorus ever since it was formed, namely the director Mr. Brown, the accompanist Dr. Stephens, Mr. Tom Watts, Mr. John Maxwell and Mr. Wm. Fooks.

Voluntary contributions are made to the carol services and all of this goes to provide food hampers for the needy at Christmas.

The director Mr. Brown expressed thanks to all concerned for the very generous support accorded for the carol concert, naming Mr. Nick Kowalchuk for the free use of the theatre, The Vermilion Standard for the very generous publicity always cheerfully given, Mr. Albert Hildreth for stage settings, Mr. Alf Logan for tape recordings, and the public for the generous donations which amounted to $145, Mr. Harold Cooper for looking after said donations and the C.G.I.T. girls for ushering.

"MR. MUSIC"



MR. JACK BROWN

Following the Carol Concert on Sunday evening, Mr. Brown was presented with two recordings by the members of the Mixed Chorus. The presentation was made by Mr Tom Watts in appreciation of the work done by Mr. Brown in directing the chorus. Mr Watts referred to Jack as 'Mr. Music.'

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS . . . Our Most Hallowed Heritage

Christmas, with all it stands for, is our most hallowed heritage. For centuries it has united all civilized nations and peoples It has shaped their ideals and their destiny.

The thought of Christmas is still like the brightly shining star that drew the Three Wise Men in the Gospel story as they journeyed through the night to Bethlehem and found the cradle of a Wisdom greater than the world of their time knew. The world of our time is still sadly far from knowing and feeling that Wisdom of the life and the teachings and the death of Jesus as fully as the shepherds keeping watch over their flocks by night knew and felt the power of the light that shone about them, when the angel of the Lord — as we read in the gospel of St. Luke — came upon them and they heard the voices from Heaven singing, "On earth peace, goodwill to men."

We of this day and age are still in perfect accord with Charles Dickens when he wrote in his Christmas Carols "I have always thought of Christmas as a time when men and women open their hearts freely" and this old carol is still alive with the spirit of this, the greatest day of the Christian years the spirit of sympathy and tolerance the spirit that stands against all the things that hurt the human soul and cripple its life, the spirit of good cheer the spirit that banishes troubles and anxieties lest they mar the festival of the home and spoil the free trustful joyousness of the children.

Mannville School Stage Xmas Party

MANNVILLE — Pupils of the Junior High School did themselves proud Friday evening of last week, as they entertained at a Xmas party. From what we hear the girls were not the only ones attired in their Sunday best. Games were first offered as part of co-operative enjoyment, and later that most popular pastime for young and old alike dancing. After tripping the light fantastic to their hearts content, a delicious lunch was served by the pupils.

Anglican Men's Club Enjoy Historic Scenes and Commentary

The members of the Anglican Men's club were treated like kings on Monday evening. Firstly the committee of chefs presented a sumptuous menu of baked ham and scalloped potatoes with a lot of extras; secondslides taken on his recent trip by Ernie Buckingham showed to England, Scotland, France and Belgium.

Many of the pictures shown were of historical spots and Mr. Buckingham's running commentary added to a very interesting evening.

The chef committee was made up of Lorne Pockett, Bill Fooks, Jim Thompson and Gerald King. For the first meeting in 1958 those in charge will be Mitchell Taylor, Gordon Park, Alex Palin and Lance Playne.

Two new members were introduced, Mr. Hinton a newcomer to town who is employed at the Super Service Station, and Mr. Morley Douglas, assistant District Agriculturist.

NEWS from ISLAY

Special Christmas service with special music—come to Church on Sunday at 9 30 am. Christmas Sunday December 22.

There will be Communion Service in all the Kitscoty charge Jan. 12 and infant Baptism Jan. 19.

Hello Mr. and Mrs Carn at Borradaile, are you still there?

A number from here attended the Bingo at Vermilion last Friday night. Mrs. Hilda Bell brought home a nice turkey.

Mrs. Jim Allan came home from hospital after a couple of weeks there.

Saw Bill King drive up to the school Tuesday morning with a beautiful green tree atop his car. It was left at the school of course. Friday night is the Christmas program and Thursday night in Walter's store there will be the usual assembly line bagging the goodies.

Mrs. Bill King finally had to give in and go to the hospital. Flu was the cause, maybe the coast climate didn't agree.

Most of the crew working on the Pool elevator have left except a few who have been having meals at the Bill Axley and Geo. Purves homes who have been repairing the annex. There are still two very nice house trailers here belonging to Mr. Neufeld and Mr. Reed.

Harry and Annie look first thing in the Standard for Islay news, so folks hand in or phone in any news. Harry and Annie would like to be a square dancer for on Wednesday night the Club is having it's Christmas party and they are going to have pie with ice-cream!

The have bingo games on Vancouver Island, as we had a Xmas letter from Nellie Redmond Kirby saying that she and her husband had met Harry and Annie at a Bingo and then one evening they visited them. The Kirby's moved to Sidney this last summer where they are raising chinchillas in a big way. Nellie taught Islay school.

George Schaffer went by train last Thursday morning to Edmonton for several days.

Our stores have been nicely stocked for Xmas trade. One could get anything. Overheard one lady say, 'I've bought all my Xmas gifts and for the house right here in Islay and it was no small amount.'

Saw Gladys Gould all happy and gay in the Post Office. She and Bert were on their way despite the slippery roads.

Mr. Thor, who bought what was the Cairns farm is busy getting buildings ready for his family to come in the spring.

Be present at Church at 9 30 this Sunday. There will be special music, fitting to the season and the sermon is "Let us go even unto Bethlehem."

Const. Alex Link Is Married in Colorful Ceremony In B. C.

CASTLEGAR — An impressive double-ring ceremony took place in St. Rita's Church, Castlegar, uniting in marriage Marie Mercedes Joyce, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. W W Schwartzenhauer, and Constable Alexander John Link of Kimberley detachment of the RCMP, son of Mr and Mrs. Peter Link of Vermilion, Alta.

On the altar were bouquets of all-white chrysanthemums, and the family pews were marked with tiny white bells

Rev Father E. Brophy officiated at the nuptial mass with the bride's brother George, and Andy Shutek as servers.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over tulle and taffeta. The bodice featured an Italian neckline, tiny cap sleeves and velvet trim. Her chapel veil fell from a sequined tiara. She carried a mauve orchid mounted with lilies of the valley on a white prayerbook.

Bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Lorraine Schwartzenhauer was gowned in a waltz length frock of pale blue brocade with a dropped waistline and fitted bodice with a square neckline. She wore a white feathered bandeau in her hair and carried a dainty nosegay of pink carnations nestled in pink tulle and ribbons.

The bride's youngest sister, Germaine was flower girl. She wore a short dress of white flocked nylon over pale blue crinolines, with a wide blue taffeta sash, and a white headdress. She carried a smaller replica of the bridesmaid's bouquet.

Const. Barry Beaulac of Cranbrook was best man and ushers were Const. Paul Gilchrist of Fernie and Const. Len Healey of Nelson. The groom and his attendants were in the full dress uniform of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police

After the ceremony 85 guests assembled at the Hotel Marlane for a wedding luncheon and reception in honor of the couple

The head table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with pale tapers, the decorations in the hall being pale blue and white with wedding bells pre-dominating and a profusion of fall flowers.

Father Brophy was asked to say grace. Mr. Andy Mutek acted as toastmaster. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr Gordon Pettitt. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Leo Couture of Rossland cut the wedding cake and Mrs Pat Renwick and Miss Mildred Mansfield of Nelson served.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schwartzenhauer chose a dress of brown figured taffeta with matching jacket, beige and brown accessories and complemented by a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Link wore a royal blue tailored dress with beige accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Seattle and other points. For her going away outfit the bride chose a tan sheath dress trimmed in white, topped by a black duster with red and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Out-of-town guests came from Vancouver, Seattle, Vermilion, Kimberley, Trail, Rossland, Nelson and Deer Park.

Working For Santa Is Satisfying Job

WINNIPEG. — What's it like to be a Santa's helper? Satisfying, but hectic, according to Canadian National Express workers in Western Canada.

If anybody is entitled to be called Santa's helpers, they are, for during the Xmas season each year they handle hundreds of thousands of Xmas parcels. Every day thousands of brightly packaged gifts destined to bring happiness to countless Canadian homes pass through their hands and there is a big responsibility in seeing that they all get to their proper destination on time and in good condition.

CN express expects to handle close to one million gifts and Christmas packages in Western Canada this year, and will take on several hundred extra employees to deal with the great influx of traffic. Some 75 to 100 extra employees will be taken on in Winnipeg while many others will be needed at Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton and other important centres in the West.

People who fly into a rage always make a bad landing.

BRIGHT DISPLAY . . . Long noted for its pleasing Christmas decorations, Chicago's Merchandise Mart, which boasts more floor space than any other structure in the world, presented this gala Christmas greeting to the people of Chicago.

Observance Grew With Christianity

The observance of Christmas as we know it today is one of joy and peace, making it difficult for us to realize that the holiday has not always been universally recognized and observed.

When Pope Gregory sent out missionaries in 601 A. D., he told them to let pagan converts weave the harmless features of their festivals into the spiritual fabric of Christmas observance.

The popularity of the Christmas observance grew with the progress of Christianity, but there were setbacks. Abuses of Christmas reached such a pitch in feudal England that the Puritan Parliament outlawed the holiday in 1644. The observance declined until the middle of the 19th century when Charles Dickens published his heart-warming "Christmas Carol."

TIME CHRISTMAS CAROL

Charles Wesley, a Methodist minister England wrote "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" on a Christmas morning. The brother of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, was inspired by the pealing of church bells when he penned the famous carol.

GUESS WHO . . . Everybody is impersonating Santa or Mrs. Santa these days. Here Hilda Hatavan gives her impersonation of Mrs. Santa Claus—and while it may not resemble a reasonable facsimile, the gift-laden pack on Hilda's back may give a vague clue.

Grandfather Frost Is Russian Santa

Christmas in Russia? Behind the Iron Curtain it's Grandfather Frost who delights the children.

Grandfather Frost (really an actor from the Moscow stage) was revived by the Russians two years ago. Through most of the month of January thousands of Russian children dance around a fir tree in St. George's Hall and may shake hands with Grandfather Frost, the Russian Santa Claus.

Grandfather Frost entertains the children with the aid of singers, dancers and variety artists from the theaters. Last year, for the first time, American correspondents were admitted to the Kremlin to see one of the gatherings.

SAVE THE TREE

If your tree holder is the type that allows the butt of the tree to rest in water, you can help keep needles from dropping by dissolving plant food in the water. If you use a pebble or rock-filled pail to support the tree, cover the pebbles or rock with a plant food solution. Use one teaspoonful of plant food (or one plant food tablet) to each gallon of water in the container.

TELL ME, TELL ME . . . This lovely lady has succeeded in bringing Old Santa into view by gazing into her crystal ball, yet it seems that the vision isn't clear enough to foretell the gifts that he is bearing. Oh, well, Christmas is only a short time away.

Christmas Safety Appeal to Motorists

Keeping other traffic guessing is as dangerous as leaving an unmarked bottle of poison in the medicine cabinet warns the Canadian Highway Safety Conference.

Signals, either by hand or by flashing light or both, are not only protection for others, the Conference adds, but for you. Make signalling a habit — and live longer.

It's so simple for a motorist to signal his intentions in traffic. All it takes is the flicking of a little lever, or holding out a hand. Too many drivers seem to think that all they do by signalling is a favor for someone else and that in their mixed up code, is not being done this year! By their standards, consideration must never be given to others, either driving or walking. The fact is, says the Conference, those drivers are begging for trouble for themselves and at the same time, breaking the law.

CHSC urges this signal every move. Do not wait until the last minute; give the drivers behind and in front of you plenty of time to adjust their actions to your intended movements, otherwise they are certain to either make a move that can cause a crash or become peeved and consequently dangerous.

It takes no effort and it means so much for a driver to signal his intentions. If you are the sort of driver who prefers not to accommodate others, then, curses the warning, remember this: YOU can be easily the victim of your own folly.

Mrs. W. F. Stewart and Mrs. Lyle Anson Attend Annual Meeting Cancer Society

Fred Kenny of Calgary was elected President of the Alberta Division, Canadian Cancer Society, at the annual meeting of the Society held in Calgary. He succeeded Walter E. Huckvale, a prominent Lethbridge lawyer who has headed the Society for the past three years.

The meeting was attended by delegates from the Society's branches throughout the province and representing the Vermilion branch were Mrs. W. F. Stewart of Vermilion and Mrs. Lyle Anson of Islay.

A budget of $300,000 for the forthcoming year was approved by the meeting. Nearly $73,000 was voted to the Society's research program, while the welfare department, which provides a wide variety of services to cancer sufferers, will require over $86,000. The many educational projects of the Society including education in industry and business, as well as the publication of literature, school programs, radio and television presentations, etc., all designed to save lives by creating an awareness of cancer's problems, will cost $91,500.

Mrs. T. H. Howes of Millet, President of the Alberta W. I., presented the annual report of the Society's Board of Directors. The report forecast the early control of leukemia upon which a great deal of research has been undertaken lately.

Dr. H. E. Rawlinson of Edmonton, Vice-President of the National Cancer Institute of Canada, was speaker at one session. He discussed progress in research and treatment of cancer of the breast. Dr. Rawlinson stated that, although there had been great progress in Cancer Research during the past 50 years, it was most unlikely that a single cause of the disease would ever be found, but that it was a disease of multiple causes. Because of this, he said, the task ahead was a monumental one and in the treatment stage many different types of cancer called for a wide variety of treatment.

Dr. Rawlinson blasted sceptics in the medical profession who scoffed at the emphasis placed on early diagnosis of cancer. "Early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment still remain the greatest hope for ultimate cure", he said, and praised the Society for its unremitting efforts in endeavoring to bring people to their doctors "whenever danger signal threatens".

Mrs. W. E. Cross of Vermilion was among those elected to the board of directors of the society to direct affairs for the year ahead.

For addressing crowds, meetings and use on playgrounds, says The Finanical Post, there is now a haller with four-watt output. This is 10 times the power of most previous models the Canadian manufacturer claims. It is completely transistorized to improve reliability and increase battery life.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

DEAR SANTA:

It is about forty years since I've written you a letter. You may have forgotten it, but I haven't. It said, "Please bring me the steem engine from Chalmer's Hardware Store, the one with the reel steem."

That letter is still in my mother's scrapbook.

You brought the engine, all right and it was my pride and joy and it lasted me more than two years before it finally quit working.

You brought me lots of things that Christmas and the years that followed. Mixed candy and nuts, an orange in the toe of my stocking, candy sticks and checkers, skates and hockey sticks, puzzles and prayer books, season's tickets to the skating rink and heavens knows what else. There are so many Xmas memories . . . the plum puddings, the turkey with bright red cranberry sauce, the hidden presents in the days before Christmas, the whispering.

Of course Santa, I was very young in those days and I had no idea how expensive Christmas must have been for you. You never complained, and you seemed to enjoy filling our stockings at the foot of the bed because one night you came to fill them before I really fell asleep and I heard you chuckling. You had a chuckle just like my father's!

Now that I'm older with a family of [illegible] I understand much better how Christmas hit your pocketbook. But I also understand why you didn't complain . . . why you wanted us to have all possible joys while we were young and innocent and full of wonder.

I'm glad you felt that way. Because some of the warmth and wonder stays with a man always, even when sputniks spin around the earth and nations scream propaganda at each other. We know that you dear Santa, are impervious to sputniks or ICMBs. You're made of love and sacrifice and kindliness, the most indestructible qualities in the universe!

[illegible]

A resolution was drafted to send to the resolution committee of Home and School that owing to the tremendous destruction being done on Halloween that it be banned.

Mr. [illegible] asked that more parents attend the Annual School Meeting to be held here in February. [illegible]

[illegible] by Mrs. [illegible] for farm [illegible] of banks for Dec. 3. We also [illegible]

Next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. [illegible] R. [illegible] will be on the lunch committee.

PROGRESS?

Into our garbage pails every day it has been frequently asserted [illegible] goes enough food to keep well fed many a smaller nation of the older world. And it is not only food that we toss away, declares The Financial Post.

Most of the apple and other trees that stood in the way of the St. Lawrence Seaway were bulldozed into heaps and burned. Yet these would have made excellent fire place fuel.

In our bigger cities the same thing is happening on a smaller scale every day. Old trees, diseased trees and trees that are simply in the way are being cut down and most of this wood is hauled to the nearest dump while all around are empty fireplaces.

Our 'waste not, want not' great grandfathers would find this a queer world we live in today, though they too did burn down a few trees when they stood in their way.

Vermilion Mixed Chorus Delights Mannville Audience Monday

MANNVILLE. — Those not attending the Vermilion Mixed Chorus on its recent visit here, Monday of this week, really missed a treat for all music lovers. It was most regrettable that so few were able to be present to enjoy the pleasing performance offered by those who just sing because they love singing. The following were the selections presented to an appreciative audience, accompanied by Dr. Stephens of Vermilion, on the piano.

"O Come All Ye Faithful" — well sung with feeling.

"Angels We Have Heard On High" — Cheerful theme carried out in this lovely carol.

"The Echo Carol" — Name of carol well exemplified with tonal shading.

"While Shepherds Watched" — Audience invited to participate, and did.

"Silent Night" — Rendered with perfect voice blending and feeling.

"Rise Up Shepherds and Foller" — Well interpreted Negro Spiritual.

"What Child Is This?" — Tune Greensleeves sweetly sung with expression.

"The First Noel" — Men's voices excellent in this carol. Joyously sung.

INTERMISSION

"Deck the Halls" — Rollicking favorite, and sung airily, with good timing.

"Lullaby Jesu" — A tender Polish carol, sung in that style very sweetly.

"Bring a Torch" — Tonal shading definitely evident in the third and fourth verses.

"Hark the Herald Angels" — Audience again joined in with singing.

"Angels and Shepherds" — Lively and stimulating atmosphere created.

"O Little Town of Bethlehem" Reverently, with good expression.

[illegible] — Chorus here breaks tradition by singing this popular number.

At this stage, requests were invited and repeats were done on two numbers namely "Angels We Have Heard" and "Rise Up Shepherds and Foller".

"We Wish You a Merry Christmas" — Cheerful, sincere conclusion (an English carol). This requests in one part, a Xmas pudding, and to the amazement of Conductor Mr. Jack Brown, Mr. Palin brought one in all ablaze in the old traditional manner, and presented it on behalf of the husbands and wives of chorus members. Mr. M. B. Vanduson thanked the chorus for an evening of top entertainment value. Mr. Brown in turn thanked all those present for coming.

The weather continues remarkably mild with no sub-zero temperatures registered. One inch of snow fell on Wednesday evening giving a more Christmassy look to the countryside.

Claysmore W.I. Meets

Despite the icy roads, 13 members and three visitors gathered at the home of Mrs. P. Pidruchney for their December meeting. The visitors were Mrs. J. Fahner, Mrs. H. Seymour and Mrs. E. Livingstone. Christmas was in the air and there was no lack of interest. Carols were sung in answer to Roll Call and the Creed was repeated in unison.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and declared approved by the president. The treasurer's report was adopted as read. It was moved that all outstanding bills be paid.

Correspondence: A letter was received from Mrs. Jesperson of the Bethany Home, thanking the Claysmore W.I. for the parcel sent in November. A receipt from the Red Shield was also received acknowledging a donation.

Mrs. O. Willes, Handicraft convener, who had attended the meeting in Vermilion Nov. 21, spoke briefly on "Ideas for keeping the members interested in Branch work". She then read the Handicraft list of articles as compiled by the Handicraft conveners. At the January meeting the members will select their item to be shown at the June conference.

Under the head of new business two changes were made in the Standing committees, namely Mrs. J. Scott taking Health as held by Mrs. F. Watling and Mrs. W. Woywitka taking the Handicraft as held by Mrs. O. Willes.

A program committee was appointed to get the books in order for the January meeting. Home & Country magazines were distributed.

The fun period was conducted by Mrs. P. Pidruchney and prizes were won by Mrs. Mike Woywitka and Mrs. R. MacMillan. The membership at the close of the year stands at 17. The usual collection was taken and meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Bill Woywitka will entertain the ladies in January and visitors are very welcome.

Christmas and New Year wishes are extended to the Editor and staff of the Standard and thanks for space allotted us each month in your valuable paper.

A CHRISTMAS POEM

The following poem was written by Miss Fannie Fabrique of Greer, Idaho, a sister-in-law of Mr A. Carlson of Vermilion. It was read at the Christmas exercises of the little pioneer city in the forests of the Clearwater just 50 years ago. The author of these verses has been dead many years. The poem exemplifies the Christmas spirit of the early days of the Inland Empire:

"Autumn winds have ceased to whisper,
Winter snow is in the air.
And far over hills and valleys
Bells are ringing everywhere.
Up from sunny California
To the snow-clad pines of Maine
Beats the air with quick pulsations
To the same glad joyous strain.
Every star in heaven that twinkles
Shining in it's place so bright,
Brings to mind the oft-told story
Of the first glad Christmas night.
Once again we tell that story
That for ages has been told
Unto every clime and people,
But which never can grow old.
Even those in darkness dwelling
Feel their hearts with gladness fill
As a [illegible]-born hope comes to [illegible]
With its sudden rapturous thrill
To the cotter by his hearthside,
To the fisher on the sea,
To the wealthy in his mansion
Rings the same glad melody.
Here within this little village
Nestling down among the hills,
We tonight repeat the story
As the air with gladness fills.
While our Christmas songs are ringing
Out upon the silvery air,
Let no heart be filled with sadness,
Let no life be filled with care.
For tonight to heavenly angels
[illegible]
To the sad and heavy hearted
Comes the message, cheer and love.
Love that never fails nor falters,
But is given to one and all,
Rich and poor, the sad and happy,
Old and young, the great and small.
Love that comforts in affliction,
And that soothes the keenest pain,
Love that fills the world with sunshine,
Banishing the clouds and rain.
Love that makes of all men brothers,
Binds them by a common chord
And uplifts our hearts in praises
Unto Christ, our king and lord.
Let us, by that love united,
Sing the dear old song again
That was sung by heavenly angels,
"Peace on earth, good will to men."

In the January-June period of 1957 Canada suffered a foreign trade deficit of [illegible] million, a record deficit for the first six months of any year.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

It is a little late for this comment but the premiere of 'The Will of Lucille Evans,' put on by St. Saviour's Dramatic Society at Buffalo Coulee late in Nov. was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. While it is difficult to pick stars in a production of this kind, since all characters were very well portrayed, probably Mrs. Kneale deserves the honor. She performed a difficult role convincing all of the reality of the spirits. We shall be looking forward to another production by this company next year.

The central meeting of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Harrison. Reports of the work done by each of the four small groups was most gratifying. The Willowby group supplied lunch. Next meeting will be held early in the spring.

The Heatherbell W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Rose Harle in town last Thursday evening. Election of officers for the coming year took place, with the following results: Pres.—Mrs. Fred Laychak; Vice Pres.—Mrs. Gordon Larsen; Sec.—Mrs. B. [illegible] Booties for the Beulah Home made by the members were turned in to be sent up for Christmas.

The Autumn Leaf W.M.S. group met at the home of Mrs. John Hull last Thursday afternoon. New officers elected were Pres.—Mrs. Buddy Olsen, Vice-Pres.— Mrs. Wm. Crabb, Sec.—Mrs. Albert Cleland. Each member is to bring a flannelette block to the next meeting at Mrs. Wear's to be made into a quilt for relief work. The hostess served a lovely lunch at the close of the meeting.

A good crowd attended the shower held at B.C. for Miss Betty Barlow, a bride-elect of December. The evening was spent in dancing, including several novelty numbers with music supplied by Henry Eyben and Albert Cleland. Following lunch, Jimmie Haverslew brought in a decorated wagon loaded with gifts for the bride. She was assisted in opening these by her sister Katherine. Betty very fittingly thanked all her friends for their lovely gifts and good wishes.

The last two years have seen quite a number of our young people getting married and all have been showered with gifts and best wishes of the community. We hope that as the years go on they will realize the kindness and thoughtfulness of their many friends.

Last Wednesday evening the Boy Scouts and C.G.I.T. held a joint social evening with their parents as guests. There are three Scout patrols, with Vernon Smith, Keith Marfleet and Colin Kennedy as leaders. Each patrol put on a demonstration of some phase of their Scout work. The C.G.I.T. put on several musical numbers and a short skit.

Donald Stone showed a number of colored pictures taken at Community activities and including those taken of the Boy Scout Investiture last summer.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by the boys and girls.

The girls plan on caroling for the shut-ins on December 23.

[illegible] and pupils are busy preparing for the Xmas concert on Dec. 20.

Three more T.V. sets are in operation in the district, Jack Bauman, John Eyben and Art Caron each having one.

Mrs. Majury has gone to Edmonton to visit with her daughters until after Xmas. Matt expects to go up for Xmas.

Mr. Jim Irving and Mrs. Dew were in the city for a few days last week. They went up to attend Mr. and Mrs. Alf Green's Silver Wedding Anniversary, which was celebrated with a dinner at the home of Mrs John Irving. Jim proposed the toast to the bride, his sister, to which Alf suitably replied. They were presented with a purse of money from the family and a beautiful bouquet of red roses from their daughters, Barbara and Clara.

Congratulations go to Miss Barbara Green who has again this year won the award for the highest standing in her class in general proficiency.

Best wishes to all for a Merry Christmas and let us remember that it is Christ's birthday and give Him the glory and places of honor not only at this season, but throughout the year.

In the festive season, safety is just as important as at any other time. Don't become too busy to overlook safety precautions. Snow and ice and wintry winds bring special hazards. Unnecessary accidents and suffering may be avoided if you read and heed the following winter safety rules:

IN THE HOME

Keep your sidewalks and steps clear of ice and snow in order to eliminate slips and falls of your family and friends.

Make sure your heating system is in good order.

Make sure your fuel system does not have a leak that would cause a fire or asphyxiation.

Never leave children unattended.

Never allow the top of your chimney to become plugged with ice or snow.

OUTSIDE WORK

Good housekeeping is more important in winter than in the summer as nails, holes and tripping hazards are not easily seen.

Good footwear, warm clothing and gloves or mitts are essential if frostbite and chills are to be avoided.

Remember that stairways, walkways etc., are made slippery due to frost and ice. Have handrails and use them.

Listen to weather forecasts and be prepared for any sudden change in temperature.

Don't forget to observe the safety precautions necessary for safe lighting of your Christmas tree!

GIFT TIE TIP

For a new look in package tying use several strands of leftover yarn, as a substitute for ribbon. These may be braided, the ends finished with small tassels, bells, balls, or tiny yarn dolls.

TIP FOR THE WEEK

For a different flavor in your turkey stuffing this Christmas add a teaspoon of ground ginger.

Christmas Harvest

Deep down in the Nova Scotia hinterlands the annual Christmas tree cutting season is in full swing, reports the Financial post.

It means extra income for thousands of wood cutters, farmers and land owners.

Almost 100 percent of the trees go to the U. S., most of them to New York, Boston, the Middle West and the South.

The wood cutters earn $10-$15 a day for about five or six weeks.

The season opens the middle of October and ends early in December.

Last year, the U.S. tree market had an estimated value of $2,280,000 to the province.

About $1,280,000 went to land owners, cutters, truckers and general labor.

Slightly over $1 million went to the railways, which do virtually all the long distance hauling to market.

People get the most kick out of life who do the least kicking.

Agricultural Services Board of M. D. Vermilion River Meets

A meeting of the Agricultural Service Board of the Municipal District of Vermilion River was held in the Municipal Office, at Kitscoty, on Friday, November 29th. There were present: the chairman, C. J. Wallington, and members Councillor J. C. Anderson, Henry Haan, E. H. Buckingham, District Agriculturist, and the reeve, J. H. Kelly. Also present were: A. Hozack, field supervisor for the Municipal District of Vermilion River, No. 71; W. Poitras, pest control officer; W. Lobay, supervisor of soils and weed control; A. W. Castel, assistant supervisor of crop protection and weed control, and Chester Gamble, field supervisor for the Municipal District of Minburn, No. 72.

Moved by E. H. Buckingham and carried that the minutes of the meeting of the board, held on July 16th, be adopted as read.

A discussion of the gully-control program followed, which stressed the need for more publicity to make the program a success. It was thought that mention should be made of successful applications of the policy with encouragement extended to farmers with a gully-control problem to visit places where successful application of the policy had been made. It was thought that comparative value of the land would be a big factor in determining the success of a gully-control program.

Moved by H. Haan and carried that the gully-control program as constituted be given greater publicity in the press, especially in the spring of 1958.

Mr. Quist, operator of the Marwayne Seed Cleaning Plant and Mr. McIntyre, of the Paradise Valley Seed Cleaning Plant, attended the meeting by request, to discuss the problem of the method of transporting screenings to be fed. An outline of the regulations covered in Ministerial Order 7357, published in the issue of September 30th, 1957, of the Alberta Gazette, was given by Mr. Lobay. The greater use of tarpaulins to cover both screenings and grain being hauled by truck, was advised, as losses by wind are considerable. It was suggested that the advantages to the farmers of the use of tarpaulins by commercial truckers be publicized, and thereby achieve the benefits of the use of tarpaulins by truckers as a result of pressure exerted on them by [illegible] customers.

Moved by Cllr Anderson and carried that this board agree that municipal Seed cleaning plant operators could be appointed weed inspectors for issuing permits to haul screenings from their plants when satisfied that the regulations for hauling screenings are complied with. Further, it is recommended that regulations be set up requiring truckers hauling grain to have trucks covered with tarpaulins, and that the Department of Agriculture be informed accordingly.

Moved by Cllr. Wallington that this board recommend to the council the payment of twenty cents per calf to the veterinarians for organizational purposes in vaccinating heifer calves under the Brucellosis Restricted Area program. The 20 cents includes the grant of 10 cents per calf paid by the government for organizational purposes. The voting on this was two for the motion and two against it.

Moved by E. H. Buckingham and carried that in view of the fact that the brucellosis vaccination program has been conducted in this municipality for the past seven years, this board recommend to the council that a request be made to the provincial Department of Agriculture to institute a program of testing cattle for Bangs' disease in the Municipal District of Vermilion River, No. 71.

A report on the rat control program was given by A. Hozack and W Poitras. The fact that rats were being held in Range 1 was affirmed by these two gentlemen but the danger of a weak link in the chain of control was stressed and examples were cited. The need for continued vigilance by residents in all areas of the municipality was proven and an even greater measure of support and co-operation was requested of all citizens. The matter of the fourth meridian was a cause for some anxiety to the pest control officer, although it was noted that interest in our program was shown by the Rural Municipality of Wilton, No. 472, in Saskatchewan.

Moved by H. Haan and carried that the motion of the board, passed at the meeting of March 7th, 1957, be re-submitted to the Alberta Department of Agriculture together with the details of the situation to back it up and that a request be made for a reply to the reactions and results obtained. The motion referred to follows:

"Moved by J. C. Wallington: Whereas rats are migrating into Alberta from Saskatchewan every year, and whereas this adds to the cost of rat control in Alberta, and whereas our rat control program is hampered thereby, now therefore be it resolved that the Department of Agriculture in Alberta contact the Department of Agriculture in Saskatchewan regarding co-operation in the control of rats in Ranges 26, 27 and 28, west of the 3rd Meridian."

The tremendous increase in the number of magpies in the country was noted and it was suggested that if the Fish and Game Associations in Lloydminster and Vermilion are not already paying bounties on magpies, they be asked to consider the idea. If they are paying bounties, then they be asked to consider giving greater publicity to the program.

Moved by E. H. Buckingham and carried that the meeting adjourn.

people compete in the oil business

Did you know there are more than 10,000 people engaged in the search for oil in Canada? We know it, because we run into plenty of them each time we try to lease promising oil lands.

Did you know there are hundreds of skilled chemists and engineers in Canada's 43 refineries? We know it, because our own technical people have to work hard to stay ahead of the others in producing better products at lower cost.

Did you know Canada's oil companies employ thousands of salesmen to market their products? We know it, because every day our own sales people are competing with salesmen from other companies.

Superstitions, Traditions Mark New Year Scene

Traditions and superstitions have long been a part of the New Year [illegible]

The Chinese believe one must pay up all their debts if the New Year is to be a successful one. The English, on the other hand, consider it a good idea to start a savings account on January 1, since what you do on the New Year's Day is indicative of what you will do the rest of the year.

One of the most widespread superstitions concerns the "first-footer," the first person to enter a household on New Year's morning. In early days, women and light haired men were considered "unlucky" first-footers.

Ancient custom in Japan was to scatter parched beans about the house supposedly driving away evil influences and inviting good luck to enter.

The Romans were accustomed to hanging tiny masks of Bacchus up on trees and vines, the idea being to impart fertility to every side of the tree to which the masks were turned by the wind.

Peasant families in various parts of the world once baked special cakes for the New Year. The cake was dashed against the door and as the family members gathered up the pieces to eat them they prayed that neither hunger nor want should enter the house during the new year.

In olden times some families also sought a glimpse into the New Year by "dipping" into the Bible. The head of the family, with his eyes closed, opened the family Bible and indicated a passage with his finger. The text read and interpreted was supposed to be indicative of the luck—good or bad—that would be in store during the twelve months ahead.

Many People Still Celebrate Feasts By Ancient Calendar

Many people who use the Gregorian calendar still solemnize traditional feasts, including New Year in accordance with ancient calendars.

Paradise Valley

Oh what a wonderful morning, and it's going to be a grand day. Isn't it great with no snow to shovel! Let's all hope it stays like this a little longer.

Our Christmas party held at the Sherwood home Friday night was something for the kiddies and adults too, to remember. It was a glorious night with 20 children singing and reciting with Frances Sherwood at the piano. Then in came the high-spirited Santa, scaring some of course. Each child received a lovely bag filled with goodies, not forgetting the delicious lunch. We feel sure that everyone went home feeling that the Christmas spirit was now more real.

Merry Christmas everybody!

Health Unit Notes

THE NECESSITY FOR PASTEURIZATION

The pasteurization of milk has been practised for many years and there is little doubt that this method of processing is likely to become more widely demanded. As with scientific discoveries, its advantages and disadvantages have been debated on innumerable occasions.

Pasteurization is not and never can be a process that will render dirty milk clean, or sour milk sweet and it is essential that the process should only be employed for the treatment of raw milk possessing a low bacterial content. It cannot be too often emphasized that pasteurization is not a substitute for cleanliness, neither is cleanliness a guaranteed substitute for pasteurization.

From the public health point of view, the desired objects are two-fold. The destruction of all organisms likely to affect the health of the consumer, and those likely to affect the keeping quality of the milk. Maintenance of the nutritive value of the milk is also equally important.

The following are some of the diseases which have in the past been transmitted to man through the use of raw milk supplies: Tuberculosis, undulant fever, scarlet fever, septic and sore throats, typhoid, paratyphoid and food poisoning.

PASTEURIZATION OF MILK IN THE HOME

Mothers of small young children living in villages or hamlets or on farms where a pasteurized supply cannot normally be obtained, can pasteurize their raw milk supply in their own kitchen.

A double saucepan can be used and the raw milk can be heated to a temperature of 143 to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for a period of 30 minutes. The milk should then be cooled rapidly and stored in a cool place.

Is there any control of Pasteurization of Milk?

Yes. This is carried out by your local Board of Health and the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The whole process from the milk leaving the cow to reaching the consumer is under supervision.

** * **

PASTEURIZATION BY-LAW

Where a community of any town or village are of the opinion that pasteurized milk only should be sold within the town or village, they may pass a by-law restricting the sale of milk in the town or village to pasteurized milk only.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. R. Osterberg of Wildmere has been caring for the infant daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jack Schaumleffel while Mrs. Schaumleffel has been ill in the hospital. A speedy recovery to health and home is wished you Martha from all your friends.

The Wildmere W.I. sponsored a Xmas concert and party at Basswood hall for pre-school children and others with a large attendance and everyone enjoyed the concert. It is wonderful how the little folks speak and sing quite long songs with no difficulty and how they enjoy Santa and the treats he gives out. Mrs. W. T Garnett, President of Wildmere W.I. was M.C. Mrs. H. Leighton was the pianist. Some of the little ones gave recitations and older ones piano selections. A well laden tree greeted Santa, then a lunch brought the social evening to a close.

Many of the young folks who attended the concert went later to the dance held at Woodvale Community hall where an enjoyable dance was held. Melody Ranch furnished the music with Lloyd McLean M.C.

Over fifty people attended church at Wildmere United on Sunday afternoon. The service was put on by the Wildmere W.A. ladies. Organist was Mrs. H. Leighton; Introduction, Mrs. Holte; Mrs. A. Smith announced the hymn numbers; Mrs. W. T. Garnett gave the Invocation Prayer; Responsive reading, by Mrs. Roy Dibben; Scripture reading, Mrs. W. Westman; Pastoral Prayer, Mrs. Wallington; Offering, Mrs. Cruthers and Mrs. Howard. The children's choir sang "Gentle Mary Laid Her Child". Mrs. D Hughes gave the Children's Story; Message was given by Mrs. Holte; Benediction by Mrs F. Haines. Hymns sung were all Christmas ones. We were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison and Sandra in attendance.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson of Basswood on the birth of a daughter on Sunday Dec 15th.

Visitors to the Cruthers' home on Sunday were Mr and Mrs. George Cruthers and family of Vermilion. Mr and Mrs. Ken Shepherd of Vegreville. Ken also brought along his mother Mrs. Wm. Shepherd and two little brothers from south of Vermilion. Diane Smith of Basswood was also a week end visitor at the same home.

Wendy Cruthers spent the week end with Ruby Smith of Basswood.

Billie Smith will be on his way to Vancouver 'ere this appears in print, where he will spend the rest of the winter with his mother.

It was indeed a tragic loss to Mr and Mrs. P. Cartwright and son of Union district when they had 21 cows drown in a slough near their buildings.

On Dec 22 Rev. MacKay will hold a Christmas service in the Preston Central school at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Plan to attend.

Several have remarked how nice it is to again see the hospital reports in the paper and to be able to see just how their money is being spent. This is a privilege of a democracy.

In closing we would like to wish our Editor and staff of the Standard, all the scribes and the readers a Very Merry Christmas. If you must imbibe of Xmas cheer please don't drive, thereby endangering not only your own life but the lives of others. Always watch the driver in the car behind the car ahead of you.

Preston Central school concert is to be held Friday Dec 20th at 2:30 in the afternoon. Mrs. Hughes is having her concert at Thorncliffe the evening of the 20th.

One of our neighbor's little boys was playing with a toy his mother did not wish him to have so she hid the toy when he was not looking. He asked where she put it. "Oh", she said, "I forget". Going out to the kitchen the little fellow was heard to remark to his dad, "Don't know what she'll be like by Xmas when she has forgotten already!" Well, we guess lots of mothers are in the same predicament right now.

Sales and excise taxes remitted to the federal government on new car production in the first nine months of this year totalled $128,401,000, an average of $480 tax payment on each of the 267,200 vehicles produced in the period.

"K. H. S. Highlights"

On Dec. 6th the auditorium of the new school was the scene of our annual Snowflake Frolic. Attending the prom were 400 students and guests. The music, appropriately provided by the Edgerton "Starlighters", encouraged a large crowd to the dance floor. The decorations seemed to be quite an attraction also, with the highlight of them all being a large painting done by some of the students.

The dreaded thought of Xmas exams seems to have been increased as we are informed that they begin on "Friday the 13th". This doesn't sound so good to some of us! Oh well, as the saying goes, "hard work brings pleasure". And so it does, as Thursday night is our big Xmas party. To begin it all, the dormitory students are treated to a Christmas dinner at 6:00 o'clock. Presents are then exchanged and after cleaning up, everyone from grades 9 to 12 head for the auditorium to enjoy the rest of the evening in dancing. Finally, we all go to the boys' dorm to have another lunch, then it is home to bed (?) and up again the next morning to write our last exam!

Scandal is one thing that never gets shopworn by being continually passed around.

Tip to motorists: Watch out for school kids . . . they weren't brought up to be run down.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Second Plebiscite Seems Likely On Egg Marketing Board

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Don't be surprised if Alberta farmers get another chance to vote on an egg marketing board in the near future.

Delegates to the convention of the Farmers' Union of Alberta made it clear they're unhappy with the way the government conducted the poultry plebiscite which just ended in defeat for the province-wide marketing plan.

They gave Agriculture Minister Halmrast a thorough raking over the coals about it, and then unanimously approved a resolution asking the government to hold a second plebiscite not later than Feb. 1.

Whether they will get it or not is a matter for the government to decide, but F.U.A. officials feel confident the government will grant the request. They also feel sure they can get enough farmers out to vote the plan in.

The results of last week's vote were really quite close. Another 733 'yes' ballots would have carried it. There were 13,729 farmers in favor of the plan and 3,844 opposed.

This would have been more than enough if the plebiscite had required only a two-thirds majority of those who actually voted, as the F.U.A. and the Federation of Agriculture had requested all along. But under the Marketing Act, there must be an affirmative vote from 51 per cent of those elegible to vote.

Many of the delegates appeared to overlook this fact when they fired their questions at Mr Halmrast. Instead they criticized the government for faulty enumeration, claiming many producers with the required number of hens were not placed on the voters list.

Mr. Halmrast agreed that this could be so. He said some enumerators failed to make personal calls on all farmers in their areas, but pointed out that there are complaints about enumeration in every plebiscite or election. He also pointed out that farmers were given repeated warnings and plenty of times to place their own names on the list.

The minister was unable to answer some of the questions such as when will another vote be held, and will the voting restrictions be eased to require a two-thirds majority of those who cast ballots? These are questions the provincial cabinet must answer and all Mr Halmrast could say was they'll be considered.

He pointed out that the voting requirement was made tough because there was a lot of opposition to the marketing board principle, and the government was not convinced the majority of farmers wanted it. In view of the compulsory features once a board is established, he said the government insisted on a favorable vote from a straight majority of all those eligible.

This didn't satisfy some delegates who wanted to know if the minister would like to see provincial elections conducted on the same basis, and if it is fair to count votes which aren't even cast. Some felt there were too many names on the voters' list.

One suggestion of the farmer may not be received too favorably by the government. F. U. A. officials suggested that for a new vote this winter, the government appoint postmasters and elevator agents as returning officers, and that farmers be asked to register voluntarily for the plebiscite.

If adopted this idea could defeat the principle laid down by the government and the Legislature that a clear majority of all those eligible must be in favor.

In a voluntary enumeration, there's little doubt that those who support the egg marketing plan would place their names on the list and cast ballots. But of the thousands of poultry farmers in Alberta, how many wouldn't be bothered? It's possible that a fairly small minority of those eligible would end up on the list and 51 per cent of them could vote in a plan which would affect all poultrymen.

Actually, the farm groups should have little trouble raising enough support if the marketing board plan goes to a vote again. Last week's vote was close—48.41 per cent in favor—and the resulting publicity should boost interest so long as the new plebiscite is held before everyone forgets about it.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather—excellent for this time of year, very little snow, roads icy. Our coldest so far, Nov. 30 was 12 below. Dec. 6 was 5 below. Last year it was 30 below, it was a lovely morning. The trees all covered with frost, the white against a beautiful blue sky. On Sunday we had rain and a lovely rainbow in the evening.

Congratulations to Mr. Frank [illegible] on winning the ticket giving him a free trip to the Grey Cup Game. Mrs. Helen Schmidt and family were at her parents, the Idelore Nelson home, while her husband was away.

On Nov. 26 the Allandale W.A. and visitors had a very enjoyable evening at the Throndson home in town. Mrs. Throndson was very kind to have the gathering with Mrs. MacKay teaching the ladies how to make carnations. The real idea was to present our hostess with Life Membership in the W.A. It was a great surprise to her and to her sister Mrs. Omness when Mrs. MacKay presented both with Life Memberships.

We are grateful to our Secretary Mrs. Baldock and to the members for this honour bestowed upon us, and to Mrs. MacKay for her very kind words.

Mrs. MacKay had a very inspiring devotional also. Her theme, 'Let The Beauty of Jesus be Seen in Me,' may we remember.

The duet by Mrs. Baldock and Mrs. Laird, 'The Old Rugged Cross,' and the solo by Mrs. Laird, 'In The Garden,' were appreciated very much.

Lastly the flowers—lovely carnations. Thanks again Mrs. MacKay. Lunch closed the gathering which will long be remembered.

We're grateful to the men folk for escorting the ladies, it was a cold evening and the roads were icy.

Thank you very much Mrs. MacKay for having this item in the Standard and the Observer.

Choreboys or Policemen?

Police should have more important things to do than marking cars and handing out traffic tickets, declares The Financial Post.

It is ridiculous to have big uniformed policemen putting little chalk marks on car tires and doing other picayune jobs that could be carried out more efficiently by much less expensive and conspicuous help.

For some reason police forces have been extraordinarily slow in streamlining routine. Until very recently, in many localities, all summonses for trivial traffic violations were delivered in person by able-bodied constables in uniform with automobile and sometimes a driver.

Policemen are not trained and paid to do the trivial chores so many of them are doing. A lot of people, like the girl the other day when handed a traffic ticket, must be asking: "Would'nt you be better employed catching burglars?"

Rotary Club Entertains University Students At Christmas Meeting

For the holiday meeting of the Vermilion Rotary club a group of eighteen University students from the town and district were entertained by the members. Altogether 25 young people were invited with 18 attending. Of these, 17 were attending the University of Alberta and one came all the way from Ontario.

Mr. Carl Heckbert was in charge of the Rotary program for this meeting and introduced the guests. As he knew the life history of all of the young students he was able to give very interesting information about each one.

The invited guests were Stewart Cooper, chemical engineering; Margaret Watt, education; Bob Bentley, civil eng.; Rex Boake, med., and Mrs. Boake; Anne Stewart, household ec.; Anne Martin, commerce, Windsor, Ont.; Al McPherson, med.; Janet Hall, education; Donald Stewart, com.; Gaylord Madill, economics; Clarence Mistal, eng.; Gerry Marshall, education; John Scott, eng.; Duncan Locke, commerce; George Martin, commerce; Pat Bentley, eng.; Peter Kupin, eng.

The following students were unable to attend: Peggy Stephens, Viola Maggs, Connie Harle, Barbara Green, all nursing; Larry Kehoe, Robert Morrison and Gerry Harle.

Mr. Heckbert in his address of welcome said that the honored guests were educating themselves so that they can take their places in the life of our country. The Vermilion Rotary Club wished them one and all success in their chosen endeavor.

The speaker quoted Rotary's four-way pledge: "Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build goodwill and better friendships? Will it be beneficial to all concerned? Mr Heckbert recommended this four-way test of the things we think, say or do for the students' consideration as it applied just as much to them as to Rotary club members.

The program was rounded out with the singing of Christmas Carols under song-leader Gerry Stephens.

President Tom McPherson also welcomed the guests and wished for them the best of everything in the future.

On behalf of the guests Rex Boake thanked the Rotary club stating that such gatherings as this made it an even greater pleasure to come home at Christmas.

United Church Hold Christmas Tree At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — Members of the United church Sunday school met at the Orange hall Wednesday evening of last week where an impromptu concert was staged, due chiefly to inconveniences this year regarding practising for a regular concert. However, with the new church progressing nicely, next year will see things back to normal. As it was, the kiddies and parents enjoyed a full evening. Films of a suitable nature were shown, presents were handed out by a busy Santa, and of course no Christmas party is complete without candy and nuts, so bags containing these treats were handed to all the children.

Santa Visits Derwent

DERWENT — On Dec 21st Santa Claus arrived in Derwent at the town hall with treats galore for about 200 children. The celebration started in the afternoon with a one and a half hour showing of cartoons for the kiddies which was greatly enjoyed, then Santa distributed gifts for the little ones.

Rotary Club Plans Season's Meetings

At a recent meeting of the Vermilion Rotary Club, Elmore Stewart, chairman of the program committee outlined plans for meetings to be held during the first six months of 1958. The subjects and the speakers listed give good reasons for club members to expect a full line up of interesting meetings.

Another interesting item on the program was a season's greeting letter from A J Balfour of Grand Prairie. Art Balfour is governor of District 536. Part of his message is quoted here as the senti[illegible] and women the world over and not just to Rotarians. Here are two paragraphs of Mr Balfour's [illegible]

"A Thought for 1958 · To live each day as though it were especially dedicated to paying off some of our debts of thanks; to be quite critical of our own ways, but patient and lenient with others. In the days of a new year may [illegible] facilitate our assessment of the other man's opinion, may respect mark our approach towards co-workers in this world irrespective of the position they may hold, always remembering that honest toil is honourable in the right of all men."

"To be vigorous without being arrogant, to be courteous without deceit, to meet adversity without self-pity and ever be mindful that road we tread is crowded with a host of people plodding upward and onward like ourselves."

Lady Curlers Plan To Re-draw Rinks

The Ladies Curling club plan to re-draw the rinks on Sunday, Jan 5th. Every lady wishing to curl should hand in her name by that date to ensure being placed on a rink.

Together At Xmas; First Time 50 Years

When the members of the Omness family gathered at the home of Mrs. Nora Ronaghan at Islay on Boxing Day it was the first time in fifty years that they had been all together during the Christmas season, although family gatherings had been held at other seasons of the year. In attendance at the happy get-together were Rufus and Orley Omness, Mabel Lee, Gertie Swanson, Erna Armstrong, Stella Mayers and Nora Ronaghan.

The winners in the Yuletide Home Decoration contest sponsored by the Board of Trade have been announced by the judging committee and are as follows:

First prize — Residence of Charles Cawthorpe, located in the east end of town;

Second — Residence of Wm. Pettigrew, located on Riverside Drive, west;

Third — Residence of Lawrence Webb, east end. The prizes were $15, $10 and $5.

It is a splendid idea to make our town beautiful for this festive season and everyone is urged to start now to plan something even better for next year. One of the judges was of the opinion that a theme be suggested for the decorations next Christmas.

A Review of Clandonald United Church Activities for 1957

1957 has been a good year for the United church and W.A. Last winter and again this winter Mr. MacKay and Mr. E. Schurman of Vermilion have held services at Clandonald. Mr. Dewis Rector, student, was in charge during the summer.

Mr. Rector formed a Boy Scout group this summer. At his departure this fall Mr Allan Mead offered his services as leader, assisted by Mr. E Preston. The meetings are held each week at Mr Preston's home.

Several boys and girls from the district attended Camp Whitney last summer.

There were eleven W. A. meetings held this year with an average attendance of 11 members.

The W. A. purchased two dozen Hymnarys for the church, a table for the manse, and a three-dozen place setting of steel cutlery to add to the W A dishes. The W. A. members also donated several sugars and creams.

The members donated a layette to the United church Mission hospital at Bonnyville.

A large amount of used clothing was collected for a mission box.

The W. A. donated $20.00 to the Naramata United Church Training School, as well as a donation to Camp Whitney.

Gifts and candy were sent to the Charles Camsell hospital in Edmonton.

The World Day of Prayer was observed in the United Church.

Mrs Laird and Mrs. Peck were delegates to the spring Presbytery meeting in Vermilion.

At the June W.A. meeting four ladies from Riverton were guests. At the same meeting Mrs. Filgate was presented with a Life Membership. Mrs Filgate has the honor of being the only member of the present W A who was also a member of the first group formed in the early pioneer days. She was able to help a great deal in the report of the early history of the church in this district.

We are sorry to report that the present time Mrs. Filgate is confined to bed with a broken leg. Another member, Mrs. Olsen is also on the sick list. May you both soon be up and about.

Gifts were presented to two departing members this summer, Mrs. Barclay who moved to Vermilion, and Mrs. Peck who moved to Marwayne.

In August the members and a few husbands enjoyed an old-fashioned bee at Harmen Feenstra's to pluck chickens. The chickens were stored in deep-freezes and used for the fowl supper.

Several ladies from Clandonald and district were guests of the Dewberry ladies at a tea in August. Mrs. Schoenmaker and Mrs. Cooper attended the St. Paul Presbytery meeting at Irma.

In November United church and the Anglican church W. A. groups sponsored a joint chicken supper in Clandonald. On behalf of both W.A. groups we would like to thank all those who helped in any way to make the supper the successful event it was.

A week later the United church W. A. catered to a Rotary dinner in Clandonald when about twenty-five Clandonald men were guests of the Vermilion Rotary Club.

The annual meeting was held at the home of Mrs. S. Feenstra.

The new officers were elected as follows: Pres.—Opal Cooper; Vice Pres.—Mrs. Jenny DeJong; Sec.—Mrs. Sophie Feenstra; Treas.—Mrs. Nancy Feenstra; Sunshine—Mrs. Alice Schoonmaker; Project Convener — Mrs. Elsie Campbell; Devotions—Mrs. Lillian Goddard.

NEWS from CLANDONALD

This being the first edition of Clandonald news for 1958 we should like to take this opportunity of wishing all our readers as well as the editor and staff the best of everything for the New Year. Also as regards the gift from the Standard, it is very much appreciated, works splendidly and we will endeavor to keep it in use during the coming year.

Art and Joan Roberge of Lloydminster, accompanied by Doris and Walter Coulter of Vermilion and Jim MacDonald, an employee of Roberge Bros., returned from Ontario following a ten-day absence shortly before Christmas. Apart from pleasure purpose of the trip was for Roberges to pick up two new trucks and trailers and Walter a 1958 Chev. demonstrator.

While in the east the Coulters visited the writer's sister, Mrs. Ridd Elliot at Port Hope, and Walter's father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Coulter, at New Lowell.

We were sorry to learn that Mr. Waterworth, a long time resident of the Ethelwyn district was admitted to Vermilion hospital some weeks ago, seriously ill. We have no further information on his condition at present.

DEATH OF BALLARD GOAD

Friends of the Goad family were deeply shocked to hear of the sudden passing of Ballard in an Edmonton hospital on Xmas day. Mr. and Mrs. Goad had left only the day previously to spend Christmas with their married daughter Bernie and family in the city. He was taken suddenly ill early Christmas morning and passed away twelve hours later.

Mrs. Sarah Filgate who had the misfortune to fall and break an ankle some weeks ago is making good progress toward recovery although still wearing a cast. Mrs. Filgate lives with her grandson Johnny Forsyth and family.

Jock Forsyth, a resident here years ago but working at Yellowknife for some time now has given up his job and plans to spent at least part of the winter here. Jock's son, Tom, a resident of Calgary, was here for a few days recently visiting with his father, his brother John and family and his grandmother Mrs. Filgate.

Dick Goad from Edmonton, here to attend his brother's funeral, had the misfortune to slip and suffer a painful injury shortly after his arrival. Although a fracture was feared at first medical examination proved fortunately that this was not the case.

Alex MacPhee, a farmer living about 8 miles north-west of town and at the time working as a P.F.A. inspector, was a victim of a serious accident a few weeks ago. Just north of Vermilion, blinded by the lights of an approaching car, he collided with a stalled truck. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper passing at the time, rushed the injured man to Vermilion hospital where he was found to have suffered a severe gash as well as a bad shaking up. He was detained in hospital for several days but is now out and around. Damages to both car and truck are heavy.

The Gratton family have left the farm for the winter and have taken up residence in town. This move will make it much more convenient for the children to attend school as well as for Art who is employed by Bill Davies of the hotel most of the time.

We believe that the hunters mentioned in our last news have all returned safely, some with a full quota and some empty-handed. However, we did get in on some of the spoils so can't complain.

BINGO HUGE [illegible]

The bingo held in the Columbus hall shortly before Xmas and sponsored by the Athletic Association, proved a huge success. We understand some $150 was cleared which goes to provide a new club house, etc., for the junior hockey team.

ST SAVIOUR'S W. A.

The annual meeting election of officers of St. Saviour's W. A., afternoon branch, will be held in the Parish hall on Thursday January 9 1958 at 2 30 p m

Health Unit Notes

HOME VISITING

A high proportion of the many problems that the Health Unit encounters can best be dealt with by one of the nurses visiting the child's home. Home visiting has been and will be for many years to come, one of the most important and rewarding branches of Public Health work. The nurse, when visiting a home, can gain the confidence and trust of the parents and child; only when this is done will the more intimate and personal sides of a problem be revealed. Very often the little intimate details which people are unwilling to reveal are the real source of the trouble and therefore until one knows and understands them, no real and permanent help can be given. Home conditions will always have a pronounced effect on the development and future life of a child and so help and advice given by the nurse to a family when the children are young may produce results which spread far into the future. Most families welcome a visit from the nurses and many come to depend on their help and advice on a wide range of subjects.

The various reasons for which home visits are made can be described as follows:

1. BABY and PRE-SCHOOL— Each month the Unit obtains a list of newborn babies from every hospital serving the area. If possible each of these families is visited during the next six to eight weeks and if necessary advised about infant feeding and general care. At this time most of the mothers have stopped attending their family doctor and home visiting provides a continuity of supervision of the baby until he or she is brought to the clinic for innoculations. This is most valuable to mothers with their first child but can also be useful to parents with a larger family. If at any of these visits the child appears to be in need of medical attention, the parents are advised to consult their family doctor.

Pre-school children are usually visited to follow up some defect found previously or to find out why the child has not been brought in for booster shots to maintain immunity against diptheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

2. SCHOOL FOLLOW UP — During routine examinations of school children, numerous defects are found which need immediate attention. To ensure that the parents understand this, the nurse will often visit them. Other defects of a less urgent nature but which still have not been remedied after the parents have been notified by letter are often attended to after the situation has been explained during a home visit. Home conditions which are keeping a child back at school can also often be remedied in this way.

3. INFECTIOUS DISEASES— All cases of scarlet fever, poliomyelitis, whooping cough, German measles and measles should be reported by private physicians, school teachers or parents to the Health Unit. Unfortunately we only hear of a small proportion of these cases but when they are notified in time a home visit is made. Advice is given about isolation quarantine and general nursing care. Gamma Globulin, a serum which gives temporary immunity can be given to susceptible family contacts. The Health Unit is the only available source of Gamma Globulin in this area. These measures go far in preventing the spread of infection.

4. TUBERCULOSIS — The known contacts of all new cases of tuberculosis are visited and tuberculin tested and if necessary referred for a chest X ray. Family contacts of school children who gave a positive reaction to the tuberculin test are visited and tested. People who have returned home after treatment in a sanitorium receive regular visits from the nurses. These measures result in the early diagnosis of some unsuspected cases and this means less prolonged treatment is necessary and also that fewer people will be exposed to the danger of infection.

5. CHILD WELFARE AND MENTAL HEALTH — Some unfortunate children have parents who are separated or who neglect responsibilities of parenthood. The home life of these children can often be improved by a series of home visits by the nurse or the case may be referred to the Welfare authorities for their attention.

Children who are mentally backward need a lot of help from their parents at home if they are to be kept near the normal standard for their age at school. Most parents would have little idea how to give this help and hence a series of home visits by the nurse can be of great assistance.

Unique Greetings

Operators at the Department of Transport Beam and Weather stations give much thought and put in hours of work sending out unique Christmas and New Year greetings on the teletype machines. The results of their efforts are truly amazing and must be seen to be appreciated. Several dozen of these are now on display at the Vermilion weather station at the airport. The greetings are worked out in designs [redacted] the highlight this year is depicting the Lord's Supper [redacted] the twelve Apostles. Every space every letter has to be in the right spot to formulate the design and greeting.

The Standard regrets that the name of Councillor Charles E. Thompson was omitted from the Town of Vermilion greeting advertisement in the Xmas issue.

Due to Wednesday, Jan. 1st being a holiday seven news bulletins from villages and rural communities were received in the mail this Thursday morning, too late for this issue. All will appear next week.

By Your District Agriculturist

"GREEN ACRES"

The Alberta Wheat Pool has taken over the operation of the Alberta Seed Grower's Co-op. Orders for forage seed can be placed through Pool Elevator agents. Prices have already been announced. The price of brome grass is less than half what it was last year so this ought to be a good time to seed down some of the fields that have been cropped for some years. It will mean good hay and grass for the [redacted] yields [redacted] is broken up again.

SALT FOR LIVESTOCK

Salt is very necessary for the health of livestock and poultry. It is [redacted] if a lot of our livestock ever get enough salt. Cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry must get enough salt if they are to make the right use of food given to them. It was noted last week that cows were trying to lick salt from hard blocks. No, they will not get much salt that way in zero weather. It would be better to give them loose salt in cold weather.

NEBURON FOR CHICKWEED

At last we have a weed killer that will take care of chickweed. The name is Neburon and it will be available in the spring. During the past year dozens of gardeners have asked me, how to kill chickweed. The only answer was hoe it out and pull it out and go over it again the next week. Neburon will kill chickweed and not effect lawns, dahlias, iris, strawberries or rasberries. Gardeners should not spray it around wholesale as it will affect some kinds of flowers and vegetables. It is too costly for grain fields.

RAMSEY WHEAT

It has come to my attention that Ramsey wheat, a new variety of Durum, is being sold in the district for $12.00 per bushel on contract by high pressure salesmen from outside Alberta. This is too bad as certified seed is available on the market for half this price. It is doubtful if Ramsey is any better than the old varieties of Durum wheat. All durums including Ramsey are two weeks later than Selkirk and Thatcher. It is a mistake to grow Durum wheat of any variety in this area. There are many reasons why it should not be grown and not a single reason in favor of it. It would be better for anyone who bought Ramsey to feed it to the chickens.

LANDRACE PIGS

Many pig raisers seem to have the idea that the Landrace breed of pigs is the answer to all their troubles about thrift in pigs, disease resistance, grade 'A' pigs etc. In my opinion the Landrace breed is a good bacon breed but no better in any single way to the Yorkshires. So why go out and spend twice as much for a Landrace boar or sow as you would for Yorkshires. You will say it is for cross breeding, hybrid vigor etc. Granted cross breeding has a place in breeding pigs but not that much for the price of Landrace boars to be doubled.

If anyone wishes to invest several thousand dollars in Landrace breeding stock and sell the pigs to neighbors for a good price then I think it would be a good business. Otherwise I think it would be better to stick to the Yorkshire breed.

Jehovah Witnesses Assembly Jan. 10-12

"Vermilion will be host to the next semi-annual Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in north-eastern Alberta," said Mr. Abe Friesen, presiding minister at a recent congregation meeting. "The convention will be held on January 10, 11 and 12 in the Elks hall in Vermilion.

"Attending conventions is a regular experience in the lives of all Jehovah's Witnesses," added Mr. Friesen, "which is in obedience to Apostle Paul's admonition 'do no forsake the gathering of ourselves together, as some have the custom'." Mr. Friesen also mentioned, "What could be more urgent now in these critical times when civilization faces annihilation by nuclear weapons created by man than the knowledge and understanding of the Holy Bible."

The three-day assembly includes a program of Bible discourses, discussions and practical demonstrations designed to assist the delegates to become more familiar with their Bibles and thus become better ministers. A cafeteria to provide meals for all the delegates and visitors is being arranged for. About two hundred delegates are expected.

Highlight of the assembly will be a lecture by Mr. C. E. Hepworth, supervisor of the Witnesses in Western Canada. The subject of his talk will be "What Are the Prospects for Lasting Peace?" The discourse will be delivered to the public on Sunday, January 12th at 3:00 p.m. in the Columbia Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Elliott and son Clarence were New Year's visitors at the home of the former's father, Mr. A. W. Elliott. Mr. Elliott spent Christmas with Bob and family at their home in Lodgepole.

CARD OF THANKS

In the fall of 1956 I was very ill in Vermilion hospital with pneumonia. I wish to thank Dr. King and the nurses, who, with God's help, were responsible for pulling me through that very serious illness. I wish also to thank Dr. Stephens and all those kind nurses and hospital staff who took over when Dr. King went away in December, 1956, and succeeded in curing me of the trouble that seemed to be worrying me and causing my rheumatism. I thank you all deeply and sincerely.

Mrs. Fred Maddex.

[redacted]

In loving memory of our dear mother

[redacted]

—who passed away Jan. 1, 1957.

"A wonderful mother, woman and aid
One who was better God never made.

Our wonderful mother — that mother was you."

Wildwood East

A shower was held one evening recently in the Wildwood hall for Miss Helen Drysdale and Mr. Wes Williams. The young couple were seated behind a 'bank teller's wicket'. Each guest presented his or her deposit in charade style and after Helen or Wes had guessed the contents the deposit was made. Many useful and lovely gifts were received.

Mrs. Hugh Hilts and children, Sandra, Colleen and Jimmie are occupying the Wildwood teacherage for the winter.

Many of the children and grandchildren came home from distant parts to spend Christmas under [redacted] in the district.

Congratulations of the com[redacted] go to Helen Rose Drys[redacted] Wes James Williams who were married in Vermilion on Dec. 20th. This was the wedding anniversary of Helen's parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drysdale and the 53rd anniversary of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Simmons. —

Skating Rink Opens At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — With Don Upton as caretaker and assisted by brother Gerald, the local skating rink is now officially open, having undergone extensive improvements. Plywood walls, 8 feet high by ¼ inch thick entirely surround the rink thus providing an excellent snow and windbreak from the chill air. The rink is 120 feet long by 80 feet wide. The cost of sheeting in same was approximately $700, money for this coming from the arena fund. A heating system valued at about $160 has been installed also adding greatly to skaters' comfort and the children really appreciate as do the parents this worthwhile effort.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Hello square dancers. Hope you all had a very Merry Xmas and that next year will find square dancing a bigger and better institution than any year has been yet.

The C8 Square Dance club held a very successful Christmas party on Dec. 21 in the Legion hall. There were visitors from Lloydminster, Blackfoot, Islay, Rivercourse, Paradise Valley, Clandonald, Elk Point, Mannville, Myrnam, Greenlawn, Wainwright and Streamstown. We are always very glad to welcome our visitors as this is one of the main things that keeps square dancing such a jovial activity. Come again folks and bring another couple or two with you next time. Johnny and Harold kept everyone on their toes all night long and this always helps to make a complete evening of fun. Thanks to the ladies who so generously donated cakes and sandwiches. The kitchen staff also did a very nice job of looking after the lunch. Thank you one and all. We really did a good job of making our Xmas party a success.

Next dance will be held on Saturday, Jan. 4 with Doug McColl of Red Deer doing the calling. Don't fail to attend this dance as Doug is one of the best callers in Alberta.

See you on the 4th, then, square dancers!

Marwayne F.U.A. Hold Xmas Meeting

MARWAYNE. — Marwayne F.W.U.A. held their Christmas meeting Saturday evening Dec 21st at the home of Gladys Hutchinson with Adela Protsch and Isabel Parker as co-hostesses and 19 members attending. Many carols were sung and enjoyed. The Roll call was answered by "What Xmas means to me".

Final arrangements were made for the family party on Dec. 27 in the Elks hall, also the tea and bake sale for which proceeds are going to Darwin Franklin. This tea will be held in the Elks hall on Friday, Jan. 17 2:30 to 5 p.m.

It was decided to discontinue the hostess gifts but to carry on with the Pollyannas for the coming year.

Past president Lillian Tupper and secretary-treasurer Joyce Katzmarzyk were each presented with a cup and saucer.

Gifts were received and many were the surprises as we found who our Pollyannas for the past year were.

Next meeting will be at the home of Ella Quist on Monday Jan. 27. A report of the convention will be given.

Dewberry Home and School News

The December meeting of the Dewberry Home and School was held in the gym on Dec. 12th with an attendance of about 70. The meeting was lively with several topics being discussed.

Final arrangements for the New Year dance were made. Passed that each interested lady was to bring four bags of lunch, to include two sandwiches, a piece of cake and cookies. John Anderson spoke on feasibility of using the gym for the dance. Neal Jones replied that as yet, owing to rules and regulations governing same it would be improbable that the gym could be used for a dance of this type.

By the time this gets into print the Xmas party will be history and every success is wished the teachers in this worthy effort.

Committees were decided on comprising a treat committee and a lunch committee. These committees found it no easy task to plan for such a huge gathering. Our thanks go out to all who have helped in any way. To defray treat expenses it was decided to charge at the door.

The lunch collection was used as a cheer fund. Last year hampers were given to less fortunate families. This year a little cheer was provided for the more elderly folks.

There was a little discussion on the skating rink and a committee was elected to look after the making and selling of the tickets.

Neal Jones, on behalf of the school board asked that we nominate one Home and School member to attend a meeting in Vermilion with the Divisional board on the teacher housing situation. Mr. Whiteside was elected.

After the meeting adjourned the Explorer group, whose leader is Mrs. Dorothy Oxton, entertained with songs, recitations, etc. The girls in traditional costumes made it very colorful when they told us of customs in other lands. Many thanks to the girls and their leader for a very fine performance.

The meeting closed by the singing of Christmas carols and lunch.

The January meeting is to feature a panel on 'Children's Reading'. Everyone interested in education is cordially invited to attend.

DEEP APPRECIATION

We wish to publicly express our thanks and sincere appreciation to Dr. Sweet of Islay and the nurses and staff of the Islay hospital for the care given Mrs. Fred Maddex when she was a patient there during the fall of 1957.

We also wish to thank Dr. A. B. King, nurses and staff of the Vermilion hospital when Mrs. Maddex was so ill in December, and to express appreciation to everyone for sending so many lovely get-well cards and messages of hope. Thank you, one and all, for so many kindnesses.

Fred Maddex and Family.

News from Clandonald

Similar to last year a treat for all school children and also those of pre-school age was provided at Christmas time, sponsored jointly by the Separate School Board, owner of several buses Tom Stockwell, Fred Goddard, proprietor of the picture show and the management of the Orange hall. The treat consisted of a free show and free chocolate bars for all. Accommodation at the hall was taxed to capacity needless to say.

Fred Goddard had an emergency call to Stettler Christmas day due to his twin brother Tom undergoing an emergency operation. We are happy to say that the patient was much improved before Fred left for his home here a day or so later.

Maurice Masik, a former local boy who went to work for the Beaver Lumber Co. at Thorsby and presently employed at the company's Edmonton office, was home for the Yuletide. Sister Helen, nurse-in-training, will be graduating from an Edmonton hospital shortly.

Another former local boy, Stuart Laird, was home from his job in a bank in Saskatchewan for Xmas. Since leaving here he has grown over a foot and was quite unrecognizable by this writer at least. Brother Wayne Laird who was employed here for several months in the bank has been moved to Marwayne. A sister, Clarice, now working in Edmonton, accompanied by a friend, was also home for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Windsor, employees of the bank here, took off late Tuesday for a 12-hour drive more or less, to Mrs. Windsor's former home at Swan River. They expect to return Sunday, Dec 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper and Dean went to Edmonton to be with daughter Joyce and family for Christmas.

Alex [illegible]ckwell, a long time resident of Edmonton but formerly of this district, arrived Thursday to spend a few days with his brother Ed on the farm. Another brother Cliff was a victim of the new federal one-day Christmas holiday ruling, so was only able to be in the district for a few hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Lawrence spent Christmas with Mrs. Lawrence's married daughter and family at Lake Wabamun. Sorry the name has slipped our memory but we believe the two children from Wabamun are well known as students at the V.S.A. During the Lawrence's absence the farm is being taken care of by the MacGillivray family, nearby neighbors.

Clarence Free received the sad news of the passing at Brantford, Ont., of his brother Sidney shortly before Christmas. Sidney was a photographer by profession and visited this district on at least one occasion that we can recall, many years ago.

Only the really old timers here will be interested in this news item which appeared in the Edmonton Journal recently: Alfred John Day, over 80 years of age, passed away and was buried at Mayerthorpe. He came to the Clandonald district in 1908 as a hired man for Frank Lawes and following the Lawes' sale moved to a farm near Mayerthorpe where we presume he lived until the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rowntree left early in December to spend Christmas with their daughter Margaret and family in Edmonton. No doubt later they will journey on to Calgary to visit another daughter Kathleen and her family. The Rowntrees have great hopes of paying a visit to England during the summer, and if so it will be their first trip back in almost 30 years.

Midnight candlelight service Christmas eve at St. Mary's Anglican church was well attended. Mr Preston conducted the service while the newly-formed choir added much to the beauty and dignity.

A card was received by the writer from the McCormack's, who are presently visiting in Ireland. We hear that they are having a wonderful time.

Hockey Attraction Saturday Night

Marwayne will play Vermilion in a regular Juvenile league game on Saturday night, Jan. 11. Game time is 8 p.m. sharp. This is Marwayne's first appearance here in league play and reports have it that they have a big, fast team who never seem to tire.

The boys in this league are 18 years and under and are dishing up a wonderful brand of hockey. Turn out Saturday and see dipsy-doodling Lee Coyne outfox the opposition, see Jerry Schmidt glide through the defence, watch Bob Waldenberger tear down the length of the ice carrying that puck or big Pete Link dump over the opposing forwards at the blue line. These Bob Cats are playing heads up hockey — turn out and see them, you'll be convinced.

Lloyd. Chevies Here Wed., Jan. 15th

Lloydminster Chevies will display their wares before Vermilion fans on Wednesday evening next, Jan. 15th, the only time they play here this season unless the two teams meet in the play-off between the two sections of the league.

Lloydminster are standing second in their half of the league, with Maidstone in top spot, one point in front.

The Tigers are improving rapidly with each game and each practise and will be out to set the Border City boys back.

The day is Wednesday next, Jan. 15th; time is 8.30 p.m.; the game will be well worth seeing. How about a little home town support for the Tigers?

A tightwad has more money than friends and is glad of it.

Elks To Provide Rest Room For Women and Children

Vermilion Elks are once again providing a greatly needed service by placing at the disposal of women and children of town and country, public rest rooms. These will be ready for use by February 1st, and will be open Monday to Saturday each week during business hours.

The new rest rooms will be conveniently located in the Elks Hall, entrance from the east door. Besides toilets and washroom, there will be a sitting room for the care of babies, visiting, or just resting.

The Elks are to be congratulated on making the space and facilities available, and a further announcement regarding the opening of the new rest rooms will be made later this month.

Sweeping Review of Alberta's Educational System Seen

EDMONTON— The promised sweeping review of the Alberta education system will start early this year.

Premier Manning last week announced the formation of a six-man royal commission, headed by Senator Donald Cameron, director of the Banff School of Fine Arts, to study all phases of the elementary and secondary school program.

The commission's hefty terms of reference cover the entire curricular program, everything from the efficiency of teaching and the supply of teachers to the economics of education and even the possibility of standard courses and textbooks between provinces.

Establishment of the commission was forecast in the Speech from the Throne read during the opening of the 1957 session of the Legislature.

Senator Cameron says the commission will receive briefs between March 1 and April 15, followed by hearings, and sometime after that will present its report and recommendations to the provincial cabinet.

Educators in the province of Alberta are looking to the commission to answer much of the controversy raging over education at present. The differences of opinion will undoubtedly have to deal with the problems of teacher training and the skyrocketing demand for trained personnel in industry.

Besides Mr. Cameron, members of the Commission are: Mrs. Wilma Hanson, Calgary, Past-president of the Federation of Home and School Associations; Mrs. W. C Taylor, Wainwright, Past-president of the Farm Women's Union of Alberta; Prof. G L Mowat of the University of Alberta; Norman W. Douglas, Calgary, and John S. Cormack, Edmonton lawyer.

St. Paul Hornets Live Up To Advance Notices; Swamp Tigers

St. Paul Hornets, billed as the hottest team in eastern Alberta, hottest team in either section of the E.A.H.L., lived up to advance notices here on Wednesday evening when they set back the home town Tigers 15 goals to 3.

The Hornets outscored the Tigers 8 to 0 in the first period, 5 to 1 in the second, with each team scoring two in the final.

For Vermilion it was Ewen from Dennis; Anderson from Shepanski and Leahy; Gerrits. St. Paul marksmen were Dahld with 4, Pundick 2, Charuk 2, Roberts 2, Koshelek 3, Neveu 1.

A fair crowd was on hand. Stan Manyluk was referee and Bob Rowe linesman.

Even though the score was one-sided play was interesting all the way, with the Tigers never giving up as evidenced by the fact that they held the powerful Hornets even in the last period.

Lloydminster Chevies play the Tigers here on Wednesday evening next, Jan. 15th.

Vermilion Tigers Lose At St. Paul

Vermilion Tigers locked horns with the E.A.H.L. leaders on Sunday afternoon, losing at St. Paul 8 goals to 1. The Tigers' lone marker was notched by Bruce Anderson unassisted. Lorne Scoggins in goal for Vermilion turned in a truly scintillating performance.

Bob Cats, Kitscoty Play 4-all Tie

Neither Bob Cats nor Kitscoty could gain the advantage last Saturday night and played to a 4-all tie game in the Vermilion arena.

The Bob Cats opened the scoring with A. Redman finishing off a combined play with Hemmingway and Gannon. The lead was short lived, as before the end of the period the visitors scored three times, R. Tipper from Shortt, Walters from Machon and Walters unassisted.

The second period was scoreless.

The Bob Cats turned on some desperate power early in the third canto and notched two goals, the first Bob Waldenberger from Schmidt and the next by Howard Mathison from Dargatz. This tied up the score. Walters converted Machon's pass and the visitors were out in front again 4 goals to 3.

Redman was penalized for holding and although shorthanded the Bob Cats came through for a priceless counter, Waldenberger scoring the picture goal of the night combined with Chris Maggs and Lee Coyne. No overtime was played, the game ending at 4 all with a point to each team.

Penalties to Kitscoty were Sheppard, Tipper, Potvin, Venner and Walters. Potvin annexed an extra 10 minute misconduct for threatening the referee. For Vermilion, Coyne and Walters two minutes each.

Bill Potvin was hit in the mouth with a stick early in the third period, thereby losing one tooth, half of another, and suffering a cut lip which required stitches. Despite his wounds, Bill was back on the ice as soon as patched up.

Russell Carroll refereed.

KITSCOTY — Fisher, Walters, Machon, Tipper, Venner, Rayson, Potvin, Gallagher, Evans, Sheppard, Barber, Shortt.

VERMILION — Reid, Waldenberger, Link, Jones, Dargatz, Callaghan, Coyne, Schmidt, Maggs, Hemmingway, Gannon, Redman, Leahy, Mathison.

Dr. Donald Clarke Featured in Toronto Newspaper Article

Dr Donald W Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs Harold Clarke of Vermilion, was featured in a special article in the Toronto Globe and Mail recently. The article is entitled "TV Aids Professors in Physiology, Dentistry." Dr. Don Clarke is shown in a large picture demonstrating to 35 students at the Charles H. Best Institute. These were experimental classes using television for the first time. The great advantage of TV is to allow a professor to do close up work usually confined to a small class before an audience of 35 students or more. Dr. Clarke was the pioneer at the Best Institute in this line of thought, conducting a class in physiology, during which students watched the tests on two TV screens.

Don is shown experimenting with a frog. Rats also play a stellar role in the University lab telecasts.

Legion Plans Polio Canvass

Another canvass is to be made this year for donations to replenish the Legion Polio fund. Each year people in this area and in all of Alberta are canvassed by Legion members so that the Polio fund is not depleted to the extent that grants could not be made to deserving polio cases.

In the past few years over $2000 has been allowed as grants to assist in the expenses of polio cases in this district. It works as a sort of insurance because a lot of people make donations and then when polio does strike help can be given to the few.

As everyone knows the government pays medical and hospital expenses for polio cases which is quite commendable, but there are a lot of other expenses not covered. These apply to ambulances, care of children where the mother is stricken with the disease, etc.

The polio drive for funds will start on Jan. 15th. President George Richardson of Vermilion Branch Canadian Legion, wishes to thank you all for your fine support in the past and asks that you will be generous in your giving when some Legion member calls for your donation to the new canvass.

SOCIAL NIGHT

Dates have been changed for the regular Legion social evenings in the club rooms. The next one will be held Saturday, Jan. 11th. During the winter months these social get-togethers will be held every second Saturday. All Legion members, ladies' auxiliary members and their invited friends will be very welcome to attend.

NEW MEMBER TIME

Now is the time the start of a new year for veterans who are not already Legion members to join up. We miss you comrades and wonder why you are not one of us. See the secretary, E. H. Buckingham, or any Legion member for an application form.

1st Vice-Pres. — Cynthia Bee
2nd Vice-Pres. — Ethel Mercer
Secretary — Annie Hubbard
Treas. — Muriel McLuckie

Bonspiel notices were read from neighboring towns and subsequent to this the date of the ladies' spiel here was set for 19 and 20th of February. Reports of secretary and treasurer were adopted as read. There being only five rinks of ladies curling, it was decided that after draw is made the skip of the odd rink would arrange a game with the men curlers who would have 'Lady Rovers' on their rink, thus giving everyone a chance to curl who so desired. Curling time was set for Tuesdays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. Skips elected by ballot were: Coxford, Mercer, McLuckie, Hasinoff and Majeau. Affiliation is being made with the Northern Alberta Ladies' Curling Association. It should be noted that there is still time to hand in your names if you desire to curl. In the eventuality of no other members, the odd rink will still have to pick up a game with an opposing gentleman skip, and one other man as well as the two Rovers. This is subject to change.

Canadian Utilities To Supply Power To Saskatchewan Power Corp.

Officials of Canadian Utilities, Limited, have [illegible] the negotiation of a two year [illegible] for the supply of 1000 kilowatts of electricity to the Saskatchewan Power Corporation, to help service the area between North Battleford and Lloydminster.

The friendly exchange of power which commenced December 17, will defer for two years immediate capital expenditures and line extensions by the Saskatchewan Power Corporation.

Canadian Utilities maintains a gas turbine generating plant at Vermilion, 37 miles west of Lloydminster which supplies electrical power to the border town.

The S.P.C. serves rural areas in Saskatchewan, between the Battle River and the North Saskatchewan River (West of North Battleford) via a 25,000 volt line, supplied by plants at Unity and Saskatoon. It became evident to S.P.C. engineers some time ago that the line would be overloaded this year. Negotiations commenced with C.U.L. to supply the necessary power, since such a move would not require immediate additional expenditure and construction.

The new agreement gives power customers in these areas the advantage of having alternate sources of supply. In the event of power outages the supply can move either way from the center point.

The supply of electricity by Canadian Utilities was made possible by an earlier connection established at Lloydminster which enables the Saskatchewan Power Corporation to supply the town with power in the event of a Canadian Utilities outage. The connection will now be used to feed back power from the Canadian Utilities plant to the Saskatchewan Power Corporation.

A GLIMPSE INTO THE CRYSTAL BALL

Forecasting events for the coming twelve months is a favorite pastime in any new year, and a glimpse into the crystal ball of 1958 reveals the following probabilities for Vermilion:

The year will witness the official opening of the new $420,000.00 junior and high school. Complete in every respect the building will solve Vermilion's educational accommodation for many years to come.

Secondly, the appropriation of $130,000 for a post office building will be approved at Ottawa and work on the new structure commenced. This will fill an urgent need for the district of Vermilion.

While on the subject of construction, it is quite possible that a fine new business block will be erected to meet the growing needs of [illegible] the town's present [illegible]. Home building which set a rapid pace during 1957 with the construction of many fine homes in the $10,000 price class, will continue.

The [illegible] will come in for [illegible] and development there will continue, aided by larger grants from the provincial parks board.

The Vermilion River municipal district council will give serious consideration to applying to the Department of Municipal Affairs to become a County.

And this one is a certainty — the town elections will no longer be held in February but will take place in October. The annual meeting of town ratepayers will be held in February as usual.

(We rang that one in just to be sure that we were right in at least one prediction!)

The fellow with an explosive temper often gets all banged up.

Two New Cities: Three New Counties

Alberta has a brand new city of its own and a half interest in another as of New Year's day. Grande Prairie became the first city in the Peace River country and the most northerly in Alberta on that day. Lloydminster, which straddles the Alberta-Saskatchewan boundary, achieved city status also.

Three new counties were established on the same day. They are Wetaskiwin, south of Edmonton, Beaver in eastern Alberta, and Fortymile, in the south. All three formerly were municipal districts embracing school divisions.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

WHAT ABOUT 1958?

From years of experience at sizing up events as they appear in the news, I'm predicting better times for 1958. There are some mighty important reasons.

In the first place, we've been jolted out of our smugness and complacency by recent Russian achievements. Already there are indications that Canadians, at least, are ready to buckle down and do a job of work. Educators, who had been sitting on the sidelines saying little, are now speaking up bluntly to tell us we've grown soft and that we'd better do something about it.

In the second place, there are signs that this nation is going to return to an era of more competition. Government and private monopolies alike are out of favor. A revived spirit of free competition will help to get us all back on our toes in a hurry.

Another encouraging sign is the growing determination of rank-and-file union members to resist the arbitrary action of big time union bosses. It would take only two or three more tragic strikes to bring about an irresistible demand for secret balloting in union decisions. In short, factors are at work to force labor leadership to act more cautiously. Not only public opinion but the support of union membership is at stake. Labor leaders who for a time were acting as if they wanted to bring on a depression are now obliged to use more restraint.

There is better understanding today between farmers and the rest of the population than there has been in the past. Most farmers recognize a willingness in all classes to support legitimate farm goals. At the same time individual farmers are less inclined to accept every scheme presented to them by farm organizers. They know, now, that these schemes can sometimes prove disastrous.

Private business today is acting with a great deal more sense of responsibility than it did in my youth. Profit per dollar of sales is far less than it used to be . . . indeed, in some cases, it is too low to allow for necessary expansion and to encourage investment.

All in all, the Canadian economy is sound as a nut and there is the kind of common-sense attitude in the air that augurs well for the future. My guess is that 1958 will turn out to be one of the best years Canada has known to date.

It takes a fast stepper to keep up with today's running expenses.

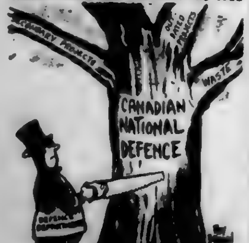
Where To Cut And Not Hurt The Tree



OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Legislature To Open Thursday, February 20th

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The Alberta political pot will begin to bubble and seethe again on Thursday, Feb. 20th with the opening of the 1958 session of the legislature.

The provincial cabinet passed an order-in-council last week setting the opening date, which is a week later than last year's opening.

An interesting session is shaping up, with a number of major issues developing, the most notable of which will probably be the long-awaited 'new deal' in municipal financing.

With a general election coming up in 1959 or 1960, the government will want to put as much of the new deal into effect as possible. It has been under discussion for more than two years, but so far nothing has been [illegible].

A clear picture of the new idea has yet to emerge, but the government has committed itself to abolishing the personal property and poll taxes, and taking over the full cost of mother's allowances and child welfare . . . now borne in part by the municipalities.

A new system of aid to municipalities also is anticipated, with the government abandoning its program of loans and conditional grants in favor of lump sum grants with no strings attached.

Changes in the liquor laws of the province will probably spark long and heated debate. The amendments will be necessary as a result of the Oct. 30th plebiscite in which residents of the province voted 64 per cent in favor of additional types of outlets for liquor.

New clauses in the act likely will allow for the licensing of cocktail bars and better class dining rooms. The debate is likely to develop over differences of opinion between wets and drys on what is meant by additional types of outlets.

Of course, any new legislation on liquor will be well threshed out by wets and drys before it is ever introduced in the House. Both the cabinet and the Social Credit caucus are split down the middle on liquor and some lively discussions are bound to ensue.

Among other major matters will be the report of the northern development commission which has been studying the potentialities of Alberta's northern regions, and the royal commission which is looking into the possibilities of a uniform province-wide salary scale for teachers. Watch for the latter in particular to become a hot potato.

The weatherman used up all of his dirtiest tricks last summer and fall on farmers throughout the Peace River bloc in northern Alberta.

Lack of rain in the growing season hampered the development of crops; rain, frost and then snow stalled harvesting, with the result that some farmers took nothing off the land, others harvested about 16 per cent and the average over the entire area is only 30 per cent.

Municipal representatives from the stricken area met with members of the Provincial cabinet last week and drafted a resolution asking the federal government to declare the region a disaster area and provide special aid. Agriculture Minister L. C. Halmrast will forward the resolution to Ottawa.

Municipalities in the area fear a large number of families will have to go on relief to the extent that the Prairie Farm Assistance Act and the Provincial Agricultural Relief Advances Act won't give enough help.

Hardest hit area is the M.D. of Smoky River where officials expect fifty on the municipal relief list shortly.

Local administrators also fear non-payment of taxes will cut seriously into municipal revenues and another problem is that of keeping enough seed and feed grain in the area. Hardest hit are the small farmers who have not the capital to withstand heavy loss.

A man can hardly expect a lame excuse to go very far.

Carollers Please Residents

MANNVILLE. — C.G.I.T. girls enjoyed the age-old tradition of singing carols to town residents during the Christmas season, and appreciation has been expressed by those who heard them. Also carolling for people's pleasure was the Girls' Auxiliary of Christ Church, presenting aged couples at the same time with boxes of home made candy.

NEWS from ISLAY

(This news bulletin was written for last week's Standard. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

May the staff of the Vermilion Standard and every reader of it have a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous year in 1958!

The Christmas season seemed to be a merry, happy one. The whole village took on a gay appearance. Driving around at night most homes displayed gayly lighted Christmas trees in the windows and colored lights outside . . . even one house, that of Mr. Moncrieff's, heralded forth carols from a loudspeaker attached to the verandah, really adding to the happiness of the holiday season.

Home for Christmas were Betty Martin, Catherine Grout, Janet Bell, Gerry Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Miller, all of Edmonton; Gwen Torrance from Calgary; Mrs. Marge Summers of Portland, Ore; Erva Sweet of Lamont was also home for a day or two before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Torrance and Jeanie were over from Irma for the day.

At the Bill Shaw home there was a family gathering when 25 sat down to dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boutsman and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Shaw and two boys all from Edmonton were present.

Ken McLennan came home for the holidays. Ken has been quite some time at Kitimat employed by an electrical company. He came from Victoria where he is attending an electrical school. He returns to Victoria on Jan. 3.

January 4th Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary with a family gathering at the home of their daughter Edna (Mr. and Mrs. Dalt Torrance) in Islay. Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Beck and may you have a very happy day and many more years together.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glover, Brian and Donald of Lloydminster spent New Year's day with Mrs. Glover's parents Mr. and Mrs. McNeeley.

The school Christmas program drew the usual full house. The concert was entirely Christmas and just what many had hoped for, excellent variety. There were plays, a drill, recitations, singing, all with a Christmas theme. It showed that the staff would not be satisfied with anything, but, a perfect performance. Even the tiny tots spoke up so well that those who were well at the back of the hall heard all. When it was all over we heard a lady exclaim, "Well, that was worth coming 14 miles to hear!" And it was! Congratulations to the staff of the Islay school, Mr. Moncrieff, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. Alex Dupuit — and to the children who did their parts so well and for their quiet attention all through the program. The sentiment seemed to be that the evening was highly enjoyed throughout.

It was a special service in the United church Christmas Sunday. Mrs. Lila Waterfield took over the organ for the day for Mrs. Bill Hancock. A choir which rendered special music was enjoyed by all. Rev. Mr. Shortt's sermon was one to be remembered. There was a full church and for Sunday school also immediately following. The program was a nice one very well done. A tall well-shaped tree, prettily decorated was very effective.

A very enjoyable time was spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin, viewing pictures. Bill Hancock had his projector and pictures, also some of Mrs. Moncrieff's which were of Stratford Ontario. In them were views of the new Shakespearian theatre. Present were Gladys and Muriel Stone, the Moncrieff family, Mrs. Martin Sr. and the Hancock family.

Church services for the next three months will be held at 7:30 p.m.

"GREEN ACRES"

TROLENE FOR WARBLES

Now, at last, a treatment for warbles that can be given by the mouth is on the market. The name of this drug is Trolene and it can be bought at any drug store. Best results are obtainable when cattle are treated by Feb. 1st.

CROSSBREEDING PIGS

In this column I have several times mentioned that the value of crossbreeding in swine is very doubtful. In tests conducted in the United States and Europe involving 50,000 pigs the results showed that it was not worth the bother. Here is a quotation from the conclusions: "Crossbreeding has nothing to offer the breeder with a highly improved carefully selected herd. When Yorkshires were crossed with the Landrace breed where over 17,000 pigs were checked the difference in the daily gain and the pounds of feed per 100 lbs. of pork was not significant." As a matter of fact the cross breds used four pounds more feed per 100 lbs. of pig than the check animals.

VITAMIN A

Where plenty of green alfalfa is available for breeding or market cattle and pigs there is never any Vitamin A deficiency. Where grain or hay is weathered and bleached there is often a lacking of this vitamin. When animals are unthrifty and cannot resist disease Vitamin A deficiency should be suspected and fish oil should be fed. Many livestock men have been astounded at the results obtained.

RAT CONTROL

A report just written up by Bert Hozack, Field Supervisor of Vermilion River M.D. is very encouraging and shows that only a few farms are now infested with rats. On a good number of farms rats have been killed out entirely. This does not mean however that we should sit down and let the rat situation get out of hand again. Eternal vigilance is necessary to keep this nasty pest off our farms and out of our towns and villages. Everyone should look for signs of rats around the buildings and if you are suspicious at all inform your municipal office.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS

The market for finished cattle is starting to go up and I suppose feeders will string along with them. It seems too bad that so many good feeders got out of this district last fall. It is not too late yet to pick up anything good enough for the feed lot. There is certainly a lot of tough and damp grain in this area that will not keep when the weather gets warmer.

This colorful sequence is one of the many in the Ice Capades musical "Rhapsody in Blue". Star roles are taken by Czech champion Aja Zanova, U. S. Olympic champion Johnny Lettengarver and teen-age Sandy Culbertson at the Edmonton Gardens.

Not the aftermath of a mammoth Christmas dinner, but a valuable part of a scientific research job is this huge stack of dishes being washed in Imperial Oil's research laboratories in Sarnia. The dishes have all been uniformly "dirtied" with a red dyed fat, and the object of washing them is to learn about the performance of various detergents. Imperial Oil has just put a $5 million plant into operation turning out the first detergent alkylate ever made in Canada. This base material becomes an active cleansing agent in many familiar household washing compounds.

Wedding Bells

MOCKFORD—SIMONSON

Mount Zion Lutheran Church of Edmonton was the setting for a December 23rd wedding when Kay Marguerite Simonson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Simonson of Vermilion, Alberta, became the bride of Herbert Harry Mockford, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Mockford of Edmonton.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and red carnations flanked the chancel steps and the lighted Christmas tree provided a lovely Yuletide setting.

Rev. L. R. Likness performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Skaret provided the organ music while the bride was escorted to the altar.

Mrs. Likness sang "The Wedding Prayer" whilst the bride and groom knelt at the altar and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a white velvet princess style gown with a V-neckline and lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion net studded with rhinestones, was caught to a white velvet headpiece. Her jewelry consisted of a strand of pearls with matched earrings, a gift from the groom. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Miss Joan Mockford, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. She wore a princess style gown of red velvet with matching headpiece. A bouquet of white carnations completed her ensemble.

Mr. Henry Simonson of Montreal, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Ushering the guests were Mr. W. T. Christenson of Camrose and Mr. P. H. Simonson of Edmonton.

Following the ceremony members of the immediate families attended a reception at the Corona hotel. Mr. P. H. Simonson proposed the toast to his niece and Miss Mabel Simonson of Kingman, Alberta, was in charge of the guest book. Congratulatory messages were read by Henry Simonson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mockford will make their home in Edmonton.

Mannville Couple Are Honored

MANNVILLE. — The 25th wedding anniversary was the occasion of a surprise party held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Leitch Friday evening last when a number of intimate friends and old school mates of the couple visited them. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing cards and visiting at the conclusion of which Mr. M. B. Vandusen presented the Leitch's with a money tree, attractively made up of quarters, 50 cent pieces on aluminum foil base, and tree composed of dollar bills suspended from wire branches. To Mr. Vandusen's well chosen words Ross and Helen replied with sincere thanks. Pictures were taken of the three-tier cake made by Elsie Williams movies and flash, and of the money tree which was so cleverly designed by Myrna Whitson. The host then showed films taken of trips taken lately and of the turkey flock of his daughter and son in law near Calgary. These pictures were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Candy House Made By School Girls Home Economics Class

MANNVILLE. Much enthusiasm was expressed by those viewing the Candy House on display at Van's General Store, and constructed of sugar and candy, also biscuits. Purpose of this creation was for a table centre for a formal Christmas dinner and was planned by the grade 10 girls taking Home Economics. Steps in making the Candy House were first, the cardboard frame was made to support the sugar framework. Sugar lumps which were used in wall construction were held together by icing. [illegible] pounds of lump sugar were used. The roof was said to be the most difficult as it was uncertain whether the walls were stable enough to support the weight. [illegible] circular candies were used here as well as one box of icing sugar. Windows, doors and chimney were made of ice cream wafers. Landscaping consisted of six Xmas trees (inverted ice cream cones covered with colored icing and gum drops. A snow man was an after thought contributed by grade 11 girls. A table set for formal dinner was most attractive with the Candy House at one end. It was most ingenious in [illegible] and construction. Miss Pat Wernik is the Home Economics teacher.

Married in Colorful Ceremony

Constable and Mrs. Alexander John Link, who were recently married in a colorful ceremony at Castlegar, B.C. The bride is the former Marie Mercedes Joyce Schwartzenhauer. The groom, best man and ushers were in the full dress uniform of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Veterans Build Their Own Homes

Articles have appeared in these columns lately in respect to veterans building their own homes with assistance under the Veterans' Land Act. Mention has been made of construction courses for the veterans to assist them to become their own contractors.

House construction is somewhat like working with bees — the experienced operator has little or no trouble, whereas the amateur might get badly stung. It is for this reason V.L.A. provides construction courses so the inexperienced veteran contractors can be trained to avoid any pitfalls or costly mistakes, often encountered in the building trade.

These courses do not attempt to train veterans to be carpenters, joiners or cabinet makers, but rather to train them how to competently manage a house building contract, become familiar with the terms of their contract and Collateral Agreements and the requirements under their contract with the Veterans' Land Act. To those who are interested, the course is packed with a volume of essential knowledge designed to assist them not only to build a good home but to save money in doing so.

There are the legal requirements which a veteran should understand, how title to his lot must be transferred and registered in the name of the Director, the obtaining of a building permit, arranging for insurance on the house so that it is fully protected at all times, coverage for workmen under the Workmen's Compensation Act. These matters are all carefully gone into and explained to the veterans as well as the terms of the Contract and the method by which progress payments are made as the work proceeds. The veteran also has to sign a Collateral Agreement which documents contains all the conditions the veteran undertakes to fulfill as a Contractor, including the signing of a mortgage in favor of C.M.H.C. upon completion of the contract.

A competent construction supervisor thoroughly explains the general standards, plans, specifications and C.M.H.C. building [illegible]. These standards set the minimum standard that can be used in house construction in respect to the type and size of all materials and equipment. To ensure the veteran contractors are familiar with these standards, the supervisor goes through the book of standards, item by item, explaining the purpose and use of each item in its relation to the rest of the house. The same principle applies to a house as to a chain, which is no stronger than its weakest link. A house is no better than its weakest member. It must have a good foundation, be well [illegible] and have a solidly constructed [illegible]. A good outside finish is of little value unless the whole house is structurally sound.

Veteran contractors seldom are qualified to do all or any of the work of the sub-trades, such as plumbing, heating, plastering and electrical work and so it is usual to sub-let this type of work. During the course, the veterans are taught how to deal with sub-contractors, the best type of equipment to install in compliance with C.M.H.C. standards and how to buy wisely.

Laying out of the grounds, the position of the house, the distance from sidelines of property, connecting up with the utilities and services and how to lay out the footings so the building is square with the lot; all these important items and many other details so essential for good construction are taught to the veterans. The successful contractor is one who is a good business manager, knows how and where to buy his materials and hire competent labor, and can plan his work to good advantage. Knowing all these things enables the veterans to build structurally sound homes at lower costs than obtainable in the open market. It is an interesting course from beginning to end, profusely illustrated by colored slides, and runs from 10 to 12 evenings of from two to three hours.

The motorist who drives with bad brakes invites bad breaks.

Bowtell Busy Bees

The December meeting of the Bowtell Busy Bees was held at the home of Betty Repp with seven members and one visitor present. The meeting was opened by singing carols. Yearly reports were then read showing that it had been a profitable year.

The date for the Christmas concert was set for the 22nd and this event was much enjoyed by all. A special word of thanks to Mr Mac Fleming for the interesting and lovely slides that were shown to us.

A donation was made to the T.B. fund. Mrs. Barton won the draw.

The next meeting will be held one week earlier at the home of Mrs. O. Repp—lunch by Mrs. Betty Moore.

Mild weather has prevailed all this week and the winter so far shapes up as one of the mildest in history. It will come as a surprise that some below temperatures have been registered during the dead of night the past week, but these certainly haven't bothered anyone. Days have been bright and clear and it would be hard to improve on this January weather.

News from Islay

A couple of accidents were reported here during the holiday season. Donnie Martin suffered a black eye, while feeding a wee calf he bent over, the calf came up with his head catching Donnie smack on the eye. Wasn't that a beast of a trick?

Mr Joe Hislop had the misfortune to have his mittened hand catch in the fan belt of his car and consequently part of two fingers were so seriously injured they had to be amputated. He is in hospital having the hand attended to and is doing very nicely.

Miss Erva Sweet, nurse-in-training at Lamont, was home for two days at New Year's. Erva had dinner at the home of Mr and Mrs. Bruce McLennan on Thursday, Jan. 2.

The pot luck supper Jan. 3 in the church hall at the time of the annual meeting was very much of a success. It was a grand supper with so many surprises. 30 sat down and remained for the business meeting to find much had been accomplished in the year 1957. A budget was planned for 1958 and it is no small one. The attendance during the past three months was exceptionally good, though the hour for meeting was early, 9:30 a.m. Now, for the next three months it will be at 7:30 p.m. and we look for an even [illegible] attendance. The Sunday school has also been well attended, there are fifty on the roll and many are present every Sunday. A staff of eight looks after the children. Mrs. Sweet is secretary-treasurer as well as handling teaching duties. Miss Gladys Stone assists her by handling all the supplies when they arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. Moncrieff had as guests in the holidays the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George McCurdy of Calgary.

Mr Garfield Potvin, principal of the Nampa school in the Peace River country, was home for the holidays.

Keep Jan. 15th free as Islay Islanders are going to square dance here at 8:30 p.m. with Bob Peck on the platform.

Remember — the Home and School meets Jan. 14th.

Just had a call on the phone from Mrs. Bothwell in Vermilion and we are happy to learn that Mr Bothwell is home from the hospital after having suffered a slight stroke before Xmas. He walks downtown as usual again. Many here have been inquiring about you Mr. Bothwell.

Mr and Mrs. Norman Lambert of Edmonton drove down Sunday to visit Mrs. Lambert's folks, Mr. and Mrs. McNeeley. Mrs. McNeeley returned with them.

On Sunday Albert Vanden Dolder and two boys, Mr. Bill King and Mr Richard Sweet, went fishing at Long Lake returning with quite a good catch. How big? Well not so big!

Ford's Hardware store is so changed that Hardy Sr says he can't find the things he needs. But really the store looks nice!

Miss Nellie Landels R.N., is supplying at the Islay hospital for a time.

The Anglican church service will be at 1 p.m. the second and fourth Sundays of the month in the United church.

CARD OF THANKS

The Kinette Club wish to sincerely thank all the people who supported their recent Peddie Car raffle. The winner of the car was Mr. John Barnes of the Bank of Commerce staff.

Pleasant Valley

The weather is just lovely. Everyone seems to be on the move visiting friends.

Mr and Mrs. Christie Clark and family visited Mr and Mrs. W. Waterfield on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Moore were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould. While on Tuesday Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Gould were visitors at the same home.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Isobel Sherwood sorry to hear that she has been ill during the holidays.

Doreen was certainly kept close to home nursing the mumps and pink eye. Gordon must be wondering why you don't grow up Doreen.

Glad to hear that Mr. Bothwell is feeling fine again, and going about his shopping as usual.

Hockey Flourishing at Mannville; Juvenile, Midget Teams Formed

MANNVILLE—Until last year, hockey in Mannville had not met with too much success, but by all reports 1957-58 has a much brighter outlook, and the town and district is well on its way towards developing local talent. The Canadian Legion who enjoyed a successful year in 1956-57, are again sponsoring the same team with Ralph Rudd as coach. Midget hockey, sponsored by the Elks lodge, will be coached by Les Kreller. There are four Bantam teams, as follows:

First Team — Sponsors K. Scoggins and L. Manz.
Second Team — Sponsors: L. Boe, Proudfoot & Coxford.
Third Team — Sponsors: M. Malin and Phil May.
Fourth Team — Sponsors: G. Barr and Mannville Motors.

All teams are being outfitted to the most minute detail, and really show pep, so come on, Mannville, give these teams the support they deserve. A little encouragement goes a long way — the right way.

Good guessers sometimes get credit for having good judgment.

Mr and Mrs. A. McQuid went to Calgary to have Xmas with their daughter, Mrs Gladys Wolters and Charlotte went to Edmonton with Susan after her Christmas visit home.

WOODVALE NOTES

We are sorry that our Xmas wishes were somehow mislaid, but with still 360 days left in the New Year at time of writing we think many wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year are still in order. We would also like to thank the Editor and staff for their card and the pen desk set; we hope and probably they do too, that it will improve this scribe's handwriting. It might, but we doubt it though the pen has a lovely soft feel.

So many December doings have been left unreported, like the very successful dance in the Woodvale hall and the Xmas concert at the school. The latter was very good and highly enjoyed as was Santa's visit with his gifts and sweets. The long Christmas holiday this year was, needless to say, greatly enjoyed at least by the children and the teachers.

Christmas brought many family gatherings, the largest one we heard of was at Mrs. Margaret Watson's home, where all Mrs. Watson's children and grandchildren gathered for the day. This meant 24 in all sat down for the Xmas dinner. Mrs. E. Lysons came a close second with 22. All her sons with wives and families were present, only her daughters and children were not there.

Mr and Mrs Paul Goutier had, besides their school-age children, their daughters from Vegreville and Camrose with them with husbands and the children. With his younger brothers on the farm to help, Camille took his wife and little son to Tangent in the Peace River to visit his wife's family for the New Year week.

Mrs. Charles Young also had most of her family home over Christmas and New Year's and with Mr Young in the hospital, that must have been a comfort to her. Early in the new year Mr. Young came home while Rita from Prince George, B.C. and Emily from Westview, B.C. were still there, also Mildred and Gladys with their husbands and little girls, so we feel sure that everyone was very happy.

Mr. and Mrs Wes Isley had a family gathering New Year's day with Mr and Mrs. John Isley of Kinsella, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells and two little daughters of Paradise Valley and sons Ernie and Jimmy home for a visit.

The writer was fortunate to have her daughter and husband, Mr and Mrs. T. Icke and Mrs. Bell Icke all from Calgary with her for Christmas week and Mr and Mrs. W. van Tyen of Red Deer for the New Year's week. And so, we could go on and on, if everyone would have let us know.

Then there is a new baby in the district, born Dec. 21, Gloria Anne Ruud, or rather she will be home this month as she was only a wee baby and had to stay in the hospital for a few weeks extra, however she is healthy and is growing fast. Grandma Ruud helped out when the little girl's mother was with her in the hospital.

The slippery roads, particuarly the gap in the main road south of Borradaile caused quite a few cars to slide off the road, with some damage resulting, mainly due to the big rocks in the ditch.

Frankie Walters shot two coyotes recently and George Gow picked off three, while they were feeding off a carcass near his house.

Gas Makes Gains

Natural gas is making sweeping gains in Ontario, particularly in the new housing field, says W. L. Dack in The Financial Post.

Fuel oil, hydro and coal interests are watching the market inroads with mounting concern.

The success story being written by gas in the spreading Ontario areas where it is available could be paralleled all across Canada. The gas-utility people are concentrating on the new housing market. It's the easiest to get and if lost could be out of reach for another ten to 25 years.

At P. V. High School Christmas Capers

(Held over from last week)

Friday the 13th turned out not to be a jinx after all, as on Dec. 13th the students, their parents and guests gathered in the high school auditorium for the annual 'Christmas Capers'. Nearly 300 people enjoyed the music of the Edgerton 'Starlighters' at the first annual semi-formal dance.

The auditorium was tastefully decorated with evergreen boughs lining the walls and outlining the pictures depicting various Xmas scenes. Behind the stage, high up on the wall, a 'Merry Christmas' greeted everyone and from it issued red and green streamers. The word 'Starlighters', the name of the orchestra, decorated the back [illegible]. In the corners were stars from which radiated yellow and white streamers. At the back of the auditorium the centre of attraction was a tastefully decorated Christmas tree flanked by two silhouette pictures with the greeting 'Bon Noel'. Over the tree was the theme of the party 'Christmas Capers' over which was a large star with streamers radiating from it. The decorative scheme was finished with small stars scattered on the walls and red and blue cellophane covered the lights.

On the stage was a table bountifully set with eats for everyone. As usual the centre of attraction was the punch bowl which was always well-filled.

Mrs. Walter, the president of the Paradise Valley sub-local of the A. T. A. presented Carol Weeks with a $25 scholarship for obtaining the highest marks in Grade 9 for this sub-local. The money was provided by the A.T.A.

The capable M.C. was Cecil Reid, ably assisted by Ernie Walter who arranged the dance program. Ushers were Bernard Welin and Don Churchill. The dance started with the Grand March led by the Prom Queen Lois Reid, followed by her attendants Gloria Elliott and Marj Bedwell. Next featured on the program were the 'Mother and Son' and 'Father and Daughter' dances. The pleasant evening was brought to a close with "The Queen."

Home Is Best Place To Teach Child How To Make Friends

The best time and place for learning how to make and keep friends is in childhood and at home according to a report from the American Medical Association received by Health League of Canada.

Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D., outlined some tips for parents on how they can help their children learn to make friends. If good foundations for getting along with others are laid in the home, a child's chances for being popular are greatly increased, she said.

Some suggestions to parents are:

Set a good example for social relationships in the family, since children quickly imitate patterns of behavior they observe around them.

Supervise a child's early play with his brothers and sisters and with the neighborhood children. Show him how to get along with others and explain why a particular behavior is good or bad.

As he grows older discuss as a family what makes certain children popular and others unpopular. This should be kept on an impersonal level.

Encourage him to bring his friends home and help him learn how to entertain.

Watch for the first signs of jealousy toward a brother or sister and correct the cause before it becomes a habit.

Play games with a child, so he can learn how. Since most contacts with other children will be in play, he must be able to play as well as they do if he is to be included in the group.

Give him an opportunity to talk when the family is together and help him to talk about things that are interesting to others.

Call on him for help. Children who develop the habit of helping at home rarely sit back and expect others to do all the work, nor do they grumble because they feel they are expected to do more than their share.

Expect him to consider the interests and desires of the family. Teach him to laugh at himself. And make sure the home is a cheerful place. Being cheerful will become a habit and this goes a long way toward making anyone popular.

Mannville 'Teens Skating Party

MANNVILLE. — The skating party held by Teen Club members was much enjoyed by 24 on Friday evening of last week. At its conclusion a bean supper was consumed with much relish. The remaining part of the meeting was spent in dancing. According to all accounts this Teen club is, to describe it in their vernacular, "the most".

Make good on your promises, don't be a trust buster.

Don't judge a man's ability by what he gets, but what he earns.

Using a platinum catalyst worth $250,000 this Powerformer, which turns out high octane gasoline for today's high-compression car engines, is similar to the one to be constructed at Imperial's Calgary refinery in a rebuilding and expansion program costing $17 millions announced last week by S. T. Reynolds, refinery manager. The program is the largest single construction job in the history of Calgary and calls for a larger capital investment than any construction job yet undertaken at a prairie refinery. The Powerformer above, is located in the company's Montreal refinery.

the Snapshot Guild

We don't want to play favorites—so here's a picture that should appeal to both cat and dog fanciers.

Cameras Turn to the Dogs—and Cats

Some people love dogs, some people adore cats. We have no wish to take sides in the friendly feud between 30,000,000 cat owners and 25,000,000 dog owners, and we've, therefore, decided to discuss both feline and canine pets as subjects for your camera.

When you set out to picture the family pet, the procedure calls for much the same technique as you use when you snap the youngest members of the household "in action". Having selected the time, the place and the general background, you must be ready with camera, lights and film to shoot at a moment's notice. "Watchful waiting" is the byword—which means you'll need plenty of patience to capture the best possible shots of your favorite animal.

Don't expect Towser or Tabby to hold a pose while you jiggle and juggle with lights or camera angles. Because these four-legged subjects are often on the small side, you should come down to their level when you shoot. Plan to use a low camera angle—and a close-up attachment, too, if your pet is a mere pup or kitten.

If you want to get things under way without too much delay, be prepared with several simple props. A bowl of milk or a ball of string or crumpled cellophane for your cat—a biscuit, bone, or rubber ball for the pup—will yield dozens of wonderful picture possibilities. Action, changing expressions and humorous antics—you can expect these to follow in quick succession. So be quick on the shutter—and shoot a whole series of pictures to be sure of getting some excellent shots even if a few fumbles occur.

Activities of animals just naturally make fine "human interest" pictures. And as such, they should tell their story without benefit of caption or commentary. Suppose, for example, you're snapping a young kitten. Much of its appeal lies in its tiny size, its endless curiosity and its constant discovery of the great big beautiful world around it. That's why we "get the message" from shots that show the kitten discovering the delicious warmth of a radiator, or having its first taste thrill from a velvet-smooth vanilla ice-cream cone.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

A MOVE TO BROADEN WHEAT TRADE

Paving the way for possible increased sales of Canadian wheat on credit was a recent announcement of intention to amend present Export Credits Insurance Corporation Act by doubling, to 200 million dollars, the maximum liability permitted this body.

Under section 21 of the Act the corporation can be required by cabinet to underwrite certain trade deals in the 'national interest'. This section has been used in recent years to facilitate the sale of considerable quantity of wheat, particularly to Iron Curtain countries, on special credit terms and under Canadian government repayment guarantees. Since 1952, the quantity of wheat that has been insured under its provisions has totalled no less than 56,700,000 bushels, a particularly large quantity, amounting to 24.1 million bushels having been covered in 1956.

Trade Minister Churchill's recent statement that "There is a noticeable trend towards credit transactions for wheat and in this field we are prepared to be active if terms and security are satisfactory", suggests that the government is prepared to place more emphasis upon this form of disposal in future if opportunities present themselves. Undoubtedly, the move to extend more credit facilities reflects a desire on the part of the Canadian government to compete more strongly with the U. S. whose surplus disposal deals have been so strongly criticized in recent months.

News from Dewberry

(This news bulletin was written for last week's Standard. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

A Happy New Year to the Editor and staff and to all our readers. May 1958 be better than your best year yet.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stan Porter on the birth of a son on Dec. 22 in St. Vincent's hospital, Vancouver. Also congratulations to the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter on their first grandchild, and to Uncle Philip. In her letter Mrs. Porter said it was very mild in Vancouver. Tulip and daffodil bulbs planted in November are now growing. Our weather here cannot be complained about either but we are afraid that no bulbs will be venturing out for awhile yet.

Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Harold Craige were patients in the Islay hospital. They are now home and we hope, keeping better.

Glen Wowk who had been a patient for the last three months in University hospital, Edmonton, is home. He has to go back in two months time for a check-up.

Mr. Harlan Green is home now too. He suffered a broken collar bone and shock in a motor car accident before Xmas and had to be taken to the nearest hospital Vegreville for attention.

Mr. Harry Hornigold is a patient in the Elk Point hospital. His condition was not changed on Saturday. Hope all these folks will be well soon.

The village was very deeply shocked to hear of the sudden demise of Mr. Ballard Good. He and Mrs. Good were at the their daughters in Edmonton for Christmas when Mr. Good was taken suddenly ill and passed away in the afternoon of Xmas day. Sympathy is offered to the widow and family, brothers and sisters and all who are left to mourn his loss. He was in his 70th year.

On Monday evening Dec. 23rd the C.G.I.T. with their leader Mrs. Neil Jones were out singing carols. Their voices blended beautifully and their singing was enjoyed very much. It was quite cold for this task and congratulations are offered to them for a fine job done. All hope to hear them sing again.

On Dec. 20th the teachers and pupils held a Christmas concert in the school auditorium. It was estimated that there were over 600 people in attendance to hear the first concert in the new auditorium. All grades took part and it was indeed a credit to the teachers to see how orderly the children were and how they acquitted themselves. Mr. J. Whiteside was chairman.

After "God Save the Queen" came Santa who received a great ovation from the young folks. Presents and candy sacks were given out and a bountiful lunch was served by the ladies. A dance followed which was enjoyed by the young and not so young folks.

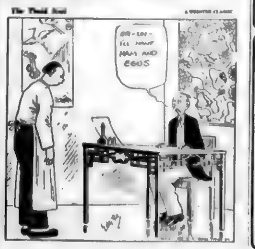
We were pleased to see from Lloydminster Joan Parr, Frank Parr, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parr, Alister McDormant and Jim McDonald. Joan is a receptionist in CKSA. She hopes that some Dewberry people will call and say 'hello' to her when they are in Lloydminster.

Betty Tomasson, a student of the U. of A. got home in time to attend the concert too.

Jimmy Jones, Joyce Parker and Leona Mathison got home on the 21st for the holidays.

The hall was filled to capacity on the 23rd for the bingo put on for the hockey boys. The winners of turkeys were Rudy Holman, Shirley Garder, Daisy Whiteside, Mrs. Geo Joy, Mrs. Annie Finlay, Mr. Wenzel, Mr. John Whiteside, Mr. H. Hornigold, Bob Orum and Bob Hanson. The sides of bacon were won by Bill Harylak and Billy Bacala. Miss Verna Boyce won a large ham, the blackout. Mr. Philip Lemp was our genial caller. Getting to be quite a professional at the job too Phil.

Mr. Steve Remarchuk donated a turkey which will be drawn for [illegible] at the New Year's eve dance. This dance is also in aid of the hockey boys and is sponsored by the Home and School.



SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The New Year brought forth more square dancing enthusiasm than ever before, with twenty squares representing twenty-two different clubs gathering in the Legion hall on January 4th to hear Doug McColl of Red Deer. Many thanks to our visitors who travelled hundreds of miles from Forestburg, Galahad, Kelsey, Bawlf, Myrnam, Blackfoot, Minburn, Clandonald, Wainwright, Rivercourse, Dewberry, Derwent, Elk Point, Albert, Greenlawn, Mannville, Kitscoty, Islay, Lloydminster, Paradise Valley and Vegreville to make this dance such a success. Do come again, folks!

Our Circle Eight Club turned out in full force and a special thanks to the Seale, Harrison and Everett couples who so gallantly were in charge of K.P. duties for the evening. (Overheard: "Gosh, I never saw Dad make sandwiches before!" but Dad was in full swing that night!)

Our next dance will be on Jan. 18 with Henry Lien of Bawlf as our guest caller. Now this is Henry's first visit to our club this season but he is certainly no stranger in the district as most of our club members were to Mannville's last dance to hear him. Henry Lien is noted for his jovial disposition, so we know that this is a date you will want to circle on your calendar. This dance, too, will be in the Legion hall.

Square up with Circle Eight!

Jehovah Witnesses Assembly Jan. 10-12

"Vermilion will be host to the next semi-annual Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in north-eastern Alberta," said Mr. Abe Friesen, presiding minister at a recent congregation meeting. The convention will be held on January 10, 11 and 12 in the Elks hall in Vermilion.

"Attending conventions is a regular experience in the lives of all Jehovah's Witnesses," added Mr. Friesen, "which is in obedience to Apostle Paul's admonition 'do no forsake the gathering of ourselves together, as some have the custom'." Mr. Friesen also mentioned, "What could be more urgent now in these critical times when civilization faces annihilation by nuclear weapons created by man, than the knowledge and understanding of the Holy Bible."

ALL NEW 1958 CHEVROLET WITH AIR SUSPENSION
Level Air Suspension Features
1.—VARIABLE SPRING RATE Compressed Air responds instantly to the slightest wheel movements. Its ability to absorb loads and jolts is very high. It increases its resistance the more it is compressed, providing a progressive rate of deflection.
2.—BOULEVARD RIDE Compressed Air helps absorb many shocks completely. After the car passes over road irregularities, the air springs smoothly diminish the succeeding motions of the chassis. Because of this feature, there is need for shock absorber control of spring movements only on rough roads. This leaves the air springs much freer on normal road surfaces to provide a "boulevard ride."
3.—SILENT OPERATION. The air springs operate silently and without friction at all times.
4.—AUTOMATIC HEIGHT CONTROL. Automatic control of the air pressure in the air springs maintains the car at its design height — the height at which it looks its best and handles best — regardless of the number of passengers and the amount of luggage in the car.
5.—GREATER CAR DURABILITY. Because compressed air in air springs provides greater shock absorption, the car components are relieved of stress and strain and operate better and longer.

200 To Attend Jehovah Witness Assembly Here

About [illegible] delegates of Jehovah's Witnesses will be visiting Vermilion this week end as they convene for their Assembly to be held in the Elks hall from Jan. 10 to 12. The delegation will represent seven congregations in north-eastern Alberta.

The purpose of the convention held bi-annually is to provide a refresher course in ministerial activity. Mr Abe Friesen, local presiding minister, while organizing the local congregation members for the coming event said: "With world conditions worsening, with morals at their lowest and with materialism riding high — true Christians can only rely upon Bible education in order to maintain their spiritual and Christian standards. This assembly is designed to offer us that needed knowledge".

Over forty rinks representing teachers from central and northern Alberta participated in the three-game, total-point bonspiel.

The Jim Aldrich rink of Ed[illegible] won second prize, and the Ernie Simpson quartette, also of Edmonton, won third [illegible] and fourth went to the Stan Wilkie rink of Edmonton. Curling brooms were presented to the S. Ganderson rink of Edmonton which had the low score for the day.

Kitscoty was represented by a rink consisting of: Clark Richardson, Kitscoty, Jas. Gardiner, Marwayne, David Clarke, Paradise Valley and John David, Vermilion.

Mannville Teen Club Celebrates

MANNVILLE. — Gifts were exchanged as well as good wishes on Friday of last week in the Anglican hall when Teen Club members held a Xmas party. Corn was popped, with much fun ensuing as a result, games were played and dancing, which is all important to Teentown, was enjoyed by all. Christmas lunch was not by any means the least part of the enjoyable program.

DERWENT LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Arsenault are proud to announce the birth of a son at the Vermilion hospital on December 31st.

Operations of Marwayne Cleaning Plant Reviewed at Annual Meeting

The sixth annual meeting of Marwayne Seed Cleaning Association was held recently in Marwayne community hall. Attendance at the meeting was low. W.B. Graham acted as secretary in the absence of J.L. Hutchinson.

The annual report shows that 144,085 bushels of seed were cleaned. Commercial and mixed cleaning amounted to 20,160 bu. Volume of seed treated was [illegible] bu. Sale of grass seed amounted to 25,773 pounds. The financial report was approved and it was agreed that the services of the auditor be sought for next year.

Various aspects of seed plant operation were then discussed. O.H. Quist, a director of the Alberta Seed Cleaning Plant Association, outlined the acivities of that institution in lowering plant operating costs and promoting beter understanding of seed plant operations and problems as plant operators and directors meet in conference to discuss mutual problems.

There was discussion about the time clock. Early closing of plant for a two month period in early winter was, at times, an inconvenience but it resulted in a saving of about $250.00 a year in power costs.

F. Wheat, council representative on the board, reported that the municipal councillors are concerned about the spread of weed seeds caused by improper methods of hauling screenings from seed cleaning plants. They propose to appoint seed plant managers as weed inspectors with a view to having stricter enforcement of government regulations pertaining to transportation of screenings—such as tight fitting box and covering on load. It was suggested that the Agricultural Service Board initiate a program designed to induce farmers to increase patronage of seed cleaning plans early in the season and thus help lessen the difficult conditions of the late season rush.

James Hale expressed satisfaction with the year's operations. He commended plant manager E. W. Quist and his staff for the efficient manner in which plant is operated. The retiring directors, H. Hahaway ad A. Ferguson were each re-elected. T. Belsheim was elected in the vacancy created by the death of director George Berty. Mr. Belsheim was previously a director and council representative on the board prior to his resignation from the council in 1956. G. W. Boyce is now vice-president, succeeding B. Timanson.

MEANINGLESS?

Fewer Christmas cards next year, suggests The Financial Post. Many European firms, it reports, are already saying that no cards will be mailed in 1958. "Exchange of greetings has become merely a routine matter", says one U.K. investment house.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

(This news bulletin was written for last week's Standard. Due allowance should be made for time elapsed.)

Happy New Year to one and all and a hope that your Xmas is now a happy memory. It was grand to have the weatherman co-operate for the festive season enabling people to travel so that many families could be re-united.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS ARE DECIDED SUCCESS

The Christmas program put on by the pupils and teachers of Buffalo Coulee was a decided success. The gym, beautifully decorated by the pupils with streamers and a Christmas tree was well filled and everyone enjoyed the variety of numbers presented. Very special mention should be made of the drills and rhythm band of the little ones as well as the 'darkey' boys. The junior teachers Miss MacDonald and Miss Allen must have spent hours making costumes and in training the young ones so well. The plays put on by the older ones were very well done too.

Following the program Santa and his helpers had a busy time passing out presents and bags of nuts and candy.

On Saturday, Dec. 21 a number of people from the community attended the wedding and reception of Betty Barlow and Ken Burningham held in the Anglican church in Vermilion. Best wishes Betty and Ken for a long and happily married life.

OBSERVE SILVER WEDDING

The home of Mr and Mrs B. A. Macnab was the scene of a happy gathering on Sunday afternoon Dec 22 when a belated surprise reception was held for Mr and Mrs Alf Green to commemorate their silver wedding anniversary. About 50 of their friends and relatives enjoyed the occasion. The table was centred with a lovely three-tiered cake baked by Mrs. Macnab and decorated by Mrs. Gordon Green. It was embedded in pink tulle decorated with silver bells and flanked by silver candles. The toast to the bride of twenty-five years ago was proposed by Mr Brenton Macnab in which he fittingly spoke of the high esteem in which this couple are held in the community, in church, social and all community activities. Alex Stone on behalf of their many friends presented them with a beautiful large silver tray. Alf and Agnes most graciously thanked all for their gift, good wishes and all that went to make it a memorable occasion for them. They are living in Edmonton now but came down the day before to attend the Burningham-Barlow wedding and were induced to stay over at the Macnab home.

Mr and Mrs' Bill Bushko of Vegreville were here for Betty Barlow's wedding, spent Saturday night with Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Everett and then attended the Green anniversary party on Sunday. Just like old times having Bill and Jeanette with us again.

Mr and Mrs. Stuart Little and baby daughter Elizabeth of Brownvale spent Christmas day in Vegreville and then came on down to visit with Grace's parents Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eyben and family for a few days. They returned to Vegreville on Sunday where the baby was being baptized at the morning service in the United church there. Mr. and Mrs. Eyben attended also.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rodgers and infant daughter Carol of Edmonton spent the Christmas holidays at the Stone home. Miss Doreen Stone from Grande Prairie was also home. Alayne returned with the Rodgers on Sunday to spend a few days in the city.

Mr and Mrs Gordon Larsen went to the latter's sister's at Coronation for Christmas and Boxing day.

Others home from the city for the holidays were Faye Everett, Stewart Eyben and Audrey Symes.

Mrs Majury and Matt are expected home from Edmonton this week. Mrs. Majury has spent the past month with her daughters and Matt went up for the Christmas season.

Curling has not yet started at Buffalo Coulee rink but with colder weather should soon be under way. Clifford Cunningham had the skating rink ready before school closed. Cliff and Freddie Brooks have taken on the caretaking of and lunch concession at the curling rink this year.

The community was shocked and saddened last Friday to learn of the sudden death of little Brenton, three-year-old son of Mr and Mrs. Brent Macnab Jr in Vancouver. The sincere sympathy of all goes to this young couple in their tragic loss.

W. H. O. Approves Fluoridation

A detailed report of the recent [illegible] of fluoridation of communal water supplies by the World Health Organization has been forwarded by the Canadian Dental Association to the Health League of Canada. The report [illegible]

"The World Health Organization has reported that the use of fluoridated drinking water to prevent tooth decay is safe, effective, and practical. After having studied hundreds of fluoridation programs in 17 countries, a W.H.O. committee has announced that the use of fluorine in drinking water supplies is approved by responsible public health officials throughout the world.

In the United States 32 million people in more than 1,300 communities are drinking fluoridated water. Sixteen other countries have begun similar programs.'

'The W.H.O. committee report emphasized that results in all nations using fluoridated water show remarkable uniformity. Dental caries in the permanent teeth of children decreased by about 60 per cent while in children's primary teeth the reductions ranged from 30 to 60 per cent.'

'No other public health procedure has had, during the initial stages of its application, such a background of study in terms of both time and expense, the report said.'

'Without qualification or caution, W.H.O. recommends the use of fluoridated water whenever and wherever possible. It was suggested that treated water contain 1 part of fluorine for every 1 million parts of water.'

Patti Cox, Ice Capades star, with Mickey and Minnie Mouse, in the "Disneyland" fantasy at the Edmonton Gardens. This is one of the ten major productions to be staged this year by the Ice Capades.

Fantasy Comes To Life In Ice Capades "Disneyland" Show

All the well-beloved creatures of the fabulous Walt Disney come to life to play with happy youngsters who visit the latest edition of the equally famous Ice Capades at the Edmonton Gardens.

Dumbo, Pluto, Snow White, Mickey and Minnie Mouse, Pinnocchio, The Three Little Pigs, The Three Bears and all the other lovable products of Disney's genius caper and dance their way through the happy, laughter-making routines in a fantasy woven around them in music, dance and colour.

As the show goes into production all costumes and scenes must be personally passed by Walt Disney himself to ensure their authenticity. At all times he retains the creative rights to these world-famous "creatures" of his who sprang, initially, from the creation of a rabbit and then to the jackpot with Mickey Mouse.

Patti Cox provides the vehicle for bringing the Disney friends to life as she sits dreaming to the music of 'Wish Upon A Star'. The merry cartoon characters skate into their routines on the ice and then scatter through the audience.

One of the major problems with this type of show is the costuming. They must be lifelike and identical with those characters with which we are all so familiar. They must also allow for freedom of movement far greater than that necessary to an ordinary skater. The exertions of ice skating are such that special netting must be applied within the headpieces to enable the cast to have air circulation. The heads must also be perfectly balanced otherwise they will fall off. Cost of the costumes for the "Disneyland" production varies between $300 for a small costume like Pinnocchio's to $1500 for an elaborate figure such as Dumbo. All these costumes are specially made in the Ice Capade's Hollywood workshop.

"Disneyland" will be staged with nine other major productions and twenty acts at The Edmonton Gardens between January 20 and 25 at 8:30 p.m. On Saturday, January 25th, three shows will be staged. The first is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.; the second will start at 5:30 p.m.; and the final show commences at 9:00 p.m.

It pays to remember that a loud voice won't camouflage a shaky argument.

Health Unit Notes

THE ONLY CHILD

Bringing up an only child can present a challenge but just as there are advantages and disadvantages in the day-to-day coping with larger families, so with the one-child household.

To begin with, the only child doesn't present a unique problem because every first child in any family comes into this category. All parents have the fun and task of a small three-unit group [illegible] at least part of their parenthood. It is when a lengthy time intervenes before brother or [illegible] comes along — if at all — that the parent of an only [illegible] may run into certain difficulties.

ADVANTAGES . . .

With only one child to care for, parents are presented with many opportunities. Events too expensive or troublesome for the large family — like taking in a a ballet or ice show or going on an interesting trip — can be more readily shared by parents and child. More time and energy are available for building play areas in backyard or basement.

Spared the efforts of meeting the needs of many children, the mother and father can concentrate on following through the interests and activities that will enrich the child's life. And fewer family frictions can mean more sympathetic understanding and attention.

There is more money to spend on the 'gifted' child to encourage and nourish special abilities in music or dancing, science or art, mechanics or collections.

DISADVANTAGES . . .

But the pitfalls that face the parents of any only child can be many and it is here that much of the criticism and fear about an only child arises.

Basically, such a child finds himself in a world lacking some important things which normally help in the development of the healthy, well - adjusted adult. One factor is the support which children in the same family give to one another. Such support comes out of shared secrets and loyalties and experiences. He misses too, the world of make-believe enriched by play with brothers and sisters.

Again, being an only child tends to emphasize him too much as the centre of attention — it's no wonder that so many lose all sense of proportion of their own importance and become truly spoiled!

LOVE . . . BUT THE RIGHT KIND

Without doubt the greatest concern aroused in parents by the only child is the feeling of his loneliness. It is only human then, that so many parents try to make up for this by extra attentions and care, unfortunately too often to the point of over-indulgence. The youngster is constantly in the spotlight. It becomes his measuring stick for love. The more attention he gets the more he figures daddy and mummy love him. He [illegible] more and more attention [illegible] becomes truly spoiled. A [illegible] need not be spoiled by love. Love is the only sound basis for a child's healthy growth. It gives him self-respect and confidence and establishes firmly the all-important feeling of security. The smothering over-protective kind of love which cuts him off from learning the things he has to learn and give him a distorted view of the world he's got to grow up in makes a child spoiled and demanding.

PLAYMATES HELP . . .

What can be of considerable help to the only child is the opportunity to grow up like other kids. If he can't have the benefits of brother and sister companionship then the next best thing is to supply him with the closest substitute — playmates his own age. Very early in life he needs to play with other children, [illegible] create a hub-bub, get into arguments and have them settled, learn to give [illegible] take in a group.

A nursery school is excellent for the three and four year old. For other age levels the kindergarten, Cubs or Brownies, the neighborhood groups and clubs, camps are advised.

The only child may need to be introduced gradually into appropriate group play until he becomes accustomed to these new and strange people. No matter what group is involved, parents should give their child warm support and understanding, inviting playmates in, supplying space and equipment for play, if [illegible] and encouraging discussion and activities.
